ACTS AND PROCEEDINGS
OF THE
ONE HUNDRED AND SECOND
GENERAL ASSEMBLY
OF THE
Presbyterian Church in Canada

HELD IN

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH, ARNPRIOR

JUNE 6th, 1976

FIRST SEDERUNT

At the Town of Arnprior, and within St. Andrew's Church there, Sunday, the sixth day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and seventy-six, at eight o'clock in the evening.

Which place and time Ministers and Ruling Elders, commissioners from the several Presbyteries of The Presbyterian Church in Canada, convened pursuant to appointment of the General Assembly held in the City of Montreal, Quebec, on the fourth day of June last year.

The Reverend David Hay, M.A., D.D., Moderator of the last General Assembly, assisted by the Reverend Leo Hughes, B.A., Minister of the host church, conducted public worship and preached a sermon on the text Hebrews 9:14, "Through The Eternal Spirit". Dr. Hay administered the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper assisted by Mr. Hughes. Also assisting in other segments of the General Assembly service were the Reverend John Duncan, B.D., Perth, in the Alexander Reid School; Reverend D. S. Moore, B.A., B.Ed., B.D., M.Th., of Smiths Falls, at the Legion Hall; and the Reverend Robert Hill, Carleton Place, in the Lower Hall of the host church.

During the service, Reverald David McCord, Director of the Church Council on Justice and Corrections, presented to Dr. Hay a chalice made by inmates of a Federal Penitentiary. On behalf of the General Assembly, Dr. Hay thanked Mr. McCord and those he represented. The printed message accompanying the chalice is as follows:

"This gift, the work of federal penitentiary inmates, is presented on behalf of all prisoners by The Church Council on Justice and Corrections. May it serve as a symbol of our common fellowship in Christ with all who acknowledge Him. Especially, may it remind us of our oneness with those from whom we are divided by human judgment, but with whom we stand together under the judgment and by the grace of Christ, our Lord."

Thereafter, with prayer, Dr. Hay did constitute the General Assembly in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, the only King and Head of the Church.

ROLL CALL

The names of those commissioned by the several Presbyteries of the Church twenty-one days before the date were presented in a printed list, and the Assembly agreed to accept the same as the Roll of Assembly, on motion of Mr. I. R. McKee, duly seconded, subject to any correction subsequently to be made when the same is scrutinized.

The Roll finally adopted is as follows:

During the service, Reverald David McCord, Director of the Church Council on Justice and Corrections, presented to Dr. Hay a chalice made by inmates of a Federal Penitentiary. On behalf of the General Assembly, Dr. Hay thanked Mr. McCord and those he represented. The printed message accompanying the chalice is as follows:

"This gift, the work of federal penitentiary inmates, is presented on behalf of all prisoners by The Church Council on Justice and Corrections. May it serve as a symbol of our common fellowship in Christ with all who acknowledge Him. Especially, may it remind us of our oneness with those from whom we are divided by human judgment, but with whom we stand together under the judgment and by the grace of Christ, our Lord."

Thereafter, with prayer, Dr. Hay did constitute the General Assembly in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, the only King and Head of the Church.

ROLL CALL

The names of those commissioned by the several Presbyteries of the Church twenty-one days before the date were presented in a printed list, and the Assembly agreed to accept the same as the Roll of Assembly, on motion of Mr. I. R. McKee, duly seconded, subject to any correction subsequently to be made when the same is scrutinized.

The Roll finally adopted is as follows:

ELECTION OF MODERATOR

Dr. Hay then called upon the Assembly to choose a Moderator to preside over their deliberations.

On behalf of the Committee to Advise with the Moderator and in accordance with the method determined by the Ninety-Fifth General Assembly (See A & P, 1969, pp. 34, 355-6, 362), Dr. J. K. Lattimore placed in nomination the name of the Reverend A. Lorne Mackay, B.A., B.D., D.D. of the Presbytery of Hamilton. The nomination was seconded by Mr. W. R. Allum.

No further nominations were made.

Dr. Hay thereupon declared that Dr. Mackay was duly elected Moderator of this Assembly.

DR. HAY'S REPORT

Dr. Hay addressed the Assembly and reported on the principal duties which had befallen him during the year.

INSTALLATION OF MODERATOR

Dr. Mackay, having been conducted to the Chair by the mover of his election, was welcomed by Dr. Hay.

Whereupon Dr. Hay did by prayer call upon God to bless the newly elected Moderator and confer upon him strength and wisdom that he might discharge the duties of his office. He then did install him in the Moderator's Chair.

THANKS OF MODERATOR

The newly-elected Moderator thanked Dr. Hay for his kind words and the Assembly for the trust they had conferred upon him and called upon the commissioners for their support in the business of the Court and in their prayers. He spoke of his goals as Moderator. . .Always to say a good word for Jesus Christ, always to express profound love for the Church, always to give encouragement to fellow ministers, and to present the challenge of the ministry to young men and women.

LETTER FROM ST. JOHN'S, NEW LONDON

Dr. D. C. MacDonald read a letter of congratulations from Dr. Mackay's home congregation, St. John's Church, New London, P.E.I.

THANKS TO DR. HAY

On motion of Dr. John V. Mills, duly seconded, the thanks of the Assembly were accorded Dr. Hay for his services to the Church and for the sermon with which he had opened the Assembly.

SYNOD RECORDS

The Clerks called for the records of the several Synods that they might be placed in the hands of such committees as may be appointed to examine them.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON BUSINESS

The Assembly called for the Report of The Committee on Business, which, as printed, was handed in by Mr. R. D. MacDonald, the Convener, and adopted by the Assembly, on motion of Mr. James Marnoch, seconded by Mr. George Malcolm. The Report is as follows:

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Committee on Business recommends as follows:

1. That with a view to having the attendance recorded, each Commissioner be requested to write on a card which has been provided for the purpose, his/her name, home address, the Presbytery which he/she represents, and other relevant matters, and to hand it to the Registration Office receiving in return a copy of the Stitched Minutes to be submitted to this Assembly.

2. That the Sederunts of the Assembly be on Monday evening from 7:30 to 10 o'clock; on Tuesday evening from 8 to 10 o'clock; on Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and from 2 to 5:00 in the afternoon, and Sederunts continue on Thursday and Friday, including an evening Sederunt from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m., until the business of the Assembly is completed, and that from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, a worship service be held.

The Synod of British Columbia: Mr. I. Raeburn-Gibson, Mr. C. Cribar, ministers; and Mr. J. M. Bell, elder.

12. That the Board of Education be granted leave to sit during the Sederunts.

13. That the Committee to Nominate Standing Committees be granted leave to sit during the Sederunts.

14. That the official photograph for this Assembly be taken at the Walter Zadow Public School on Monday, June 7th at 12 o'clock noon.

The provisional Agenda was then placed before the Assembly for information.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Assembly called for the Report of the Board of Education which was given by Dr. E. H. Bean, the Chairman, who moved that the Report be received as read, spread in the minutes, and that the Business Committee be instructed to find a place for it on the docket of a future Sederunt. The motion was duly seconded and carried.

The Report is as follows:

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Board of Education begs to submit the following report:

I. SPECIAL COURSES

Note:

Attention is drawn to the following regulation adopted by the General Assembly of 1953.

"That the status of a catechist must not be understood as a step toward ultimate ordination. The recognition of this office is considered to be desirable only in order that the opportunity for full-time service may be provided for men with preaching and pastoral gifts and who are willing to give themselves to this work, but who may not be able to meet the educational requirements for the ministry, and also enable the Church to profit by the service which such men can render." (A. & P. 1953 p.22).

(a) Applications already considered by previous General Assemblies:

1. Hugh Appel. Presbytery of Niagara. Presbytery of Lindsay-Peterborough. Mr. Appel has completed the third year in Theology of a three year Assigned Course and has been granted the certificate of Knox College. It is recommended that any Presbytery be given permission to take him on trials for license and ordination upon his acceptance of an appointment by the Board of World Mission.

2. John Morrison Campbell. Presbytery of Waterloo-Wellington. Mr. Campbell has been enrolled in a first year of Theology continuing the course as assigned by the 100th General Assembly.

3. William Iver Campbell, B.Sc. in Agriculture. Presbytery of East Toronto. He has made plans to enter the assigned three year course in theology in the Fall of 1976.

4. Donald Garth Carson. Presbytery of Ottawa. Mr. Carson is continuing work on his degree in Theology.

5. Douglas Henry. Presbytery of Brockville. Mr. Henry is pursuing the assignment for Arts credits.

6. Ian Kenneth Johnston. Presbytery of Stratford-Huron. It is reported that Mr. Johnston has completed two of the six Arts subjects assigned.

7. James Beverley Kay. Presbytery of Kamloops and Presbytery of Bruce-Maitland. Mr. Kay has completed the second year of an assigned three year intra-mural course in Theology.

8. William MacLennan. Presbytery of Quebec. Having reviewed the results of the courses assigned last year as a basis for a recommendation this year, it is now recommended that the case be dropped and the Commissioners of the Presbytery of Quebec be asked to meet with the Board.

9. David Earl Sherbino. Presbytery of Ottawa. Having completed the course assigned it is now recommended that permission be granted to take him on Trials for License.

10. Miss Sheina Smith. Presbytery of Lake of the Woods. Arts requirements have now been fulfilled and Miss Smith has been admitted to the McGill B.Th. degree course as of January 1976.

11. Mrs. Jean Elizabeth Sonnenfeld, B.A., M.A. (Theol.). Presbytery of Chatham. Mrs. Sonnelfeld's qualifications have been reviewed by the Principal and Acting Principal of Knox College and Presbyterian College respectively and further work having been taken by her to meet deficiencies, it is recommended that permission be granted to take her on trials for license with the stipulation that the Presbytery set an examination in the history of The Presbyterian Church in Canada and on the Rules and Procedures of our Church.

12. Robert Alexander Syme. Presbytery of Montreal. Mr. Syme expects to receive McGill B.Th. June, 1976. Plans to enter professional year September 1976.

13. Leslie (Laszlo) Szamozkozi. Presbytery of West Toronto. Mr. Szamozkozi has completed his third year in Theology and has received the Assembly certificate. It is recommended that permission be given to take him on traisl for license and permission be granted to ordain upon his acceptance of an appointment by the Board of World Mission.

14. David Allan Young. Presbytery of Montreal. Mr. Young is enrolled in the Course set by the 101st General Assembly. He has completed one year of the prescribed course.

15. Miss Mary Ann Yee. Presbytery of Brockville. Miss Yee is in progress of taking the Arts Course set by the 101st General Assembly. She has successfully completed one year of the assigned course.

(b) New Applications

1. Miss Maureen McLaurin Baxter. Presbytery of Waterloo-Wellington. It is recommended that no course leading to ordination be assigned and that the Commissioners of the Presbytery of Waterloo-Wellington be asked to meet with the Board.

2. Harold Robert Di Stasio. Presbytery of Montreal. It is recommended that he be assigned five subjects in Arts under the direction of the Senate of one of our Colleges with his case to be reviewed next year when the results of the courses assigned are known.

3. Miss Shirley Jean Herman. Presbytery of Montreal. It is recommended that she be assigned four subjects in Arts and a three year course in theology intra-murally under the direction of the Senate of one of our Colleges.

4. William Lennips. Presbytery of Barrie. It is recommended that he be urged to enter university as a mature student, have his transcripts from Bible College evaluated, and enroll in such Arts courses as his Presbytery may advise for the year 1976-77 and that the Presbytery forward an application on behalf of Mr. Lennips next year when a specific course may be assigned if he obtains favourable results in the course(s) taken in Arts 1976-77.

5. Miss Charlotte McPherson Stuart. Presbytery of East Toronto. It is recommended that she be assigned four courses in Arts and three years in theology intra-murally under the direction of the Senate of one of our Colleges with not more than one of the Arts courses to be for grade 13 credit and this recommendation be subject to the complete documentation being received from the Presbytery.

6. Kees Vandermey. It is recommended that he be assigned eight courses in Arts with seven of these to be for university credit, to be followed by three years of theology intra-murally with exemption from Biblical Languages, under the direction of the Senate of one of our Colleges and all of this be subject to the Presbytery in whose bounds he resides providing the necessary documentation.

II. APPLICATIONS FOR RECEPTIONS OF MINISTERS AND LICENTIATES AND FOR PERMISSION TO TAKE ON TRIALS FOR LICENSE.

Note:

1. All recommendations are made in terms of the ruling of the General Assembly that (A. & P. 1957, p.18): "All ministers from other denominations and Presbyterian Churches outside of Canada who desire to be received into the ministry of our Church, shall be required by the Presbyteries in which they may labour to pass satisfactorily an examination on the History of The Presbyterian Church in Canada and on the Rules and Forms of Procedure: the examination to be taken any time between the time of application for reception and the time the applicant is received; the results of such examination to be sent to the Board of Education before its next regular meeting.

2. Attention is drawn to the Book of Forms, Section 248, subsection XI.

3. The Board of Education calls attention of Presbyteries to the Book of Forms 248, subsection VII and VIII and asks that Presbyteries emphasize the matters therein and especially the interrogation of applicants.

(a) Applications – To take on trials for license already considered by previous General Assemblies.

1. Colin Alston, B.Mus., Presbytery of Prince Edward Island. Documentation having been completed, Mr. Alston was taken on trials for license and ordained by the Presbytery of Prince Edward Island. Reported for information.

III. WILLIAM E. ARCHIBALD TRUST

The William E. Archibald Trust in the amount of one hundred dollars is to be awarded this year to Donald G. Carson, a student of Presbyterian College, Montreal.

IV. In the Report of the Communication Services Committee to the 101st General Assembly there was the following recommendation which was adopted by the Assembly and therefore referred to the Board of Education:

"That all students preparing for full time professional service in the Church be required to receive adequate training in presenting the Gospel through the mass media. And that the Board of Education draft an appropriate regulation in consultation with the Communication Services Committee and the colleges."

Having consulted with the Rev. Harry A. Crawford, Communication Consultant for the Communication Services Committee it was learned that there was misunderstanding as to the responsibilities of the Board of Education which does not ordinarily include the specifying of individual courses to be taken by students attending Knox College or the Presbyterian College or Ewart College. The Board of Education has as its primary responsibility ascertaining that the ministers coming from other Churches have met the educational requirements of the General Assembly and recommending courses for special General Assembly students.

The Chairman of the Board of Education having conferred by correspondence with Dr. Donald MacMillan for the Presbyterian College, Dr. J. S. Glen for Knox College and Dr. Margaret Webster for Ewart College and in light of the above mentioned interview with Mr. Harry Crawford and with the concurrence of the Communication Services Committee and after conferring with the Colleges it is recommended that the Colleges be asked to consider how they may improve on their present programme in this area set forward in Recommendation Three of the Report of the Communication Services Committee to the 101st General Assembly, in order to meet the needs and abilities of their students. NOTICE OF MOTION

"I give Notice of Motion that it is my intention to move or cause to be moved at a future Sederunt, that

WHEREAS, the United Nations Conference on Human Settlements is meeting in the city of Vancouver, that the following resolution be sent to:

The President of the United Nations Conference on Human Settlements, the Hon. Barnet Danson;

The Secretary General for Habitat, Senor Enrique Penalosa;

The Chairman of the Canadian Habitat Delegation, the Hon. Allan J. MacEachen;

The First Vice-Chairman of the Canadian Habitat Delegation, the Hon. Ronald Basford.

'The 102nd General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada, meeting in Arnprior, Ontario, extends its greetings to the United Nations Conference on Human Settlements, with the assurance of our prayers for God's sovereign guidance over its deliberations.

'We welcome the call issued by the Prime Minister of Canada to a 'conspiracy of love', a call which the Christian Church through the centuries has both issued and heeded.

'We are gratified that Canada's Minister of State for Urban Affairs was elected President of the Conference and that he has indicated Canada's commitment to implement the results of the Conference which our country can and must apply.

'We urge the Canadian delegation to commit Canada to a National Human Settlements' Policy that will afford justice to peoples and nations in need: the native peoples of Canada whose aboriginal rights must be maintained; the needs of those who intend to migrate or immigrate but are restrained when immigration policies are based solely on the manpower needs of urban industrialization; the needs of ordinary citizens, the poor and the near-poor, who are victimized by land speculation and decision-making processes beyond their reach; the needs of the developing nations of the world for clean water and reasonable access to world markets and resources.'

(Signed) Wayne A. Smith."

ADJOURNMENT

The Assembly adjourned to meet in this place to-morrow, Monday, June the seventh, nineteen hundred and seventy-six, at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening, of which public intimation was given, and this Sederunt was closed by the Moderator, with the Benediction.

SECOND SEDERUNT

At Arnprior, and within St. Andrew's Church there, on Monday, the seventh of June, one thousand nine hundred and seventy-six, at the hour of seven-thirty o'clock in the evening, the Assembly met pursuant to adjournment, and was duly constituted by the Moderator, who conducted devotions.

FRATERNAL GREETINGS

Mrs. J. A. Johnston, Convener of the Committee on Inter-Church Relations, presented fraternal delegates as follows:

Rev. Ralph Simmon, representing the Baptist Convention of Quebec and Ontario.

Rev. John Zimmerman of The Lutheran Council in Canada.

Rev. Jacob A. Quartel of the Christian Reformed Churches in Canada.

The Ven. E. S. Light, representing the Anglican Church of Canada.

Rev. Michael O'Connor, representing the Roman Catholic Conference.

The Moderator read a letter of Congratulations from Bishop Carter, the President of the Canadian Catholic Conference, which he had just received.

Also presented by Mrs. Johnston were:

Rev. Donald Ray, representing the United Church of Canada.

The Rev. Andrew Harsanyi, representing the North America Area Alliance of Reformed Churches.

Rev. Douglas Van Alstyne, representing the Arnprior District Ministerial Association.

Rev. Dr. R. Stuart Johnston, representing the Canadian Bible Society, who presented a Bible to the Moderator for which Dr. Mackay made a suitable reply.

Rev. Dr. Donald Anderson, General Secretary of the Canadian Council of Churches.

Each of the above addressed the Assembly briefly and the Moderator thanked each, in turn, and presented a gift to each delegate.

MRS. HUGH COCHRANE

The General Assembly was then addressed by Mrs. Hugh Cochrane, the granddaughter of the first Presbyterian Minister of the area, and the daughter of a Presbyterian Minister. She was welcomed by the Assembly and thanked by the Moderator.

MAYOR G. M. JOHNSON

Mr. Leo Hughes presented His Worship G. M. Johnson, Mayor of the Town of Arnprior, who brought words of greeting entirely in verse. The Moderator expressed appreciation on behalf of the Court for his words and for the excellent cooperation of the people of the town in preparing for this Assembly.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON BUSINESS

The Assembly called for the Report of the Committee on Business which was given in and read by Mr. R. D. MacDonald, the Convener. On motion of Mrs. E. C. Treleaven, seconded by Mr. J. S. MacDonald, it was received and considered, and being adopted, the business for the evening was ordered accordingly.

COMMITTEE ON THE ROLL AND LEAVE TO WITHDRAW

Dr. J. K. Lattimore, the Convener of the Committee on the Roll and Leave to Withdraw, obtained permission to present a Report, and on his motion, duly seconded, it was agreed:–

COMMITTEE ON LOYAL ADDRESSES

The Assembly called for the Report on Loyal Addresses, which was given in by Mr. J. P. Jones, the Convener. On his motion, duly seconded, the following report was received and adopted.

The 102nd General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada, convened in Arnprior, beg leave to request the proper transmission to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth through Her Vice-Royal representative in Canada, His Excellency, the Right Honourable Jules Leger and to His Excellency in His own right as follows:

To Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II

May it please Your Majesty! The one hundred and second General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada, now in session in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, in the Town of Arnprior, Ontario, respectfully submits this expression of affection and loyalty.

In an age and generation which is filled with excitement and challenge of happy pursuit to overcome the grave difficulties faced by all mankind, we are exceedingly grateful that Your Majesty is a person of inner strength and deep devotion, ever witnessing to the presence and guidance of Almighty God. We especially appreciate Your warmth and concern for the individual, acknowledging his place in the working out of the destiny of mankind. Our prayer is that You may continue to be upheld in gracious favour before God, so that more and more of Your subjects will follow You and Your consistent witness to the wide horizon of eternity, which is the gift of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. As the awesome task of Your high calling continues to make its demands upon You, please be assured that You are constantly in our prayers before Almighty God, that in His mercy He will continue to bless You as You set forth the brave example of fulfilling Your duty out of devotion to Him and Your subjects.

We, of The Presbyterian Church in Canada, join our fellow-Canadians who will be so honoured as to welcome You shortly as You visit Canada for the opening of the Olympic Games of the Twenty-First Olympiad in the City of Montreal. May Your presence be an inspiration for the welding together of our Dominion and the Nations of the earth in keeping with the Olympic ideal.

We rejoice with You in this coming season, as You make preparation for the celebration of the Silver Jubilee of Your ascension to the throne. May it be for You, and Your gallant Consort, Prince Philip, a time of fond remembrance. It is with thanksgiving that we, Your loyal people, express our gratitude to God for the dignity which You bring to Your official duties, and the pleasing manner in which You mingle with all the varied peoples of the Commonwealth. Each in his own way is gladdened by the steadfast and dedicated thoroughness by which You rule with majesty.

May He who is King of Kings, and Lord of Lords, grant to You and to all the members of the Royal House every blessing of health and strength, wisdom and righteousness, that the purpose of His providence may be fulfilled, – that liberty, peace and joy will be made known to all Nations and peoples throughout the world.

Our prayer is one of thanksgiving and renewed devotion to Your Majesty – Your person and Your Crown.

A Sa Majesté, la reine Elizabeth II

Qu'il plaise à Votre Majesté! La cent deuxième Assemblée Générale de l'Eglise Presbytérienne au Canada, qui siège actuellement à l'église presbytérienne St. Andrew, dans la ville d'Arnprior, Ontario vous soumet respectueusement cette expression d'affection et de fidélité.

Dans une époque et une génération pleines de la surexcitation et du défi d'une heureuse pursuite pour triompher des graves difficultés qui confrontent le genre humain, nous sommes extrêmement reconnaissants que Votre Majesté révèle une force intérieure et un profond dévouement qui témoignent constamment de la présence et de la gouverne de Dieu, le Tout-Puissant. Nous apprécions surtout Votre chaleureux intérêt qui reconnaît la place de l'individu dans le développement de la destinée des hommes. Notre prière est que la gracieuse faveur de Dieu continue à Vous soutenir pour que de plus en plus de Vos sujets Vous suivent, Vous et Votre témoignage fidèle du large horizon de l'éternité, qui est le don de Notre Seigneur et Sauveur, Jésus-Christ.

Comme l'imposante tâche de Votre état illustre continue à être exigeante, nous voudrions Vous assurer que nous Vous présentons constamment dans nos prières à Dieu, le Tout-Puissant, que par Sa grâce Il continue à Vous bénir comme Vous donnez le brave exemple de remplir Votre devoir par dévouement à Lui et à Vos sujets.

Nous, membres de l'Eglise Presbytérienne au Canada, nous nous associons à nos concitoyens canadiens qui auront l'honneur de Vous accueillir, dans peu de temps, à l'occasion de Votre visite au Canada pour le commencement des Jeux Olympiques de la vingt et unième Olympiade dans la ville de Montréal. Que Votre présence soit une inspiration pour unir notre Nation et les Nations de la terre en accord l'idéal olympique.

Nous nous réjouissons avec Vous dans la saison qui vient comme Vous faites des préparatifs pour la célébration de la fête du vingt-cinquième anniversaire de Votre montée sur le trône. Que cette fête soit pour Vous, et pour Votre vaillant Consort, le prince Philippe, une période de tendre souvenir. C'est avec remerciements que nous, Vos sujets fidèles, exprimons notre reconnaissance envers Dieu pour la dignité que Vous apportez à Vos devoirs officiels et la manière sympathique dont Vous Vous mêlez à tous les peuples variés du Commonwealth. Chacun, à sa guise, se réjouit du caractère approfondi et dévoué de votre règne auguste.

Que Lui qui est Roi des Rois, et Seigneur des Seigneurs, Vous accorde, à Vous et à tous les membres de la Maison Royale toute grâce de santé et forces, sagesse et vertu, pour que le but de Sa providence soit accompli – que la liberté, la paix et la joie soient connues par toutes les Nations et tous les peuples du monde.

Notre prière est celle de gratitude et de dévouement renouvelé à Votre Majesté – à Votre Personne et à Votre Couronne.

Response was made by the Assembly standing and singing "God Save The Queen".

To His Excellency The Right Honourable Jules Leger, Governor General of Canada

May it please Your Excellency!

The General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada, in its one hundred and second Annual Assembly, convened in the Town of Arnprior, Ontario, beg your Excellency to convey to Her Gracious Majesty Queen Elizabeth II our loyalty and affection to Her office and person.

We are deeply grateful for your commanding influence and moving inspiration as you continue to uphold the teachings and traditions of your high office, as the representative of Her Majesty, in our great and noble Nation which stretches from sea to sea. We feel especially privileged that you should so courageously and graciously perform your official duties with dignity and reverence. We are heartened by your personal valour – deeply moved by the loving support of Madame Leger, and pray Almighty God will continue to favour you both with manifold blessings.

We rejoice in the high standards you set for your fellow citizens of Canada in public service and in private life. We express our deep admiration for your endeavours to unite the whole of Canada, holding high the Games of the Twenty-First Olympiad, to be held in the City of Montreal, as being an expression of the Canadian Olympics.

We further pray that Almighty God will bless you and Madame Leger with health and happiness so as to enjoy the affection of all Canadians as you continue in your office of high renown.

A Son Excellence, le très honorable Jules Léger, Gouverneur-Général du Canada

Qu'il plaise à Votre Excellence!

L'Assemblée Générale de l'Eglise Presbytérienne au Canada, dans sa cent deuxième Assemblée Annuelle, convoquée dans la ville d'Arnprior, Ontario, prie Votre Excellence de communiquer à Sa Gracieuse Majesté, la reine Elizabeth II, notre fidélité et notre affection à Son Trône et à Sa Personne.

Nous sommes profondément reconnaissants de votre influence imposante et de votre inspiration émouvante comme vous continuez à maintenir les leçons et les traditions de votre fonction élevée comme le représentant de Sa Majesté, dans notre grande et noble nation qui s'étend de mer jusqu'à mer. Nous nous sentons surtout priviligiés que si courageusement et si gracieusement vous vous acquittez de vos devoirs officiels avec dignité et respect. Nous sommes encouragés de votre vaillance personnelle, – profondément émus par l'appui tendre de Madame Léger, et nous prions Dieu, le Tout-Puissant, qu'il continue à vous accorder, à tous les deux, des grâces nombreuses.

Nous nous réjouissons du haut degré d'excellence que vous démontrez à vos concitoyens canadiens dans le service public et dans la vie privée. Nous exprimons notre admiration profonde pour vos efforts pour unir tout le Canada, faisant beaucoup de cas des Jeux de la Vingt et Unième Olympiade, qui auront lieu dans la ville de Montréal, comme une expression des Jeux Olympiques Canadiennes.

Nous prions davantage que Dieu, le Tout-Puissant, vous accorde, à vous et à Madame Léger, la bonne santé et le bonheur pour pouvoir jouir de l'affection de tous les Canadiens comme vous continuez votre fonction illustre.

To The Right Honourable Pierre Elliott Trudeau,
Prime Minister of Canada

Right Honourable Sir:

The one hundred and second General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada now in session in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Arnprior, Ontario, wish to extend to you, your ministers and the Parliament of Canada, our most respectful greetings.

In an age when the world-community of man lives in one community, we are mindful of the great blessings which are ours to be Canadian in this land of our birth, or of our adoption.

We are also grateful for the challenging opportunity that Canada and Canadians can play in the reshaping of the destiny of the whole of mankind. We are especially pleased with the assistance and leadership that Canada has given to the peace and well-being of all nations and peoples. It is heartening to note that out of the deep religious teaching and noble traditions of our fathers there is a consciousness of the caring role that Canada ought to take upon itself.

The fervent prayer of this Assembly is that Almighty God may continue to bless you, the honourable members of the Senate and House of Commons, with Divine guidance to continue to rule with wisdom and righteousness in answer to the opportunities of our time. We appreciate the awesome task of your office, and the grave issues with which you are confronted, and assure you of the constant prayers of our Church and our people that our nation be preserved in unity to the greater glory of God and the betterment of all Canadians.

Our prayer is that Canada be used of God in the Councils of the nations for freedom, justice, peace and well-being among all people. We also beseech the blessings of Almighty God upon you, your beloved wife and children, and that love and affection be in your midst in all the years to come.

Au très honorable Pierre Elliott Trudeau,
Premier Ministre du Canada

Très honorable monsieur:

La cent deuxième Assemblée Générale de l'Eglise Presbytérienne au Canada qui siège actuellement dans l'église presbytérienne St. Andrew, Arnprior, Ontario voudrait vous adresser, à vous, à vos Ministres, et au Parlement du Canada, nos salutations les plus respectueuses.

Dans une époque où la communauté mondiale des hommes habite une seule communauté nous nous souvenons des grands bienfaits qui sont les nôtres à raison d'être Canadiens dans cette terre natale ou adoptive.

Nous sommes aussi reconnaissants de l'opportunité importante qu'ont le Canada et les Canadiens à aider à refaçonner la destinée du genre humain. Nous sommes particulièrement contents de l'aide et de la direction que le Canada a données à la paix et au bien-être de toutes les nations et tous les peuples. Il est encourageant de remarquer que provenant de la profonde instruction religieuse et des nobles traditions de nos aïeux il y a une conscience du rôle soucieux dont le Canada devrait se charger.

La prière fervente de cette Assemblée est que Dieu, le Tout-Puissant, continue à vous accorder, aux honorables membres du Sénat et de la Chambre des Communes, la direction divine pour continuer à gouverner avec sagesse et vertu en réponse aux opportunités de nos jours. Nous apprécions la tâche redoutable de votre fonction et les graves questions qui vous confrontent, et nous vous assurons les prières contantes de notre Eglise et de notre peuple que notre nation soit préservée en unité à la plus grande gloire de Dieu et à l'amélioration de tous les Canadiens.

Notre prière est que Dieu se serve du Canada dans les Conseils des nations pour la liberté, la justice, la paix et le bien-être parmi tous les peuples du monde. Nous supplions Dieu, le Tout-Puissant, aussi, qu'il vous accorde, à vous, et à votre femme et enfants aimés ses grâces, et que l'affection et l'amour soient avec vous dans toutes les années de l'avenir.

On motion of Mr. Jones, duly seconded, it was agreed that the addresses to the Governor General and the Prime Minister be adopted and that the addresses to the Governor General and the Prime Minister be forwarded in French as well as English.

Response was made by the Assembly standing and singing "O' Canada".

COMMISSION ON MINUTES OF 99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Dr. D. C. MacDonald reported that the Commission appointed by the 100th General Assembly to examine the Minutes of the 99th Assembly had completed its work and reported that the Minutes had been found to be carefully and correctly presented. The Report given by Dr. MacDonald was on behalf of the Commission under the chairmanship of Mr. Rodger Talbot, and inadvertently omitted from the Minutes of the 101st General Assembly.

THE FUND FOR MINISTERIAL ASSISTANCE

The Assembly called for the Report of the Appointors of the Fund for Ministerial Assistance which was given in by Mr. George Malcolm, and read as follows:

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

Twenty-five years ago the Fund for Ministerial Assistance was established. It is interesting to note that $1,034,327 has been distributed in assistance over this period. The first 17 years the average per year was approximately $36,000 and the past 8 years approximately $54,000.

The Appointors are aware of how much The Presbyterian Church in Canada appreciates this most generous gift from the Donor. The present book value is $1 million capital ($788,082 market value). Approximately $250,000 capital was spent in the first 10 years.

The appointors are continuing the present method of distribution. While stipends in the Church have increased from $2000 in 1950 to $7400 plus increments to a maximum of $1700 in 1976 for those on General Assembly minimum stipend, the gifts from the Fund have been of great assistance to the married ministers and their children at or near the minimum stipend.

The Fund for Ministerial Assistance distributed $58,900 in 1975 in gifts to eligible ministers and their children in four quarterly payments and a special Christmas gift. It was possible to increase the gift for the children at Christmas.

The Committee is grateful to the staff of the Comptroller's Office and the Board of World Mission for their assistance in administration.

On motion of Mr. Malcolm, duly seconded, the Report was received.

MRS. HEATHER JOHNSTON

Mrs. J. A. Johnston addressed the Court concerning her participation in the Fifth General Assembly of the World Council of Churches, held in Nairobi in November and December, 1975. She spoke movingly of the challenge of the Nairobi meeting to our faith. Appropriate thanks were expressed by the Moderator.

NOTICE OF MOTION

The Moderator called forward Mr. Wayne Smith, who moved the motion of which he had given notice in the First Sederunt and the motion was seconded by Mr. C. E. Jackson.

WHEREAS, the United Nations Conference on Human Settlements is meeting in the City of Vancouver, That the following resolution be sent to:

The President of the United Nations Conference on Human Settlements, the Hon. Barnet Danson;
The Secretary General for Habitat, Senor Enrique Penalosa;
The Chairman of the Canadian Habitat Delegation, the Hon. Allan J. MacEachen;
The First Vice-Chairman of the Canadian Habitat Delegation, the Hon. Ronald Basford.

'The 102nd General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada, meeting in Arnprior, Ontario, extends its greetings to the United Nations Conference on Human Settlements, with our assurance of our prayers for God's sovereign guidance over its deliberations.

'We welcome the call issued by the Prime Minister of Canada to a 'conspiracy of love', a call which the Christian Church through the centuries has both issued and heeded.

'We are gratified that Canada's Minister of State for Urban Affairs was elected President of the Conference and that he has indicated Canada's commitment to implement the results of the Conference which our country can and must apply.

'We urge the Canadian delegation to commit Canada to a National Human Settlements' Policy that will afford justice to peoples and nations in need: the native peoples of Canada whose aboriginal rights must be maintained; the needs of those who intend to migrate or immigrate but are restrained when immigration policies are based solely on the manpower needs of urban industrialization; the needs of ordinary citizens, the poor and the near-poor, who are victimised by land speculation and decision-making processes beyond their reach; the needs of the developing nations of the world for clean water and reasonable access to world markets and resources.'

When the Moderator tested the Court, he declared the motion carried.

NOTICE OF MOTION

"I give Notice of Motion that it is my intention to move or cause to be moved at a future Sederunt, that the 102nd General Assembly recommend to the Business Committee and to the 103rd General Assembly, that the offering at the opening Worship Service be given to the Committee on Inter-Church Aid, Refugee and World Service for the development work of that Committee and that an appropriate announcement of this be made at the Opening Worship Service of the 103rd General Assembly.

(Signed) L. E. Siverns."

whereas, the practice of having Young Adult Observers at General Assemblies has been a learning and constructive experience, both to the Young Adult Observers themselves and to the General Assemblies they have attended.

therefore, be it resolved that the 102nd General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada strongly urge:–

1. Each Synod to invite Presbyteries to appoint Young Adult Observers to attend the Synod meeting with these observers enjoying the same rights, privileges, and limitations that are enjoyed by Young Adult Observers at the General Assembly.
2. Each Presbytery to appoint two young people to represent the Presbyterian Young People's Societies of the Presbytery as observers at Presbytery meetings with the same privileges as above.
3. Each Presbytery to consider appointing young people to Presbytery committees.

ADJOURNMENT

Announcements having been made, the Moderator adjourned the Assembly to meet in the same place on the same day and at seven o'clock in the evening, of which public intimation was given and the Sederunt was closed with prayer by the Moderator.

EIGHTH SEDERUNT

At Arnprior, and within St. Andrew's Church there, the tenth day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seventy-six, at seven o'clock, in the evening, met the General Assembly pursuant to adjournment, and was duly constituted with prayer, by the Moderator.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON BUSINESS

The Assembly called for the Report of the Committee on Business which was given in and presented by Mr. R. D. MacDonald, the Convener. On motion of Mrs. E. C. Treleaven, duly seconded, it was received and considered and, being adopted, the business for the Eighth Sederunt was ordered accordingly.

COMMITTEE ON BILLS AND OVERTURES

The Report as a whole of the Committee on Bills and Overtures was adopted, on motion of Dr. J. K. Lattimore, seconded by Dr. J. V. Mills.

BOARD OF CONGREGATIONAL LIFE

The Moderator called for the resumption of the consideration of the Report of the Board of Congregational Life, which was presented by Mrs. K. D. Taylor, the Chairman.

Recommendations 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24 were adopted.

On motion of Mr. C. N. Congram, duly seconded, it was agreed with respect to the Supplementary Report re Presbyterian Men, that the body be deleted from the Acts and Proceedings and only the Recommendation be printed.

MINUTE OF APPRECIATION – MISS L. A. REITH

On motion of Mr. W. L. Young, seconded by Mr. G. A. Malcolm, the Assembly unanimously agreed that the following Minute be approved and recorded in the Minutes of the Assembly, and that a copy be sent to Miss Reith.

"The 102nd General Assembly, meeting in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Arnprior, Ontario, June 6, 1976 wishes to take note of the retirement of Miss Louise A. Reith, as the Executive Secretary of the Women's Missionary Society (W.D.), and to express its sincere appreciation of the many years of faithful service Miss Reith has given to the whole Church, especially in the fields of mission education and church education generally. The Board of World Mission, the Board of Congregational Life and the former Board of Christian Education have found Miss Reith's advice and co-operation tremendously helpful in their work. It is the sincere wish of the General Assembly that Miss Reith may have many years of good health to enjoy her retirement."

Mrs. K. D. Taylor then addressed the Court on the work of the Board of Congregational Life.

MINUTE OF APPRECIATION – MRS. K. D. TAYLOR

Assembly adopted unanimously the following Minute of Appreciation re Mrs. K. D. Taylor, on motion of Mr. W. L. Young, seconded by Mr. F. J. Whilsmith.

"Mrs. K. D. Taylor served as a member of the Committee on Organization and Planning which recommended the formation of a Board of Congregational Life. She, therefore, had a vision of what an agency for congregational life could mean to the congregations of The Presbyterian Church in Canada. When the 98th General Assembly appointed Mrs. Taylor as the first Chairman of this new Board she set about making that vision a reality.

"One of her many gifts to the Board, and to the Church, has been her realization from the beginning that a Board of Congregational Life must itself become a caring fellowship. During the four years that Mrs. Taylor has served as Chairman the Board has achieved a sense of fellowship and co-operation that is unique and has greatly strengthened the Board's support for congregational life.

"A busy wife and mother in Belleville and an active member of her home congregation and community, Mrs. Taylor still found time to travel to Toronto to attend the many meetings which required her presence. Besides, in her capacity as Chairman, she made it her custom to attend as many of the Advisory Committee and Task Force meetings as possible. To all the meetings she brought insight, wise counsel and a loving concern.

"As she retires this year, the members of the Board wish to record their appreciation of Mrs. Taylor's leadership during the important formative years of the Board's Life, and to express gratitude to Almighty God for the gift of one who brought a rare combination of enthusiasm, devotion and good judgement to the work of providing support for congregational life."

The Moderator called on Mrs. Taylor and expressed the Assembly's sincere approval of these words of appreciation.

The Report of the Board of Congregational Life as a whole, as amended, was adopted, on motion of Mr. W. L. Young, duly seconded.

COMMITTEE ON CHURCH ARCHITECTURE

The Assembly called for the Report of the Committee on Church Architecture which, as printed (Page 357), was presented by Dr. D. C. MacDonald, in the absence of the Convener.

On motion of Dr. E. H. Bean, seconded by Mr. George Malcolm, the Report was received and its Recommendations considered seriatim.

Recommendations 1 and 2 were adopted.

On motion of Dr. Bean, seconded by Mr. Malcolm, the Report as a whole with recommendations was adopted.

MINUTE OF APPRECIATION – MR. F. J. WHILSMITH

The Assembly unanimously adopted, on motion of Mr. P. A. McDonald, seconded by Mr. R. C. Garvin, the following Minute of Appreciation re Mr. F. J. Whilsmith.

"The Administrative Council records its deep appreciation to Mr. F. J. Whilsmith for his untiring service on the Administrative Council and especially for his outstanding leadership as Chairman during the past four years.

"The harmony experienced within the Council and extending into the broader life of the Church in its Boards, Committees and the General Assembly is due in no small measure to his churchmanship.

"It is interesting to note that with his increasing knowledge of the Church at work through his extensive world travel he brought an added dimension to his role in the Council.

"Both within the Council and on the floor of the Assembly, Mr. Whilsmith exhibited both good grace and good humour in the encounter and confrontations which develop on this level of responsibility in the life of the Church.

"An added feature of Mr. Whilsmith that should be noted was the sartorial selection of his shirts and ties!

"The Church has been extremely fortunate in having a man with these qualities of Christian spirit and his love of Christ and his Church as the Chairman of the Council. This was often manifested in the meaningful services of worship which he conducted in the Administrative Council."

NOTICE OF MOTION

Mr. L. E. Siverns moved, duly seconded, in terms of his Notice of Motion of the Second Sederunt (Page 31), that the 102nd General Assembly recommend to the Business Committee and to the 103rd General Assembly, that the offering at the opening Worship Service be given to the Committee on Inter-Church Aid, Refugee and World Service for the development work of that Committee, and that an appropriate announcement of this be made at the Opening Worship Service of the 103rd General Assembly.

The motion was adopted.

NOTICE OF MOTION

Mr. L. E. Siverns moved the motion of which notice was given during the Seventh Sederunt (Page 59), which was duly seconded, in the following terms:

"That the Board of World Mission and the Board of Congregational Life be urged to consider the serious relative and actual decline of members of The Presbyterian Church in Canada, the possible relative decline in income and other aspects of the Church's life, as detailed in, for example, the Grant Maxwell study of the Church in Canada, and report on the state of Church, with Recommendations, to the 103rd General Assembly."

The motion was adopted.

NOTICE OF MOTION

Mr. M. R. Gellatly introduced Mr. Stephen How's Notice of Motion given during the Third sederunt (Page 36), and moved, seconded by Mr. G. A. Malcolm, in the following terms:

"1. That the 102nd General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada reaffirm emphasis on Native Peoples; and

2. That measures be taken to encourage conversation between Native Peoples and The Presbyterian Church in Canada on all levels of the Church in the interest of a closer co-operation; and

3. That the Board of World Mission produce a study paper to be distributed to the congregations dealing with the relationship of the Christian Churches in Canada and the Native Peoples with special emphasis on culture, values, and spirituality; and

4. That the Committee on Church Worship study Christian Native worship and report to the next General Assembly; and

5. That the General Assembly urges congregations to designate at least one Sunday a year to focus on and financially support native issues."

The motion was adopted.

NOTICE OF MOTION

Dr. A. van Seters moved, duly seconded, in terms of his Notice of Motion given in the Seventh Sederunt (Page 54).

(a) That the present Committee on Home Religion be dissolved; and

(b) That the Board of Congregational Life establish within itself, a Committee to deal with the present responsibilities of the Committee on Home Religion; and

(c) That this new Committee examine and recommend additional devotional material suitable for children, young people and adults.

On motion of Mr. Robin Ross, seconded by Mr. Paul Walker, and with the concurrence of Dr. van Seters, it was agreed that this matter be referred to the Board of Congregational Life, and that they consider whether and how this Committee and the Board may be related, and to report to the 103rd General Assembly.

NOTICE OF MOTION

H. Bean, duly seconded.

COMMITTEE ON COURTESIES

The Assembly called for the Report of the above Committee which was presented by Miss Margaret Henderson, the Convener, on whose motion seconded by Mr. R. E. Baker, the Report was received, considered and adopted as follows:

That the 102nd General Assembly expresses its heartfelt appreciation to the many people who gave so willingly and generously of their time and varied talents to make this Assembly run efficiently. The warmth that was extended to our commissioners by the people of Arnprior will long be remembered.

That the Assembly extend special thanks to the following:

The Reverend Dr. A. Lorne Mackay for the capable and gracious manner in which he conducted the business of the 102nd General Assembly.

The Reverend Leo Hughes for his courage in inviting the Assembly to Arnprior and who in conjunction with Mr. Orville Blackburn, Clerk of Session, and the members of the steering committee, and with the support of his congregation, co-ordinated the organizational details of this Assembly.

Mr. Jim Geddes and Mr. Donald Lyon and their billeting committee for their diligence in arranging billets.

The Federal Study Centre, Stewart House, the Oblate Fathers, and the members of Presbyterian Congregations and other local congregations who so graciously provided accommodation.

The women of the churches of Lanark and Renfrew Presbytery, the sister churches of Arnprior, and the Legion, with special mention of Mrs. Isobel Scobie and Mrs. Ruth Smith and the women of St. Andrew's for the excellent meals and provision of other refreshments.

Mr. Russell Johnson, Mr. Bob Tourangeau and his committee, the Rev. Dr. Peter Wotherspoon and others of the Ottawa Presbytery, and Westminster Church, Smiths Falls, for the provision of free transportation and parking.

Dr. D. W. Hay, the session, choir and organist of St. Andrew's, Arnprior, who led in worship on Sunday evening.

The Arnprior Cable Vision, who provided closed circuit coverage of the Sunday Evening Service.

The Church Council on Justice and Correction for presenting a chalice, crafted by a federal penitentiary inmate.

Mr. Douglas Fraser and Mr. Donald Lyon, principals of Arnprior Public Schools, who made their facilities available for our use.

The resource personnel and the people who chaired the groups for their leadership in the briefing sessions.

The Reverend Dr. Bruce Miles and the Reverend Glen Davis for their inspiring messages on Wednesday to Friday mornings, and the Reverend Robert Spencer for his leadership in song.

Mr. Kenneth Cochrane of Renfrew and Mr. A. Gordon Smith, a young adult observer, for their leadership at the organ.

The Reverend Dr. Mariano DiGangi for his message, and the Friends from Cornwall for their entertainment on Wednesday evening. We assure the Friends of our prayers for their mission in Iran.

His worship, Mayor George Johnson, Arnprior, for his sincere and poetic welcome.

The Clerks of Assembly and their staff, and the Chairman of the Business Committee, for their work in preparation for and during the Assembly.

He invoked God's blessings upon the Commissioners and all present in their return to their tasks.

CLOSING OF ASSEMBLY

The business being finished, the Assembly joined in singing the one hundred and twenty-second Psalm, which was sung unaccompanied.

The Moderator led the Assembly in prayer. He then said, "In the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ, the only King and Head of the Church, and by the authority of this Assembly, I now dissolve this Assembly and appoint another General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada to meet in the City of Toronto in the Province of Ontario and within St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church there, on the first Sunday in June in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and seventy-seven, at eight o'clock evening, local time.

The Moderator closed the sessions with the Apostolic Benediction.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF WORLD MISSION

To The Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Board of World Mission presents this fourth report. The Mission endeavours of our Church are small in comparison with the tremendous amount of mission work which can be done. They are significant in that they represent the outreach of a small group of Christian people who are prepared to go and to give in support of the Church of Jesus Christ on earth.

The Presbyterian Church in Canada has many faithful Church workers in Canada and Overseas, both ordained ministers and lay people. They are supported in prayer and finance by an equally dedicated people across Canada.

Mrs. W. E. McCutcheon was appointed chairman of the Board. She is the first lay person to be so named. Mr. Ross Common, also a lay person, was named vice chairman. The ladies of the WMS, eastern and western divisions, have been active in the support of the mission of the Church and appreciation must be expressed to them for their key role in Mission Education.

In 1975 Rev. K. C. Doka (B.C.), Rev. George Johnston (Alberta), and Dr. D. T. Evans (Saskatchewan) began their work with diligence and enthusiasm as Superintendents of Mission in their respective areas. The Superintendent of Mission for the Synod of the Atlantic Provinces, Dr. A. E. Morrison resigned and a minute of appreciation is recorded. The new Superintendent of Missions is Rev. W.J.O. Isaac.

Once again the aid-receiving congregations responded extremely well to the increase of General Assembly stipend $800 and travel $300. They accepted a large share of the increase and in some cases more than the increased amount. The Board of World Mission sees this factor as a recognition by the congregations of the financial needs of church workers in this time of inflation.

Self-supporting congregations were able to meet the new minimum General Assembly salary and not one of them applied to the Board of World Mission for assistance.

The Board of World Mission stated it would seek in every way to emphasize the work with Native People: through Anishinabe Fellowship Centre, Winnipeg; Kenora Fellowship Centre; Prince Albert Fellowship Centre; through appointees to Native People congregations, and through education with a view to greater understanding of Native People.

Mission Outreach

– The reports which follow give further detail:
One new congregation, Mill Woods, Edmonton, was established. In the Ottawa area, Kanata-Glen Cairn will start as soon as an experienced Church Extension person can be found.

The Board of World Mission on behalf of The Presbyterian Church in Canada spent $2,205,797 in its operational mission budget in 1975.

The Second Century Advance for Christ campaign in 1978 and 1979 will be a valuable help to Presbyteries establishing new congregations in new housing developments within Canada. It will help them start without a mortgage indebtedness that stifles Mission Outreach. It will also assist Overseas Churches to reach out into new towns and cities in their Church Extension and other ministries.

Significant highlights 1975-76:

– Most of the graduates in theology of 1975/76 are or will be serving in their appointments in Canada.
– Among the graduates – Rev. Ron and Mrs. Wallace and the Rev. Richard Fee have been appointed to overseas assignments.
– Dr. D. and Mrs. Irwin (teachers) have been appointed to Nigeria at the University level.
– Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Milne, formerly of Jobat, India, have reapplied and are considering an appointment to theological teaching in India.
– Mr. and Mrs. J. Bertholet, agriculturalist and teacher, have been appointed to the Bhil Community Project, India.
– Miss M. Nichol, R. N. has returned from the World Health Organization and has been appointed to Nepal as a missionary nurse, seconded to the United Mission to Nepal.

- Dr. H. A. Doig, Secretary for Finance retired at the end of 1975.
- Rev. M. Fesenko who served among the Ukrainians in Toronto since 1929 has retired.
- The Centennial filmstrip "Celebration!" on Canada Mission has been widely used in our church. Many other excellent filmstrips and slide sets are available.
- Study and research on Canadian Native People has resulted in a more intensive thrust to share with them in the proclamation of the Gospel.
- Matching financial grants from the Alberta and the Saskatchewan governments and the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA) have been received to assist in medical work in Nepal, the Sahel famine rehabilitation, the Medical Mobile Clinic in the Bhil area of India, and Africa – Likubula House, Malawi.
- The Mission Month of May demonstrated the two way nature of Mission with our overseas visitors sharing the good news of the Gospel of Jesus Christ with us. The representatives were Dr. and Mrs. Titus Path (New Hebrides), Rev. J. Bissessar (Guyana), Rev. N. C. Wang (Taiwan), Rev. O. Mbila (Nigeria), Rev. W. Kim (Koreans, Japan), Bishop D. Dayal (India).
- Centennial visits of missionaries Miss Margaret Kennedy, Miss Eleanor Knott, Miss Pauline Brown and Miss Agnes Hislop from India, and Rev. Ted Ellis and Miss Joy Randall from Taiwan as well as that of Rev. N. C. Kim and the Korean Choir, and the Centennial Choir, stimulated interest in mission throughout the church.
- Overseas personnel: Resignations are Rev. and Mrs. R. Hall, Nigeria, after 10 years of service; Rev. and Mrs. Murray Garvin, Taiwan, after 16 years of service; Rev. and Mrs. B. Crosby, Malawi, after 6 years of service. The appreciation of the Church is recorded for their faithful service.

The Church of Jesus Christ and The Presbyterian Church in Canada in particular, is being challenged today as we seek to be faithful to the Lord Jesus Christ in a world that is indifferent or does not even know and may not have heard of the Truth of the Gospel. Our mission is heightened by the fact in certain parts of the world that many people are coming into fellowship with the Church.

Let us be involved in world mission to the honour and glory of Jesus Christ whose we are and whom we serve.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That the increase in basic stipend be $900 ($7,400 to $8,300) for Ordained Ministers and a proportionate increase for other church workers (deaconesses, women missionaries, catechists, lay missionaries, Directors of institutions, special overseas personnel, retired ministers, married students and summer students) be made effective January 1, 1977 and the increment scale remain as it is at present.
2. In order to maintain the appropriate stipend differential for the Superintendents of Missions that the amount of stipend increase be $1,000 effective January 1, 1977.
3. That the Basic Travel Allowance (July 1/76 $1,000) be increased by $200 per annum for all ordained missionaries and church workers etc. effective January 1, 1977.
4. That for Missions in Canada and Overseas up to $100,000 for Canada and $50,000 for Overseas for Capital needs (manses, church sites, overseas capital projects, etc.) be requested to the extent that additional funds including bequest monies at the end of the year are available.
5. That the following statement be the Board of World Mission answer to the referral from the 101st General Assembly regarding the China Statement and that it be adopted as a guide for study of China and Christian response.

   Re Our Concern in Regard to the People's Republic of China

1) Our concern for the people of China flows directly from our faith in Christ. Because God has given us a mission to all people, we cannot be unconcerned about the Chinese who constitute almost one quarter of the world's population. God is always at work expressing his judgment and compassion in all the world. As His servants our ministry includes the people of China.
2) As Presbyterians we recall with gratitude our long experience of direct fellowship with the Chinese people, until this was broken by political events. In the twenty five years during which China was largely isolated from the rest of the world little reliable information about China was received.
3) As we seek to understand the new China we should be fully mindful of the substantial bases laid by the Christian Missionary Movement and the many Christian teachings reflected in contemporary China. The Christian mission, in its mission to China, established a fellowship of service cutting across family and regional loyalties. It pioneered university teaching of modern science and western medicine, started education of women, initiated many social services and gave a world outlook.
4) At the same time we should not forget that the Christian mission came to a China suffering from the humiliating and often brutal domination of China by western nations. Most Christian missionaries, however honest their faith, came from the same countries which dominated China and they accepted too easily the special privileges gained for them by military action. Protest by the missionaries against injustices and abuses imposed on China by foreign powers were too few and too feeble. In the light of this it is understandable that western Christian missionaries were rejected by the People's Republic of China as cultural tools of western imperialism.
5) Proposals for action:
   a) That the Church study and seek to understand contemporary China in order to interpret it accurately.
   b) That the Church study the commitment of the Chinese people under Communism in relation to the Christian's commitment to Christ, focusing on similiarities, differences and tensions.
   c) That the Church be open to see China's achievements and, while not uncritical, to benefit from the lessons to be learned from the Chinese experience.
   d) That the Church through biblical study seek to know the meaning of the Chinese experience in terms of the purposes and activity of God in human history.
   e) That in analyzing China's historical experience, the Church re-examine her responsibility within Canada's social and political order.
   f) That the Church be open and ready for whatever future opportunities may arise for a mutual sharing of experiences, with our Christian brothers and sisters in China.
   g) That Christians both corporately and individually, be faithful in prayer that the full riches of God's grace may come to the Chinese people and that the Christian community there may have the special wisdom and power of God as they maintain their life and seek to make their witness in a new society.
6. Re Presbytery of Kingston 1975 Overture #13, "Teaching on the New China" be answered in the following terms:

   The Board of World Mission would first express appreciation to the Presbytery of Kingston for affirming our common concern "that Jesus Christ, His Gospel and the power of His redeeming love, be given its rightful place, and His Lordship be central to our mission in the world", and its concern that teaching materials should express this faith, with all of which we are in full accord.

   In March 1968 the General Board of Missions adopted a statement on 'our concern for the people of continental China', and reported it to the 94th General Assembly (A&P 1968, p. 206-207). Subsequently the joint executives of the General Board of Missions authorized and instructed the Missionary Education Committee to provide materials about developments in continental China so that our Church might be prepared for genuine understanding of the conditions and needs of the people there and for mutual sharing of Christian experience with our brethren in China whenever opportunity might arise to do so.

The intent of material which has been circulated regarding the People's Republic of China is to provide as far as possible, accurate information on the present situation there. The physical conditions of life of people in the People's Republic of China have greatly improved and for this we express gratitude. We regret that this material has been interpreted as an exaltation of communism. Literature produced by Missionary Education is implicitly approved by the Board of World Mission.

For the Board of World Mission the guiding principle is the Lordship of Jesus Christ over all the world. Study material on the People's Republic of China may be provided from time to time to assist our people to understand China and the Christian response to China.

7. That the Mission Themes for 1977-78 be based on the titles "Caribbean Crescent" and "The Local Church in God's Mission", and

That the Board of Congregational Life, Women's Missionary Society (WD) and Board of World Mission co-operate in providing suitable material including materials related to the Second Century Advance for Christ, in a Canadian Presbyterian User's Guide.

8. That inasmuch as no suitable appointment is available for Mr. John Chan, the requirements of the General Assembly that he be required to accept an Ordained Missionary appointment under the Board of World Mission be waived and that the Board of Ministry, the Presbytery of Montreal and Mr. Chan be advised of this action.

9. Re Overture No. 12, Presbytery of Montreal, Ordained Mission Appointment

That in light of the far-reaching implications and issues involved in Overture 12 of the Presbytery of Montreal, all of which are relative to the primary intent of the General Assembly in the decision approving ordained mission appointments, namely "in order to insure the continuing witness of our Church outside the main centres of population", and respecting this decision of the highest Court of the Church, the prayer of Overture be not granted.

That the Board of World Mission would ask the General Assembly to recognize the following:

1) That the Board of World Mission recognizes that special situations, circumstances or hardships, such as 'change of domicile' may arise for graduating students.

2) That an interviewing process has been developed by the Board of World Mission which allows the graduating students to express their special situations, circumstances or hardships.

3) That the present regulations approved by the General Assembly do provide flexibility to meet the personal needs of the graduates, and the pastoral needs of the Church.

4) That most of the graduating students are accepting their appointments under the present General Assembly regulations.

5) That the Board of World Mission consults with Presbyteries of the Church which have students for the ministry under their care, and requests Presbyteries to advise the Board of situations where special circumstances arise relative to appointments, Section 5(f) (A&P 1974 p. 203), of the Regulations governing O.M. appointments allowing Presbyteries this 'course of appeal', namely; "In addition to regular appointments, the Board of World Mission may, at its discretion appoint a graduating student licentiate to any place of ministry not requiring financial aid from the Board at the request of the Presbytery within whose bounds such ministry is situated."

6) That the Board of World Mission also recognizes that further attention should be given to special circumstances relative to student appointments, and is recommending to the General Assembly (see recommendation 10) that the Board of World Mission begin consultation with the Board of Ministry and the Committee on Church Doctrine regarding such matters, and in particular the concerns inherent in the Overture of the Presbytery of Montreal, vis a vis ordained mission appointments, namely, Christian Vocation Careers, Family Life and the Relation of Husband and Wife in Ministry.

10. That the Board of World Mission begin consultation with the Board of Ministry and the Committee on Church Doctrine regarding matters of special circumstances relative to graduating student appointments under present Assembly regulations and in particular, with reference to concerns inherent in Overture 12 of the Presbyerty of Montreal vis a vis ordained mission appointments, namely, Christian Vocation, Careers, Family Life and the relation of Husband and Wife in Ministry, and that the results of these consultations be reported back to the next General Assembly.

11. Minute of Appreciation – Dr. A. E. Morrison

A native of British Columbia, the Rev. Allister E. Morrison graduated from Presbyterian College, Montreal, in 1941, and became the minister at Knox Church, Halifax. In 1943 two events happened for Allister – marriage to Margaret and a move to St. Andrew's, New Glasgow. After a ten year ministry in New Glasgow he was asked to become Church Extension worker in Halifax-Lunenburg Presbytery to begin St. Andrew's, Dartmouth. In 1956 he was appointed as Superintendent of Missions for the Atlantic Provinces and has served faithfully and well for 20 years until July 1976.

His knowledge of the people and congregations of the Atlantic Provinces is immense. In spite of an accident in his travels and a health problem, he has given full and faithful service. Mrs. Margaret Morrison is a graduate from the Missionary and Deaconess Training School (Ewart College). Together with Mrs. Morrison, the Rev. A. Morrison has served our Church with distinction. He was honoured by Presbyterian College with Honourary Doctorate.

Our deep appreciation of these faithful and loyal servants of Jesus Christ is recorded, and the BWM would assure Allister and Margaret of our continuing interest and prayers as they continue their ministry.

12. Minute of Appreciation – Rev. M. Fesenko

The Rev. Michael Fesenko has ministered among the Ukrainian people of the Toronto area since 1929 when he was appointed.

Mrs. Fesenko has shared in this ministry, and is a graduate of the Missionary and Deaconess Training School (Ewart College).

Mr. Fesenko edits and publishes the Evangelical Truth, a bilingual religious publication. He also conducts radio broadcasts to the Ukraine through the facilities of the CBC International Services. He has organized a Credit Union among his church membership and is busily engaged in several important translation projects.

As Mr. Fesenko retires, he has accepted in this capacity, the visitation of Ukrainian families in Toronto, and, the continuation of the broadcasting and publication interests. Our appreciation is expressed for the devotion of Mr. and Mrs. M. Fesenko to the cause of Jesus Christ and their mission in His name among the Ukrainian peoples. Our prayers go with them in their continuing ministry.

13. Minute of Appreciation – Rev. Murray and Mrs. Garvin

The Board of World Mission records its appreciation for the ministry of the Rev. Murray L. and Mrs. Mary Garvin as overseas missionaries of The Presbyterian Church in Canada working with The Presbyterian Church in Taiwan.

Murray and Mary Garvin were appointed as overseas missionaries in 1961, went to Taiwan in November of that year and for the first two years spent their time in language study. Thereafter Murray was assigned to the Mountain Work Committee and worked under their guidance until 1974. He worked with tribal people in Hsin Chu, Lotung and Taipei, and for a number of years served the Taiwan Church as the Assistant Mountain Work Secretary. In mid 1974 the Garvins were asked to move to Hualien where Murray served as Acting Principal of the Yu Shan Theological Institute where pastors for tribal churches are trained. He served in this capacity until leaving Taiwan in January 1976.

Mary Garvin is a trained nurse and a graduate deaconess. In addition to her responsibilities as a wife and mother she has been actively involved in the Women's Work Committee of the General Assembly, played an active part in the YWCA including the chairmanship of several of its committees, helped found the Taipei International Church, and as a writer has become widely known as the author of a handbook for small group Bible study.

The Garvins have served Christ selflessly in Taiwan. Their lives and witness have touched many and much of what God allowed them to do will live on long after their departure in the lives of some of these people.

In expressing its appreciation to Murray and Mary the BWM would assure them of its interest and prayers as they serve Christ in a Presbyterian congregation in Canada.

Secretary.

RESEARCH AND PLANNING

The style of operation of the Research and Planning Committee at present is to work mainly through Task Forces which draw in persons of competence in various aspects of the work of the Board and to broaden the base of the Committee's work by locating Task Forces in different areas of the country.

During 1975 most active Task Forces were those on China and on the Canadian Indians.

- The China Task Force did intensive study of the former 'position paper' referred back to BWM by General Assembly, a revised statement as a guide for study and Christian response is recommended. It also sponsored a "China Monthly" study group and public meetings in Toronto.
- The Canadian Indian Task Force has worked at implementing the actions of the 101st General Assembly calling on the whole Church to give work with Native People a high priority.
- The Task Force on the Caribbean is initiating an ecumenical Caribbean Consultation in Toronto on ministry to Caribbean people in Canada.

- In French/English Relations the Task Force was dissolved and Rev. A. J. Aicken was named as Research and Planning liaison person re French work to the Montreal and Quebec Presbyteries.
- The Task Force on Witness In A Time of Religious Pluralism combined with the United Church Program in the same field to study the preparatory materials on 'Dialogue with Persons of Other Faiths' of the WCC Nairobi Assembly.
- Three new Task Forces were set up: Self-Reliance in Mission, BWM Work in Transition, and Special Training of all BWM Workers.
- The study of "Canada Mission" has continued and plans are emerging for three Synod Consultations.

MISSION EDUCATION

Four areas of the work of Mission Education were very busy in 1975:

(1) Further sales and promotion of the book "Unknown Country".

(2) The following Visual Aids were produced:

Filmstrips

- "Celebration!" – the Canada mission account in Centennial year which was distributed free to each Presbytery; many have been sold.
- "Swings 'N Things" – Yokohama Nursery in Japan.
- "Working Together in Amkhut" – Bhil area in India.

Slide Sets

- "A Place for Children" – Christian Communicare Centre in Port Harcourt, Nigeria.
- "Sahel, West Africa" – drought and rehabilitation.
- "Changhua Christian Hospital, Taiwan" – hospital in rural area in central Taiwan.
- "A Pictorial Newsletter from Ron Archer, Taiwan".
- "Mission Happening" – how Hopedale Congregation, Oakville, Ontario, planned a mission month.
- "Making Mission Happen" – some examples of mission in which The Presbyterian Church in Canada shares.

Assistance was given to Inter Church Aid in the production of the filmstrip "Help Wanted Now".

(3) Co-operation with the National Council of Churches and with the United Church of Canada and the Anglican Church in preparation of study materials, especially "Canada Concern" theme for 1976-77.

(4) Deputation.

- Missioners engaged in deputation numbered 31.
- Five World Mission Week-ends were conducted and assistance given in planning and providing materials and personnel for several other types of congregational events.
- Seven summer camps were provided with mission resource persons.
- Every Presbytery of the Church had a representative of mission education.
- "Mission Month of May and Centennial Emphasis" in all Synods. Overseas visitors who came for the Centennial celebrations included: Rev. N. C. Wang, Moderator of the Presbyterian Church of Taiwan; Rev. J. Bissessar, Moderator of the Guyana Presbyterian Church; Rev. O. Mbila, Moderator of the Presbyterian Church of Nigeria; Rev. W. Kim, vice moderator of the Korean Christian Church in Japan; Bishop Din Dayal, representative of the Church of North India; Rev. and Mrs. T. Path, representatives of the Presbyterian Church in the New Hebrides. Missionaries included Miss P. Brown, India; Miss Eleanor Knott, India; Miss A. Hislop, India; Miss M. Kennedy, India; Miss J. Randall, Taiwan; Rev. T. Ellis, Taiwan; Rev. C. McGill, Taiwan; Rev. D. MacKay, Nigeria; and Rev. H. Sawh, scholarship student from Guyana.

42,000 copies of the 1976 Calendar were sold. Due to the mail strike, which affected sales and increased costs of shipping, there was a loss in the Calendar revenue.

CHURCH AND UNIVERSITY, OVERSEAS STUDENTS AND LAYMEN ABROAD

Church and University

Activities of the Secretary, Rev. Dr. Goodwill MacDougall, during 1975 includes visits to universities from Thunder Bay to Victoria as well as in eastern and central Canada, participation in National Chaplains Conference, attending regional conferences, distribution of questionnaires, letters to Clerks of Sessions asking for study, action and suggestions on this ministry to students, and promotion of the work through meetings with congregations and groups within congregations.

Certain facts seem to be emerging and these may help to determine the course of this work for the future:

There is general agreement that the chaplaincy is gaining new status among students, faculty and administration. The result is that the questions many chaplains are asking concerns ways and means to find additional resources, not only for the professional chaplain but also for lay persons within the university communities and the Church who can work with them and help them fulfill the demands of their ministry.

- The attitude of some congregations and presbyteries gives cause for concern. On the one hand there is an uncertainty, even a mistrust, of campus ministry, and on the other hand, an indifference to it.
- Campus ministry has similarities to that of the conventional parish. For instance, the Chaplain has the priestly role of providing opportunities for worship, study, fellowship, and mission. He/she has the pastoral role of counsellor, which is receiving increasing recognition. Then there is the prophetic role where the Chaplain must ever face faculty and students with their accountability.
- By its very nature, however, campus ministry embodies distinct differences from that of the conventional congregation:
  (1) Unlike the parish setting, the Church on campus rarely has any ascribed status and must make its own way without any of the usual bridges of Church Schools and other rites of passage.
  (2) The traditional congregational ministry draws mainly on persons who already have an interest in the Church. The campus congregation, on the other hand, is a very transient group. It is a ministry to people of all faiths and of no faith; to students from church families and students from families with no Church concern. In university there is little or no pressure to be involved in church related activities; only a felt need will lead one to do so.
- Public worship services of most congregations follow more or less traditional forms that the particular denomination has developed and accepted. At university, the worshipping community expresses itself in ways that are meaningful to the participants and meeting their needs, but the liturgy they adopt would not always be acceptable to their home congregation. The result is that on many occasions when these young adults return to a traditional congregation they find it difficult to relate meaningfully to it.
- Due to differences from the conventional parish, the approach of the Chaplain to the task of ministry in the university setting must be different from that of the parish minister. The Chaplain, to be effective, must not only be approachable but also very available to the university community.

The campus ministry will never produce a "self-supporting" congregation. It will always be very dependent on the National Church. It is undoubtedly a "high risk" ministry, but this does not lessen its validity or importance.

Overseas Students and Laymen Abroad

Director: Miss Patricia Hanna

Overseas Students

- Latest available statistics indicate that approximately 40,000 overseas students were admitted to Canada in 1974.
- One of the documents being prepared by the Secretary of State for fiscal discussions between federal and provincial officials includes these recommendations: the establishing of a ceiling on the number of overseas students in Canada; and the consideration of out-of-country fees. Various groups will be studying these recommendations, especially the implications of differential fees which could lead to the predominance of a wealthy, foreign student elite in Canada and the virtual elimination of poorer self-sponsored students.
- Requests continued to come in from overseas students in Canada or in their own country seeking information or help in matters relating to financial difficulties, study in Canada, work and immigration problems, accommodation, church contacts, etc. Requests came also from missionaries overseas, and in Canada from ministers, church members, university officials, chaplains and secular agencies writing and calling on behalf of students.
- An ongoing effort was made to promote and aid contacts between overseas students in Canada and the church and community. In addition to articles in church publications, correspondence, deputation, field trips, etc., the new CU/OSLA newsletter will continue to draw overseas student concerns to the attention of ministers and church members, and to suggest ways in which local congregations and interested individuals can attempt outreach to overseas students.
- Ministers close to university campuses have been encouraged to make themselves known to the Foreign Student Advisor or appropriate university official and to enquire into the possibility of obtaining a list of Presbyterian students or students living in the church area, so that they might be welcomed to the community and the church.
- Chaplains have also been encouraged to contact Foreign Student Advisors and campus international student associations, to familiarize themselves with the situation of these students and to consider them as part of their total ministry.
- Inter Varsity Christian Fellowship has been taking an increasing interest in outreach to overseas students.
- Foreign students encountered increasing difficulties with immigration authorities and Miss Hanna was involved in various meetings of university officials and church and secular agencies with immigration officials. These culminated in the submission of briefs to the federal government making recommendations about the situation of overseas students in Canada.
- Rising inflation in Canada, and national as well as personal crisis in students' home countries created very difficult financial circumstances for many students this past year. The limited possibility of obtaining a summer work permit aggravated the situation.

Laymen Abroad

- More church members heard about the Service for Laymen Abroad and requests for church contacts and helpful information continued to come in from travellers going abroad.
- Occasionally an enquiry about voluntary service opportunities overseas has led to persons being accepted for the BWM Overseas Volunteer Program.
- Several universities have overseas study, work and travel information available for their students. Two universities organized an information day on their campuses, and the Director was asked as one of the resource persons to offer information on church volunteer service opportunities and overseas travel contacts.
- Orientation of the participants in the Centennial tour to the Orient.

- An evaluation questionnaire sent to tour participants after the trip revealed deep insights gained about the world-wide fellowship and mission of the church. Consequently, a special committee was set up to explore the feasibility of further BWM tours of mission education value. Two trips to India and Nepal, and the Maritimes in the fall of 1976, and two trips to the Orient and Western Canada in 1977 were recommended to the BWM Executive and approved.
- The church related Tourism With Insight (TWIN) working group organized two tourism seminars in 1975. Plans were also made for a February 1976 Consultation on Church Tourism for Canadian church tour organizers.
- The 1975 inter-church "Ten Days for World Development" program included in its resource kit material a section on tourism.
- Some local congregations found the theme of Christian responsibility in travel an issue of interest and relevance, and the Director was asked by various churches to participate in programs on this topic.

MISSIONARY RESIDENCE

462 Oriole Parkway, Toronto, Ontario

During 1976:

- Outside and some apartments were painted.
- A new furnace and boiler was installed.
- Gifts received from WMS (ED), Glenview Church and Ailsa Craig Church made possible the re-upholstering of three chesterfields and chairs, some recarpeting, a new dining room suite for one apartment, a humidifier, as well as some drapes, bedspreads and new clothes cupboards.
- Volunteers assisted with maintenance and improvement of the Residence.

JOINT TASK FORCE ON FIELD SERVICES

Representatives of Board of Congregational Life, Women's Missionary Society (WD) and Board of World Mission work together in this task force to endeavour to provide up-to-date information on the various programs in education and mission to national and field staff.

JOINT TASK FORCE ON MISSION EDUCATION SERVICES

Mission Education is a joint responsibility of Board of Congregational Life, Women's Missionary Society (WD) and Board of World Mission. It is in this task force that joint planning and co-ordination for mission education for congregations takes place.

- Mission Study for 1976-77 "Canadian Concerns: Christian Response" a study book by Douglas Roche. Audio-visual materials are to be prepared.
- The JED educational system for Church Education. Each denomination will provide its own Heritage material on specific doctrine, practices and history, also specific mission materials.
- Proposals on informing congregations on West Indians in Canada and Canadian Indians.

OVERSEAS SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

During 1975 8 people studied with the aid of the Overseas scholarship program.

In Canada Miss Mgbeke Okore received the Ewart College diploma and continued work toward a B.A. in religious studies at Victoria College, University of Toronto. Miss Okore will give leadership in the Presbyterian Church in Nigeria, particularly in training Church sisters.

Rev. Haimdat Sawh received an M.Div. from Knox College. He returned to Toronto to undertake M.A. Studies at Toronto School of Theology. Mr. Sawh will return to the Guyana Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Ram Singh has a special assignment from the Board of World Mission. On leave of absence from his position as Principal of Baring Union Christian College at Batala in the Punjab, India, Dr. Singh is studying Indian and Pakistani immigrants in Canada to assess the various types of tensions, strains and stresses created by different forms of discrimination. In a recent report to the Board, he includes this section:

"What can the Churches do?

1. Create better understanding between the parties by holding orientation courses both for the immigrants and the people of Canada, giving the realistic picture.
2. Use Church's influence for equal opportunities in employment, and of course, housing.
3. Influence schools against discrimination.
4. Help bridge gap between parents and children.
5. Help women and children improve their language."

In Scotland Rev. Saindi Chiphangwi continued doctoral studies under direction of Aberdeen University. He completed a phase of study in June and continued his program in Malawi.

Mr. J.C.S. Chen was nominated by the Presbyterian Church in Taiwan for Graduate Studies. He began a B.Phil. course at St. Andrew's University, Fife, late 1975.

In Japan Mr. Kao Te Ming, a Mountain pastor in Presbyterian Church in Taiwan went to Japan to study at Tsurukawa Rural Institute. He will return to Taiwan to continue to serve tribal people.

In the U.S.A. We are sharing in a program for Rev. Kao Ho Kim, a minister in the Korean Christian Church in Japan. Mr. Kim is serving for one year as a volunteer worker performing educational and manual tasks in a Volunteer Service Program of the United Presbyterian Church U.S.A.

Short term. Miss Peng-Shik Kim, a secretary in the General Secretary's office of the Korean Church in Japan, studied Korean language in Korea on the scholarship program.

THE CARIBBEAN

The Presbyterian Church in Canada continues its historic association with the Guyana Presbyterian Church.

As the Caribbean Association of Reformed Churches and more recently the Caribbean Conference of Churches have evolved, the Board of World Mission has taken a share of financial responsibility.

The Presbyterian Church in Canada continues to be interested and involved in the United Theological College of the West Indies, situated in Jamaica.

CHURCH OF NORTH INDIA

General Report on Church of North India

- CNI has undertaken a program leading to financial self-support. The program will be implemented in three stages, firstly for pastoral and evangelistic ministries, secondly for theological education and finally all other institutions such as schools and hospitals.
- The year 1975 was used for intensive programs of stewardship education reaching into every diocese and congregation. Toward the end of the year "Commitment Services" were held in every congregation and effective January 1, 1976, and at the first of each of the following four years, overseas grants for pastoral and evangelistic ministries in each diocese will be cut by 20% of the 1975 figure.

– Schedules have not yet been set for overseas grant reductions to theological education and institutions but they too will be gradually introduced over a period of years.

What does this mean for the overseas churches such as The Presbyterian Church in Canada?

– CNI has asked its sister churches overseas to continue their financial assistance at the 1975 figure. The CNI has plans for starting new projects of outreach and has asked the overseas churches to financially assist in these projects while the more historical programs assume self-support.
– Early in 1975 Bishop Patro who visited Canada in 1972, resigned as Bishop of Bhopal Diocese and accepted a call to be Bishop of another Diocese. For most of 1975 Bhopal Diocese has been without a Bishop but the Rev. Isaac Khimla of Ratlam has acted as Bishop's Commissary.
– The work in the Vindhya-Satpura area of the Diocese (the Bhil area) has continued to grow in strength but other parts of the Diocese have experienced severe difficulties during the year and these have greatly hindered the work of the Church.

BHOPAL DIOCESE

The institutional work in the Vindhya-Satpura area is carried out under the Administrative Council for Christian Institutions (ACCI):

Masihi Primary and Middle School, Amkhut

– 360 pupils on the roll, 18 teachers.
– A large number of pupils come from surrounding villages as Puniyawat, Sardi, Mandhar, etc.
– Miss Agnes Hislop occasionally helps and advises in educational affairs.
– 23 pupils passed Indore Divisional Board Examination.
– The system of "Unit Method" is used in teaching.
– Bible classes are held after morning devotions.
– 73 boys live in boys' hostel and 84 girls in girls' hostel; a few are non-Christians.
– Both hostels are looked after by hostel manager, assisted by a Warden, Matron and the night Matron.
– The pupils who live in hostel help in the fields and kitchen after school.

Village Schools

– There are schools in 6 villages, total enrolment 350, teachers 13.
– A new school has been opened in Chichaniya with 42 students.
– One room has been extended in the Jobat School, one room is left unfinished because of lack of funds.

Christian Rural Health Centres

Barwani

Director of Public Health Nursing Barwani side is Miss Doreen Morrison. Staff consists of 1 Public Health Nurse, 2 staff nurses, 2 auxiliary nurse midwives and 1 auxiliary nurse.

– Dr. Naku, Medical Superintendent of Mandeleshwar Christian Hospital, has been helping with some clinics on the Kalghat, Jalkan side.
– Some land in Jalkan was used for kitchen garden and demonstration nutrition project.
– Project clinics have been held in Jalkhan which are staffed by a married graduate nurse and her husband.
– Home visits in Jalkan area 4,032, New Born and Infant care 231, Prenatal 124, Tuberculosis 377, Leprosy 71, Hospital referred 47, Immunizations 91, Clinics 66.
– In Kalghat and Barwani home visits totaled 1,148, New Born and Infant care 182, Prenatal 65, Tuberculosis 10, Leprosy 111, Hospital referred 13, Immunizations 4,872, Clinics 33.

Mendha

Director of Public Health Nursing – Miss S. Tezlo.

Dr. D. Tezlo has given part time service to the clinics and is advisor to the units.

– Mendha is the main centre, has a dispensary with Mother and Child Health service in the village itself, and weekly clinics in five other villages.
– Other satellite centres with permanent staff are Sardi and Amkhut.
– Baby clinics, prenatal clinics and immunization clinics are held regularly as is home visiting and health teaching.
– Leprosy clinics are held in one centre.
– A new program in giving health service to the people is the training of village level workers, to which the Christian Medical Association of India gives a grant. The training is a continuous process and the village level workers are promising to be a real help in the work.
– In the 3 centres total Outpatients' care was given to 19,699, Inpatients 429, referred to hospital 341, Maternity cases 165.
– Malnutrition is one of the problems. During the hot season many people are out of work and food is scarce. Much is being done to overcome this problem through irrigation and terracing of fields to prevent soil erosion, also through digging wells. Relief work has helped in these areas too, but much remains to be done.

Jobat

– This project covers villages in a radius of 5 miles out from Jobat.
– There is a staff of 2 graduate nurses, 2 nurse aides and 1 part time clerk-typist.
– 20% of the children are suffering from 1st degree malnutrition, 65% from 2nd and 3rd degree malnutrition, only 15% on the road to health.
– People are poor and illiterate and cannot pay for Medical Care. Some give a small part of the cost.
– Have started a new venture of training village lay workers.

General

– MIBE Graduate School for Nurses sends five public health students for 7 weeks experience in the whole area.
– IMC School of Nursing 4th and 3rd year male students attend clinics and go on home visits with nurses twice weekly.

Isabel McConnell School of Nursing, Jobat – Family Planning Camp was arranged in which doctors from Indore – District Health Officer and Regional Director of Services took an active part.

– Operations 1133, Deliveries 213, Total in-patients 2819, out-patients 13,611.

M. G. Abey Home

– 15 children, 6 attend Primary School and 1 Nursery School.
– In addition, 13 girls and 8 boys stay in the Amkhut hostels; 4 boys and 3 girls are studying in high school and 1 boy attends the college.
– Five girls are working as staff nurses and nurse aides.
– Two girls were married.
– One boy graduated from Vocational School and is working in Jobat.

LUCKNOW DIOCESE

Lucknow Diocese, which includes Jhansi, became better known to Canadian Presbyterians in May and June 1975 when Bishop Din Dayal from Lucknow Diocese represented CNI in the Canadian Presbyterian Centennial Celebrations.

– The Helen MacDonald School in Jhansi started the year in the midst of uncertainty for the Government had withdrawn its recognition of the School. In answer to prayer and hard work the recognition was reinstated and the School continues to provide an educational program with a Christian emphasis to the girls of that area under the supervision of the CNI Education Board.

CHANDIGARH DIOCESE, PUNJAB

Chandigarh in Punjab State is the third Diocese of CNI with which our Church has a link.

– Dr. Nambudripad has taken over as Director of the Ludhiana Christian Medical Centre and is making every effort to relate Ludhiana more closely to the life and work of the people whom they serve.
– Baring College has a new Acting Principal, Dr. D. L. Ranpal, replacing Dr. Ram Singh who has undertaken a Research Program under BWM in Toronto relating to Indian and Pakistani Immigration.
– The Christian Institute for Sikh studies which is a part of Baring College has been giving leadership to the Diocese in helping it to determine how Christians in the Punjab have interpreted the Christian message and applied it to their daily lives.

KOREAN CHRISTIAN CHURCH IN JAPAN

– The Church has been experiencing a growing realization of a deeper solidarity since the Consultation on "Minority Issues in Japan and Mission Strategy" sponsored by the KCCJ in May 1974. With this solidarity has come a better understanding of the Church's role in society and the challenge of the Gospel to the Church in Japan and elsewhere as it relates to its witness to and with minority groups.
– One of the highlights of the year was a visit to Canada of the KCCJ Arirang Chorus, a group of KCCJ women who travelled across Canada visiting congregations, sharing in worship services and meeting with people. A greater bond of Christian fellowship resulted between our two churches as we thus shared in mission together.
– A group of Canadians visited Japan and were the guests of KCCJ as a part of the Canadian Church's Centennial Celebrations.
– At its 1975 General Assembly the KCCJ once again considered the question of ordaining women as Elders. When the ballot was counted the status quo was maintained by only one vote, which perhaps is an indication of the changing patterns among Koreans.
– The Assembly dealt seriously with a financial document analyzing the key problems of KCCJ and setting goals to further the cause of good stewardship and self-support. Steps to implement the recommendations adopted by the Assembly are now being put into effect.
– In a presentation made to the BWM Executive in June, the Rev. K. S. (Sam) Choi, the General Secretary of the KCCJ, in speaking about our Centennial celebrations concluded his remarks with the following words:

"We have appreciated the Sister-Church relationship shared with The Presbyterian Church in Canada and in my heart I am eager to challenge you to a further relationship with Presbyterians in Korea. You are already supporting them in the outreach given to Koreans now residing in Canada and we are thankful indeed for that. We would like to see a new relationship with the Presbyterians (residing in Korea. . . and we hope this new era may bring forth such fruit."

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF NIGERIA

- The Synod of the Presbyterian Church of Nigeria has set its Church year from 1st August to 31st July of the following year.

Finances

- In spite of the fact that the financial situation of the Church in Nigeria has been poor, and many church workers were in arrears of their 1974 salaries, Synod at its meeting of July 1975 decided to increase all workers' salaries by 50%, effective January 1, 1975. It has not been possible to implement this action in many Presbytery areas. It is a great tribute to many church workers, particularly non-graduate ministers, that they have kept their posts and continued to minister to the people, in spite of their low salaries in the midst of a country-wide inflation.

Stewardship Promotion Committee

- The poor financial condition of the Presbyterian Church of Nigeria has aroused the concern of leaders at all levels of the Church.
- As a consequence, Synod has established a Department for Stewardship Promotion.
- A team of the Stewardship Committee toured all Presbyteries except Lagos to propagate the system of individual pledges and proportionate giving, effective January 1, 1976.
- The aim is to achieve not only self-support by each local church but corporate stewardship in which the local church, the Session, the Presbytery and the Synod should look beyond its own needs and see and help meet the needs of the Church.

Reform of Synod Committees

- Synod Committees have been reduced from an ineffective 21 to a meaningful 12, with assignments and powers clearly defined.

Consultation with Secretaries of Overseas Mission Boards

- 35 members and missionaries representing the Presbyterian Church of Nigeria met with three Overseas Secretaries: Secretary of Overseas Operations of the Board of World Mission of The Presbyterian Church in Canada, Secretary of the Overseas Council of the Church of Scotland and Africa, Secretary of the Board of Mission of the Netherlands Reformed Church.
- The consultation arose from the need to review the relationship and areas of co-operation of the Presbyterian Church and the overseas churches in view of changing conditions; and more particularly in view of the All Africa Conferences of Churches' declaration on Moratorium or Self-reliance and also the rise of Nationalism in the churches both in Africa and all over the world.
- At the Consultation, it was re-affirmed in a consensus by the Nigerian delegation that the Churches have to work closely together. The Presbyterian Church of Nigeria still needs Overseas Churches' assistance in finance and personnel in Pastoral, Technical and Professional areas. But, they said "we are looking forward to a day when we can stand on our feet, not in isolation from the overseas churches, but in an association and fellowship in which we would also share to meet their needs in funds and personnel."

- Overseas Churches will continue to assist the Presbyterian Church of Nigeria with funds for specified projects and for leadership and manpower development, at Synod's request.

Pastoral Ministry

- The Hugh Goldie Lay Training Centre for men and the Ikot-Obong Lay Training Centre for Women are being upgraded to provide crash courses for Assistant Ministers, Senior Evangelists, Lay leaders and Church Sisters, in order to meet the need for more ministers and evangelists.
- Indigenous graduate ministers intended for city and urban charges are leaving their posts for employment with government, which is considered the model employer. It appears that the Church will have to look for staff for city churches from overseas sources.

Ecumenical Relations

- The Presbyterian Church of Nigeria as one of the member churches of the Christian Council of Nigeria has joined the other C.C.N. member churches in discussions on the possibility of having a permanent association with the Roman Catholic Church in the East Central State. The churches wanted a common front through which they can speak with one voice to the government on matters affecting education and the running of church hospitals.
- What began with the church leaders of the C.C.N. and Roman Catholic Church has developed into a wider conference of both leaders and the lay members of both groups of churches.
- There has been a real coming together of the two groups of Churches both in worship, social gatherings and joint action in some Church projects.

Conclusion

- Nigeria was divided into 12 states in 1967. Today there are demands for more states. Created for tribalistic reasons, each state is virtually a separate country. You cannot get employment on a permanent basis in a state other than your own.
- In spite of all these administrations based upon ethnic, linguistic and isolationist considerations, the Presbyterian Church of Nigeria remains united under one Synod which brings the entire Federal Republic of Nigeria under its bounds.
- Rev. Nwachuku Eme, Clerk of Synod writes "We need the prayers of all Christians of goodwill that the Presbyterian Church should remain united and that the members should always stand Together in a Divided Nigeria."

Staff

Rev. Russell T. Hall

Minister, Lagos Presbyterian Church.
- Moderator, Lagos Presbytery
- Helped to organize a new congregation at Asaba.

Rev. Robert Wilson

- Served as Acting Minister of Mary Slessor Memorial Presbyterian Church, Port Harcourt during first half of 1975.
- Returned to Canada in July and after Mission Education assignments in Western Canada, accepted an appointment with BWM to Mill Woods congregation in Edmonton.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN TAIWAN

To all appearances the economic and political situation in Taiwan is one of stability and the people generally are enjoying an unprecedented affluence. The country is putting greater emphasis on developing its own self-reliance economically and militarily. On December 20 an election was held for 35 members of the Legislative Yuan, the highest law-making body. As Premier Chiang emphasized concentration on economic development, Taiwan continued to build up its world trade.

Evangelism

- The death of President Chiang Kai-shek in April affected not only the political scene, but produced a new openness to the Gospel. In his "will" he professed to have been a follower of Jesus Christ and this aroused a considerable amount of interest as to who this Jesus Christ is. The funeral, which was televised and viewed by millions all over the island, was a Christian service following upon a brief national ceremony. The "will" is being memorized by students and the hymns sung at the funeral service have become widely known. The President's Chaplain, the Rev. Chou Lian-hwa, having received many inquiries about Jesus, wrote a book entitled "His Wounds" telling the story of who Jesus is.
- Billy Graham Crusade, with attendance of 50,000 per meeting and over 11,000 decisions, pointed up the need for prayer, careful planning and follow-up.
- Rev. Chou Lian-hwa, who conducted the President's funeral and interpreted Billy Graham's sermons into Mandarin, was invited to conduct evangelistic campaigns in several parts of the island which would be translated into Taiwanese. Presbyterians took the lead in organizing evangelistic campaigns in Kaohsiung, Tainan, Taichung, Hsinchu and Hualien. Crowds and strong financial support were features of these "crusades" and the churches achieved a new sense of their strength and received a recognition by government authorities and the general public that they had not had before.
- Presbyterian ministers participated in radio evangelism through the facilities and co-operation of Overseas Radio, preparing programs in Taiwanese for broadcast throughout Taiwan.
- 1974 statistics show a total Presbyterian constituency of 156,854, about 1,000 more than the previous year. Baptisms, adult and infant, and confirmations totaled over 6,000 for the year.

Faithful Servant Movement

- Rev. C. H. Su, Secretary for Evangelism, announced plans for establishing 100 new congregations in the next five years. A careful study has been made of the size and location of Presbyterian churches, whose members number about 1% of the total population – .5% of the plains people and 35% of the mountain people. A committee was formed with representatives of the Holiness and Mennonite churches, which are also mainly Taiwanese speaking, with a view to co-ordinating plans for new churches.
- About 10 new churches were started in Taipei during 1975. Usually older congregations, in co-operation with the Presbytery, provided funds and personnel to help launch churches in new areas.
- Plans of the Movement for 1976, its final year of the 5-year plan, stress lay-training and continuing education for ministers, elders and deacons.

Education

- The Board of the Yu Shan Theological Institute has nominated Mr. C. S. Yang to be Principal.
- The Presbyterian Bible School concentrated on the training of kindergarten teachers and developing more lay training and vocational training courses.
- Rev. C. S. Hwang retired as Principal of Taiwan Theological College.
- Preparation of a new Church School Curriculum made progress with the first set of materials expected to come off the press in March.
- Ashrams were conducted in several places and have an increasing influence as people who attend them become much more positive in their faith and in participation in the work of the church.
- A group of college students and graduates came from the Reformed Church in America to offer English instruction to students in several centres during the summer. Some stayed on for a year to teach in colleges and help in student work.
- Teams of college students were organized to visit tribal areas and the Pescadores, bringing medical help and training in literacy and the Christian faith to those living in remoter areas.
- The Church Weekly, though having financial and personnel problems, rendered a valuable service in communication with church members throughout Taiwan and overseas.

Medical Work

- Government authorities recognized the need for more medical services in the rural areas.
- The Church's Sin Lau Clinic in Tainan and the Erlin Hospital were still without full time medical directors. Plans were made for the Erlin Hospital to come under control of the General Assembly.
- Dr. M. S. Noordhoff, Superintendent of Mackay Memorial Hospital since 1960, declined to be a candidate for another term, and the Medical Vice-Superintendent, Dr. Wu, was made Acting Superintendent.
- The new Nursing School building is expected to open in 1976.

Finance

- Dependence on grants from Related Boards decreased as costs went up and grants remained at previous levels or lower.
- Offerings to local congregations showed an increase of almost 15% over the previous year.
- 9 new Credit Unions were established, bringing the total to 126. These are of great benefit to the mountain and rural areas, strengthening the churches as well as serving society in general.

Plains and Mountain Church Relations

- The committee to study the future relationship of plains and mountain churches has recommended a closer union within ten years, that Presbyteries be set up on a geographical basis, not one of language or race, and General Assembly committees include oversight of all related work in both plains and mountains with privileges and responsibilities shared alike.
- The newly established study centre at Yu Shan Theological Institute has been asked to study the effect of unity plans on the life and culture of the tribal churches and society, and to advise the Committee on how best to proceed.
- Over 60 sister church relationships – a plains congregation with a tribal congregation – have been established.
- Congregations of tribal migrants in the cities of Taipei, Kaohsiung and Keelung are now attached to the plains Presbyteries in these cities.
- Some 190 mountain churches are now self-supporting and there are plans for the remaining 224 to move in this direction.

Church and Society

An Appeal issued by the Church and Society Conference in September and approved by the Executive of the General Assembly in November emphasizes that the Church exists for the glory and service of God, and the church in Taiwan must be concerned for peace and righteousness for the whole world as well as Taiwan.

The Appeal calls on the government of Taiwan:

(1) To preserve the freedom of religious faith which is guaranteed to the people in the constitution;
(2) To help overcome Taiwan's isolation in foreign relations by allowing participation such as that of the church in the World Council of Churches and other church organizations of an international nature;
(3) To establish a relationship of mutual trust and confidence between the government and the church;
(4) To help toward the reconciliation and working together of all people living in Taiwan;
(5) To preserve human rights and the welfare of the people.

In order that the church may take up its mission for today, the attention of the church is directed to these problems:

(1) To give honest expression of its concern for justice;
(2) To promote unity within the church and to call the church to do a better understanding of its own faith;
(3) To strive for the independence of the church;
(4) To establish a close relationship with the church in the whole world;
(5) To be more concerned for social justice and world problems.

This statement was sent to the Related Boards and other churches overseas which have replied giving support to the convictions set forth.

UNITED MISSION TO NEPAL

United Mission to Nepal signed a new General Agreement with the government of Nepal which gives the UMN a further 5-year mandate for Christian presence, service and witness.

- About 210 workers, including wives, are on the roster of the UMN.
- The Shanta Bhawan Hospital had an increase in patients in all departments.
- 50 students were accepted in the Mahabaudha Nursing Program and 25 in the Shanta Bhawan Nursing Program where Miss Mary Nichol is a teacher.
- The Canadian International Development Agency has granted $20,000 for use in the new Patan Hospital Project.
- Efforts are being made to strengthen the missionary staff in the dispensary-hospital in Okhaldunga, where Miss Pat Pooler is responsible for the wards and as hostess.
- The Pre-vocational building for Mahendra Bhawan Girls' High School at Kathmandu was completed. There were 580 students in 11 classes in 1975. The school is looking for semi-specialists in English teaching, primary school education, library science and an assistant administrator for school and hostel.
- In Tansen, the hospital extension has been completed, and construction is underway on the Assistant Nurse Midwives training complex. There has been unusual growth in both hospital and community health work. The United Mission to Nepal has been asked to plan and is now involved in leadership of a large (90 now enrolled) field training program for Auxiliary Health Worker students.
- In Butwal, there are five separate administrative units:
  (1) Butwal Project is the name of the activities connected with support of UMN personnel living in Butwal.
  (2) Butwal Technical Institute is a production-cum-training unit with five workshops operating as small scale businesses in which trainees receive on-the-job training over a 4-year period. From a total of 208 applicants for admission in 1975, 20 were accepted, making a total of 50 trainees.
  (3) Division of Consulting Services is an organization for handling UMN's efforts in industrial and economic development outside of the Technical Institute, including design and site supervision of a hydro-electric power station and the building of 100 gobar gas plants.
  (4) Butwal Power Company Pvt Ltd. is the company supplying power throughout Butwal town, and is jointly owned by UMN and the government's Ministry of Water and Power.

(5) Butwal Plywood Factory Pvt Ltd. is engaged in the commercial production of plywood, and is jointly owned by UMN and the Nepal Industrial Development Corporation.

- In the Boys' Boarding School in Pokhara, more emphasis is being placed upon recruiting remote region students and offering them a quality education with strong vocational training. School enrolment was 300 in 1975. Construction was completed on a Science block, an agricultural feed and office building and a hostel.
- In the Community Health Programs, there are clinics, TB/Leprosy control programs, immunization programs, and nutrition units to teach mothers of malnourished children ways they can improve their child's diet. There are school feeding programs for underweight children, and home visiting and follow-up of families with malnourished or chronically ill children. Community health gardens are now producing a good supply of vegetables. Locally available foods rather than donated powdered milk or corn soya meal are being used in these programs. This will both build self respect and fuller appreciation of the worth of the appropriate local resources.
- 98 students are studying under the Scholarship Program at present. In 1976 scholarships will only be awarded to the following groups: (a) remote area people; (b) minority social groups; (c) women and girls; (d) UMN in-service employees if they have completed two full years of service with the UMN, and (e) employees of UMN-related institutions.
- Hospitals report many changes in national staff, with some emigrating and others leaving to take further studies.
- Nepal Christian Fellowship lists 40 congregations in Nepal.
- A new film on the life and work of the United Mission to Nepal was produced in 1975.

Staff

Miss Mary E. Nichol, R.N.

- Since arriving in August 1975, has spent four months full time studying the Nepali language.
- Beginning December, worked half time at Shanta Bhawan Campus of Tribhuvan University of Medicine teaching and supervising Midwifery.

Miss Patricia Pooler, R.N.

Acting ward nurse and supervisor of a small clinic in a mountain village, working with in-service trained Nepali, Sherpa and Tibetan girls.

- Held children's clinic in main bazaar once a week.

OVERSEAS VOLUNTEERS

- Serves under secondment to the World Association for Christian Communications.
- Continued to work on a program in relation to the use of cassettes in Third World countries, an assignment which involved extensive travelling.
- Administrative duties in the WACC London Office.

Rev. Russell Self

January to June – Scripture Distribution Consultant for United Bible Societies in Asia-Pacific Region.

June to December – Regional Secretary in Asia-Pacific Region.

Mrs. Alice Self

- Co-ordinated Bible Study groups in homes – groups of ladies in mornings, and married couples in evenings.
- Organist and leader of Women's Work in local church.
- Holding social evenings of family togetherness, koinia style (food, games, slides, devotions, singing, sharing Bible).

CANADA: MISSION FIELDS

To envisage the life of our Church in Canada requires very broad horizons indeed, and the activities of Centennial year should finally put an end to some of the calumnies spoken about the Church. The remarkable contributions of our people reveal the great numbers and great vitality of "young people" of all ages in a Church which some have dared to decry as "old" in spirit. The myth that The Presbyterian Church in Canada consists mainly of Scots, Irishmen and Ontario people is also shattered by the presence of whole congregations speaking and worshipping in Hungarian, Chinese, French, Ukrainian, Italian and Korean. Crees, Sioux, Saulteaux and Ojibways comprise our native Canadian congregations. Our so-called Canadian congregations are replete with the accents of Holland, Jamaica, Iceland, Japan, Egypt, England, Oklahoma and Wales, and a score of other nations, as well as the dulcet tones of Ireland and the rolling burrs of the Scot. They literally come "out of every kindred, and tongue and people and nation," saying, "Blessing and honour and glory and power be unto Him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb forever and ever."

322 congregations, linked in 216 charges at present receive support from the National Church through Board of World Mission appointments or grants, to assist in maintaining the ordinances of worship in their communities. 143 ordained ministers, 24 deaconesses, 10 women missionaries, 7 catechists at present serve under B.W.M. appointment. 11 students give part time ministries, at part time stipends, while attending our Theological Colleges. Some 50 summer students, mostly Canadians but including some from Britain and the U.S.A., work in summer mission fields, camps and youth programs.

On January 1, 1976 further increases in the rates of stipend and allowances came into effect for all church workers, involving congregations in the need for increased support in amounts up to $1100 per annum. Not a single self-supporting congregation has thus far come seeking assistance to meet this increase, although some new names have appeared on our grant list because of internal problems affecting the viability of congregations.

Eight congregations have gone to self-support. In addition, twenty other congregations increased their support by more than $1100. Fifty-two others met the required increase in full, and another forty-six increased their support by amounts ranging up to $1,000.

It is significant that amongst the graduating classes emerging this year from our Theological Colleges, the almost unanimous request has been for appointment to a pastoral type of ministry. This is in keeping with the trends in other branches of the Reformed Church. It is in vivid contrast to attitudes in recent years, and promises a solid base of informed congregations to enable the church to fulfill its mission in years to come.

The report of the Church Extension Committee indicates the desperate need for Capital Funds to assist in establishing congregations in new communities (and some older ones too) throughout Canada. Most of the need is in urban areas where various schemes are being tried to cope with exorbitant costs of land and construction in areas where thousands of young families seek the fellowship of the faith and tens of thousands need it.

During Centennial year The Presbyterian Record featured a series of articles by the proud son of a humble and courageous minister who joined men rushing to the new gold fields of the Klondike. Some of us have known members of our congregations who came to a knowledge of the Lord of Life through the witness and work of Sinclair and others who joined him in that mission to the North. Now there is a new rush to the North, this time for oil and gas and timber and minerals. Do we continue to sit idly by while other denominations struggle to shoulder the responsibilities in which we should be sharing?

SYNOD OF THE ATLANTIC PROVINCES

- Congregations, groups and individuals throughout the Synod assisted in providing pews for the sanctuary at Wabush, Labrador. This action has greatly strengthened the tie between the Synod and congregation.
- All Presbyteries report progress and satisfaction in serving the congregations with ordained missionaries. Outstanding vacancies reported are: Cape Breton Presbytery – Little Narrows-Whycocomagh and Orangedale-River Denys.
- Rev. D. T. Stiel was inducted to the Grand River, Frambois, Loch Lomond charge.
- A new church building for St. Giles, North Sydney was dedicated to the Glory of God.
- The Rev. Donald MacLeod, appointed to North River, North Shore and Englishtown, is the first resident, with his family, in the new manse at Indian Brook, built during the vacancy.
- A new manse is being built at Boularderie Island and a new church hall at St. Andrew's, Whycocomagh.
- At Chalmers Jack Mission in industrial Cape Breton, deaconess Mrs. Ruth Beattie has been involved in Sunday School and weekday groups for children.
- In Dutch Brook, Cape Breton, a small group met weekly to study and learn the Coral Ridge program of lay evangelism. A start has been made at putting it into practice through visitation. Children's weekday programs have been started with over 30 children in that community.
- A group of clergy and lay workers in the Cape Breton area has been formed to share ideas and seek to learn how to be more effective in ministering to the sick.
- In Halifax and Lunenburg Presbytery, the Lower Sackville charge, under the leadership of Rev. R. K. Anderson, is co-operating with five other denominations in developing a campus-church ministry.
- St. Andrew's, Dartmouth, became self-supporting in 1975, and St. Andrew's, Musquodoboit Harbour, under the leadership of Rev. P. A. MacDonald, on January 1, 1976.
- Knox, Halifax has re-located and opened their fine new place of worship.
- At St. Andrew's-Penfield, N.B. regular supply is being given by Rev. O. White, a retired minister of the Congregational Church U.S.A. Mr. White lives in the manse at St. Andrew's and is doing fine work in the two congregations.
- At Hampton, N.B., where Mr. James Ballard is catechist, a new church hall and a new manse are being built.
- In P.E.I., appointments have been made of Rev. Colin M. Alston to North Tryon, Rev. John Fortier to Tyne Valley, Rev. Edward Hales to Alberton-West Point.

- Miss Sally Brown, summer student deaconess, conducted six vacation Bible Schools and two church camps in P.E.I. last summer.
- The P.E.I. Presbytery Missions Committee is studying ways and means by which the Presbytery can be more effective in serving the rural areas and churches.
- In Pictou Presbytery, Rev. J. Skinner has taken up an appointment in Springhill-Oxford.
- Pictou Presbytery has appointed a Pastoral Alignment Committee to take another look at some past amalgamations.
- Miramichi Presbytery has established a Fund to support two workers on the foreign mission field and two local missions.
- Interprovincial Home for Women – new developments are currently under study.

SYNOD OF QUEBEC AND EASTERN ONTARIO

- Rev. David Craig has taken up the work as an ordained missionary at Eglise St. Marc in St. Foy, Quebec.
- Married students from Presbyterian College have been serving the churches at Inverness, Scotstown, St. John's Duvernay and Robert Campbell Memorial in Montreal.
- Rev. W. K. Palmer is serving the congregation of Parkwood in the Presbytery of Ottawa.
- The Missions Committee and the Superintendent of Missions have been investigating property sites and making contacts with contractors in the Kanata Glen-Cairn Region, west of the city of Ottawa.
- Several changes were made in the boundaries of the Presbytery of Ottawa with the pastoral charges of Fort Coulonge and Bristol, Kinburn and Torbolton, transferring to the Presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew.
- The Presbytery of Brockville has agreed to take care of the grant for the Seaway Community Services for 1977.

SYNOD OF TORONTO AND KINGSTON

- Church buildings were completed at Kapuskasing, Flemingdon Park (Don Mills) and Malton.
- Gateway congregation in Flemingdon Park shares its new building with the Roman Catholic congregation of the community.
- New work was begun at Meadowvale West with Rev. D. Hill as minister. The expectation is: a Church campus arrangement with property purchased and shared jointly by Lutheran, Anglican, United and Presbyterian congregations. The community is expected to grow to a population of 60,000.
- A Church campus arrangement has developed at Erin Mills and a building is being planned at a projected cost of $560,000. Here the campus is shared by Anglican, Convention Baptist, Presbyterian and Disciples-United congregations.
- Reaching self-support status were Calvin, Kitchener and Rockwood-Eden Mills in the Presbytery of Waterloo-Wellington and Westminster in Barrie, St. Luke's in Oshawa, Gale in Elmira and Calvin in Sudbury.

SYNOD OF HAMILTON AND LONDON

- Presbytery conveners indicate a year of growth and development in the mission task of the Church.
- Stratford-Huron Presbytery held a mission emphasis week-end in the fall.

- London Presbytery reports a significant and substantial percentage increase in givings varying from 18% to 50%.
- Westmount, London is weighing self-sustaining status and physical expansion of facilities.
- Hungarian work is progressing under the able leadership of Rev. Alex Fuleki.
- Stratford-Huron reports an excellent summer's work in Bayfield under the leadership of Mr. & Mrs. Stephen Farris. Daily Vacation Bible School was held with 50 children in attendance, resulting in the extension of the program to one of the Trailer Parks. Sunday morning service attracted an average attendance of 100 people.
- Bruce-Maitland reports another good year at Huron Feathers, Sauble Beach, under Mr. James Farrer and Mr. Richard Fee. The Hostel was used by over 570 young people: 479 Canadian, 26 American, 21 French, 20 German, 10 British, and others from Japan, Malaysia and Spain. Grants from Synod, Presbytery, St. Andrew's in Owen Sound, Ministry of Culture and Recreation, the Amabel Township Council and the Board of World Mission enabled this on-going program to expand.
- "Project Understanding 1975" made a significant contribution by young people among the Indians at Whitefish Bay near Kenora.

SYNOD OF MANITOBA AND NORTHWESTERN ONTARIO

The BWM has a large stake in this Synod. We have a foothold in many areas of work among Native People here, on the reserves and in towns and cities.

- The direction this work will take in the future is not clearly indicated at the present time because of the rapidly escalating policy of self-determination for Native People in response to their desires and aspirations.
- Mr. Steve Robinson will retire as director of the Kenora Fellowship Centre this summer. He and his wife have given 10 years of devoted service, not only in the Centre but in the whole area around Kenora.
- In Winnipeg, the Anishinabe Fellowship Centre serves a very needed purpose, providing on-going programs as well as emergency housing for families and children in crisis situations. Winnipeg congregations have been very generous in support of this Centre. Its director is Mrs. Mabel Powers.
- The "Chestnut Unit" of the Marymound Treatment Centre serves as a half-way house for adolescent girls moving from the Centre back to society. It accommodates eight girls at one time. Rev. D. Donaghey ably serves as Chaplain.
- Mr. Ed Bunn continues his ministry at the Birdtail and Pipestone reserves.
- Rev. Lloyd Henderson supervises and serves the work at Dakota Tipi.
- Waywayseecappo, Okanais and Rolling River, Whitefish Bay and Shoal Lake are vacant, and service to these traditional areas of our Church is very limited.
- In Winnipeg, the Flora House ministry to the children of the inner city continues to flourish under the able direction of Miss Athalie Read. During the summer, with the assistance of students, a "back-yard" ministry was part of the community program.
- Our Church continues its participation in the Inter-Church Chaplaincy work at Nelson River and Leaf Rapids in northern Manitoba.
- The congregation of Thompson has been transferred to the Presbytery of Winnipeg.
- St. David's, Winnipeg is moving towards self-support in 1976.

SYNOD OF SASKATCHEWAN

- Presbyteries of Assiniboia and Northern Saskatchewan report that Rev. Dr. D. T. Evans, Superintendent of Missions, has initiated contact with small groups and individuals who claim allegiance to The Presbyterian Church, but are located far from any of our congregations.

- Northern Saskatchewan notes especially the encouragement given to ministers, students and ordained missionaries by Dr. Evans.
- The Church continues to witness to the Canadian Indian people in the province, and reports indicate a growing awareness of the vast northern areas of Saskatchewan.
- Rev. Malcolm Muth is travelling missionary north of North Battleford to Buffalo Narrows and westerly to Wilkie, Glenbush and Sandwith.
- The church building at Sandwith has been moved to a property which was donated and there is now a full basement for Christian Education.
- Norman Kennedy Church, Regina dedicated a new building and inducted Rev. A. M. Old.
- An extensive survey in the rapidly developing northwest part of Regina was undertaken last summer by student David Farnum, and steady growth in the Norman Kennedy congregation is anticipated.
- Rev. Derrick Dick was recognized as Ordained Missionary in the Yorkton-Dunleath charge, after a lengthy vacancy there.
- There has been steady growth in the congregations of Westminster, Estevan and St. Stephen's, Regina. Estevan, under the capable leadership of Rev. Don McInnis, is renovating its building. St. Stephen's, Regina, who have inducted Rev. T. A. Rodger, paid off the mortgage on their church building, and hope to attain self-support in the near future.
- Biggar has shown encouraging growth, evidenced in a reduction in grant request. The spirit of the congregation is good under the ministry of Rev. Miss Leslie Landell.
- Congregational assistance in repairs to the church building and the completion of the manse basement at Calvin-Goforth Church, Saskatoon, achieved a real saving.
- A new Sunday School has been started in northwest Saskatoon by Parkview Church.
- A Summer Workers' program of Vacation Bible Schools and camp assistance was conducted by Miss Mary Morris of First, Regina and Miss Nancy Cocks of Swift Current.
- The witness at Fellowship House, Prince Albert, touched some low points over the year, but 1976 holds promise with the appointment of Mr. & Mrs. Jack Chiang from Taiwan as house parents.
- Three young people from Saskatchewan are entering Theology.

SYNOD OF ALBERTA

- New work is being considered in Hinton, Fort Saskatchewan, Leduc, Camrose and Fort McMurray.
- Dawson Creek is now a two-point charge along with Chetwynd.
- The facilities at Whitehorse are being used by a full-time community counselling service.
- Fort St. John shows growth and has moved closer to ultimate self-support.
- Rev. Robert Wilson has been appointed to the new work in the Mill Woods area, Edmonton.
- Braeside, Killam and Chauvin-Wainwright report progress under the leadership of their young ministers.
- Rev. Sidney Chang was called to Innisfail-Penhold, which with the dissolution of Edwell congregation, is a two-point charge.
- Rev. George MacDonald has been appointed to Eckville.
- Work is going forward at St. Andrew's, Red Deer, Willowdale and Valley Centre under catechist Mr. Alex Morrison.

- The new congregation of Centennial Presbyterian in Calgary, under the leadership of Rev. Gerald Graham, has begun with 46 charter members. Presbytery deaconess, Miss Lois Whitwell, assisted with the church school, the choir and organizing a ladies group, as well as doing some visitation in the area.
- Rocky Mountain House achieved self-support as did Calvin, Calgary under Rev. Louis Becske.
- St. Andrew's, Fort Macleod completed a new manse.
- Banff and Varsity Acres, Calgary continue to make progress.
- Riverside, Medicine Hat continues with its team arrangement with St. John's for a second year.

SYNOD OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

- The visit of Rev. Ted Ellis, missionary, and Rev. N. C. Wang, Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Taiwan, to congregations and Presbyteries in this Synod, was described as "a delightful opportunity for many of us to experience the 'cross fertilization' that is going on in missions today."
- Three persons from the Synod attended the Northwest International Christian Mission Conference held in Salem, Oregon in August 1975 and found it both an inspirational and learning experience. Prayer and scripture were stressed, and new forms of worship were illustrated. The conference will be held in Narramata, B.C. in 1976.
- Four S.O.S. (Summer of Service) young people worked in Nelson-Slocan last summer and had excellent camp and Vacation Bible school.
- Efforts are being made in Nelson to attract new families, and in Slocan to gather a more informed group of Christians by Bible study etc. There is small but growing interest in mission in both charges, and the community as a whole is much more aware that the church exists.
- Rev. Calvin Doka, Superintendent of Missions, has done some initial survey work in the areas of the Fraser Valley which are growing in population, and is also helping with some older congregations in Westminster Presbytery which are in areas of transition.
- Miss Annabelle Wallace has been installed as deaconess at Central, Vancouver. She works in a ministry to children and youth in the west end of Vancouver.
- The vacancy in the Chinese Church in Vancouver continues but the congregation has services provided by a senior graduate student of Chinese language.
- Newton is showing progress.
- Presbytery has joined Brentwood Park and Robertson congregations.
- St. Columba has obtained a building from the city of Vancouver which has been moved to the church property and is being completed as a Christian education building. The congregation is now self-supporting.
- Rev. Douglas Maxwell was "Recognized" as minister of Haney Church.
- Two student deaconesses, Miss Susan Bailey and Miss Joyce MacNevin, worked in Westminster Presbytery during the summer.
- Salmon Arm congregation has built a new sanctuary. The congregation is growing, and has an average of 75 in attendance each Sunday.
- Prince Rupert is declining in membership, but as the economic climate changes and new extended port facilities are completed, there is a likelihood of improved conditions for growth.

CANADA: SPECIAL MINISTRIES

The work of the Hospital and Senior Citizen Visitors is carried out with gracious Christian concern. Our appreciation is expressed to all of these dedicated workers.

The work among the ethnic congregations has been steady in 1975 as the reports will indicate. The Chinese congregations have been asked to assume more responsibility for the Women Missionaries working in them, and some of them have agreed. The Ukrainian congregation in Toronto will be gradually phased out with Rev. M. Fesenko performing visitation as a retired minister. Dr. R. Singh has been looking at Indian-Pakistani immigration and the Caribbean peoples are becoming numerous. Our French work and work among the Canadian Indian are of great concern in that changes of personnel are coming.

Immigration and Church Extension via Regional and National Interdenominational Committees have been important, valuable and time consuming aspects of Special Ministries.

Then there are our institutions, each performing a unique ministry related to its own particular area. Tyndale House is in the Little Burgundy area of Montreal, where gradually near-slum conditions are being replaced by more adequate housing as a community centred on the Church takes shape. In our Chinese Churches, kindergartens and schools assist children to speak and write in their own languages, and adults to do likewise in the languages of their new homeland. Kenora Fellowship Centre, Anishinabe House in Winnipeg, and the Fellowship House in Prince Albert each functions in its own way to bring to native Canadians a sense of what Christian faith and fellowship are all about. In the inner city areas, Flora House in Winnipeg, the Verdun Day Care Centre in Montreal, a cluster of downtown Churches in Toronto, all work to reach the people of their communities with the Gospel. Mention should also be made of Evangel Hall and the Scott Mission, both in Toronto, for although they are not directly supported by the Board of World Mission, they are nonetheless parallel and powerful Presbyterian projects to proclaim the power of Christ.

The Presbyterian Church in Canada has a wide range of special ministries which can be multiplied with the necessary personnel and funds.

CHURCH EXTENSION

The Church Extension Committee deals with a variety of matters relating to the establishment of new congregations, locations of church sites, recommendations re the purchase of church sites and manses, financing, priorities in commencing work, etc. Recently a good deal of work has been done in seeking to work out schemes to cope with the rapidly escalating costs of property and construction, particularly in urban areas. The Campus Concept and variations on centralizing indicate possible solutions.

In the Campus system, a property centrally located in a new housing area is purchased for use by two or more denominations. Generally it is located near the main shopping area: the hub of the area being developed, as this point is served by systems of roads and transportation and has considerable parking available, free or otherwise. The denominations involved then proceed, together, to plan for a building to be used jointly, or if desired and practicable they may erect separate buildings. Some examples of the scheme may be seen in the proposed Glenbrook (Erin Mills) project; at Lower Sackville, N.S.; and at Malvern (Toronto). The Gateway congregation worships in a building erected (and controlled) jointly by The Presbyterian Church in Canada and the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Toronto. The Iona congregation shares a building in North Toronto with an Anglican congregation and one from the United Church. Thus far these various arrangements seem to be working satisfactorily.

In other instances congregations are assisted in financing their buildings by loans from the Lending Funds of The Presbyterian Church in Canada, by bank loans arranged on favourable terms by the Presbyterian Church Building Corporation and by special assistance from the Board of World Mission.

University Church, Toronto

- Miss Arlene Randall appointed as Interpresbytery Church Extension Deaconess, beginning on September 1, 1975, at University Presbyterian Church, Toronto.

Erin Mills

- Pentecost 1975 marked the first anniversary of Glenbrook Church as a constituted congregation.
- An Ecumenical Vacation Church School program "Summer Joy" was held for one week. The theme was "Me and my place in God's world: Caring for God's world". Leadership came from Anglican, United and Presbyterian congregations. Deaconess Mrs. Margaret Read was responsible for program planning and teacher preparation.
- The Learning Centre approach is being used in the Church School. Response on the part of both children and teachers has been quite favourable.

Meadowvale West

- United, Anglican and Presbyterians co-operated in a Summer program held at Eden United Church during August.
- Eden United congregation and Presbyterians have co-operated in their church school program, using Uniformed lessons. A strong local leadership has developed in the church school. "We're benefitting from the past experience and contribution of those from Eden who were there prior to the development of the new community of Meadowvale West and from those who are new and bring their ideas and rich experiences," says deaconess Mrs. Margaret Read.

Square One, Mississauga

- The Ecumenical Centre Shoppers' Drop In is sponsored by 18 of East Mississauga's churches, including Dixie Presbyterian Church as well as the Presbytery of Brampton and the Board of World Mission. Deaconess Mrs. Margaret Read is assigned to the Centre two days per week. The purpose of the Drop In is to be available to meet needs of shoppers who want a place to come in and relax over a coffee or tea; to listen to those who want to talk; to be there for a lonely person, young or old.
- There is a Friday night Coffee House for Youth;
- A Tuesday night program for women who are alone;
- A Thursday night program for "non-shoppers".
- Along with 4 staff people, several volunteers from the churches are involved.

INSTITUTIONS AND SPECIAL MINISTRIES

Verdun Day Care Centre

Miss Hazell Davis, deaconess.

- Total registration: 44 children, average attendance 23.
- Regular program includes free play, stories, songs, games, handwork of all kinds. During the winter the program is geared to indoor activities and during the summer to out-of-door activities.
- Many of the children arrive at the Centre around 7:15 a.m. and are not picked up until 5:30 or 6 p.m.
- Volunteers help with the daily meals.

Armagh

Director – Rev. Mrs. Mary P. Farmery.

- 150 young women were in residence during 1975, an increase of over 50%.
- Not all are unmarried mothers-to-be. About half of the total are in other stressful situations and come to the Home to find the kind of help they need.

Presbyterian Fellowship House, Winnipeg

House parents – Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swirski.

- Fellowship House is a "Half-way House" for approximately 8 girls moving out of the more highly structured system at the Marymound Treatment Centre for Adolescent Girls.

- Rev. D. A. Donaghey, Chaplain, meets with the staff and the girls on a weekly basis for dinner, fellowship, discussion, Bible study, and the occasional outing.

Tyndale Neighbourhood House, Montreal

Director – Rev. R. W. Johnson.
Mrs. L. Johnson and Ms Emily Drysdale, deaconesses.

- A Special Presbyterian and Anglican Task Force has produced a Five Year Plan for the Ministry in Little Burgundy.
- A film-slide, cassette-tape presentation of Tyndale's Ministry of Mission in Little Burgundy was completed and is now being presented by staff members to congregations in the Eastern Ontario and Quebec Synod.
- 21 pupils enrolled in the first English speaking Summer School, sponsored jointly by the Protestant School Board and Tyndale Neighbourhood House, and held for five weeks.
- A new project to assist children with major reading deficiencies was established using audio visual equipment and special books from the Tyndale Resource Centre.
- The Morning Pre-School Program has a registration of 30 children.
- During the year the Protestant School Board accepted responsibility for creating a Pre-Kindergarten Class for 4 year olds in which Tyndale co-operates fully and provides subsidized transportation.
- After School Programs for elementary children continued to stress individual and group development.
- Evening Youth Programs present the adolescent with an opportunity to participate in a multi-dimensional program.
- The Women's Opportunity Group has been creating activities that relate to the local neighbourhood. These include Community Garden, French Language Training Classes, Swimming and Sewing Classes, Physical Fitness Classes, Used Clothing Sales, Christmas Gift Shop, and Budget Shopping.
- A group of neighbourhood citizens interested in developing a greater sense of community in Little Burgundy have been meeting to plan social events for the district in an attempt to bring together the many factions that have existed.
- An Anglican and Presbyterian Task Force Group has completed a plan in regard to the ministry and financial needs of the Tyndale Neighbourhood House and St. George's-Tyndale Parish House for 1976. This plan proposes that the Tyndale Executive Committee accept full responsibility for the salaries of the Community Workers on staff. The Executive Committee has raised two-thirds of the total budget; the balance being received from the Board of World Mission and the Montreal Diocese of the Anglican Church.
- The Senior Citizens Program under an L.I.P. (Local Initiatives Program) Grant has been using Tyndale facilities.
- The support of a large Montreal Business Foundation has meant that the Pre-School could purchase a new bus to continue its service to 40 children in the district.
- Co-operation with Ville de Montreal was developed in setting up a Community Garden.
- Special events of the Church Year, in which dramatizations of Biblical stories are sometimes featured, has helped to bring understanding of the Christian faith to many Tyndale Families.

INNER CITY MINISTRIES

Flora House, Winnipeg

Miss Athalie Read – deaconess.
Rev. Colin MacIver – chaplain.

- Over 100 children weekly used the Club House facilities as well as made use of the Community Resources.

- Boys and girls, ranging in age from 4 to 15, attended the "After Four" and evening Bible clubs.
- Women's Club, a weekly morning club, continued to grow in increasing helpfulness to the Mission and its outreach in the community.
- On Sundays the children were transported to Calvin Church, as well as on Wednesday evenings for Junior Choir.
- Miss Athalie Read, deaconess, was active in the program "Project Open Door" financed by the Department of National Health and Welfare programs on the non-medical use of drugs.
- Summer activities included day camp and overnight camping at Bird's Hill Park, as well as residential camping at Clear Lake and Vacation Bible Schools at Flora House. The boys were also taken on week-end fishing trips.
- A call for volunteer leaders in September resulted in eight volunteers from the Canadian Nazarene Bible College and twelve from Winnipeg Churches.

Queen Street East Presbyterian Church

Miss Charlotte M. Stuart – deaconess.

- Church School has a monthly Family Worship when the young people are involved in the church service. They may act as ushers, take the offering, or help with the friendly "cup-of-tea" after the service.
- Older children continue to be part of the church family, as Queen Street East is not experiencing the usual loss of 10 year olds and older.
- Summer Camp was held at King City for 2 weeks during July. It was a joint effort with children attending from other churches as well as those from Queen East.
- Young Mothers' Group continued to meet each week. Their interest in the Church and in each other is quite evident.
- The key area of development seems to be centred around Sunday worship. Within recent months, 8 or 9 persons from the community have become members of the Church while many others attend regularly as adherents. They obviously feel accepted by the congregation, enjoy the friendly time after the service, and some are already taking part in various activities of the Church. This all goes a long way towards making an indigenous church seem a real possibility in the inner city.

Evangel Hall

Director – Rev. G. B. Cunningham.

- Programs for men, women and children are largely unstructured and therefore flexible. The people of the community know that they can come with any and all their problems and they will find a sympathetic ear and a spirit willing to go to any length to find a helpful solution.
- Planned events include weekly meeting of the Ladies Fellowship, Boys' club and Girls' clubs.
- The drop-in aspect of the men's program takes place each weekday afternoon.
- Planned activities give opportunity for social contact, group fellowship, and out of them comes the opportunity for more personal counselling.
- Summer camps in 1975 were the best ever. As a result of the camp activities, there was new enthusiasm in the youth work in the fall, and many have become serious in their study "to show themselves approved unto God".
- Sunday School is small in numbers but strong in spirit.
- "On Sunday evening we welcome faithful worshippers. From 7 to 8 o'clock we share our praise and prayers and feel renewed for a new week," writes Mr. Cunningham.

APARTMENT MINISTRY

Gateway Community Church

Minister – Rev. Rodger Talbot.

Deaconess – Mrs. Ann Gowers until September; Miss Margaret Stewart from August.

- The new worship centre at 150 Gateway Blvd. was dedicated on February 13 by the Moderator of East Toronto Presbytery and the Roman Catholic Archbishop of the Diocese of Toronto.
- At the first worship service, three new elders were ordained and two elders inducted.
- A pamphlet about the new church worship centre was circulated among condominium and apartments.
- A community program celebrating International Women's Year was held.
- Gateway celebrated the Centennial with a presentation by the Centennial Choir.
- Publicity and financial resources were arranged for children to attend Presbyterian camps.
- The Explorer's group continued; a CGIT program began; and a Ladies Group met monthly.
- Gateway Youth program included among its activities an exchange with the young people at Harriston, Ontario. They also planned and conducted a youth worship service.
- A youth group for boys and girls in grades 9-11 began with a lay leader.
- A kindergarten program for children ages 3 to 5 began with eight children enrolled.
- There is a very capable teaching staff in the church school, from grades 1-8. Each class has a team of 2 teachers and Miss Stewart meets with them once a month to discuss problems, concerns, and make future plans.

CHINESE MINISTRIES

Victoria

Minister – Rev. Siu-man Lee. Deaconess – Miss Fanny Tse.

- It was the first year that the Church School did not close for the summer months. Average attendance 26.
- Nursery School – 20 children. They are noted in the Chinese community for their performances in the Chinese Hospital and Glengarry Hospital, and particularly for the Christmas show in the Church service.
- In addition to the seasonal Communion Services, four evening Communion Services were held for people who had to work Sundays.
- The Women's Bible Class in Chinese, 8 to 9 attend regularly.
- Three ladies groups each meet once a week, and jointly held a Spring Tea.
- The Junior Choir is active.
- With the help of a New Horizon grant, services are being provided to retired and older persons.

Toronto

Minister – Rev. William Doo. Deaconess – Miss Grace Wong.

- Sunday School has increased in attendance.
- Youth fellowship and WMS are growing in their spiritual life.
- Seven elders elected.
- The Presbyterian Centennial was celebrated by a musical concert which was fully attended.
- The successful Christmas concert was attended by members of several Chinese churches.

Windsor

Minister – Rev. Dr. David Chan.

- A prayer meeting with Bible studies is held once a month.
- Fellowship tea following Sunday service is held monthly.
- Sunday School enrolment 17.
- Six enrolled in adult English class held for one hour after each Sunday service.
- During the summer, congregation sponsored "Opportunity for Youth", helping university students to find jobs.
- On trial for 6 months: sermons are being preached in Chinese and English as well as in Mandarin, catering to the need of some northerners.
- Four times a year periodicals and newsletters were mailed to the community.
- The Chinese Benevolent Association joined with the Chinese Church in sponsoring the Annual Community Picnic.
- Assistance is given by helping people with immigration difficulties, taking some to hospital emergency department, even selecting and designing gravemarks, and giving counselling for family problems.

Vancouver

Minister – supply. Deaconess – Miss Annie Wilson. Woman Missionary – Mrs. Elsie Young.

- 46 children were enrolled in the Nursery School.
- A new Chinese teacher, Wendy Shum, supported by income from Nursery School fees, joined the staff.
- The three teachers, together with elders, made visits each week to Nursery School families, former students, congregational members and adherents, as well as to newcomers.
- Members of the Junior Choir, Y.P. choirs – Chinese speaking and English, and soloists, provided the program for a FUN (D) Raising night on behalf of the Nursery School. Some of the young parents took the responsibility of contacting students as far back as the early 1930s to make the evening also a time of "reunion". There was a packed house and an unanimous "let's do it again".
- 42 children enrolled in the Vacation Bible School.

FRENCH MINISTRY

Montreal

Minister – Rev. Jean Porret

Activities of the minister are divided into two sections:

(1) With the chaplaincy at the Université de Montreal
- Working in a close relationship with four Roman Catholic colleagues;
- Trying to give students an opportunity to break through their loneliness in such a large institution. The Communaute chrétienne is a milieu for welcoming and listening;
- Trying to answer the spiritual need of people seeking a meaning to life. From a prayer group, or a biblical study group, to a larger colloquium about social justice, the pastoral activities offer different opportunities for people being involved at different levels.

(2) In the French Protestant context
- Some preaching in French congregations;
- Organization of two week-end retreats for parishioners of St. Luc and the French pastoral zone;
- 3 days of permanent training for French ministers;
- Involved in the French Journee in the Centennial at First Church with the production of a diaporama;

- A ten day Summer Camp for 45 teenagers and young people;
- A reflexion group called Dialogue meeting regularly week-ends;
- Monthly worshipping and pastoral care for a group of new immigrant farmers.

Montreal

Eglise St. Luc. Minister – Rev. André Poulain, editor of La Vie Chrétienne.

HUNGARIAN MINISTRIES

Calvin, Edmonton

Minister – Rev. Gabor Dezse.

- After two turbulent years in the congregation, 1975 seemed to be the year of peace, understanding and good Christian fellowship.
- Church attendance has greatly increased, donations have doubled.
- Instruction in catechism has been started.
- Confirmation classes were conducted.
- Regular Sunday services were held; Holy Communion was celebrated on six occasions.
- Many times the minister was called by the Manpower and Immigration Office to interpret for newly arrived Hungarians.

Mount Brydges

Minister – Rev. Louis Vietorisz.

- Membership – 57; Baptisms – 3 infants; Confirmation – 1 adult; Holy Communion – 6 times in Mount Brydges, 5 times in London.
- Ten children from this church took part in the Centennial Children's Service held in New St. James Church, London.
- The congregation had a special Centennial Service with Rev. Dr. L. Pandy of Delhi as guest preacher.
- Average attendance at church services 24.
- Ladies' Aid is working hard.
- Relationship with the Hungarian Roman Catholic Church in London and with the London Hungarian Hall is friendly and open. The ecumenical service with the Roman Catholics during the week of prayer is now a tradition and is always well attended.
- Services were started in London on Easter Sunday. From that time services were held every Sunday in Knollwood Park Church, attended by a small but faithful group.
- One of the members poured new concrete steps for the Church. The material as well as the labour was a donation. A new railing was also put up.
- Minister is publisher of the Quiet Moments, Hungarian version of the Upper Room. 2900 copies are printed and it is mailed in 37 Countries. He also takes part in the Hungarian Gospel Radio program in Toronto/Interdenominational.

Oshawa

Student Minister – Mr. L. Szamoskozi.

- Regular services were held on the second and fourth Sundays of each month in Knox Presbyterian Church; attendance between 12 and 25.
- At Christmas and Easter pastoral letters were sent to all members of the congregation. Contact with members, pastoral guidance and spiritual help was achieved through visitations, prayers, pastoral letters, tracts and books.

Calvin, Vancouver

Minister – Rev. Attila Csiszar. Organist – Mrs. Zsuzsanna Pazsitzky. Sunday and holiday services – 55.

- Average monthly attendance varied from 37 in January to 72 in May.
- Evening services on 7 occasions with average attendance of 32.
- Holy Communion – 6 occasions.
- Bible Study, average attendance 8.
- Evangelistic services – twice with Rev. Louis Becske from Calgary.
- One Family Night with attendance of 120.
- Gala Dinner at the Hungarian Social Club's Auditorium with 310 persons in attendance. Rev. Louis Becske was honorary speaker.
- 2 Confirmations, 4 Baptisms.
- Sunday School average attendance was 15, while Saturday School had an attendance of 24.
- On 2 occasions Rev. C. Kalman Doka, Superintendent of Missions, taught the church leaders from the Book of Forms.

ITALIAN MINISTRY

Beckwith Memorial, Montreal

Minister – Rev. Arthur Iarrera.

- L. Godino assists the minister once a month in the Italian services and takes over the pulpit during the vacation period.
- Bilingual services each Sunday.
- The two-point charge arrangement of sharing the minister with St. Michel, which the Presbytery of Montreal formed in June 1965, for a trial period of one year, is in its tenth year.

KOREAN MINISTRY

Kitchener-Waterloo

Minister – Rev. In-Whan Rheem

- Membership – 62 registered for the newly organized Congregation's Roll.
- Baptisms – 12 adult, 4 children; Profession of faith – 2.
- Average attendance at services – Sunday morning 60, Sunday evening 25, Wednesday night 18.
- Sunday School enrolment: Kindergarten – 9, Grades 1 to 6 – 12. Program – Bible Study with Korean language.
- Youth Club, Young Man's Club and Women's Evangelical Club.

London Korean Christian Church

Minister – Rev. Andrew S. K. Lee.

- Lost 25 families among 85 households by transfer to big cities. Most of these have joined the Korean Presbyterian Church in their area.
- Through the initiative of this congregation, English classes for women with pre-school children was begun and funded by the government.
- The congregation was responsible for organizing a small workshop for its 20 senior citizens (a senior citizen in the Korean community is a person who has reached the age of 50). As a result of contacts with several companies in London, a workshop has been set up to assist senior citizens and help them find their way in society.
- The congregation in 1975 elected three elders and set up its own session.

West Toronto Korean

Minister – Rev. Hee-Min Park.

- Davenport Road Church Building was transferred to this congregation from the Board of World Mission.

- Mr. Chang Kil Kim, a minister of the Presbyterian Church in Korea who has had a good education and experience in the field of Christian education, came to lead the Sunday School and focus on the second generation.
- Membership climbed to 240.
- Telephone ministry which sends a two-minute message out in Korean for non-Christians and those who could not attend Sunday service.
- Revival conference led by Dr. Sang Keun Lee, moderator of Presbyterian Church in Korea.
- Special meeting with Rev. G. Ogle, former missionary to Korea who was expelled by Korean government, as guest speaker.
- Election of 3 elders.
- A retreat to develop leadership.
- Support of a new congregation in a rural area in Korea.

Sae-Hahn Korean, Toronto

Minister – Rev. Dai Kyun Kim.

- Congregation was accepted into Presbytery of West Toronto and completed its administrative organization.
- 4 elders; 21 members on Board of Managers.
- Emphasis on evangelization of Korean community in the area.
- 23 adults and 18 infants baptized.
- Need for a social service centre in the church which will provide systematic and helpful guidance for settlement of new immigrants.
- Need for an educational resource centre which will study and help families with problems arising from the generation gap between immigrant parents and their children who are being educated in the socio-cultural environment of Canada.
- The congregation seeks its own church building as soon as possible.

UKRAINIAN MINISTRY

Toronto

Minister – Rev. Michael Fesenko.

- The majority of Ukrainians in Toronto have moved to the suburbs and very few live near the Ukrainian Church.
- Only about 5% of Ukrainians continue to use the Ukrainian language at home.
- It was decided to advise the members to join the nearest Presbyterian Church in their district.
- The minister would continue his work on a part time basis, visiting shut-ins and families in need of guidance.
- The minister's main work would be the continuation of week-end broadcasts to the Ukraine, the printing of the journal "Evangelical Truth", and if possible, the organization of local (Toronto) Presbyterian broadcasts for the Ukrainian community.
- Trans World Radio states that these broadcasts reach about 300,000 families. The CBC International Section, which gives occasional time for broadcasting, has a much larger audience. These broadcasts to the Ukraine have met with encouraging results.
- A few years ago, with the assistance of the WMS, it was decided to print a new Ukrainian hymnbook, in which traditional Ukrainian church hymns would be preserved. The book would be ultimately sent to the Ukraine. A fund was created for this purpose and choirmaster Mr. Paul Sych completed his work last year. The main problem was lack of funds. However, the problem was solved by a bequest from the will of Mr. A. Bolotenko who left a sufficient sum of money for the printing. Mr. Fesenko writes "God willing, we will print the hymnbook this year, to be sent mainly to the Ukraine where the people are clamoring for it".

- The resignation of Mr. Fesenko from full time work was accepted by the Presbytery of West Toronto effective December 31, 1975, and he has been re-appointed as a retired minister.
- Presbytery also granted permission to the congregation to re-organize the work, and sell the present property.
- In recognition of the work of Mr. and Mrs. Fesenko, the congregation held a reception on the last Sunday of the year, and presented them with a gift.

INDIANS OF CANADA

Over 110 years have passed since the concern of Presbyterians for Native People was first rallied by the Reverends John Black and James Nisbet. Since then a steady stream of missionaries has come to the Prairie Synods with but one purpose, to preach and live the Good News of Jesus Christ. We were by no means the first, for Roman Catholic, Church of England and Methodist missionaries had been working long before. However, they welcomed our presence for many prairie bands were still unevangelized. It did not take long for the distinct Christian witness of the missionary to become known. The chief of the Mistawasis band was at James Nisbet's door asking him to send a missionary to be their minister permanently. "Living the Good News" meant helping to build houses, dispense medical supplies and drugs, offer clothing, books, and finally, through the vision and generosity of the WMS, hospitals, residential schools as well as nurses, teachers, deaconesses and ministers.

But with all our zeal and good works we must confess, with other communions, that it has been flavoured with bigotry, paternalism, and seeking to impose our culture, our language, on the people whom we would serve in Christ's name.

The day of the Church's paternalistic attitude and welfare handouts is finished. If we persist in this, we only depreciate our effectiveness as instruments of God's grace. The federal government, in recent years, has taken over our hospitals and residential schools, and are now taking a hard look at our social institutions. The reality of the situation dictates that we allow the government to supply the funding to aid the natives in many ways which we as a Church are not able to undertake due to lack of funds.

The urgent problems facing our Chuch today are:

(1) Securing workers
- Native workers, on the reserves and in the urban scene;
- non-native workers with a desire to serve, who have already achieved, wholly or in part, the academic requirements for such ministry.

(2) Effectively training our workers
- When we view the concept of training our workers, we must consider submerging them in the Indian culture.
- Orientation courses both in linguistics and in cross-cultural experience are available and are being used by missionaries working with Native People.
- Some universities are offering courses in native studies, viz. Laurentian, Trent, Manitoba and Brandon. There are also courses available in the U.S.A. The Task Force on Work with Native People has underlined the necessity of candidates for work on our Indian reserves and in our related institutions receiving such preparation.
- Natives themselves are operating the Saskatchewan Cultural College where non-natives committed to working with the natives are very welcome.
- We have asked our Colleges to assist in the training of students anticipating this kind of service.
- Our Church has been in the forefront of organizing annual Conferences for Workers with Native Peoples.

- We have done little in the way of training our own workers for full-time service with Native People.

The General Assembly has called the Church to take seriously its intention to give a five-year priority to our work among the Indian peoples. It will be costly – in terms of personal commitment and treasury. We must be prepared to sponsor our promising young candidates all the way.

(3) Empathizing with the native communities in their seeking justice and self-determination.
- We can support the Native groups in their struggle to be heard and to effect changes in government policy.
- We can help the Natives to secure a responsible share in the development of their own land.
- We can demonstrate our Christian Ethics and call upon a responsible government to act accordingly.

(4) Examining life in the light of Christian teaching: Most native leaders today know that welfare is not the answer to their problems. They request equal opportunity in education, job-seeking, and a sympathetic consideration of their land claims.

The past five years have made a great difference in the appearance of the reserves. Band offices, recreation halls, day nurseries, family housing and even stores have been built by themselves with financial assistance from the federal government. The Metis and non-status Indian have not fared so well and yet their claims are equally valid. For the most part, church buildings leave much to be desired.

Mistawasis – This reserve came into being with the signing of a treaty in 1876. Mission work had already been established there and Rev. John MacKay, first Christian missionary in the area, was one of the interpreters at the signing of the treaty. Chief Mistawasis played an important role in bringing about the treaty and restraining uprisings.

– For the past 14 years, this reserve has been served faithfully by Rev. Stephen How. The Indians and Metis for miles around Prince Albert are aware of his presence and seek him out when in trouble. The reserve, which is over 50 miles from Prince Albert, comprises 48 sections of land, a population of over 1800 Cree-speaking people. The Presbyterian Church shares the ministry on the reserve with the Roman Catholic. The congregation comprises 42 households in which are 77 members with 5 elders. There is a great deal of unemployment.

Crutwell – A community of non-status Indians and Metis about 15 miles from Prince Albert, also served by Rev. Stephen How. Population 130. Presbyterian households number 5 in which are 8 communicant members. The people are struggling for the upgrading of their living conditions and are asking for new homes and lands to call their own. All work closely together on anything affecting the community. A modest little church building serves their needs for worshipping together. There is no other church.

Wahpeton – A Sioux Indian Reserve populated by 80 people on 4 sections of land, 14 miles from Prince Albert, also served by Rev. Stephen How. There are 4 households with eight members in them. The church building has not been repaired after vandalism. Services are held in the homes.

Birdtail – A Sioux Reserve of over 200 people served by Mr. Ed. Bunn, a native lay minister. 45 households with 37 members, 2 elders. The reserve is entirely Presbyterian. Worship is in the homes while negotiating for a new church building.

Pipestone – A Sioux-speaking part of the Oak Lake Reserve 20 miles south of Virden, Manitoba. Population about 200, one-third of whom are Presbyterians. 21 households with 1 communicant member who is himself an elder. Services of worship well attended; 25 in the Sunday School and 15 in the Young People's group. All steel church building. Mr. Ed. Bunn is lay minister.

Waywayseecappo – A large Saulteaux speaking reserve of 750 about 3/4 of whom are Presbyterian – 75 households, 8 members. Served by Rev. Brian Penny. Their church building is in good condition. It is located 6 miles from Rossburn. The band council of Lazy Lizard Reserve has given yearly support to the education of Miss Margaret Cooke, who is preparing herself to be a deaconess.

Okanais – Keeseekoowenin Reserve, adjacent to Elphinstone. Saulteaux speaking. Population over 250, of whom half are Presbyterian nominally. 36 households, 1 elder. Served by Mr. Jay Bailey through the winter as week-end supply. Church building.

Rolling River – A Saulteaux speaking reserve of 350 people, half of whom claim to be Presbyterians. 40 households, served by Jay Bailey on week-ends. The old church building is in a dilapidated state. Chief Shanacappo and his people are seeking a new Church, perhaps to be used by both Presbyterians and Roman Catholics. Located 3 miles from Erickson.

Dakota Tipi (formerly Sioux Village) – near Portage La Prairie. A Sioux speaking reserve of 200. 29 households with 36 members and 2 elders, served at present on Sundays by Rev. H. Lloyd Henderson. Sunday School for all ages – large attendance. Youth attend clubs at First Church, Portage. Church building in good repair – young people painted the exterior. Reserve half Presbyterian, half Roman Catholic.

Shoal Lake – A hugh reserve made up of 2 bands, 95% Presbyterian. 115 households being served, with 48 communicants, 3 elders. At present vacant and members look to the Kenora Fellowship Centre and First Church, Kenora minister for help. Rev. David Robertson dispensed communion and performed baptisms during the year. Church building is in need of extensive repair.

Whitefish Bay – A large reserve 60 miles southeast of Kenora, becoming economically viable. About 3/4 of the people are Roman Catholic. Church building erected by "Operation Beaver" in 1967 is now a shambles. We serve the Presbyterians only in the summer through an appointed student.

Prince Albert Fellowship House – Staff situation has been very unsettled during 1975. On February 16, 1976 the students living in the Fellowship House welcomed their new house parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chiang from Taiwan. The project seems to be fulfilling a real need in the lives of the boys who stay there.

Anishinabe Fellowship Centre – Director – Mrs. Mabel Powers; Assistant Director – Miss Isabel Allison, deaconess. Miss Margaret Cook, a Native woman from Rossburn and a graduate from Mokahum Indian Bible College who is presently a full-time student in academic upgrading, assists as a teacher and club leader. Volunteers from the Bible College and from Presbyterian Churches also assist in the many programs. Organized mid-week groups for children are well attended. Excellent summer camps and Vacation Bible School offered the opportunity to reach out to the many children and families in the neighbourhood. The Presbytery of Winnipeg purchased a house alongside the Centre to be used as a crisis centre, an apartment for the Director, and as club rooms for some of the children's groups.

Kenora Fellowship Centre – This is one of the most imaginative and unique projects ever undertaken by The Presbyterian Church in Canada. Any assessment of its history to date will indicate that the KFC has been a worthwhile effort.

The long and costly struggle by the Churches of Canada and in recent years by the federal and provincial governments, to provide Indian children with the benefit of equal educational opportunities, has commenced to pay off with the emergence of an intelligent, active and well-informed number of Indian young people.

Certain sociological changes have affected all Canadian people, and not least the native community.

The appearance of radical groups and individuals, including many young men and women anxious to improve the lot of their people rapidly and by any possible means, has tended to polarize the situation in many instances, and has thus made a rational approach to problems, and the establishment of mutual understanding and healthy relationships, much more difficult. Furthermore, these developments have tended to produce an appreciable "back-lash" amongst many Canadians.

These changing conditions have frequently confronted the staff of the Centre with sudden, surprising and often bewildering problems, and great credit is due to the present Director, Mr. Stephen Robinson, and those associated with him, including members of the Board of Management, in keeping the Centre on an even keel. This was particularly true in the tense days of the Anicinabe occupation. The Centre, having no support from or attachment to either party in the dispute, and recognized as an independent institution dedicated to justice and reconciliation, provided a neutral locale for the discussions which led to an armistice.

It was apparent from the early days of operation that, although an open door and a friendly, wholesome atmosphere were prerequisites, active and sensitive leadership was also necessary to assist Indian folk to understand "white" society and relate to it, while at the same time preserving their own cherished culture and values. When an enlargement of the original premises became imperative because of the astonishing response to the few services offered, it was decided to plan the new building with some definite programs in mind, and to make it flexible enough to accommodate a wide variety of projects and programs which might later develop.

Accordingly, the present building, dedicated in 1973, included a social hall with a stage, a modern kitchen designed so that training could be given to girls, a library available for students, and a large main lounge.

In recent years there has been a real willingness on the part of the administrative staff to co-operate with Indian and other groups by providing the facilities of the building for programs.

One of the long range aims of the Centre has been to encourage and assist the native Canadians in the area to take increasing interest and participation in their own affairs, and it is gratifying to see progress being made in this direction by responsible Indian people of various ages. On some of the nearby reserves resolute and effective actions by the Chief and Band Councils are leading to improved conditions. In Kenora itself the formation of a group known as the Interim Board of Directors for a Kenora Friendship Centre is also an encouraging sign. This group is seeking federal assistance for the establishment of a Friendship Centre which would be distinctly Indian centred in all facets of its interests and activities. Such centres in other parts of Canada have helped Native People to focus on their own history, traditions and culture, giving a new sense of identity and self respect.

This latter group recently approached the local Board of the Kenora Fellowship Centre and the Board of World Mission seeking assistance and support in realizing this goal. The Interim Board also approached the Church with a proposal to purchase the KFC building at an appraised price, believing that federal funds might be made available to them for this purpose. The Board of World Mission decided to continue the Kenora Fellowship Centre and keep the buildings at the present time.

HOSPITAL AND SENIOR CITIZEN VISITORS

Halifax

Hospital Visitor – Mrs. Eva (A.O.) MacLean.

- "It is sometimes through hospital visitation that people come to realize that the Church does care, and in some cases a new relationship to the home church is established," writes Mrs. MacLean.
- The need of many patients is summed up in the words of one "I just want someone to talk to, someone who will take a personal interest in me, and who will share my fears".
- Little extras for patients are made possible by the kindness of individuals and WMS groups throughout the Maritime area.

London

Hospital Visitor – Miss Lily Schneider.

- Visits fourteen different homes and hospitals and approximately one hundred and thirty people in those places. During the year made 1953 visits.
- Glad Tidings, These Days, and other pamphlets are distributed.
- WMS ladies bring in gifts for hospital use.

Toronto

Senior Citizen Visitor – Miss Lillian Reay.

- "Nursing Home work still fills me with a sense of challenge and adventure. It seems to be the type of work that grows on a person," says Miss Reay.

– An increasing number of ladies from WMS and WA groups knit afghans, slippers, shawls, bed-socks, vests for elderly gentlemen, socks, and at Christmastime prepare candy, fancy cookies, as well as provide financial assistance for the purchase of fruit and candy for those living in welfare aided nursing homes.
– Worship services are conducted each month in two of the nursing homes by Miss Reay.

Riverdale Hospital, Toronto

Hospital Visitors – Miss Terry Martens and Miss Catherine Watson.

– Miss Martens and Miss Watson share the hospital visiting at this convalescent and chronic care hospital.

Vancouver

Hospital Visitors – Miss Florence Edge and Mrs. R. Mercer.

– Visits to Vancouver General Hospital, with its more than 1,900 beds, Royal Columbian, St. Mary's and the Burnaby General Hospitals.
– Increasing need to follow up patients who have been moved to Private and Extended Care Hospitals.
– Many churches assist through prayer, personal correspondence and donations.

Montreal

Hospital Visitor – Mrs. W. B. Leatherdale.

– A wide area of visitation to homes, hospitals and institutions, as well as contact by phone and correspondence with many shut-ins.

REPORT OF THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY, (E.D.) FOR 1975

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Executive of the Woman's Missionary Society (E.D.) respectfully submits the following report for the year 1975.

1975 marked the beginning of the W.M.S. (E.D.) centennial year. Highlights of the 99th Annual Meeting held in Charlottetown, P.E.I. in September were the Historic Tour and the 150th Anniversary Service in Malpeque of the founding of the first women's missionary society there in 1825. The Tour included visits to Geddie Memorial Church, the ancestral home of Rev. John Keir, Anne of Green Gables country, and Malpeque where the evening service was held at Keir Memorial Church. Dr. E. H. Bean, minister of Bethel Church, Sydney, N.S., was special speaker. Pageants were presented re-creating the first meeting of the Prince Town Female Society in 1825. The second pageant told the story of the Martyred Gordons. We were very pleased to have with us Rev. George Malcolm, General Secretary of the Board of World Missions, who spoke at the Tuesday evening service in Charlottetown; also Mrs. John Newstead, President of the W.M.S. (W.D.), who addressed us on Thursday Morning. Miss Eleanor Knott, C.N.I. Jhansi, India brought greetings from the Helen MacDonald Memorial School and told of her work there.

Miss Christine Shaw served during the year as Presbytery deaconess in Halifax-Lunenburg. She gave leadership at Camp Geddie, helped with Vacation Bible Schools, addressed meetings and helped with workshops and rallies.

Miss Jean Clarke, Synod deaconess worked in many parts of the Synod giving leadership at W.M.S. Rallies, C.G.I.T. meetings, S.S. work and Management at Camp Geddie. Miss Clarke's resignation was accepted with regret, she had been in the Synod 6 years.

Rallies and special centennial events continue to bring added interest. The new study material was introduced at the Fall Rallies. Mission Education is an important part of W.M.S. meetings. 58% used the prepared study packets. Other resource material included Bible study aids, "Alive", "Encounter", Missionary letters, Record, Message, Glad Tidings. One Presbyterial prepared a Resource List and outline for 7 Programs, focus, "The Mission Venture of the Presbyterian Church in Canada".

The Presbyterian Message features both overseas work and home, as well as B.W.M. personnel news. It was published in eleven issues, one being the Annual Report. The subscription rate has been slightly increased, due to the rising costs. Mrs. James Cunningham, editor for 18 years, resigned in September, and Mrs. John Posno, the retiring president, became editor.

The highlight of the year for most of our membership was the opportunity to see and hear so many of our missionaries. Among the visitors were Rev. Ted Ellis, Rev. Clare McGill, Rev. and Mrs. Titus Path, Rev. Donald MacKay, Miss Margaret Kennedy, also Rev. and Mrs. R. K. Anderson, of Lower Sackville, N.S., formerly of Japan.

Our 1975 contribution to the budget of the B.W.M. was $28,500.00. Special grants through the B.W.M. amounted to $2,900.00, of which $1,400.00 was given by Girl's and Children's groups for work in Malawi, Anishanabi, (Winnipeg) and Wabush.

REPORT OF THE WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY WESTERN DIVISION

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Council Executive of The Women's Missionary Society, W.D. respectfully submits the following report of the Society's work for the year 1975.

The Council Executive met regularly to receive the reports of its various committees and of its representatives on Presbyterian and Interdenominational Board and Committees. Its members were kept informed of the Church's mission work by visits from Home and Overseas missionaries, BWM Secretaries and Executive members who had shared in Centennial Tours.

The Women's Missionary Society, W.D. has a supportive role in relation to the Board of World Mission and the Board of Congregational Life. In 1975 a contribution of $345,000 was made to BWM. Ten representatives of the Society serve on the Board of World Mission and all are active on one or other of the Committees of the Board. The Society was very happy that one of its representatives, Mrs. W. E. McCutcheon was made Chairman of the BWM, the first woman to be elected to that office. Representatives of the Society also serve on the Board of Congregational Life, its Executive and related Task Groups, likewise representative of BCL and BWM are on the WMS Council Executive, Council and educational committees. National and Area WMS Staff serve as Associate Staff of the BCL. In 1975 the BCL contributed $3,000 towards travelling expenses of area staff.

During the year staff salaries were reviewed and the salaries of deaconesses raised in accordance with the scale set by the General Assembly and proportionate increases given to other staff members. It was agreed that W.M.S. staff join the Pension Plan for Church Employees as the Pension Board of the Church approved of this being done. As requested by the Church's Committee on Doctrine, Council Executive considered the Statement re Purpose of the Church Mission Task. The conclusion as amended by the 100th General Assembly was approved in principle and it was agreed that any statement of purpose of the Church Mission Task should retain emphasis on "proclamation by both word and deed."

The Society places major emphasis on its educational work. Information in regard to the various aspects of Mission is provided through programme resources for children, teenagers and adults. Programme packets are prepared annually by the Age Group Committees and additional resources sought, recommended and made available through the WMS Book Room. The Centennial Year saw emphasis on the materials related to "Celebration". In the Fall of 1975 many adult groups began studies on Japan and Taiwan, teenagers used the packet containing the book "High Wall, Low Wall, No Wall" by Ruth Cheney and Children "All Our Days, Laugh and Praise" by Morris D. Pike.

The magazine Glad Tidings is an important part of the Educational programme going out regularly with current missionary information. The work of Mrs. Helen Young, as editor for the first half of the year was much appreciated. Beginning in May, Miss May Nutt combined the work of Editor with her work as Adult Secretary, on an experimental basis. The Book Room is an important channel for the distribution of resources. In September Mrs. Norma McComb left after fifteen years of efficient service in the Book Room to be married and Mrs. Margaret MacDougall was welcomed as the new manager of the Book Room.

In the areas Educational Resource Staff work with leaders and teachers of local congregations in planning and carrying out their work as well as with executives of local groups, Presbyterials, and Synodicals, Presbytery and Synod Committees. The following staff serve through the Education Department:

Executive Secretary	Miss Louise A. Reith
Secretary for Adult Work and Editor of Glad Tidings	Miss May Nutt
Secretary for Children's Work	Miss Mabel Booth
Book Room Manager	Mrs. Margaret MacDougall
Office Secretaries	Mrs. Mildred Preston
	Miss Katherine Allen
	Mrs. Helen Findlay (part time)
	Miss M. Sharp (part time)

Area Educational Resource Staff

Western Region:
Miss Barbara Woodruff, Miss Brenda Moncrieff.

Eastern – Central Region:
Miss Margaret Boyd, Miss Lois Powrie, Miss Evelyn Murdoch, Miss Jean Gardner, Miss Dorothy Keller.

Reports in regard to groups are never quite complete as membership and even groups fail to be reported. But those reporting show interest and considerable enthusiasm.

802 Adult Groups with a reported membership of 17,660
109 Teenage groups with a reported membership of 1,193
307 Childrens groups with a reported membership of 3,376.

Many faithful leaders and officers contribute to the success of these groups. There is always the need for more adults who are willing to use time and talents to work with children and youth and to interest other adults in the Church's Mission.

In cooperation with the Missionary Education Department of the Board of World Mission deputation of missionaries was planned. National Staff, members of Council Executive and Area Staff also shared in deputation.

In September Mrs. J. A. Newstead, the President, was the guest of The Woman's Missionary Society, E.D. at its Annual Meeting in Charlottetown, P.E.I. where she enjoyed the fellowship and inspiration of meeting with the women of that Society.

Finances – The financial givings from the WMS groups showed a substantial increase in 1975. In this department Mrs. W. H. Adamson, the Treasurer, is ably assisted by Miss Marjorie McMullin, the Assistant to the Treasurer and Bookkeeper. Mrs. Mary Shepherd serves as Secretary and is responsible for work related to Life Membership.

Supply Fund – Through the Supply Department needed dollars are contributed for materials to aid the work at home and overseas. Part of the Supply Fund goes into the WMS money contribution to work administered by the BWM. In addition to money contributions many groups seek out needs for material supplies in their own areas and knit and sew to meet those definite needs.

Christian Literature – In addition to the financial support given to the Board of World Mission, the W.M.S., W.D. contributes $11,400 in grants to Christian Literature which is always increased by some special gifts.

Grants went to Kenora and Anishinabe Fellowships; to French Christian Literature in Montreal; to Rev. Michael Fesenko to assist in publishing the Ukrainian Magazine "Evangelical Truth"; to the Canadian Bible Society; to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind for the publication "Insight". Regular grants go to Christian Literature Societies and publications in overseas countries, the Philippines, India, Taiwan, Nigeria, Hong Kong, to assist in Christian publications in many languages.

The Centennial year of The Presbyterian Church in Canada was a good year for the Society. In addition to givings to the regular funds of the Society $13,227.44 was contributed to the Yokohama Nursery Project, Japan. Hopefully the memories of that year and the renewal experienced will lead to even greater response in 1976.

MRS. J. A. NEWSTEAD,
President.

REPORT OF THE CANADIAN FORCES CHAPLAINCY COMMITTEE

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Committee this year faces the problem of replacing two retiring chaplains with one new appointee. With the reduction of personnel in the Armed Forces our representation in the chaplaincy will be reduced by one from 7 to 6. Retiring chaplains are Captain Ian Raeburn-Gibson and Captain W.J.O. Isaac.

The following ministers of our church now serve in the Canadian Forces; Major W. J. Graham, Major S. D. Self, Major P.L. Sams C.D., Capt. L.T. Barclay C.D., Captain W.J.O. Isaac, Captain R.A.B. MacLean and Captain Ian Raeburn-Gibson.

The following ministers serve in the Reserve Forces: Capt. G. R. Bell, Captain D. J. Crawford, Capt. C. A. Dunn, Capt. R. J. Foulis, Capt. I. C. Glass, Capt. W. D. Jarvis, Major G. G. Hastings, Major R. S. Johnson, Major W. W. MacNeill, Capt. W. C. MacLellan, Capt. R. W. Maddock, Major B. J. Molloy, Capt. W. G. French, Capt. W. R. Russell, Rev. Ian Wishart.

The convener attended the chaplains' retreat at R.M.C. Kingston in June 1975 and visited the NATO forces in Baden and Lahr in May 1975. He also attended a briefing of Chaplains at Trenton in preparation for the security necessary at the Olympic Games.

In 1975 the Chapels on the various bases contributed to the Budget Funds of the Church $2,983.81.

The Presbyterian Record is supplied to all chaplains in Canada and overseas for distribution.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ROSS K. CAMERON
Convener

THE REV. DAVID MORRISON REID MEMORIAL FUND

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

This fund originated with a bequest from the late Mrs. Agnes Isobel Yuill Reid in memory of her husband the Rev. David Morrison Reid. The income of the Fund is applied to the general work of the Home Missions section of the Board of World Mission.

The fund consists of 13,957 units of the Church's Consolidated Portfolio which represents an equity of $13,957 at December 31, 1975.

During the year income of the fund amounted to $1,018.90 which was used for Home Mission purposes.

MRS. W. E. McCUTCHEON,
Chairman.

GEORGE A. MALCOLM,
General Secretary.

REPORT OF THE CLERKS OF ASSEMBLY RE: OVERTURE NO. 8, 1975, PRESBYTERY OF LINDSAY-PETERBOROUGH, RE: ANNUAL ATTESTATION OF SESSION ROLLS AND RECORDS

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Presbytery of Lindsay-Peterborough overtures that rather than an annual attestation by Presbytery of Session Rolls and Records, Sections 32, 82, 129 and 255 of the Book of Forms be changed to permit biennial attestations.

The Clerks are aware that Presbyteries are finding their work load has increased and Session Clerks find it burdensome to provide their records annually. It is most convenient to have Sessions Records examined when the Presbytery is meeting within the bounds of the congregations, or when Presbytery is conducting a visitation of the congregation.

The Clerks of Assembly believe that convenience and expediency would be served by reducing the number of times an attestation of Session Records takes place. They also believe, if Presbytery ensures that this attestation takes place at least every two years, no harm is likely to come as a result of extending the period required from one to two years.

Therefore the Clerks would recommend that the Prayer of the Overture of Lindsay-Peterborough Presbytery be granted in the following terms:

1. That Section 32 be revised by adding the words at the end of the present wording, "save that a Presbytery if it is desired may call for the Session records once every two years for attestation".
2. And that the first sentence of Section 82 of the Book of Forms be revised to read: "The record of the Presbytery and Synod is reviewed by the next higher court at least once a year, and the Session record is reviewed by the Presbytery at least once every two years. The higher court may call for the records of a lower court at any time".
3. And that Section 255 first paragraph be revised to read "It is the duty of the Presbytery to revise and attest at least once every two years the records and rolls of all Kirk Sessions within the bounds". (See Section 32)

And that these changes in the Sections of the Books of Forms 32, 82, and 255 be sent down under the Barrier Act.

D. C. MacDONALD, E. H. BEAN, D. B. Lowry,
Clerks of Assembly.

REPORT OF THE CLERKS OF ASSEMBLY RE: OVERTURE NO. 10, 1975, PRESBYTERY OF EDMONTON, RE: THE MATTER OF DEADLINES

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

In order to increase the time available for study of remits from the General Assembly, the Presbytery of Edmonton asked that the General Assembly "either (a) ensure that remits come to the attention of the Presbyteries within six weeks of the rising of the General Assembly; or, (b) extend the deadline to submit responses to the remits to the last day of the month of April. . ."

Presbyteries have up until sixteen days before the General Assembly meets to have responses to remits under the Barrier Act in the hands of the Clerks of Assembly (Book of Forms, Section 297). Presumably the overture intends the term "remit" to include referrals of every nature (requests for study and report, nominations, etc.). The needs of the committees and boards receiving responses from presbyteries vary according to the matter at hand. It would seem deleterious to enforce a uniform late date for presbytery responses. We do not see (b) part of the prayer of the overture to be workable or desirable.

The question is reduced to ways of facilitating an earlier start to presbytery study of referrals. Two alternatives might be considered:

1. Commissioners returning from General Assembly might mark all referrals to presbyteries in their mimeographed minutes. Given a couple of hours perusal of the mimeographed minutes and printed reports, an alert Presbytery Business Committee or Clerk could bring the majority of referrals to the Court's attention at the June (or first post-Assembly) meeting of Presbytery. This method is cost-free and has led to early delegation of study responsibilities in the presbyteries that have adopted it. One drawback is that minutes of the last sederunt of the General Assembly cannot be put in the hands of Commissioners before their return home.
2. By working only on the production of mimeographed copies of the minutes of all sederunts of the General Assembly, the Clerks could produce and mail these to all Presbytery Clerks some time during the latter part of the week following the week in which the General Assembly meets. This would mean that if commissioners faithfully brought to Presbytery Clerks, copies of the Minutes distributed during the Sederunts of the General Assembly and the Clerks of Assembly mailed to the Clerks of Presbytery, copies of Minutes for the latter Sederunts of the General Assembly, they could not be available for meetings of Presbyteries held earlier than the second Tuesday after the week that General Assembly meets, and unless the postal system improved it would likely be the third Tuesday. The earlier hope expressed above would include many of our Presbyteries, and the latter hope would include most. In any case the best that Presbyteries could do with this procedure would be to make referrals of the remits to Presbytery committees for study and report in the Fall.
3. In recent years the Clerks of Assembly have been gathering the remits to the lower courts into tabulated forms and send these to Presbytery Clerks in August. If Presbyteries at their June meeting, would authorize the Clerk, or a remit committee, to refer these items, transmitted by Assembly Clerks, to Committees of Presbytery it would accomplish about as much as the exercise in Number 2 above would do, and with much less stress placed on the Assembly Clerks.
4. Two other means may be used to alleviate the problem enunciated in Overture No. 10, 1975 General Assembly. The Assembly Clerks should seek to produce and distribute the Acts and Proceedings as early as possible after the General Assembly meets. This the Clerks have endeavoured to do, and will continue to do. Presbyteries should consider holding their September meetings at dates later in the month in order that referrals of remits and copies of the Acts and Proceedings could be in the hands of Presbyteries a week or two before the September meetings of Presbytery.
5. If Presbyteries have done their best to meet the deadlines set by General Assembly and find there is not time to do the study required and transmit their report, it should be a reasonable thing to request an extension of the deadline for another year.

RECOMMENDATION

That the above report be adopted as an answer to the prayer of Overture No. 10, Presbytery of Edmonton, 1975 General Assembly.

D. C. MacDONALD, E. H. BEAN, D. B. LOWRY,
Clerks of Assembly.

REPORT OF THE CLERKS OF GENERAL ASSEMBLY RE: OVERTURE NO. 1, 1976, – GENERAL ASSEMBLY BOOKS OF FORMS 258 (a) and 258 (b)

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Presbytery of Miramichi requests that the rules of the Church be changed to prohibit elders being named commissioners to General Assembly for another Presbytery than that in which the elder resides. This would mean that the ruling elder would then have the same restrictions as the teaching elder now has.

Historically, the permission to name a ruling elder from a Presbytery other than that wherein the said elder resides had been used some years ago to name chairman of some Board or Committee of Assembly to attend Assembly as a commissioner. In recent years, to the best knowledge of the Clerks, this privilege has not been used.

The Presbytery of Miramichi does not assert that the special privilege to ruling elders has been abused, or caused resentment in the Church, but argue for a change on the basis that the rule "discriminates against ministers and ministers acting as elder. . .". The Clerks of General Assembly are not persuaded that one group is necessarily discriminated against because another group has privileges that the first group does not possess. In recent history there have been few Presbyteries which have not had a full complement of teaching elders, but on occasion a Presbytery has not had a full complement of ruling elders. It would appear that it is more difficult to obtain ruling elders than teaching elders to be commissioners to Assembly.

Unless the General Assembly knows reasons for changing the above rule that are not evident in the preamble of the Overture, or evident to the Clerks of Assembly, the Clerks recommend that no change be made in Sections 258(a) and 258(b) of the Book of Forms.

RECOMMENDATION

That the Prayer of Overture No. 1, Presbytery of Miramichi, be not granted.

D. C. MacDONALD, E. H. BEAN, D. B. LOWRY,
Clerks of Assembly.

THE PRESBYTERIAN RECORD

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

It is one hundred years since The Presbyterian Record was established as "the official organ of The Presbyterian Church in Canada." We now call it our national magazine, but the purpose remains substantially the same, although the format has changed with the times.

Because of the postal strike, which lasted from October 21 to December 2 (six weeks), we published a joint December, 1975/January, 1976 issue. Delivery was running so late that to produce a separate January number would have been a waste of postage and paper.

Instead the staff concentrated on an enlarged February Record commemorating the centennial of the magazine. It was well received throughout the church.

So in 1976 we will be paying for ten instead of eleven issues of The Record. It may be advantageous financially to continue combining two issues at the end of the year. All costs are rising, and we can foresee the need for a considerable increase in subsidy from the General Assembly's budget in years to come.

It is always difficult to pinpoint circulation figures for an annual report, since they fluctuate from month to month. The average for the last six months of 1975 as reported to the Canadian Circulation Audit Board was 89,752 paid subscriptions. In March, 1976 our printer delivered 90,507 single copies to the post office. The Record Committee continues to promote the Every Home Plan as the best means of placing the magazine in Presbyterian homes. If 80% of the households in a congregation are listed as subscribers, the rate is $1.50 instead of $3.00.

During the year Mr. C. Alex Culley resigned as business manager, which was a part-time position for him. Mrs. Leila MacInnes now handles the advertising, and with the help of two assistants, the circulation department. The assistant editor, Miss Valerie Dunn, continues to design and produce the magazine and to contribute in other ways. Miss Clare Hunt has moved to The Record from the Board of Congregational Life to act as secretarial assistant.

Dr. Rayner, who is now in his 18th year as editor, has asked that he be permitted to retire at the end of the year 1977. The established procedure is to invite presbyteries to make nominations for the office of editor, and a recommendation to this effect is attached.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That the General Assembly grant to Rev. Dr. DeCourcy H. Rayner permission to retire as editor effective December 31, 1977.
2. That presbyteries be requested to submit to the Clerks of Assembly, by February 1st, 1977 nominations for the office of editor of the Presbyterian Record.
3. That the General Assembly endorse and recommend the Every Home Plan as the best means of placing the national magazine in the homes of our people.

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN ALLEN,
Chairman, The Record Committee.

THE COMMITTEE ON INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

1. Churchpersons' Seminar, Ottawa Mar. 23-25, 1976
Five representatives of our denomination attended this stimulating, well-planned seminar in Ottawa on the theme " A New International Economic Order – Implications for Canadians". The conference, arranged by the International Affairs Committee of the Canadian Council of Churches, and the Canadian Catholic Conference, was attended by representatives of government, business, unions as well as the Church. Oil and energy, copper, nickel and potash were the four principal areas of study and discussion. It was emphasized that a new economic order ought to include all people on the earth and not just the capitalist West, and that our continuing Christian concern is that people are more important than profit and material goods.

2. Africa
Hon. P. Afolabi, High Commissioner from Nigeria, spoke to our Committee on "Recent Practical Developments in Africa: Nigeria as a Case Study" Mr. Afolabi commended the role of the Church in her stand against colonialism, injustice, corruption, apartheid and Canadian investments in South Africa.

3. United Nations
Dr. John Holmes, Gen. Secretary of the Can. Inst. of Intl. Affairs spoke to our Committee on the United Nations. He commented that although the UN is not a perfect organism, it provides an opportunity for nations to meet and to speak with each other. The UN has prevented war and has accomplished things such as the law of the sea and the neutrality of the moon. 2/3rds of the 141 nation members entered the UN since the charter was formed presenting problems in the structure and work of the Assembly.

4. East Asia
Bishop Kim-Hao Yap, General Secretary of the Christian Conference of Asia and Mr. Jae-Shik Oh, Secretary of the Urban Rural Mission Comm. of CCA, spoke to our Committee on "Christians in the Changing Asian Scene". The witness of the Christian minority in Asia is hampered by the burden of missionary history as being largely identified with the richer and more powerful element of the population as well as the apparent failure of Western policies to meet the needs of the 'common' people.

5. Middle East
Dr. James Peters, former President of the Canadian Arab Federation, and Rabbi Schild, Chairman of the Canadian Israel Committee, Central Region, spoke to our Committee on "Towards Understanding Israeli-Palestinian Problems." Mr. Peters stated that the only voice of the Palestinian is the P.L.O. and that the Jews should leave Israel, going to the countries that supported them. To partition the country, with Jerusalem an international city, was a slight possibility. Rabbi Schild felt that the crux of the problem in the Middle East was that the Arab world did not and seemingly will not, recognize the State of Israel.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That the General Assembly urge and encourage congregations, particularly those members of them in places of responsibility and decision in economic life, to examine their actions in the light of a Gospel concern for the welfare of man as over against economic growth for its own sake.
2. That the General Assembly urge the Canadian Government to continue and strengthen its stand that foreign powers should not become involved in military action in Africa, and that the Canadian Government take initiatives in every way to promote negotiated, peaceful settlements in Africa.
3. That the General Assembly, in the light of many criticisms and attacks on the U.N., and, further in recognition of the substantial cultural and educational programs carried on by the U.N., encourage the Canadian Government to continue strong support to the U.N. and work for necessary revisions of U.N. structures to fit the changed world context.
4. That the General Assembly inform President Park, President of South Korea, National Christian Council of Korea, the Canadian Ambassador in Korea, the Korean Ambassador in Canada, of our distress at the imprisonment and intimidation of Christians and their families, urging that they be freed to contribute to the task of building democracy in Korea.
5. That the Budget for this Committee in 1977 be $2,000.00.

All of which is respectfully submitted

D. G. NEIL,
Chairman

E. H. JOHNSON
Secretary.

REPORT OF ST. ANDREW'S HALL, VANCOUVER, B.C.

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

St. Andrew's Hall continues to be a vital living witness of the Presbyterian Church in Canada on the campus of the University of British Columbia. We have been fortunate to have full occupancy throughout the college year and in the summer vacation. Summer occupancy is vital to our financial needs and is not a guaranteed situation. The enclosed audited financial statement for our fiscal year ending August 31, 1975 indicates that the requested operating grant is a realistic figure and the reduced grant this year gives real concern.

The Dean continues to function as our Presbyterian Chaplain on the campus. He reports good Chapel services with our University Hill congregation, a continued cordial relationship with the Board of the Vancouver School of Theology, and increasing recognition of our Church on the campus.

Your Board is happy to be of service and prays for the continuance of the fine witness of St. Andrew's Hall.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

HARRY LENNOX,
Chairman

H. LYLE JESTLEY,
Secretary.

ST. ANDREW'S HALL

STATEMENT OF ACCOUNTS
As at 31st August 1975

REPORT by BUTTAR AND CHIENE, Chartered Accountants, Vancouver, B.C.

upon the accounts of
as at 31st August 1975

We have examined the Balance Sheet of St. Andrew's Hall as at 31st August 1975 and the Statement of Operations for the year ended on that date, and have received all the information and explanations required by us. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

No provision has been made in the accounts for depreciation on the Dean's Residence or on the Chapel and Dormitory.

In our opinion, and according to the best of our information, the explanations given to us and as shown by the books of the Hall, the accompanying Balance Sheet and Statement of Operations present fairly the financial position of the Hall as at 31st August 1975 and the results of its operations for the year ended on that date, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON HOME RELIGION

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Committee on Home Religion co-operates with several churches in Canada and the United States in publishing a bi-monthly devotional magazine known as THESE DAYS. This co-operation with other churches of the Reformed faith ensures excellence of material and control of costs in these inflation-troubled days. Several Canadian writers have contributed meditations, and others will do so in future issues.

During our centennial year, 1975, we played host for the first time at the editorial committee's annual workshop meeting. It was held in Toronto on April 30th and May 1st, 1975.

The Committee expresses its thanks to Dr. E. A. Thomson for his continuing concern and support; to THE PRESBYTERIAN RECORD for printing the scripture passages used in THESE DAYS; to Mr. Ian MacEachern of PRESBYTERIAN PUBLICATIONS who distributes the magazine to congregations, individuals and institutions; and to the Rev. D. R. Sinclair who prepared the message for the back page of the weekly church bulletin of Jan. 18, 1976, promoting the use of THESE DAYS.

The Average circulation of the magazine in Canada and the United States was about 350,000 during 1975. Average circulation in our church was 8,178. The total expenses of the committee in 1975 were $126.70. This amount includes our share of entertaining the editorial committee on the occasion of its visit to Toronto.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That Sessions commend the use of THESE DAYS to their congregations, and request a person, or group such as a woman's organization, to promote its use within the congregation.
2. That sessions be encouraged to present a copy of THESE DAYS to each person uniting with the church; to parents presenting their children for baptism; and to couples uniting in marriage; and that copies be displayed in the church vestibule.
3. That congregations make available to their minister, copies of THESE DAYS for use in pastoral and hospital visitation.
4. That Presbyteries and congregations be requested to consider placing copies of THESE DAYS in hospitals, nursing homes, homes for senior citizens and other appropriate institutions in the area served.
5. That Presbyteries be urged to encourage the use of THESE DAYS as a devotional guide.

Respectfully submitted,

L. H. FOWLER,
Chairman

M. E. BURCH,
Secretary.

THE COMMITTEE ON CHURCH WORSHIP

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

As the Presbyterian Church in Canada enters its second century, it is gratifying for the Committee on Church Worship to find a renewed interest in worship being felt throughout the church. This has been reflected in the greatly increasing scope of the work of our committee. This year we continued study on the subject "What is Worship", in order that we might better assist you, the church, in a continuing study of worship. We would welcome any correspondence, comments or ideas pertaining to worship in our church. Other indications of the growing interest in worship were felt in a workshop on worship held at Crieff Hills Community in February. All participants indicated great enthusiasm in exploring all aspects of creative worship in the church. We are recommending (Recommendation 2) that Presbyteries be encouraged to sponsor workshops in worship. Another area of concern is Church Music. A committee has been formed jointly under the Committee on Church Worship and the Board of Congregational Life to study ways and means of promoting and encouraging music in the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

The Book of Common Order:

The Book of Common Order (1964) has been of great concern to the Committee on Church Worship during the past few years (note: the summary in the Acts and Proceedings, 1975, pp. 274-275). The 101st General Assembly agreed that a revision of the Book of Common Order was needed (due to the fact that the stock of the book was depleted, the changes in the Preamble and Ordinations Questions, a concern for services in modern English, etc.). As we set to the revision, we found ourselves faced with quite a task. Worship at present is in a great time of flux: witness the changes that have occured during the past 10 years. Our feeling at present is that we would like to circulate samples of revised services (in more modern form and modern language, but reflecting the norms of Reformed worship) in order to get a concensus from the church as a whole: such sample services will be going out shortly to ministers for use and comment. As well, we would welcome receiving any services that ministers have written themselves and found effective: these could be sent to the Convener.

As this process is being conducted, the committee felt that perhaps an abridged edition of the present Book of Common Order might be printed to meet the immediate needs of the church. However, it would seem that the cost of even an abridged edition would be prohibitive (due to present printing costs, etc.) Presbyterian Publications advises: ". . .it would not be feasible to print an abridged edition without a very large subsidy so that the book could be sold at a reasonable figure."

Therefore, we would continue to recommend the use of the Book of Common Order of the Church of Scotland and also the Worshipbook (in more contemporary language). Both are available from Presbyterian Publications.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That General Assembly authorize the allocation of $1500. for the work of the Church Worship Committee.
2. That Presbyteries be encouraged to sponsor workshops in worship.

TED CREEN,
Convener.

AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Venerable The General Assembly
of The Presbyterian Church in Canada

We have examined the balance sheets of The Presbyterian Church in Canada as at December 31, 1975 and the statements of income, expenditure and appropriations and unappropriated operating and property funds for the year then ended. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Church as at December 31, 1975 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with the accounting practices described in note 1 applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1975

1. SUMMARY OF ACCOUNTING PRACTICES

The following is a summary of accounting practices followed by the Church.

With the exception of the practice of valuing marketable securities at market value rather than at acquisition cost, as set out in part (b) below, the financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted for non-profit organizations.

(a) Cash receipts

Contributions held by congregations at December 31, 1975 for Budget Revenue, for the National Development Fund and for the Inter-Church Aid Committee which were remitted to the Treasurer of the Church by January 14, 1976 have been included in revenue for the year in which they were given by members of the congregation. These amounts have been segregated for balance sheet purposes and designated as cash in transit.

(b) Investment transactions and income

Investment transactions are accounted for on the trade date (date the order to buy or sell is executed).

Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. All accrued interest receivable is shown in the Operating and Property Funds.

Dividend income is recorded on the date of declaration.

Realized gains and losses from investment transactions are recorded on the transaction date.

On the recommendation of The Trustee Board the Church follows the practice of valuing marketable securities at market value rather than at acquisition cost.

(c) Capitalization and depreciation

Fixed assets which are donated are recorded on the basis of fair market value at the time of acquisition. Other fixed assets are recorded at cost.

Properties are depreciated at annual rate of 3% of the cost until the estimated net realizable value is attained.

Furniture and equipment are depreciated at an annual rate of 10% of the cost.

Accumulated depreciation covering all properties and furniture and fixtures, has been increased by $151,829 ($150,980 in 1974). This amount has been charged against unappropriated operating and property funds.

(d) Composition of assets and liabilities

(i) The assets and liabilities of Knox, Presbyterian and Ewart Colleges, Saskatoon Residence, Armagh and St. Andrew's Hall are included in the balance sheet only to the extent of fixed assets.

(ii) The assets and liabilities of the Pension Fund are not included in these statements. A separate statement covering this fund has been prepared.

(e) Composition of income and expenditure

(i) Except for the amount allocated from the Budget, no receipts or disbursements have been included in the statement of income and expenditure for the following:

Knox, Presbyterian and Ewart Colleges, St. Andrew's Hall, Saskatoon Residence, Pension Fund and Armagh.

(ii) The total cost of operating Knox, Presbyterian and Ewart Colleges, St. Andrew's Hall and Saskatoon Residence is $919,593 ($798,540 in 1974). Separate statements covering these institutions have been prepared.

(iii) Income of the J. B. MacLean Bequest Fund has been included in the statement of income and expenditure only to the extent of the amount received from the Fund ($45,000 in each of 1975 and 1974). A separate statement covering this Fund has been prepared.

2. CASH AND SHORT-TERM DEPOSITS
An amount of $249,553 ($235,203 in 1974) is invested in short-term deposits, $227,553 on behalf of the Chinese Church, Montreal, and $22,000 on behalf of Tyndale House.
Income therefrom is credited to this congregation and to Tyndale House in proportion to their short-term deposits.

3. MARKETABLE SECURITIES
An amount of $67,235 is invested in securities on behalf of Tyndale House. Income therefrom is paid to Tyndale House.

4. UNEXPENDED APPROPRIATIONS – BOARD OF WORLD MISSION
The Board of World Mission has projects under review which will require the expenditure in 1976 of the greater part of this appropriation.

5. BIRTHDAY GIFT FUND
During the year $61,767 was received of which $4,239 was transferred to Ewart College and other agencies and $6,249 was used for expenses of the fund. The balance remains available to be used as determined by The Administrative Council.

REPORT ON OTHER FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Our examination of the financial statements of The Presbyterian Church in Canada was made primarily for the purpose of forming an opinion on the balance sheets at December 31, 1975 and the statements of income, expenditure and appropriations and unappropriated operating and property funds for the year then ended. The accompanying schedules are presented for supplementary analysis purposes and have been subjected to the audit procedures applied in the examination of the financial statements referred to above.

In our opinion the accompanying schedules present fairly the financial information contained therein.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Venerable The General Assembly
of The Presbyterian Church in Canada

We have examined the statements of capital and revenue and expenditure of The Presbyterian Church in Canada Pension Fund for the year ended December 31, 1975. These statements incorporate the assets, liabilities, revenue and expenditure of the segregated fund administered by The Canada Life Assurance Company for The Presbyterian Church in Canada, for which fund a financial statement has been furnished to us by The Canada Life Assurance Company. Our examination of the pension fund transactions of the Church included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these statements of capital and revenue and expenditure present fairly the financial position of the Pension Fund as at December 31, 1975 and the results of its transactions for the year then ended, in accordance with the accounting practices described in note 1 to the financial statements which have been applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

1. ACCOUNTING PRACTICES
The following is a summary of accounting practices followed by the fund:
   (a) Basis of valuation of fund assets
      (i) Listed stocks are valued at their closing sales prices on the stock exchange where listed, and if no sale has taken place on the last business day, then at the last published sale price.
      (ii) Listed bonds are recorded at the last published bid price.
      (iii) Unlisted bonds are recorded at values reflecting current market yields of similar debt obligations.
   (b) Investment transactions and income
      (i) Investment transactions are recorded on the trade date (date the order to buy or sell is executed). Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Realized gains and losses from investment transactions and unrealized appreciation or depreciation of investments are calculated on an average cost basis.

(c) Basis of establishing capital

It is not the practice of the fund to segregate from capital amounts required to meet future obligations of the fund.

2. CASH

Cash includes amounts aggregating $523,619, required to purchase annuities on January 1, 1976 to improve the benefits to existing pension recipients.

3. ADDITIONAL PAYMENTS TO PENSIONERS AND WIDOWS

As approved by the 99th General Assembly, bequests, commencing in 1972, will be used to provide additional payments to pensioners and widows receiving only small amounts from the Canada Pension Plan. The income and expenditure and balance on hand, as follows, is included in these financial statements.

Balance on hand, December 31, 1974	$ 98,056
Received 1975	59,619
	157,675
Paid out in 1975	56,210
Balance on hand, December 31, 1975	$101,465

4. ACTUARIAL EVALUATION

Based on the latest actuarial evaluation at December 31, 1974, the capital at that date exceeded the estimated future obligations of the fund by approximately $1,600,000.

AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Venerable The General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada

We have examined the balance sheet of J. B. MacLean Bequest Fund of The Presbyterian Church in Canada as at December 31, 1975 and the statements of capital and revenue and expense and undistributed income for the year then ended. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Fund as at December 31, 1975 and the results of its transactions for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting practices, described in the note to the financial statements, which have been applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

SUMMARY OF ACCOUNTING PRACTICES

The following is a summary of accounting practices followed by the Fund. With the exception of the practice of valuing marketable securities at market value rather than at acquisition cost as set out in (b) below, the financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted for non-profit organizations.

(a) Investment transactions and income
Investment transactions are accounted for on the trade date (date the order to buy or sell is executed).

Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis.

Dividend income is recorded on the date of declaration.

Realized gains and losses from investment transactions are recorded on the transaction date.

(b) Valuation
The Fund follows the practice of valuing marketable securities at market value rather than at acquisition cost. Adjustments arising thereon are allocated between capital and undistributed income, on the basis of ratio of capital to undistributed income at the beginning of the year.

(c) Depreciation
The Fund does not record depreciation on its real estate and other assets.

(d) Real estate and other assets
Real estate and other assets are recorded at values determined by executors with subsequent additions recorded at cost.

THE MRS. MARY MORGAN BENEVOLENCE FUND
THE JARDINE MEMORIAL FUND
THE DR. EPHRAIM SCOTT BENEVOLENT FUND
THE JOSEPH B. ROBERT AND DAME SARAH ROBERT FUND
THE CLARENCE MacLEOD PITTS GENERAL BENEVOLENCE FUND

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

Particulars concerning the above funds may be found in the 1969 Acts and Proceedings, Pages 368-369.

A Financial Statement on each of the above funds is printed on the Auditors' Report elsewhere in this book.

The increase in interest rates has enabled an additional increase in the maximum monthly gift to $95.00.

The provisions of Canada Pension and Quebec Pension, along with Guaranteed Annual Income plans in effect in some provinces, mean that less persons are needing help from these funds. Many letters are received each month expressing the appreciation of the recipients for grants received.

We join with those being helped by expressing thanksgiving to God for his great servants whose generosity has made all these benefits possible.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. MABEL McCUTCHEON,
Chairman

DONALD C. MacDONALD,
Secretary.

COMMUNICATION SERVICES COMMITTEE

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

"Christian leaders across the world realize that next to the importance and vitality of the gospel comes the compelling urgency to develop better and better ways of communicating it."

"These are the patterns of information and communication in which the church must proclaim the good news of the gospel. This is the challenge and the opportunity afforded the church. We must have awareness, understanding, support and training to meet that challenge."

These two quotations form the raison d'etre for this committee and emphasize the responsibility and the task that we have been given within the church.

Television for Children

The highlight of our report to the Assembly last year was the presentation of the pilot programme for pre-school children called "My Place". We are pleased at the warm and enthusiastic response that it has received, not only at the Assembly but throughout the church. Following the advice of our lawyers and authorization by the General Assembly, "Burning Bush Productions" has been incorporated to look after the production and marketing areas of the committee's work. The officers of the corporation are: Dr. R.F.G. Campbell, Mr. J. Barbour, Mr. J. St. Marie and Mr. H. Crawford. Contracts etc. have been finalized with the creative team for "My Place" and the pilot is being used as a basis for placing the series by a distributor. He has expressed confidence that it will be purchased and the series will generate sufficient income to meet all production costs, including that of the pilot. It may also provide some seed money for other productions.

Library Services

At least one copy of our catalogue and its supplements has been supplied to every congregation. The two postal strikes in 1975 were major disruptions in the service at times when the greatest use is usually made of the library. We also find that mail slowdowns have a discouraging effect. Orders must be placed much earlier to be sure of receiving the material in time for use, and then items are not available for use when they are delayed.

For some time the committee has assumed (and this assumption has been supported by suggestions from others) that the establishment of regional centres for the distribution of films and filmstrips, etc. would increase their use throughout the church. This year a sub-committee examined the situation closely with a view to making precise recommendations. An analysis of the pattern of use produced some interesting statistics. For example, approximately 70% of the use of the library comes from the southern Ontario region, 12% from Montreal and eastern Canada, 12% from western Canada and 6% from northern Ontario congregations. These percentages almost exactly duplicate those of our church membership. We were forced, therefore, to examine our earlier assumption. Establishing regional centres would not appreciably alter the patterns of use nor is there any real evidence to indicate that there would be greater use if regional centres were established. We do feel that greater training in the use of audio-visuals within the life of a congregation and the provision of more up-to-date materials for the library and the publication of their availability would increase their use. We are taking steps to accomplish this.

Local Church Participation in Broadcasting

Although the church is represented on the National Religious Advisory Council of the CBC and participates in the "Meeting Place" series of church services and also shares in the production of some programmes for the "Man Alive" series through our membership in Religious Television Associates, there are few opportunities for the church to participate in broadcasting at the national level.

In many communities, radio (both AM and FM) stations encourage the participation in a variety of types of programming. The same is true of television stations in smaller centres. Often suggestions for programmes from ministerial associations, congregations and individuals have received a welcome response. The Communication Consultant, at the invitation of such groups, has acted as a catalyst for such developments in many communities. The encouragement and guidance that our committee has been able to provide in such circumstances has resulted in greater satisfaction to the broadcasters, the churches and undoubtedly to the audiences. Invitations to assist in these ways are welcomed.

Community Channels on Cable Systems

Many more cable television systems have been established in Canada in the past year and more are due to begin operating this year. The Canadian Radio Television Commission has increased its demand that such systems provide a service to the community, as well as providing more television programmes. It is, therefore, insisting that greater attention and increased budgets be provided for the community channels on the systems. This should provide an even greater opportunity for congregations to participate. This is not – nor is it meant to be – simply another television channel. There are many unique features involved. This committee is working with church groups in many areas to assist in the understanding and creative use of cable TV opportunities. We welcome invitations to provide this assistance to any others who are interested.

Training in Mass Media for Full-time Professional Workers

The following recommendation was adopted by the 101st General Assembly: 'That all students preparing for full-time professional service in the church be required to receive adequate training in presenting the gospel through the mass media'. The Board of Education has indicated that this recommendation should have been referred to the Joint Committee of Colleges for implementation. The Communication Services Committee continues to view this with some urgency. It is our hope that the colleges will make arrangements to provide this training either within their own programmes, in conjunction with other colleges and existing courses, or using the services of this committee. Acting upon that decision we have drafted the following as a suggested implementation of the recommendation with the realization that, of course, each of the colleges must make its own arrangements.

Recognizing that persons involved in the full-time service of the church are called upon and given opportunity to communicate the gospel in a wide variety of media forms – therefore – every candidate for full-time service will have had:

1. Training in structuring messages to meet the characteristics of the various media and communication events.
2. Practical experience in preparing messages for and presenting messages on radio, TV and in newspapers, magazines, etc., meeting the professional standards of the medium.
3. The courses shall be not less than 30 hours in total, taught by persons with recognized qualifications in the communications field (both theory and practice).

Associations

This committee is participating in the activities of a number of associations. Interchurch Communication involves the communication departments of the Anglican, Baptist, Lutheran, Presbyterian, Roman Catholic and United Churches. Through it we participate in research, training and production on a basis that would be impossible for us individually.

Religious Television Associates is the television and film production unit of Interchurch Communications.

Agape Productions is the radio production agency for the Anglican Church but has recently produced a radio FM series on behalf of Interchurch.

Whenever you see any of these names associated with broadcasting, you will know that The Presbyterian Church is a part of them. We are also members of the World Association for Christian Communication, a world-wide association dealing with the communication concerns of the churches. We also work in co-operation with the World Council of Churches Communication Commission.

In July of this year a major conference and training event will take place at Green Lake, Wisconsin, U.S.A. Called "Communications Centre '76", it has been organized at the initiative of the American Baptist Churches. More than seventeen church, press, broadcast and A/V bodies have come together in sponsoring this conference. We are also part of other similar ad hoc associations linking the communication departments of churches.

Consultant's Activities

During the past year, Mr. Crawford has conducted workshops in the use of audio-visuals, in various aspects of broadcasting and in the use of the community channel on cable systems in twelve communities across Canada. He also served as resource person for the student's retreat for Knox College and in an Institute on Public Communications for the professional-year students in Montreal. He met with a number of congregations and other groups in various communities to assess their particular communication needs and opportunities. As the only staff member of the committee, these activities, of course, are only part of his many responsibilities as indicated in this report.

Projects

In association with Presbyterian Men and Dr. Mariano DiGangi, radio programmes have been produced and are being sampled across the country. Interview programmes have been prepared for the CFRB series "Between Ourselves" and are also available for use by other radio stations across Canada on request. The committee is investigating the production of television spots. The new regulations governing commercials from the U.S.A. will increase the use of such materials.

On a number of occasions this year, people have asked us "What do you do?" This report will answer that question to a degree. We are also looking at other ways of publicizing our activities. We are a "service" committee and the title of our one staff member is "Consultant". These terms indicate our philosophy that we should respond to the particular needs of particular groups. Therefore, whatever the interest or need may be in any area of communication, broadcasting or audio-visuals, we do our best to respond.

We are grateful for the increase in budget that we have received for 1976 and for the encouragement and support that have come from so many parts of the church.

RECOMMENDATION

1. That the General Assembly urge Synods, Presbyteries, congregations and all other agencies of the church to use the services of the Communication Services Committee to provide knowledge of and training in the mass media and other forms of communication.

Chairman

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN CANADA
REPORT OF THE TRUSTEE BOARD

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

In accordance with the Act of Incorporation, the Board presents lists of securities:

(i) Which have been purchased or received during the year;
(ii) Which have matured or have been sold during the year; and
(iii) Held by The Trustee Board at December 31st, 1975 on behalf of the several funds of the Church.

Copies of these lists are available for the commissioners to the General Assembly.

The Board would like to report its appreciation for the invaluable assistance given to it by the Investment Advisory Committee under the chairmanship of Mr. J. D. McCormack.

During the year necessary discharges, postponements, leases, title deeds, releases and similar documents were executed under seal of the Board on behalf of the various departments of the Church.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A.R.G. AMENT
Chairman.

J. B. BARBOUR
Secretary.

REPORT OF THE PENSION BOARD

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

During the past year two meetings of the Pension Board have been held, on October 9, 1975, and March 19, 1976.

The report and recommendations of the Actuary, based on a valuation of the Pension Fund as at December 31, 1974, was considered at the October, 1975, meeting. It was decided that the rate of pension payable to members should be increased by $10.00 for each year of service under the old plan, with corresponding increase in the level of benefits to widows (60% of member's increase). The increases were made effective January 1, 1975, and distribution of the additional payments for 1975 was accomplished before the end of the year by special efforts on the part of Miss Scott and of Canada Life staff.

The Board felt that the maximum amount of basic stipend to be considered for pension purposes should be increased. The Administrative Council has agreed that an increase from $10,000 to $12,000 would be appropriate, which became effective January 1, 1976.

The market value of the pension fund rose from $5,774,590 at the end of 1974 to $6,594,167 at the end of 1975. Investment income for the year was higher by $62,501. At the same time the cost of annuity benefits purchased rose to $523,010 from $405,487 in 1974, and pensions purchased in 1976 will be higher because of the decision at the October meeting to increase benefits.

Necessary amendments in the constitution of the Pension Plan have been instituted to implement the changes in the plan noted above.

In addition to those amendments, two others are proposed to be made:

1. A new Rule 16. Members in Cognate Work

Where Members are not employed directly by a congregation or board of the Church but are engaged in cognate work for which:—

(a) no employer is providing a pension benefit, then notwithstanding the provisions of Rule 15, the Board is empowered to recognize such individuals at its discretion as employees of the Church and that the Budget of the Church shall be liable for its 4% contribution and the individual for his own contributions. In such circumstances benefits will accrue at half-rate (i.e. 1%) specified under Rule 8(a) and (b) an employer is providing pension benefits, then on his return to direct employment by the Church he shall be able to make such additional voluntary contributions as he wishes together with any transfer value from his previous employer's pension plan in order to provide some pension benefit in respect of the period for which he was unable to qualify for all benefits available under the Pension Plan of the Church.

2. Rule 20. Solvency of the Pension Fund

In the event of the total contributions payable into the Pension Fund proving insufficient to secure the benefits payable under the terms of the Pension Plan then such additional contributions from the total Budget of the Church shall be made as to maintain the solvency of the Pension Fund.

To this end the Pension Board shall cause an Actuary to examine periodically the affairs of the Pension Fund and report on his findings. Such investigation shall be carried out at least as frequently as is required by relevant legislation and in any event not less often than once every three years.

(A similar rule in the wording of item 2 above is to be added to the terms of the Retirement Plan for Church Employees.)

The change outlined in item 2 required before final approval of the plans by the Ontario Pension Commission and by Revenue Canada.

Material for an information booklet about the Plan had been prepared but because of the significant benefit changes it is undergoing revision before distribution.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That amendments to the terms of the plan as outlined in this report be approved.
2. That our appreciation of the services rendered by Dr. D. C. MacDonald and Miss I. Scott in this year of substantial increase in the work be recorded.

PENSION GRANTED WITHOUT RETIREMENT

Dr. F. S. Morley . . . . . November 15, 1975

ACTUARIAL REPORT

Dear Mr. Palmer,

This report is the first to be made since the new pension plan came into effect on 1 January 1974. It deals with the financial situation of the combined funds of the old and new plans as at 31 December 1974.

1. Termination of the old plan

The member's own benefits for service prior to 1 January 1974 are now 'frozen', at $50 annual pension for each year of pensionable service before that date, together with a paid-up share of the $250 annual pension unit(s) that the member was buying with his/her annual rates.

These benefits would become available at age 68. However, normal retirement under the new plan is set at age 65. Members retiring before age 68 will receive the foregoing benefits reduced by 0.5% for each month that the retirement age is less than 68. In particular, the $50 per year of prior service is specifically reduced to $41 per year of service for members retiring at age 65.

Under the old plan, the pension payable to the surviving spouse of a member dying before or after retirement was basically 50% of the member's total pension credit. This is now increased to 60%, with a minimum from the combined old and new plans of $1,125 per annum.

Payments to surviving children were provided under the old plan. They are continued, at higher amounts under the new plan.

2. The new plan

The basic benefit for service after 1973 will be an annual pension equal to 2% of the member's total pensionable income from 1 January 1974 to retirement. This will be available at age 65 or at earlier disability. For retirement in good health between ages 60 and 65, the basic pension is reduced by 0.5% for each month short of age 65. The same treatment applies to the $41 units and the reduced share of the $250 described in the preceding section. Provision is also made for postponed retirement with corresponding actuarial increases, but they are applied only to the frozen benefits under the old plan.

As mentioned in section 1, the surviving spouse's basic pension is 60% of the member's combined basic benefit, or $1,125 per annum if greater. These amounts are subject to an actuarial reduction if the spouse is more than 10 years younger than the member. For surviving children, benefits are independent of the member's earnings. The rate per child decreases with each additional child.

Old Age Security pensions, and any benefits available from the Canada Pension Plan, are additional to all benefits from the Presbyterian plans.

3. Preparation of the data

An individual card was up-dated for each pensioner, surviving spouse, and member, who had been connected with either the old or new plan at any time during the three years ended 31 December 1974. A major task in this process was the calculation of the appropriate paid-up share of the $250 unit(s) under the old plan. This work was done individually for each one of the 660 members of the old plan, by Mr. G. G. Myer and Mr. J. E. Smart, as a voluntary service. The calculation was especially troublesome for those members who had begun buying more than one unit at different ages; to check the calculations for such cases took a good deal of time.

It was also necessary for the single member of the Pension Board's office staff to calculate and enter on each active member's card the appropriate 2% pension benefit earned under the first year (1974) of the new plan. This task represented a considerable extra burden on top of her already extensive daily duties.

4. Analysis of the data

(a) Pensioners' and spouses' mortality

During the three years (1972-74) there were 140 pensioners connected with the fund, of whom 21 died, leaving 119 at 31 December 1974.

The 17 actual deaths above age 70 were fewer than the 18.9 'expected' on the mortality basis used in the 1971 valuation. Similarly, among widows above age 70 there were only 18 deaths, versus 22.4 'expected' on the 1971 mortality basis. The figures for both sexes indicate that the trend to lower mortality at the older ages noted in our 1971 report has been continuing.

Throughout the present valuation we have assumed a more conservative mortality basis, by reducing the a(55) tabular rates two years (rather than the one year used previously). This means that an actual 65-year-old is now credited with the longevity of a 63-year-old in these tables. On this basis the expected deaths among pensioners above age 65 during the eight years 1967-74 were 48.7, which is a little less than the 51 actual deaths. Above age 70 the corresponding figures were 46.2 and 46; above age 80, 31.4 and 25.

The newly adopted basis therefore has little, if any, safety margin in it, even though it is generally more conservative than other current standards such as the 1971 Group Annuity tables. We have also assumed that each member has a spouse four years younger than (s)he. This assumption adds a small measure of conservatism to the liabilities in this valuation.

(b) Exit rates for active members

There were 792 non-retired members who were connected with the plan at some time during the three years 1972-74. Of these, 623 were contributing under the new plan at the end of 1974 and 77 were without charges and hence not covered by the new plan. The remaining 92 had left as follows: 10 by death; 60 by retirement; 2 under comity agreements; and 20 withdrew their equity or were cancelled. After studying the resulting exit rates at each age, we decided to use the a(55) life table, reduced two years, in lieu of constructing a multi-decrement service table. This procedure in effect assumes that when a member leaves the plan before age 65 (other than by death) the net cost to the fund of the benefit (s)he obtains is neither less nor greater than the net cost if (s)he had remained in the plan to age 65. Under the funding method being used for the new pension plan, the foregoing assumption is reasonably valid in its over-all effects. As a further safeguard, however, we have added some extra liability for those few members who may retire before age 65 with a disability pension that has not been actuarially reduced.

(c) Members' pensionable incomes

588 of the 623 contributing members contributed for the full calendar year 1974, on pensionable incomes ranging from about $6,000 up to the maximum of $10,000. The upward gradient of the average incomes from age 35 up to age 65 was very slight.

For all ages under 65, the over-all average was $7,460.

This represents a rise of about 4% per annum above the 1971 average salary of $6,650. The corresponding averages for individual age groups fluctuated slightly above and below 4% per annum. Without the $10,000 restriction, however, these 1974/1971 ratios would have been higher.

To project the members' 1974 incomes forward to their retirements, we have assumed for this valuation an annual rise of 3.92%. Along with this we have used a valuation interest rate of 6% per annum. The combination assumes in effect that long-run investment earnings will exceed salary rises by 2% per annum when compounded during the member's active service.

5. Investment earnings

The gross annual rates earned on the market values of the fund during the past four years have been 6.41%, 6.20%, 6.57% and 7.98%, in 1971, 1972, 1973, and 1974 respectively. These rates include gains and losses realized on sale of securities. Canada Life Assurance Company management charges have not been deducted. If they had, the quoted rates would have been about 0.3% lower in 1971, 1973, 1974 and 0.2% lower in 1972.

The actuarial balance sheet for this fund shows as an asset the market values of the investments held at the valuation date. At the end of 1974 both bond and equity markets were depressed, which accounts in part for the high earnings rate during 1974. In view of these depressed values, we deemed it advisable to raise the valuation interest rate to 6% per annum, 1½% higher than the 4½% rate used in the 1971 valuation.

6. Contributions

Under the new plan the member contributes 4% of his/her pensionable income. The Church also contributes 4% of the member's pensionable income from its total Budget. In addition, each congregation deducts from the amount raised for all its congregational purposes its mortgage or other capital charges, and then contributes 2% of the net amount to the pension fund. It is estimated that this is equivalent to 6% of the members' total pensionable income. For a member not employed by a congregation, the employer contributes 10% of the member's pensionable income.

During the year 1974 contributions from the foregoing sources in respect of members of the plan totalled $654,457, which exceeded 14% of a full year's pensionable income of all contributing members (estimated to be not more than $652,300).

Besides these regular contributions, the fund receives gifts and bequests, which vary greatly from year to year. However, during the three years 1972-74 they averaged $65,137 a year, and during the ten years 1965-74 they averaged $54,258 a year. Since present policy is to pay most of the new bequests out as ex gratia supplements to retired ministers, we have not shown the estimated value of future bequests as an asset in the following actuarial balance sheet.

We do show as an asset the value of 14% of the future pensionable incomes of the 623 contributing members.

To cover future non-investment expenses in respect of present members, we show a liability equal to the value of 0.45% of their future pensionable incomes. This assumes an immediate increase in office expenses towards about $19,000 per annum.

7. The following balance sheet is based on the benefit rules outlined in sections 1 and 2 of this report and the actuarial assumptions and contribution rates described in sections 4, 5, and 6.

The pension fund of the Presbyterian Church in Canada as at 31 December 1974

ASSETS

Market value of funds on hand, including cash, accrued revenue, and net receivables	$ 5,774,600
Value of 14% of future pensionable incomes of 623 contributing members	7,623,000

LIABILITIES

Value of pensions to 660 members and reversions to their possible widow(er)s, in respect of service before 1 January 1974		$ 3,944,000
Value of similar pensions to 14 Ministers who had left the Church under Comity Agreements		44,500
Value of benefits earned under new plan during 1974		522,500
Value of possible allowances to surviving children		60,500
Value of benefits in respect of 623 contributing members for service after 31 December 1974 in respect of member's own pension	$ 5,251,000
in respect of surviving spouse	1,722,500	6,973,500
		245,000
Value of future office expenses		1,607,600
Surplus
		$13,397,600

As in the 1969 and 1971 valuations, the actuarial balance sheet again shows a substantial surplus. Following the previous valuations, benefits were increased so as to use up most of the disclosed surplus. The most recent improvement (apart from the introduction of the new plan) was the raising of the basic pension unit from $41.25 per year of pensionable service to $50.00. With the introduction of the new plan, this unit is reduced, however, by $0.25 for each month of age short of age 68 at retirement. Future pensioners retiring at the normal age of 65 under the new rules are thus entitled to only $41.00 per year of service prior to 1 January 1974. This is very much less than the $160.00 unit now earned for the year 1975 by a member with a pensionable income of $8,000.

8. Recommendation

Since the benefits for future service under the new plan represent such a marked improvement over the previous units, we understand that it is desirable to concentrate the distribution of surplus on improving the benefit scales for past service under the old plan. Accordingly we recommend that an additional $10 for each year of service before 1 January 1974 be added to each basic pension, with a corresponding $6 added to each spouse's pension. These additional pensions would be payable as from 1 January 1975.

If this recommendation is adopted, the effective unit per year of service under the old plan will range from $51 for those who will retire at age 65 up to $60 for those who have already retired, or will retire, at age 68 or more. The additional liability for those not yet retired as of 31 December 1974 is just less than $800,000. The cost of buying the additional benefits for existing pensioners and spouses from the Canada Life Assurance Company is very unlikely to exceed $670,000. There should thus remain a net surplus of at least $130,000 available as an investment reserve.

It may be pointed out that the rise from $41 at age 65 to $51 for those members not yet retired is effectively somewhat better for them than the $50 per year of service to age 65 that they would have attained under the old plan if the only improvement thereof had been to reduce the normal retirement age from 68 to 65.

9. Concluding remarks

We should like to draw the Pension Board's attention to a serious ambiguity in the Constitution of the Pension Plan. Section 8(b) thereof grants an annual pension at age 65 of "$41 for each year of service accredited under the previous plan, for which the Member has contributed to the previous plan".

We accordingly arranged to have such service calculated, from the year in which each member began to contribute. After this calculation had been completed, we learnt that the rule is being interpreted as "service from the date when the member began to serve the Presbyterian Church in Canada", which date can be many years before the member decided to begin contributing. We understand that the rationale of this interpretation is that such a member effectively "contributed" for his earlier service by paying a higher personal premium than he would have paid if he had begun contributing earlier. Section 8(b) is clearly ambiguous as it stands.

It therefore became necessary to calculate the additional early service for about 340 individual members. The usual dates recorded on the member's card are the date of ordination and the date of starting contributions. The required date, of entry to the Presbyterian Church in Canada, was not regularly recorded. A good deal of time had to be spent in finding and checking these dates.

Apart from such mis-matching, the record cards for the old plan are no longer appropriate for accumulating the pension credits that will be earned under the new plan. We recommend that a new card be designed, on which data can be entered unambiguously in ways that will permit accurate transfer to punched cards. Such a transfer will make data processing and actuarial calculations by computer possible. The increasing complexity of the pension plan and the variety of actuarial assumptions that must be investigated make hand-sorting and hand-calculation more and more time-consuming and expensive.

In closing, we wish to express our sincere thanks to Messrs. Myer and Smart and to the hard-pressed staff of the Board. Their unfailing co-operation and devotion to duty have been much appreciated throughout this investigation.

Faithfully yours,

D. C. BALLIE,
Fellow of the Canadian Institute of Actuaries.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN CANADA
REPORT OF THE LENDING FUND COMMITTEE

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The 100th General Assembly approved a new loan limit of $35,000 to any one congregation and loans are now being made on this basis.

During 1975 new loans were made to eight congregations, and additional loans to three congregations. Fourteen congregations completed payments on their loans (the names are shown on Schedule A).

The following is a financial statement of the operations of the fund during 1975:

INCOME
Interest on loans		$ 17,802
Interest earned		13,636
Transferred to capital fund		$ 31,438
CAPITAL
Capital as at January 1st, 1975		$1,706,978
Plus transfer of Income		31,438
		$1,738,416
REPRESENTED BY
Loans to congregations	$1,580,484
Cash and Cash in transit	29,932
Bank Time Deposit	128,000
		$1,738,416
CAPITAL GRANTS FROM FUNDS MADE AVAILABLE FROM NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT FUND
Grants made to 1974	$ 95,000
Grants made in 1975
St. Andrew's Salmon Arm, B.C.	10,000	$ 105,000

There were 101 loans outstanding at December 31, 1975. A statement of loans outstanding as at December 31st, 1975 is available on request for the information of any commissioner to the General Assembly.

The Lending Fund Committee have asked the Administrative Council to recommend to the General Assembly that the present loan limit of $35,000 be increased to $50,000 for all loan applications received after the date of approval of this change.

Arising out of discussions with congregations, the Committee are aware that the provision of housing for ministers may be a serious problem. The Administrative Council have been asked to submit recommendations dealing with the problem to the General Assembly.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

List of Recommendations	323

INTRODUCTION

This Committee was appointed by action of the 100th General Assembly in pursuance of a recommendation of the Committee on Organization and Planning. The terms of reference, set forth in the said recommendation (A & P, 1974, pp. 417 ff) instructed the Committee "to study the structure and operation of the Administrative Council, and the procedures for national Church planning and budget development." Since the report of the Committee on Organization and Planning included two quite lengthy sections, respectively entitled "Possibilities for Church Planning" (Section 3) and "National Planning and Budget Development" (Section 4), these were referred to this committee for study in relation to the latter part of its terms of reference as cited above.

In order to see in proper perspective the exact implications of these exceedingly wide terms of reference and the reasons for the appointment of such a Committee in the first instance we should remember that its assignment obviously represents a particular unfinished business of the Committee on Organization and Planning which itself originated as a committee of the Administrative Council and was charged, inter alia, with the study and implementation of various recommendations of the "L.A.M.P." Committee. Within the relevant documentation over recent years repeated references occur to "a 5-year period of study and experimentation in matters pertaining to church government and administration" designed "to provide continuity of leadership for the on-going reform and revitalization of the Church". It is now a matter of history that significant changes have already resulted affecting the structure and function of all major Boards and Committees of General Assembly. How far these changes should be regarded as likely to prove successful in securing the stated objective is not for us to say. One can only hope that those mainly responsible for sponsoring these changes were not overly sanguine in their claim "We have felt ourselves to be a part of a movement of the Spirit within the Church".

As part of this comprehensive movement for restructuring and redefinition of functions, one very large area remained to be dealt with, namely the exact role of the Administrative Council. In the body of its report, the Committee on Organization and Planning had stated: "After 14 years of operation, it seems wise to undertake a thorough review and evaluation of the Council and its work to ensure that it will remain effective and responsive to the needs of the Church." This, in general, explains why this Committee was appointed and defines the precise nature of its assigned task. But, given the fact that the recommended review and evaluation of the Council was requested in conjunction with an extended discussion of such matters as Planning, Priorities and Budget, this necessarily raised questions as to how the Administrative Council (and, indeed, all Assembly boards and committees) should relate to the Courts of the Church and to the Church at large. On the positive side, the Committee on Organization and Planning had reported, "Replies indicate that the Presbyteries are generally satisfied with the present organization and with Presbyterian polity. . . Our system of Church government is regarded as essentially sound and workable". On the negative side, it referred to "rumblings of discontent" throughout the Church. Stated bluntly, these included: discontent over the alleged increase in bureaucracy to the detriment of the proper role and authority of Church courts, discontent over the isolation and alienation of bureaucratic Staff from the courts and "grass-roots" of the Church, discontent over the imposition of priorities and programs from an excessively centralized authority, discontent over the all-powerful authority and control of the Administrative Council in dictating what the priorities and programs of the Church should be and thus reducing the role of General Assembly itself to that of mere acquiescence except perhaps in one or two areas such as questions of purely theological import. Without entering on a discussion (at this stage) as to how far such "rumblings of discontent" are justifiable, suffice it to say that on the basis of correspondence with various Presbyteries your Committee acknowledges that these "rumblings of discontent" do exist, and it will be part of our concern in the next part of this report to deal with them and to suggest appropriate remedial action.

PROPOSALS OF THE ORGANIZATION & PLANNING COMMITTEE

Section 3 of the 1974 Report of the Committee on Organization and Planning discussed planning on all levels – Congregations, Presbyteries, Synods and Assembly Agencies, – while Section 4 dealt exclusively with the last category and in doing so, pleaded for "a greater sense of shared ministry between the courts and the boards and Committees of Assembly" so as "to broaden the base of participation in decision making. . .and correct any undue reliance on any particular group of specialists (the 'elite' few) in making the complex and important decisions on national policy, priorities and program budget".

Your Committee spent much time in careful discussion of these matters and in painstaking study of the appropriate documentation and returns from Presbyteries. Apart from noting that guidance and assistance for congregational planning should be regarded as an important responsibility of the Board of Congregational Life, the Committee felt that its main concern in this area had to do with national planning and found itself in substantial accord with the verdict of the O. & P. Committee: "In the work of the present boards and committees of Assembly and the Administrative Council, careful planning is characteristic of their operations", but somewhat less than enthusiastic about what was termed 'the Program Budget'. The Program Budget would call for a fully itemized cost evaluation of every individual program or service in terms of pro-rated salaries, travel and postage so as to render national planning and setting priorities much more precise and objective. Simply to contemplate the amount of time and energy required to apply such a method to every activity of every board and committee, we found nothing short of terrifying!

Reverting to the concern of the O. & P. Committee to broaden the basis of participation in deciding questions of planning and setting priorities, and to encourage a shared ministry in this regard between the courts of the Church and the boards and Committees of Assembly, its report went on to offer three Proposals as to how this might be achieved.

1. That the Administrative Council or its Executive Committee meet year by year in different parts of the Dominion and arrange for local participation.
2. Provision within the Council for a research and planning function as a liaison between the Council and congregations, Presbyteries and Synods on all matters concerning planning and priorities.

3. That the above research and planning function be vested in an Advisory Committee on Planning which together with a modified Advisory Committee on Finance would channel information and suggestions to a new Program Budget Committee of the Administrative Council.

CORRESPONDENCE WITH PRESBYTERIES

In obedience to its instructions your Committee invited the reaction of Presbyteries, (and of the Colleges) in evaluating our present procedures re planning and priorities, and, specifically, their reaction to the above 3 proposals. As expressed in its interim report last year, the returns proved disappointing, including as they do to date only 22 replies from the Presbyteries of the Church, with one College supporting Proposal 2 and one individual in opposition to all 3. A break-down of Presbytery returns revealed: approval – 2; qualified approval – 4; disapproval – 12; undecided – 4.

In the light of these returns, your Committee might very well have felt it had no recourse but to continue with its assignment according to its own best judgment, were it not that one of these returns (from the Presbytery of Brampton), representing a modified but very extensive version of Proposal 3, seemed to merit a more careful scrutiny. Accordingly, it was decided to submit the Brampton scheme simpliciter to all the Presbyteries, and in doing so, to allow adequate time for study and reply. In essence, the Brampton scheme provided for the following (in sequence):

1. Each spending board or committee to forward its preferred list of priorities to the Administrative Council (with such explanatory details as might be deemed necessary or advisable.)
2. All such priority lists to be transmitted to the Presbyteries for relative evaluation (with each Presbytery completing its evaluations by any appropriate means, preferably with participation of local congregational representatives).
3. The Administrative Council to collate all Presbytery returns, and on the basis of these returns to submit recommended priorities for final approval by General Assembly (it being understood that the Council would enjoy certain discretionary powers to make alterations, alterations it would then have to justify to the satisfaction of General Assembly should the need to do so arise.).

It seemed to the Committee that such a scheme possessed certain obvious merits. Positively, it did appear to provide for that broader basis of participation that the O. & P. Committee had advocated. Negatively, it would have the effect of eliminating programs that, for one reason or another did not enjoy the widespread support of the Church.

With so much to commend it, either in its present or in some modified form, it is regrettable to report that Presbytery returns were no better (in point of numbers) than before. In all, 20 Presbyteries replied: 7 in favour, 3 giving qualified approval, 7 opposed, and 3 undecided. The Committee therefore felt it had no alternative but to regard the scheme as unworkable, not only because Presbytery returns disclosed a complete lack of consensus, but chiefly because of the paucity of these returns with respect to a scheme whose success would depend entirely upon the diligent, responsible and continuing cooperation of all the Presbyteries of the Church.

Further comment on the 3 Proposals of the O. & P. Committee (and to a lesser extent on the Brampton scheme) will appear when we pass on to discuss the present structure and function of the Administrative Council and on present procedures in matters of national planning and priorities. (It goes without saying, surely, that it is of first importance that as far as possible everyone should be fully informed in such matters. Indeed, it is your Committee's conviction that a better understanding of our present procedures would go far toward eliminating much of the alleged "rumblings of discontent".)

THE PRESENT STRUCTURE OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL

By sundry decisions of General Assembly affecting the membership of the Council since it was constituted in 1960, the most recent such decision being made in 1974, the Council is designed to consist of

- 15 members (ministers and lay people) named by General Assembly.
- The Chairmen of the major boards and committees of General Assembly (11 in all).
- The Presidents of the W.M.S. – W.D. and E.D.
- The Treasurer
- The Chairman of the N.D.F.
- The Chairman of The Presbyterian Church Building Corporation
- 8 representatives appointed by the 8 Synods of the Church respectively by a process that will reach completion by 1978.

(In addition to these, various people representative of Boards and Colleges, the Comptroller and the Secretary of the Council have voice but no vote.)

It should be noted that the inclusion of 8 Synod representatives resulted from the decision of the 100th General Assembly on the basis of a recommendation of the O. & P. Committee. This most recent change in the structure of the Administrative Council marks, in the opinion of your Committee, an extremely important forward step. But here two cautionary words may be in order. First, if this change is to have the desired effect, it will be quite necessary that each Synod representative serving on the Council show the utmost diligence in providing the desired liaison between the Council and the Presbyterian constituency within that Synod. Second, since much of the strength and efficiency of the Council over the years have resulted from the contributions made by its dedicated lay members (male and female, young and old), it is important that Synods take note of this in appointing their respective representatives. Recommendation 1. below suggests one possible method whereby the desired result may be achieved.

RECOMMENDATION 1.

In order to ensure an equitable proportion between ministers and lay representatives, that beginning in 1977 the odd-numbered Synods be instructed to appoint ministerial representatives and the even-numbered Synods lay representatives for the period of their service on the Council, with this arrangement alternating every 3 years (which will mean that Synod representatives can not serve for more than three years consecutively.)

RECOMMENDATION 2.

In any case where a Synod representative is unable to complete his or her 3-year term (through having left the bounds of the Synod, or because of illness or death) that the Synod in question be responsible for securing a replacement immediately, whether by naming an alternate at the time of the original appointment or by any other effective means.

RECOMMENDATION 3.

That no further changes in the constituent membership of the Council be made at this time.

PROCEDURES RE PLANNING, PRIORITIES AND BUDGET

Where dissatisfaction exists concerning these, your Committee have come more and more to believe that such dissatisfaction usually implies a defective understanding of how decisions are presently arrived at with respect to priorities and programs. But before dealing with such matters in greater detail, it is first necessary to see the total situation in clear and steady perspective.

In setting priorities, preliminary to establishing authorized expenditures year by year, we have to ask what options really exist. In other words, how much money remains to be allocated once we have dealt with all "fixed expenditures", that is, expenditures which are not likely to vary very greatly from year to year, except perhaps in the sense of keeping pace with increasing costs? The answer, as given by the Comptroller, said in effect, "Never more than $200,000, usually very much less, and most of the time our problem is not where and how to allocate surplus funds but how to bring our normal or fixed expenditures within the limits of available resources." This fact should be carefully pondered. It will then become quite obvious that the introduction of highly complicated procedures would be quite foolish: the procedures, in their complexity and the resultant expenditure of time and energy, would be altogether disproportionate to the task itself. In the blunt but colourful metaphor of the Presbytery of Northern Saskatchewan, "It would be like swatting gnats with a baseball bat!"

National Planning

Here the function of the Administrative Council is explicitly defined in its constitution as approved (and amended, from time to time) by General Assembly. "The Council shall coordinate the work of all departments, boards and committees."

"The Council shall recommend policy, submit short and long-range plans, coordinate and recommend a realistic and balanced budget, and generally present the current and future financial needs of the permanent department boards and committees to the General Assembly."

In such statements, the key-word is "coordinate". It is surely unrealistic to suppose that, to take a case in point, the Administrative Council should on its own initiative undertake necessary planning with respect to the overseas mission work of the Church, planning which properly falls within the purview of the Board of World Mission.

This simply means that responsibility for national planning in whatever area of service belongs, in the first instance, to the particular board or committee concerned. But in the end, with the two-fold purpose of avoiding an undesirable competitiveness between these boards and committees and of relating planning to financial ability, all such plans must be submitted to the Council, and finally to General Assembly itself, for approval. Such a system, in the judgment of the Committee, appears both sound and sensible.

But perhaps one further observation should be made with regard to planning. If, as we have just said, responsibility for planning belongs primarily to the respective boards and committees of Assembly, working separately and together, is there not a call for them to fulfill this responsibility with the utmost diligence, with vision and courage, in prayerful dependence on the Lord of the Church? A Moderator of a Former Assembly made this impassioned plea: "I think that there is a crying need for a Research and Policy Committee to provide for our Church in the spiritual realm what the Administrative Council has done so well in the financial and administrative areas of our Church – someone to tell us, if we had all the resources needed, what our Church as a Church, and not simply as a collection of congregations, could be doing for Christ and His Kingdom in the years ahead. Give us the goal and the information, and how often the resources will follow. . . Everywhere I went, I found our churches are seeking for leadership and guidance from some central group, so that they may do something worthwhile in bringing in the Kingdom of God. . ." It is as though the Church at large were saying, "Give us the job and we will supply the tools."

A similar plea was made by the O. & P. Committee: "It was apparent that the Council had not had the same measure of success (i.e. as in financial administration) in dealing with its mandate to bring about coordination of national planning. . . The Council needs within it some means for carrying on a regular research and planning function. . ."

At this point it is perhaps important and relevant to note that we do have one such "central group", namely, the Program Coordinating Committee consisting of Staff members representative of the major boards and committees of General Assembly, and this Committee regularly meets under the chairmanship of the Clerk of Assembly for consultation and planning. We shall revert to this matter in Recommendation 4 below.

Setting Priorities

Much of what we have said above relates, either implicitly or explicitly, to the question of setting priorities. But, for a better understanding of our present procedures, some further comments are necessary. Each year all spending boards and committees are required to prepare a list of anticipated needs, each such list being equivalent to tentative priorities as drawn up by the board or committee in question. Keeping in mind what this report has already indicated, that more often than not the sum total of all these anticipated needs will greatly exceed our financial resources, fiscal responsibility then requires necessary adjustments either by way of reducing the amount of money available for such-and-such a program or of eliminating some programs altogether. By whom must this always difficult, and sometimes unpleasant, task be done?

Here again, the constitution of the Administrative Council places this responsibility on the Council and invests it with the requisite authority to discharge it, subject of course to the ultimate authority of General Assembly.

But in actual fact, according to our present procedures, necessary priority adjustments follow a now well established pattern in ways which, in the view of your Committee, commend themselves as eminently fair and equitable. First, a board or committee may be asked to revise and reduce its own stated priorities so as to bring its expenditures into line with anticipated revenues. Whether this is done or not, eventually necessary adjustments of priorities becomes the responsibility of the Finance Committee of the Council. To quote from the report of the Committee on Organization and Planning (1974): "The Council during the 1960's came under fairly consistent criticism from the major spending boards on the grounds that most of the power on the key questions of budget authorizations and the explicit or implicit decisions about priorities, lay in the hands of the Finance Committee. This criticism is heard less often now, especially from the Category "A" boards which now have a representative on the Finance Committee." (It should also be noted, in passing, that the actual role of the Finance Committee does coincide very accurately with the re-definition of responsibilities suggested by the Organization and Planning Committee (A. & P. 1974 p. 416) That is, it does concern itself with estimates of annual revenues from all sources; analyses spending patterns over the years; makes recommendations as to fiscal policy in the light of all relevant factors; advises with the Comptroller; maintains a constant consultation with the spending boards and committees through their representatives.)

Two further factors should be carefully noted. One, while prior to 1972 the Finance Committee included two voting representatives from the Board of World Mission but with no other boards being represented, now all major boards (those under Category A) have representation through their respective chairmen (or alternates). More important still, while previously a board representative usually atended only for such time as the particular interests of his board were under discussion, now he (or she) is expected to remain while the needs and concerns of all other boards or committees are dealt with.

It has been argued that while the inclusion of board representatives on the Finance Committee with voice but no vote marked a significant improvement over previous practice, a further improvement could be secured by making these representatives full members of the Finance Committee, that is, by granting them voice and vote. This, in our view, is exceedingly doubtful. It would appear much more reasonable to leave final decisions to be made by those who, presumably, are in a better position to make these decisions impartially.

The Budget

Thereafter decisions must be made, sometimes painful decisions, to be sent forward to the Council as a whole. On the basis of those recommendations from its Finance Committee, the Council then prepares its list of recommended authorized expenditures for submission to the General Assembly by which these must be ultimately approved, amended or disapproved. This final verdict then becomes the Budget for the ensuing year.

Here one could wish that the Organization and Planning Committee had been more explicit in its reference to "dissatisfactions over the process whereby an annual budget proposal of authorized spending is prepared for the General Assembly." Dissatisfactions from what sources, one might ask. Dissatisfactions on the part of General Assembly commissioners? Or on the part of the boards and committees concerned? For the moment, it is perhaps necessary to realize some of the difficulties involved so that we may view the situation with sympathetic understanding. When, as usually happens, it is necessary to make adjustments so as to bring the requests of boards and committees within the limits of our financial ability, the representatives of these boards and committees find themselves in a rather invidious position. After all, they are there to sponsor and defend, not to sacrifice, the requests of their respective groups. In the end, we might as well recognize and admit that there is no easy or painless method for arriving at a realistic and responsible budget, and it is difficult to see how we could improve upon our present procedures in this regard.

By what other group, let us ask, could such decisions be made better than by a Committee which not only includes representatives of the spending boards and committees, but has listened to, and carefully adjudicated, all the arguments pro and con with respect to all expenditures, and furthermore a Committee which possesses a unique and complete understanding of our financial resources?

It is here that your Committee finds itself in disagreement with the relevant suggestions and proposals of the Committee on Organization and Planning. To have two separate committees, as they suggested, an "Advisory Committee on Planning" and an "Advisory Committee on Finance", and then a third Committee distinct from these called the "Program Budget Committee" seems to us both an unwieldy and impractical arrangement. Not only would this mean a (in our view, unnecessary) proliferation of committees, but the recommended separation of budget-building from fiscal policy development and financial administration seems to us ill-advised. In any case, as indicated earlier in this report, the returns from the Presbyteries alone would compel us to reject such proposals in their present form. (The same must be said also with respect to "the Brampton Scheme".) However, we are convinced that much of what the O. & P. Committee suggested has positive merit and should not be set aside even when these suggestions did not apparently meet with substantial Presbytery support. Hence we are presenting recommendations more or less along the lines of Proposals 2 and 3 of the O. & P. Committee's report.

The Spiritual Emphasis

Meantime, we would make a few general observations. During these two years of study, our conviction has been strengthened that all forms of Christian service, including such matters as planning and budget development, should emerge from Christian devotion and dedication, and are indeed thus largely determined.

It may be appropriate at this juncture to make reference to Overture 28 (1974) from the Presbytery of Edmonton which, in effect, asked that the respective responsibilities of the Board of Congregational Life and the Administrative Council be reconstituted so as to make Stewardship the concern of the former and Budget the concern of the latter. The overture was referred to both agencies for joint study. The resulting recommendation which was approved, "That the prayer of the overture be not granted", was evidently not intended as an out-and-out rejection of it. Noting that the Board of Congregational Life had become operative only from January 1974, so that it seemed too early to consider any major changes within its constitution, the Administrative Council went on to refer to this present Committee and its assigned task, part of which was to study the role of the Administrative Council and procedures for national budget development, presumably on the grounds that this task could be considered relevant to the intention of the overture, and that the Committee should have something to say regarding it.

Part of the difficulty, we feel, stems from the fact that we have become so accustomed to speaking of stewardship and budget as it were in the same breath, we have difficulty in considering them separately. But according to the schematic drawing delineating the proposed responsibilities of the Board of Congregational Life (A. & P. 1974, p. 486) we find mention only of Stewardship, included among the concerns of both standing Committees on "Resource Development" and "Leadership Development". In neither case is there any reference, unless in a very oblique way, to budget development in the sense with which we are now dealing. It would therefore appear that the point of the overture in question, while no doubt well-taken, was unnecessary. In a word, according to the constitution of the Administrative Council and that of the Board of Congregational Life, budget is the concern of the one and stewardship the concern of the other.

But it need hardly be said that budgetting concerns should never be regarded as purely economic or simply equated with fiscal responsibility. Such must be affirmed of the Church at large and of the Administrative Council in particular. Hence, whatever may be the responsibilities appropriate to the Board of Congregational Life in this regard, our immediate concern has to do with the fact that administration of the finances and other resources of the Church cannot be separated from a deep and well-informed awareness of the true value of the Church's task in obedience to the will of Christ. All of which has indeed been set forth in a magnificent statement on page 445 of the A. & P. (1972).

RECOMMENDATION 4.

That the Administrative Council be instructed to make provision, at least once a year and preferably for its Fall meeting, for a period of devotion designed to promote and strengthen a clear-sighted understanding of the spiritual nature of the task of the Church.

Relevant to the above, the Committee spent much time discussing what the O. & P. Committee termed "the need within the Council for some means for carrying on a regular research and planning function". That such a need exists, we certainly agree. And that this need should be met by methods that will involve the widest possible consultation with the Church at large, we consider eminently desirable. In our deliberations we studied various alternatives, such as – to redefine the functions of the present Program Coordinating Committee, "The Committee on Program Coordination and National Research and Planning".

– for the same purpose, to enlarge the Program Coordinating Committee by adding an equal number of members from the Church at large.
– to create a new Advisory Planning Committee more or less in accordance with the suggestions of the O. & P. Committee and of "the Brampton Scheme".

Here the Committee found itself unable to reach a specific conclusion, mainly because, as we reminded ourselves, there can be a very large difference between what seems good in theory and what is feasible in practice.

RECOMMENDATION 5.

That the Administrative Council be directed to give careful consideration to the matters of research and planning and adopt, even if only experimentally, one or other of the suggested courses of action so as to permit and encourage the maximum contribution of the Church at large in matters relating to research and planning.

TOWARD A SIMPLIFICATION OF ORGANIZATIONAL PROCEDURES

More complex organizational structures do not necessarily imply, much less guarantee, more efficient or effective operation. Indeed, we might reasonably assume the contrary to be true, and, if so, plead for more simplified, rather than more complex, procedures.

Over recent years, and for a variety of reasons, the suggestion has been advanced with increasing frequency that General Assemblies should meet biennially instead of annually. The first of these reasons has to do with finances. Having General Assembly meet once every year is a rather costly procedure ($79,000 in 1974, and $122,000 in 1975) and likely to become more and more costly as time goes on. Of this sum, the printing of the Acts and Proceedings alone presently costs about $44,000. Obviously, then, a biennial General Assembly would significantly cut these costs, and the resulting economy could make it possible for Assembly to meet in different parts of the Dominion, thus securing more or less the same effect as was partly contemplated in Proposal 1. of the Organization and Planning Committee in its 1974 report, or assist in the holding of Congresses either nationally or in local areas.

But perhaps an even more important consideration is the fact that under our traditional system the shortness of the interval between meetings of Assembly seriously affects the efficiency of most boards and committees. Not only do they devote a great deal of time to the preparation of Annual reports to General Assembly, they must also engage year by year in quite protracted budgetary negotiations. Besides which, we have to remind ourselves that the preparation of reports, including the handling of remits from a previous Assembly, often must be completed several months before the next Assembly. (To a lesser extent, but no less truly, the same holds good with respect to remits sent down to Presbyteries for study and report.) It can hardly be doubted that such time-consuming requirements constitute a very serious handicap, a handicap that could be reduced by the introduction of biennial meetings of Assembly.

On the other hand, it could be objected that the suggested changes would also tend to reduce the authority of General Assembly and by implication the authority of all Church courts, while increasing the controlling influence of the Administrative Council in particular and of bureaucracy in general. In other words, it could contribute to, if not infallibly ensure, the erosion of our Presbyterian System by undermining the role of the courts of the Church, while the controlling powers of bureaucracy would become more and more determinative and more and more deeply entrenched.

Your Committee has sought to face up to this difficulty conscientiously, listening as carefully and impartially as possible to views expressed on both sides of the question. It is not an easy matter to resolve. For one thing, the objection stated above cannot be lightly dismissed. In the view of some, even an apparent reduction of the governmental authority of Church courts all too possibly, perhaps even inevitably, conducts to an increase in bureaucratic control. Such an eventuality your Committee would deplore. But, what is much more important, such an eventuality would be quite alien to the deepest convictions of the Church at large. In the course of its own explorations and evaluations, the Committee on Organization and Planning discovered that "the Presbyteries are generally satisfied with the present organization and feel that government by Sessions, Presbyteries, Synods and General Assemblies is as applicable to the 20th Century as it was to the 16th". With this the present Committee finds itself in entire accord and would not knowingly betray that basic position. That is one side of the problem.

The other side has to do with the reasons already stated, reasons which should not, in our judgment, be lightly ignored.

How, then, to resolve our dilemma? Once again the answer would appear to be in the direction of complete clarity and precision in defining the role of the Administrative Council in its relation to other agencies of General Assembly and in relation to General Assembly itself. Happily, let it be quickly said, from consultations with officers of the Administrative Council and others who, in one capacity or another, are thoroughly conversant with the Council and its work, it becomes abundantly clear that the Council does not regard itself as a final or controlling authority and has no such ambitions for the future. Rather, the Council cheerfully accepts the fact that it acts only as an agent of the General Assembly in strict accordance with the directives of General Assembly and possessing no authority beyond the delegated authority granted to it by General Assembly as defined in its Constitution. (Even in the case of unforeseen emergencies, when the Administrative Council must act on its own initiative and according to its own best judgment, its actions may be reviewed, approved or censured by General Assembly.)

After painstaking considerations of all these factors, and a weighing of the pros and cons, we believe much would be gained and nothing lost by so changing our procedures so as to have General Assembly meet biennially.

RECOMMENDATION 6.

That the section of the Committee's report, relative to biennial General Assemblies, be sent down to the Presbyteries for study and report, all replies to be received by the Administrative Council not later than February 28, 1977.

THOSE RUMBLINGS OF DISCONTENT

Any attempt to ignore or discount expressions of dissatisfaction throughout the Church on the score that they emanate from only a very small minority, we are persuaded, would be altogether too simplistic and quite unrealistic. A not inconsiderable number of the Presbytery returns your Committee received reveal that dissatisfaction is fairly widespread, a fact which the O. & P. Committee also discovered and to which it made extended reference in Section 5 of the 1974 report.

Dissatisfaction would seem to arise in two ways, namely: (a) As expressed by the O. & P. Committee's report, a common complaint is made that "The national Staff is growing steadily in numbers. . . Boards are enlarging their establishments without due regard to the size and resources of the denomination".

(b) A sense of alienation, or otherwise, the feeling that Staff members, isolated and insulated from the courts of the Church and from the Church at large, exercise far too much control over our policies and programs.

The Growth of Bureaucracy in terms of the number of Staff appointments

Whether the attempt of the Committee on Organization and Planning to reassure the Church on this score proved convincing or not is not for us to say (but evidently not, judging from the continued expressions of discontent that have come to us). Indeed, this whole question would be beyond the purview of this Committee altogether but for two considerations. First, it is necessary to underscore the significance of a decision of the 100th General Assembly affecting the functions of the Administrative Council, namely, "that the Council set up an Executive-Personnel Committee to have oversight of the Staffing needs of the Boards and Committees of General Assembly". The practical effect simply means that every new appointment and indeed every re-appointment to fill a vacancy must first be referred to the Executive-Personnel Committee, then to the Council as a whole and ultimately to Assembly.

In the view of this Committee, we believe that the decision to invest the Administrative Council with authority to control Staff appointments was a great forward step and one that very much needed to be taken. In the past it could very well happen that a particular General Assembly, under the spell of plausible persuasiveness, could approve new Staff appointments far too easily and without due regard to our financial ability, the time-honoured phrase being "as soon as finances become available". Thereafter, any failure on the part of the Administrative Council to provide the necessary money could become an occasion for offence, leaving the Council open to the charge of high-handed disregard of the will of Assembly. For such reasons, we believe the setting up of the Executive-Personnel Committee to be a marked improvement that should work well in protecting General Assembly from its own mistakes and safeguarding the financial well-being of the Church and the integrity of the Administrative Council.

It need hardly be said that control over staff appointments is a peculiarly sensitive problem, relating as it does not just to matters of administration but to people who are dedicated servants of Christ and His Church. It is therefore all the more important to reaffirm the decision of the 100th General Assembly in investing the Administrative Council with the necessary authority for exercising such control, and that the resulting situation be fully known and accepted throughout the Church.

It is equally important that the Administrative Council should be fully aware of the very heavy responsibility that has now devolved upon it in the light of General Assembly's decision. We cannot, or should not, lightly disregard the voice of the Presbyteries, the significance of so many overtures in recent years re alleged over-staffing, and the widespread impression that we are in danger of becoming administratively top-heavy. Obviously what one pays on the swings cannot also be spent on the round-abouts. It is certainly arguable that there are other pressing needs within the Church in the form of new and expanded programs at home and abroad, and one that certainly should take precedence over all else, namely, the perennial problem of basic stipends.

Also, we would wish to draw attention to the responsibilities of the Presbyteries in the matter of staff appointments. When Presbyteries are asked to send in nominations for such-and-such an office, and when some Presbytery feels that the appointment contemplated is either superfluous or unnecessary, it expresses this conviction by approving a motion "that no nomination be sent in" or "that no appointment be made". Unfortunately, it happens all too often that the matter dies there, the Clerk of Presbytery concluding that in the light of the decision taken no further action need be taken by him. For all practical purposes, that Presbytery might just as well have ignored the whole matter, because no one has any way of knowing what action was taken or why. (By the same token, let it be added, whenever Presbyteries are asked to express opinions and reactions in regard to any matter, they should reply in some fashion.

RECOMMENDATION 7.

That the Administrative Council be instructed to exercise, through its Committee on Executive-Personnel, the strictest control over Staff appointments so as to ensure that the number of executive appointments be maintained in realistic proportion to the size of our Church and that the total cost stand in responsible relation to our revenues, having regard to the claims of other needs and in particular the need for a very substantial upward revision of basic stipends.

RECOMMENDATION 8.

In all instances where a Presbytery declines to nominate for staff appointments (whether for boards or colleges), and when this action really means that, in the judgment for the Presbytery concerned, no appointment should be made, that the Presbytery clerk be required to reply accordingly, giving the reason or reasons for the refusal to nominate.

The Growth of Bureaucracy in terms of undue influence and control

Whether the Church at an earlier date had other options is a moot question and it is now far too late to deal with such a speculation: the irreversible fact is that we have chosen to conduct a very large part of the Church's business along bureaucratic lines. It would therefore seem both unfair and unreasonable to criticize the Administrative Council and other General Assembly agencies for doing what they were appointed and instructed to do. If we expect any board or committee, let us say, to provide effective and energetic leadership in the matter of policies and programs that fall within its purview and jurisdiction, it is patently unjust to castigate it for so doing. Furthermore, may it not be confidently assumed that that particular board or committee, and especially its officers, simply in the nature of things, must possess a degree of expertise and competent understanding in matters of its concern than is likely to be true of the general membership of the Church, including its ministry?

In so saying, your Committee does not want to create the impression of being insensitive or indifferent to the feeling of alienation that apparently does exist in certain parts of the Church. So far to the contrary, we propose to revert to this problem in the final part of this report.

Our Representative System

Meanwhile, as something of very great relevance to this and other related questions, we would draw attention to the proper significance, and to what ought to be the proper consequences, of our truly representative System. We heartily endorse the verdict of the O. & P. Committee, "Our own situation in the Presbyterian Church in Canada is in many ways a healthier and happier one than in many other communions".

This principle of representation is evident in every facet of our Church life: in every court of the Church, in every major board and committee of General Assembly, and in the Administrative Council. (In the last instance reference has already been made to the recent action by which each Synod will be asked to appoint a representative to serve on the Council.)

Why, then, the sense of alienation to which we have alluded and complaints against the excessive power and influence exercised by boards and committees and by the Administrative Council?

That blessed word "Communication".

Alike the 1974 report of the O. & P. Committee, the Brampton Scheme and the returns from Presbyteries emphasized the need to provide for a much broader basis for decision-making in such matters as planning and setting priorities. We have gladly accorded a certain freedom of action to our boards and committees, but now we would add this proviso, that it is a matter of first consequence that they know and heed the will of the Church and, therefore, that they use every appropriate means to communicate. If, as we have said, a certain feeling of alienation exists within the Church, as though between the rank-and-file of the Church and Assembly's agencies there were a great gulf fixed, surely this must be a matter of some concern to these agencies. If only for very practical reasons, it should be a matter of concern to all of us, because such a state of affairs, to the extent to which it exists, can constitute a serious obstacle even in such a question as "raising the Budget". As one member of this Committee once put it, "It is as if the upper echelon should say, Never mind how your money is spent: just keep on sending in your dollars, and we will look after the spending of them"!

Doubtless we do try to keep the lines of communication open in various ways. Let us think of some of them.

The Presbyterian Record

Besides granting space to each major board and committee to publicize its activities once a year, the Record includes many informative articles with the same intent, and of course one special issue is devoted to an account of Assembly's proceedings. Your Committee, finding itself reluctant to offer advice to the editorial staff of the Record by way of any specific recommendations, would simply ask that the importance of the Record as a very special means of communication be pondered both by the editorial staff and by all boards and committees of Assembly in the hope that what has been well done in the past may perhaps be even better done in the future.

Assembly Commissioners and Young Adult Observers

Generally speaking, how very little has been achieved in the way of communication between General Assembly and its agencies and the Church at large by those who were in a very favourable position to undertake this task. As a rule, commissioners have done little more than report to their respective Presbyteries (rather perfunctorily at that) and on occasion a ministerial Commissioner has actually been known to have derived some inspiration from Assembly for his next Sunday morning sermon!

RECOMMENDATION 9.

That Presbyteries be asked to study effective ways and means whereby Commissioners to Assembly and Young Adult Observers may serve as channels of information, not only to their Presbyteries, but also to groups and congregations within their bounds.

Assembly Agencies

Rightly or wrongly, with due cause or not, we have said that feelings of dissatisfaction and alienation do exist within our Church. To this fact, we are confident no Assembly agency, be it Administrative Council or an Assembly board or committee, will be indifferent.

If such reminders are necessary, let us stress that 50 Wynford Drive is not a Presbyterian Mecca, nor is an ivory tower existence on the part of Secretaries in the best interests of the Church. The Rt. Hon. Sir Joseph Porter (H.M.S. Pinafore) gave some very bad advice (with which we take a small liberty),

Now Secretaries all, whoever you be,
If you want to rise to the top of the tree,
If your soul isn't fettered to an office stool,
Be careful to be guided by this golden rule:
Stick close to your desks and never go to sea,
And you all may be Rulers of the Queen's Navy."

Equally unsuitable for Secretaries is the hymn:

"Ye servants of the Lord,
Each in his office wait".

On the contrary, let Staff members get out among the people and discover how much they are loved, and let the Church at large communicate their wishes and hopes to all our Assembly agencies and discover how seriously they will be listened to. To this end, it then becomes necessary to plan and coordinate an imaginative System so as to make the most effective use of the service of our Secretaries and others as agents of communication, seeing to it that no area of the Church remains neglected.

RECOMMENDATION 10.

That the Program Coordinating Committee be charged with the responsibility of designing and supervising a continuing plan of visitation to Church courts, conferences and congregations by executive Staff members and representatives of the Administrative Council.

In discussing the clamant need for improved communications, the Committee also considered the value of visual aids, for example, the preparation and dissemination of film strips dealing with such matters as "The Administrative Council in Action" and "How your Budget dollars are spent". (The possibilities implicit in the second of these are almost endless, permitting a presentation of the work of our Church at home and abroad, in the areas of ethnic groups and institutions, in education and relief programs, etc.) In the preparation of such means of communication, it was strongly felt, maximum use should be made of the services of the Rev. Harry Crawford, our Communication consultant, and of the Communication Services Committee.

CONCLUSION

With respect to one of the tasks assigned to us, namely, to evaluate the role of the Administrative Council since the time of its inception in 1960, after careful and comprehensive scrutiny of its structure and functions, and having regard to what has been said and recommended throughout this report, our summation is stated in the following recommendation.

RECOMMENDATION 11.

That this General Assembly record its admiration and deep appreciation for the excellent and devoted service rendered by the Administrative Council to the Church at large over these 15 years since its establishment, and to express its gratitude to officers and members of the Council past and present.

RECOMMENDATION 12.

That this Committee be now discharged.

Respectfully submitted

MURDO NICOLSON,
Chairman.

LLOYD MacLELLAN,
Secretary.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. In order to ensure an equitable proportion between ministers and lay representatives, that beginning in 1977 the odd-numbered Synods be instructed to appoint ministerial representatives and the even-numbered Synods lay representatives for the period of their service on the Council, with this arrangement alternating every 3 years (which will mean that Synod representatives can not serve for more than three years consecutively).
2. In any case where a Synod representative is unable to complete his or her 3-year term (through having left the bounds of the Synod, or because of illness or death) that the Synod in question be responsible for securing a replacement immediately, whether by naming an alternate at the time of the original appointment or by any other effective means.
3. That no further changes in the constituent membership of the Council be made at this time.
4. That the Administrative Council be instructed to make provision, at least once a year and preferably for its Fall meeting, for a period of devotion designed to promote and strengthen a clear-sighted understanding of the spiritual nature of the task of the Church.
5. That the Administrative Council be directed to give careful consideration to the matters of Research and Planning and adopt, even if only experimentally, one or other of the suggested courses of action so as to permit and encourage the maximum contribution of the Church at large in matters relating to research and planning.

6. That the section of the Committee's report, relative to Biennial General Assemblies be sent down to the Presbyteries for Study and report, all replies to be received by the Administrative Council not later than February 28th. 1977.
7. That the Administrative Council be instructed to exercise, through its Committee on Executive-Personnel, the strictest control over Staff appointments so as to ensure that the number of executive appointments be maintained in realistic proportion to the size of our Church and that the total cost stand in responsible relation to our revenues, having regard to the claims of other needs and in particular the need for a very substantial upward revision of basic stipends.
8. In all instances where a Presbytery declines to nominate for staff appointments (whether for boards or colleges), and when this action really means that, in the judgment of the Presbytery concerned, no appointment should be made, that the Presbytery Clerk be required to reply accordingly, giving the reason or reasons for the refusal to nominate.

11. That this General Assembly record its admiration and deep appreciation for the excellent and devoted service rendered by the Administrative Council to the Church at large over these 15 years since its establishment, and to express its gratitude to officers and members of the Council past and present.
12. That this Committee be now discharged.

THE COMMITTEE ON INTER-CHURCH AID, REFUGEE AND WORLD SERVICE

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

Contributions

During 1975 contributions from congregations and individuals totalled $148,926.00 an increase of $18,245.00 or 14% over 1974. The special appeal for reconstruction in Indo-China received donations of $1,918.00.

Disbursements

The Committee's policy of setting flexible guidelines at the beginning of each year in an effort to keep a balance between emergency assistance and development and rehabilitation has proven effective. Over the years, funds allocated for development projects, particularly those of a rural, agrarian nature have helped to prevent the occurence of disasters. In 1975 grants assisted rehabilitation and development projects in the Sudan, Indo-China, the Sahel, Sierra Leone, Ethiopia, Malawi and several other areas. Our contribution of $11,000.00 to the Inter-Church Fund for International Development (sponsored by five Canadian churches: Anglican, Lutheran, Presbyterian, Roman Catholic and United) aided development projects in South America, North and Central Africa and South-East Asia. Most of these projects received matching grants from the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA).

Emergency grants were made to assist victims of a cyclone in Burma, a war in Angola, drought in the Cape Verde Islands, an earthquake in Turkey and floods in India, Bangladesh, Roumania and the Sudan. Assistance was sent to families of pastors who have been imprisoned in South Korea and for pastors working behind the Iron Curtain. Refugees from Chile and from several countries in Africa were assisted. Contributions to programs of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches, the World Council of Churches and the Christian Institute of Southern Africa helped to bring relief from physical suffering, to encourage self-help projects and to support the continuing search for justice by oppressed peoples in many parts of the world.

In 1975 we contributed $5,000.00 to PLURA, an inter-church effort to support self-help groups amongst the poor in Canada. Our grant is matched by the Administrative Council.

Information and Education

Both our slide and tape presentation "It Makes a Difference" and the film "Action Sudan" were well received and widely used. Two new publications were distributed "Kid Power", a comic strip leaflet aimed at children and "Emergency" which outlined our responses to disasters. Our latest tape and filmstrip show "Help Wanted Now" became available for distribution near the end of 1975. Sufficient copies were produced to permit their sale at a cost equal to the rental fee.

Administration

Administration expenses for 1975 totalled $5,938.00 or slightly less than 4% of contributions. These expenses include the costs of meetings, and the salary of a part-time secretary to assist the Convener. It is only through the selfless contributions of time and talent by members of the Committee and the assistance of the Board of World Mission and other staff that it has been possible to keep the expenses to such a low level.

Resignation of Convener

Rev. Irwin McElwain, who has been a member of the Committee since 1967 and served a number of those years as Secretary and Convener, resigned as Convener in June 1975. Mr. McElwain has worked tirelessly for the Committee, chairing meetings, representing us on related committees, preparing recommendations for the Committee's decision and generally doing much of the work and carrying much of the responsibility that executive secretaries perform for other committees and boards. He has been a creative Convener and his initiatives in the establishment of co-operative funding mechanisms for Canadian Churches and in encouraging provinces to provide matching funds for development projects have been particularly noteworthy. Mr. McElwain's term on the Committee ends in June 1976 and the Committee wishes to record its appreciation for his years of service.

Increasing Response

The increases from year to year in givings are encouraging. We must not forget, however, that the need is great not only in material terms but for men and women who are prepared to work towards the attainment of justice and equality for all God's children.

RECOMMENDATION

That the General Assembly authorize the annual special appeal in 1977 for the work of Inter-Church Aid, Refugee and World Service and request all ministers and Kirk Sessions to encourage and foster the support of their congregations.

R. W. McGRAW,
Convener.

E. F. ROBERTS,
Secretary.

THE NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT FUND FINAL CAMPAIGN REPORT

The National Development Fund campaign closed with total contributions of $3,197,048. Congregations contributed $2,756,246. which includes amounts up to $5,000. transferred from Advanced Gifts as agreed at the beginning of the campaign. The new amount in Advanced Gifts is thus $440,802.

The financial statement will be found in the Treasurer's Report (277-8). Each congregation's contribution has been printed in a special column in the Statistical Report.

A complete report of each congregation's performance showing allocation, accepted objective, and amount contributed has been sent to each presbytery. A master copy of all the presbyteries performances has been given to the Secretary of the Administrative Council, along with the ledgers and other records of the campaign.

Although the campaign is officially closed, the committee has been informed that certain congregations intend to complete their commitment to the Fund. It is estimated that approximately $75,000. will be added to the Fund in this way.

It is worth noting that investment income earned by the Fund since 1967 is $674,223. This money has been turned over as it has been received to the General Fund and has been a major factor in enabling the church to make increases in basic stipend grants over the past seven years.

Although the announced objective was not reached, the Fund has been and will continue to be the means of assisting the church to do many things outwith the capability of the annual Budget. One of the spin-off benefits of the campaign is the stimulation it gave to interest in and support of the general work of the church. The General Assembly Budget is now benefitting from the higher level of giving which was reached by the congregations in their effort to fulfill their National Development Fund commitments.

The church owes a debt of thanks to the diligent promoters, and generous donors in congregations, presbyteries and synods for their faithful work during the years of the campaign.

BOARD OF CONGREGATIONAL LIFE

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

One of the distinctive marks of the Christian is an abounding sense of gratitude. God is richly blessing the Presbyterian Church in Canada today. We have cause for great joy and thankfulness. Statistics suggest that we have begun to practise a new level of giving. Many are giving sacrificially, but many others are still giving only casually and out of their surplus. It is exciting to imagine what God might do through the Presbyterian Church in Canada if more people would commit themselves to participate actively in the life and work of the church and to practise systematic and proportionate giving.

The church is a fellowship of believing and "alive" Christians. We are intended to make a difference in the world.

The Board of Congregational Life exists for the purpose of enabling congregations to be learning centres and "launching pads" for reaching out with the transforming and saving message of Jesus Christ.

The Board of Congregational Life seeks to be one of God's agents for renewal within the Presbyterian Church in Canada and within the world.

I. LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

BURSARY FUND FOR LAY TRAINING

A Bursary Fund for Lay Training has been established to provide financial assistance for lay people of the Presbyterian Church in Canada to receive training, instruction and enrichment for Christian service. The fund, made possible by a grant from the National Development Fund, is intended to augment the financial contributions of the candidate and his or her congregation or presbytery. It is administered by the Board of Congregational Life which has the right to grant or refuse requests according to established criteria. Copies of the guidelines for the fund and application forms have been sent to all presbyteries and to each minister.

YOUTH EVANGELISM TEAM

The success of the youth evangelism teams of the past two summers has shown that this is a viable form of youth ministry and ought to be continued. However, it would be preferable if Synods and/or Presbyteries would assume the major responsibility, with some planning and financial assistance from the national church.

Under the joint sponsorship of the Synod Congregational Life Committees of the Synods of Saskatchewan, and Manitoba and Northwestern Ontario, in cooperation with the Board of Congregational Life, plans have been developed for a Youth Evangelism Team to tour this summer within the bounds of those two Synods. The project is hereby commended to the attention and the prayers of the church as a whole.

YOUTH LEADERSHIP TRAINING LAB

A second youth Leadership Training Lab was held at Fort Qu'Appelle, Saskatchewan, in November 1975. Twenty-four leaders of youth groups attended from the Synods of Saskatchewan, Alberta, and Manitoba and Northwestern Ontario. Evaluations indicate the worth of these leadership labs and it is planned that others will be held in other parts of the country.

MARRIAGE ENRICHMENT SEMINAR

The Board of Congregational Life, together with its counterpart in the United Church of Canada, jointly sponsored a Marriage Enrichment Seminar in Ottawa in January of this year. Sixty-five couples attended, more than twenty of them Presbyterian. The next steps will be the development of local leaders who may be able to assist with such seminars in congregations or clusters of congregations.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE OF PRESBYTERIAN MEN

Nineteen seventy-five has been a difficult year in many ways for the National Committee of Presbyterian Men. Since the resignation of Gordon Young a year ago, the movement has been without a National Director. Staff support has been coordinated by Bert Young, with Roy Hamilton serving in the capacity of "Acting Director". But the absence of a full-time director has meant that many others have become involved in seeing that the work is continued as efficiently as possible.

Research Project

The National Committee co-operated with the Board of Congregational Life Task Force on Staffing to study the future shape of men's work in the church, and the kind of staff support required. Ron Packman of Ottawa conducted a series of interviews and developed a questionnaire which was answered by about eighty-five people. The replies to the questionnaires and a brief presented by the Sub-Executive indicated the time was right for some new emphases and a new thrust in men's work. The National Committee has participated in the development of a job description for a person who would be appointed to provide staff support for men's work and, hopefully, it will not be long before an appointment can be made.

The special thanks of the National Committee is expressed to Roy Hamilton, George Fernie, Gordon Young and others for the way they have given time and energy to support the work in absence of a full-time director.

Guidelines for National Committee Members

A set of Guidelines has been produced for the use of National Committee members, and each member has been assigned to one or more Presbyteries to take responsibility for the promotion of the work of the church among men within those Presbyteries.

Leadership Training

Training Manual No. 1 was revised during Centennial Year and is now being commended for use in study and leadership training groups among men.

National Conferences

The 1975 National Conferences have been described by some who attended as "outstanding", and "one of the best yet". The theme speaker, Dr. Max Putnam delivered inspiring and challenging messages and the Bible study and discussion groups allowed everyone to respond by considering the personal application of the theme – "I Believe. . . .Therefore". The attendance at the three conferences was as follows:– Maritimes 87, Keswick 164, and Banff 116, for a total of 367.

Radio Ministry Project

In co-operation with the Committee on Communication Services, a series of radio tapes by Dr. Mariano DiGangi are being prepared for use by radio stations across the country. National Committee members are being asked to promote their use and to encourage congregations, presbyteries or groups of men to sponsor the tapes with their local radio stations.

A New Day

God, who has graciously led the P.M. movement over the years, and brought challenge and blessing to the lives of many, has led us to the dawning of a new day. It is believed that through a new approach to men's work it is possible to minister to all members of the family of God, men, women and children.

In co-operation with the Board of Congregational Life it is anticipated there can be a strong emphasis on "the family" for the strengthening of the ties of family life throughout the church.

LAITY SUNDAY

The materials prepared for Laity Sunday 1975 emphasized the laity as "all the people of God" as over against the usual understanding of the term "layman", which means "uninitiated" or "unskilled" in a given field of endeavour. In the minds of many, however, Laity Sunday is seen as a time when the laymen take over the pulpit and the minister has a holiday or preaches elsewhere.

It is felt that the annual observance of Laity Sunday actually counteracts the emphasis which the Board believes ought to be made – that every Sunday is laity Sunday and that the focus should be on "the people of God" rather than on laymen being invited to take part in the conduct of worship.

It is believed that the occasional involvement of members of the congregation in planning for worship can mean new creativity in worship services and a new appreciation of worship on the part of the people. The Board of Congregational Life is prepared to develop a design for congregational involvement in planning for creative worship.

RECOMMENDATION 1.

THAT the annual observance of Laity Sunday be discontinued and that two Sundays per year be designated for an emphasis on congregational involvement in the planning and/or conduct of worship.

EVANGELISTS-AT-LARGE PROGRAMME

The Board of Congregational Life has continued to sponsor the Evangelists-at-Large Programme which was initiated by the former Board of Evangelism and Social Action. At the present time there are nine ministers who have been designated as Evangelists-at-Large, seven in Ontario, one in Nova Scotia and one in British Columbia. The Board has agreed to seek to designate several more ministers as Evangelists-at-Large with the first preference being for those who serve in areas of the country where there are no ministers so designated at present.

The Board has invited nominations from the presbyteries, furnishing each with copies of a set of guidelines which have been developed for the Evangelist-at-Large Programme.

STEWARDSHIP EDUCATION AND BUDGET PROMOTION

1975 Budget Performance

Notwithstanding increases in cost of living and taxes and other economic disturbances, the economy of the Presbyterian Church in Canada remained buoyant in 1975. Budget support, which has been increasing regularly since the 1930's, showed an increase of $254,279 (10.7%) to a new record total of $2,610,115. from congregations. This is the largest dollar increase on record. It would appear that many congregations have acted on the recommendation that the level of giving reached because of the National Development Fund be continued, and that, the National Development Fund having been completed, the additional support be channelled into the General Assembly Budget.

RECOMMENDATION 2.

THAT the thanks of the General Assembly be expressed to the members and office bearers of the congregations for their leadership in Budget support in 1975.

Summary of 1975 Giving

1975 BUDGET SUPPORT

The increase of $254,279. (10.8%) in congregational Budget giving was the largest dollar increase on record. The final total was $2,610,115. This includes the special centennial Birthday Gift offering of $51,476. and the "delayed 1975" amount of $162,096. (This latter amount is money raised for the Assembly Budget in 1975 but for one reason or another not sent in until after the Treasurer's books were closed for audit on January 14, 1976.)

In addition, congregations raised $154,317. for the National Development Fund; $149,000. for Inter Church Aid; $527,521. by the W.M.S.(ED & WD); and sundry amounts for other benevolences for a total of $846,606. for other Missionary and Benevolent purposes.

The Total raised for all purposes including the above in 1975 was $23,617,150. an increase of $2,483,167. (11.7%) over the previous year. Giving for purposes outside the congregations was 14% of the total for all purposes. The Assembly Budget received 11% of the total for all purposes.

The per member rate for the Assembly Budget increased from $13.49 in 1974 to $15.10 in 1975. The per member rate for all purposes increased from $121.07 to $136.67. It should be noted that part of the increase in the per member rates was due to a decrease of 1764 in the total membership. Fewer people giving more has been the pattern in our church for the past ten years.

Analysis of Presbytery and Synod Giving (See chart pages 348-349)

1. 23 Presbyteries and 4 Synods had per member rates above the national average for Assembly Budget, 24 presbyteries and 5 Synods were above the national per member rate for all purposes.
2. East Toronto, $20.39, again the highest per member rate for the Assembly Budget, followed by Vancouver Island, $20.32; Westminster $20.30; Brockville $19.93; Edmonton $18.96; Algoma & North Bay $17.53; Temiskaming $17.50; Winnipeg $17.27, and Paris $17.07.
3. The highest per member rate for all purposes was in Peace River Presbytery, $249.00 followed by Kamloops $227.05; Brockville $227.04; Quebec $212.60; Westminster $204.61 and Newfoundland $203.56.
4. The Synod of British Columbia had the highest Synod rate per member for both the Assembly Budget, $19.06 and all purposes $196.35. All Synods, and all presbyteries except one showed increases for both the Budget and for all purposes.

1977 Budget Objective

Many congregations are now supporting the Budget at a rate higher than that which is based on a total of $3,000,000. Furthermore, Authorized Expenditures are now above the $4,000,000. level. The Board believes therefore that to keep up the momentum for increased Budget support, the objective on which allocations are computed should be raised to $3,500,000.

RECOMMENDATION 3.

THAT the objective for the 1977 General Assembly Budget be $3,500,000. and that congregational Allocations be computed on that figure and sent to Presbyteries in time for October meetings.

Promotion

a) "Theme Emphasis" – The Stewardship theme "God Gives So You Can" has been chosen for the 1976-77 period. Posters, pamphlets and other materials are in preparation for use in the autumn and winter.
b) "Your Budget Dollar" – A second edition of this popular leaflet has been sampled and is being widely used.
c) "Conveners Handbook" – A revised edition of the handbook for Presbytery and Synod persons responsible for Stewardship Education and Budget Promotion has been prepared and copies sent to each Presbytery.
d) "The Commitment Plan" – This updated program for surveying congregational needs and potentials, and for securing support for congregational programs has had a second year of testing with good results.
e) "Stewardship Seminar" – A seminar is planned for presbytery conveners, recent graduates from our colleges who have had two years' experience in the pastorate, and for ministers who have recently come to our church from other denominations. This seminar will take place early in 1977.

RECOMMENDATION 4.

THAT Presbyteries be strongly urged to promote in all congregations Every Person Visitations, or some method for effective renewal of personal commitment to the total program of the church.

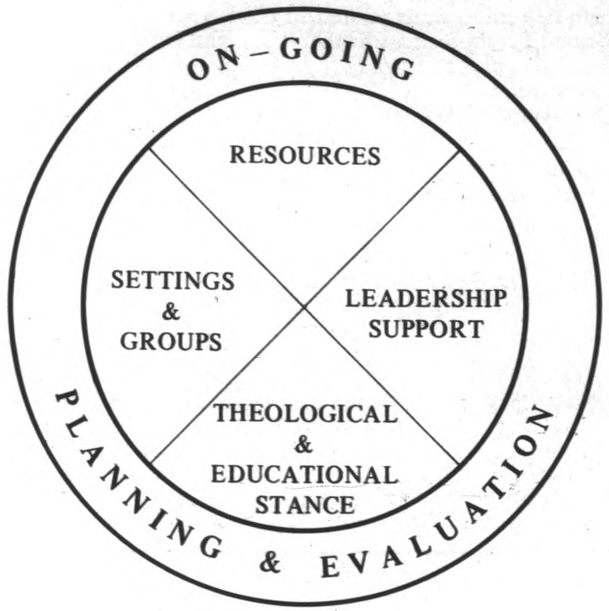
CHRISTIAN EDUCATION: SHARED APPROACHES

In 1975 Christian Education: Shared Approaches became the official title of the JED Project whose purpose is to enable congregations to develop a comprehensive, integrated and effective total educational program which will contribute to the fulfilment of the mission of the Church.

Christian Education: Shared Approaches is a systemic approach to church education and, as all systems, it is made of inter-related parts. These parts are:

- Theological and educational beliefs – the foundation on which to build an educational program.
- The persons who will be educated and the settings and groups for learning which will best meet their needs.
- The material resources to be used – the content of the learning experiences and the processes to be used.
- The support of leaders – those special events, materials and evidences of appreciation and assistance that help leaders to lead.
- A continuing process for planning and evaluation – so that new challenges can be met smoothly and creatively.

They may best be seen in the following diagrams:



The ongoing planning and evaluation holds the system together.

There are four parallel approaches each with a different emphasis but one common purpose; "education for faith and for life so that there may be commitment to Jesus Christ, growth in the Christian community, and witness and service to the world".

Each of the approaches includes the four central component parts, theological and educational stance, specific settings and groupings, resources and leadership support. The on-going planning and evaluation is a part of the whole project as well as a part of each approach. It is envisaged that a congregation will become involved in planning an integrated educational program which will include all the parts of the system.

I. KNOWING THE WORD
To enable persons to know the contents of the Bible and to respond as faithful disciples.

II. INTERPRETING THE WORD
To increase the person's ability to respond to the Bible and to be a responsible interpreter of Scriptures.

III. LIVING THE WORD
To enable persons to participate in the life and mission of the Christian community.

IV. DOING THE WORD
To enable persons to become committed to, equipped for and experienced in God's mission for the world through study and action.

In all four approaches there is a concern for the content and interpretation of Scriptures, for the life in the community of faith, and for mission.

The fourteen denominations related to CE:SA are:

Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church
Christian Church (Disciples of Christ)
Church of the Brethren
The Evangelical Covenant Church of America
Moravian Church in America
Cumberland Presybterian Church
The Presbyterian Church in Canada
Presbyterian Church in the United States
Reformed Church in America
United Church of Christ
The United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

Partial involvement:–

American Baptist Churches in the U.S.A.
The Episcopal Church
The United Methodist Church

The Presbyterian Church in Canada and CE:SA

The Presbyterian Church in Canada has been related to the CE:SA project since 1972. The relationship was first begun under the Board of Christian Education and carried on by the Board of Congregational Life. Staff responsibility for Joint Educational Development and CE:SA was assigned to Helen Tetley in 1974. A Board of Congregational Life Task Force on CE:SA Strategy is responsible for introducing the project to the church and for planning support for congregations as they become involved. This task force reports to the Standing Committee on Leadership Development. The work of monitoring the resources for education which are a large part of the CE:SA project has been a staff responsibility but shared with the Advisory Committee on Church School Curriculum.

Task Force on CE:SA Strategy

From the beginning the Task Force on CE:SA Strategy established a policy that our strategy would enable congregations to respond to invitations to participate in a planning process to establish an integrated and holistic approach to their own educational program. Every effort is to be made to avoid any pressure to conform to particular resources or program.

In 1975 the task force continued to work on the development of a strategy based on goals, objectives and action plans.

Goal 1: By the Fall of 1977, 30% of our congregations will be involved in planning for a systemic approach to church education.

In the first six months of 1975 eleven congregations shared in the testing of the two planning models:

Model I – "Developing the Congregation's Educational Program":

1. St. James Presbyterian Church, Truro, Nova Scotia
2. St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Ottawa, Ontario
3. St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Lindsay, Ontario
*4. St. James Presbyterian Church, Stouffville, Ontario
*5. St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Port Credit, Ontario
6. Trinity Presbyterian Church, Toronto, Ontario
*7. St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Southampton, Ontario
8. Alexandra Presbyterian Church, Brantford, Ontario
9. Presbyterian Church, Richmond, British Columbia

*These congregations were part of a testing done by the CE:SA project group.

Model II – "Planning for Education in the Congregation"

1. St. Giles-Kingsway, Toronto, Ontario
2. First Presbyterian Church, Brandon, Manitoba

As a result of the testing, two actions were taken: (1) A Supplement for Congregations using the two guides was prepared in which suggestions and variations for the planning process are given. This supplement is included by Presbyterian Publications with each order for either of the planning guides. (2) Three teams agreed to develop and test the design for introducing and training persons in the use of the planning guides. One team was able to develop and test its design in 1975 and since then it has been refined and used in the Western Provinces. The other teams will be developing and testing their guides in the first months of 1976.

Introductory workshops and presentations have been held in various parts of the country and these will continue in 1976. These have been Presbytery Committees, Presbyteries, and committees of congregations.

Goal 2: That there be trained persons to work in teams to assist congregations in planning and interpreting Christian Education: Shared Approaches.

A list of all persons who have been readers, testers of planning models and testers of resources, plus others who are concerned and willing to assist, has been compiled and circulated to all the Synod Conveners. The Synod Conveners were asked to add other names to this list. An attempt is being made to keep the people on this list up-to-date on developments through involving them in the local events in Presbytery and Synod as well as through the circulation of CE:SA Update paper which will be sent out approximately four times a year.

The strategy to train persons for the CE:SA project has been through inservice and on the spot training rather than any special training program.

The Task Force on CE:SA Strategy has studied the qualifications for consultants and the plan for developing consultants being used by the denominations in the States. It is felt that this plan contravenes our policy of not "hard selling" the program.

Goal 3: That Presbyteries and Synod Committees be aware of the need for congregational planning for church education and of the resources available for such planning.

Immediately following the last General Assembly a letter was sent to all Presbytery Clerks and the persons responsible in the Presbytery for church education, advising them of the recommendations of the General Assembly and of the concern and support of the Task Force. Though few Presbyteries responded directly to this letter, during the past six months a record has been kept of the number of Presbytery Committees or Presbyteries who have had some introduction to CE:SA. According to our records, approximately 23 Presbyteries have been thus involved.

In the fall the Task Force on Strategy requested that a Christian Education newsletter be developed in which information about CE:SA along with other education information will be made known to the church at large. Responsibility for this newsletter has been given to Margaret MacNaughton.

Goal 4: That a strategy be prepared and carried on for encouraging congregations to explore the material resources for the four approaches as they plan for church education.

This last goal was established in December 1975 and the Task Force is in the process of setting up strategy to enable it to be accomplished.

Monitoring the Material Resources for the Four Approaches

Back in 1972 a system of evaluators or readers was set up. These people read and commented on the basic foundation papers. In 1975 as outlines and manuscripts began to be received it was realized that this small group of twenty-three should be increased. At the present moment there are sixty-three people involved in the readers and evaluators program. The Committee on Church Doctrine assigned a task force to study the basic foundation papers and asked that they be kept informed. A number of members of that committee are among the readers.

Approach I – Knowing the Word will be available in 1976. Our readers have been most satisfied with the manuscripts as they have read them and we look forward to the use of this material in some congregations this fall.

Approach II – Interpreting the Word – In the fall of 1975, units for each age group were tested in congregations in North America and we share in this testing. The following congregations were part of the testing program:

Westminster Presbyterian Church, Pierrefonds, P.Q. – Grades K-1, 2-3
Presbyterian Church, St. Laurent, Quebec – Grades 4-5
St. Timothy's Presbyterian Church, Ottawa, Ontario – Grades 6-7-8 & Youth/Adult
St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Ottawa, Ontario – Grades 2-3, 4-5

University Presbyterian Church, Downsview, Ontario – Youth/Adult
First Presbyterian Church, Winnipeg, Manitoba – Grades K-1, 6-7-8
Knox Presbyterian Church, Weyburn, Saskatchewan – Youth/Adult
Kerrisdale Presbyterian Church, Vancouver, B.C. – Youth/Adult

The testing proved to be very helpful both to the Resource Team responsible for developing the resources and to ourselves. The responses from the Canadian testing group on the whole were satisfactory and in some cases very exciting learning experiences took place.

From the response of the various editors and resource teams, we have confidence that the comments of our readers and the concerns of the Presbyterian Church in Canada are taken seriously.

Approach III – Living the Word

The outlines for Year 1 have been circulated to readers, comments received and forwarded to the Resource Team. Necessary changes have been made in the outlines.

The outline for the intergenerational kit related to "Harvest-Thanksgiving" was developed in Canada by Canadian writers.

Approach IV – Doing the Word

Because this approach deals with issues and concerns related to life in society and the mission of the church today, it is important that Canadian issues and concerns be identified, and the mission of the Presbyterian Church in Canada be included in the material prepared for use with our Church. The Board's Advisory Committee on Evangelism Programmes and Community Concerns and the Joint Task Force on Mission Education Services are taking responsibility for reading the resources related to this particular approach and for suggesting areas of concern which ought to be included.

II. RESOURCES DEVELOPMENT

HERITAGE RESOURCES

It has been recognized for some time that, as a denomination, the Presbyterian Church in Canada cannot afford to produce its own church school curriculum. Some form of co-operation with other denominations is dictated by economic considerations if nothing else. However, it is possible and plans are being formulated for the production of what are being called "Heritage Resources" related to the history, doctrine, government and mission of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Beginning in the Fall of 1978 these resources are to be available for use as a supplement to the curriculum being used in congregations of the Church.

Rev. Margaret MacNaughton joined the staff of the Board at the beginning of January to give leadership in the production of the Heritage Resources. Her work will include extensive consultation with a broad spectrum of theologians, historians and educators in various locations throughout Canada, the development of a broad base of participation and support from the membership of the Church; the recruitment, training and supervision of a corps of writers; the editing and testing of manuscripts; and the supervision of a production schedule.

NEW RESOURCES AVAILABLE

During the past year the following new resources have been provided by the Board of Congregational Life:–

Commissioned to be the Church
– a kit for use in the preparation for church membership

Holy Communion
– a pamphlet on the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper written by Dr. Bruce Miles.

Evangelism Handbook
– the former work of Dr. Arthur Gowland has been revised and updated by Rev. Wayne Smith is now available to congregations as a training resource in visitation and other forms of evangelism.

"Welcome to the Family of God" – written by Rev. John Anderson
– a pamphlet designed for use by congregations making use of the Coral Ridge Training Program for Lay Witness. It is useful also for study by Sessions and Congregations which ask, "What kind of family are we into which we seek to bring new members?"

OVERTURE #1 (A&P 1975, page 431)

Presbytery of Westminster – re: Shorter Catechism.

The Overture asks that the Shorter Catechism be revised in modern language.

RECOMMENDATION 5.

THAT the prayer of the Overture be not granted for the following reasons:–

a) As part of the Westminster Confession of Faith, the Shorter Catechism is an historical document and cannot be changed.

b) Any new statement of faith ought properly to be the work of the Committee on Church Doctrine.

OVERTURE #2 (A&P 1975, page 426)

Presbytery of Peace River – re: Religious Movements

The Overture asks for guidelines to be prepared dealing with a number of religious movements which are making inroads into Presbyterian membership and making public appeals for financial support.

RECOMMENDATION 6.

THAT the prayer of the Overture be granted in the following terms:

a) that the B.C.L. be asked to prepare a pamphlet outlining the main tenets of Christian belief and showing deviations therefrom;

b) that a bibliography be attached;

c) that existing pamphlets prepared by other Christian denominations on the various sects and religious movements be researched and, if found suitable, commended for use.

GUIDELINES FOR PRESBYTERY VISITATION

After consultation with the Committee on Church Doctrine and with the Presbyteries, the Board has produced a set of Guidelines for Presbytery Visitation and has circulated them to the Presbyteries. The Board now reports that the terms of reference from the 100th General Assembly have been fulfilled.

FUNCTIONAL GUIDELINES FOR CONGREGATIONAL LIFE COMMITTEES

The Board of Congregational Life has undertaken to provide what are called "functional guidelines" for the many Presbyteries which now have a committee on Congregational Life, or something similar. Recognizing that it is up to the Presbyteries to determine what and how many committees they will have, it is hoped that these guidelines will facilitate the work of those committees which have been given responsibility for congregational life. The suggestions offered are meant to assist the flow of communication between Presbyteries and congregations and between Presbyteries and General Assembly agencies.

RECOMMENDATION 7.

THAT the Functional Guidelines for Presbytery Congregational Life Committees be commended to Presbyteries for study, testing, revision where needed, and eventual implementation.

III. PURPOSE, FUNCTIONS, STRUCTURES AND POLICIES OF THE BOARD OF CONGREGATIONAL LIFE

The 99th General Assembly gave its approval of the structures, policies and functions of the Board for an interim period, with the provision that a full report would be presented to the 102nd General Assembly. During the past year the Board has undertaken a thorough review and evaluation of its over-all operation and has effected changes where they seemed appropriate. The following statement is presented to this Assembly for information as the guidelines under which the Board functions.

Purpose

The principal purpose of an agency for congregational life is to provide assistance to congregations for carrying out their program of life and mission. (Building a parish program is primarily a local responsibility, subject to directives of the courts of the Church.) The Assembly agency should provide support, encouragement, resources and assistance to those who serve in congregations.

Functions

An Assembly agency for congregational life should provide the following services to congregations through the courts of the church:

1. To challenge, generate vision and motivate
2. To encourage and support
3. To help develop local leadership
4. To provide information and resources

1. Challenge, vision, motivation
   It is part of the responsibility of an Assembly agency for congregational life to help a congregation see the present life in the light of the Gospel, and to discern the Word of God for them in the contemporary situation.
2. Support and encouragement
   The Assembly agency also has a supportive responsibility toward those who work in congregations, to listen to and discuss their needs and problems, to encourage and to foster their confidence and initiative, and to help them take hold of their tasks in faith, hope and love.
3. Leadership Development
   The agency's service will include an educational role, directed toward the training and development of those who lead, teach and serve in the congregation.
4. Information and resources
   The Assembly agency, to exercise its several roles above in serving congregations must provide information, materials and personnel (always on the basis that each congregation must determine its own program and that resources are to be made available to congregations for their selection and use as required).
5. Specialized help
   Because of the diversity among congregations, specialized help will be needed. Also, the existence or emergence of forms of Christian group life that do not fit the usual norms of congregational life, and of new locals of Christian ministry other than the 'residential community' type of congregation all require special help.

   The Assembly agency for congregational life is to accept responsibility for support and assistance to meet specialized needs, working in collaboration with the courts of the Church and other Assembly agencies as required.
6. Research and development
   The agency will include in its work a continuous program of research and development directed toward all aspects of its responsibilities as outlined above. The purpose will be to keep the agency, the Assembly and the Church at large alert to changing needs and opportunities, to foster creative experimentation and constructive evaluation of congregational life, and to keep the policies and program of the agency under constant review.

A. Policy Guidelines

1. The Board of Congregational Life pledges itself to continue to develop a sensitive, listening attitude, and to operate in response to the requests and needs which are expressed by congregations and presbyteries.
2. The aim of the Board of Congregational Life is to provide assistance to congregations and presbyteries in a personalized, practical and accessible way.

3. The leadership style of the Board and its staff is patterned on the team concept in which all members of the Board, the staff and committees work together to fulfil the purpose of the Board. It is recognized that each person has general competence as well as ability to provide specialized help in some specific areas.
4. The Board encourages the development of a similar pattern of leadership at all levels of church life.

B. General Structures

1. The work of the Board of Congregational Life is managed by the following structures:
   the Board
   the Executive Committee
   Standing Committee – Leadership and Resources Development
   Advisory Committees
   Task Forces
2. The Board
   a) The Board of Congregational Life is appointed as follows:
      18 appointed by the General Assembly, one of whom will be named as chairman by the Assembly
      1 appointed by each Synod: either the Synod Convener of Congregational Life or an equivalent officer.
      2 representatives from the Women's Missionary Society (W.D.)
      1 representative from the Woman's Missionary Society (E.D.)
      1 representative from the National Committee of Presbyterian Men
      1 representative from the National Advisory Council for Youth Ministry
      1 representative from the Board of World Mission the Church Treasurer
      the national staff team in a non-voting capacity
   b) The Board annually elects from its members 2 vice-chairmen. The vice-chairmen assist the chairman, chair executive meetings in his/her absence, represent him/her on board and extra-board committees as requested by the chairman.
3. The Executive Committee
   a) The Executive Committee has responsibility under the board for policy, finance, personnel, liaison with presbyteries and synods, agenda and format for board meetings, and such other matters as are referred to it by the board. The Executive has special responsibility for monitoring the flow of work and the utilization on staff time.
   b) The Executive is composed of the Board Chairman, as Chairman, 6 other board members, 2 of whom will be vice-chairmen, the chairman of the Standing Committee, and one of the Synod representatives on the board from each of the following groupings, named by the board in rotation every two years:
      I. Atlantic Provinces
         Quebec and Eastern Ontario
      II. Toronto and Kingston
         Hamilton and London
      III. Manitoba and Northwestern Ontario Saskatchewan
      IV. Alberta
         British Columbia

      The General Secretary and the Associate Secretaries attend meetings of the Executive in a non-voting capacity.

      The following are invited to sit and correspond:
      Executive Secretary of the W.M.S. (W.D.) or her alternate General Secretary of the Board of World Mission or alternate.
   c) The Executive meets quarterly.

4. A Standing Committee on Leadership and Resources Development

a) The general function of this committee is to give direction to the implementation of the policy decisions of the Board or its Executive, to co-ordinate program development, and to bring new policy recommendations to the Executive and the Board.

b) Specifically:
   1. To continue current programs which by their nature develop lay leadership in the congregation, as long as they are deemed useful.
   2. To be responsive to expressed needs (congregation or presbytery).
   3. To co-operate with our training institutions that their leadership programs and resources may be more widely available to congregations.
   4. To develop new programs in the area of leadership.
   5. To evaluate periodically the aims, purposes and usefulness of all programs in the light of changing circumstances.
   6. To continue to provide resources for current programs which are of value to congregations and presbyteries as long as they are deemed useful and are used by these groups.
   7. To do research into the resource materials of other denominations and cognate groups.
   8. To design resources to meet specific expressed needs, and to produce the same as approved by the Board.

c) The Standing Committee consists of 14 members of the Board appointed annually, and as non-voting members the Advisory Committee Chairmen and national staff. The committee may invite other persons in an advisory capacity as required.

d) The Chairman of the Standing Committee is elected annually by the Board.

5. Advisory Committees

a) Advisory Committees have been established and their membership is appointed annually by the Board.

b) The membership of the Advisory Committees is not limited to Board members. Each A/C has one or more national staff members as resource persons.

c) The purpose of the Advisory Committees is to advise and make recommendations to the Standing Committee re policy, the implementation of policy, and the evaluation of policy and programs, relating to the concern around which they are gathered. They may also participate in the implementation of such policy and programs when requested to do so by the Standing Committee or Board. Normally members are appointed by the Board in a three year rotation and may serve up to a maximum of six consecutive years.

d) The chairman of each Advisory Committee is appointed annually by the Board.

e) Each Advisory Committee names its own secretary who will ordinarily not be a staff person.

6. Task Forces

As policy or program issues arise which need study, resolution, development, or promotion, Task Forces may be appointed to carry out such assignments, on completion of which they will be dissolved.

C. Structural Relationships

1. The National Committee of Presbyterian Men

The relationship of the National Committee of Presbyterian Men to the Board of Congregational Life is set forth in the Acts and Proceedings of the General Assembly (A&P 1973, pages 394-5).

During the past several months the National Committee of Presbyterian Men and the Board of Congregational Life Task Force on Staffing have shared in a study of the future shape of men's work in the church and the kind of staff support required. The result has been a closer relationship of the N.C.P.M. to the total work of the Board and to all aspects of congregational life.

2. The National Advisory Council for Youth Ministry

The Guidelines for the National Advisory Council were approved by the 101st General Assembly (A&P 1975, page 336).

The Council is made up of one representative from each Synod, named by the Synod Committee plus one member of the last year's N.A.C. named by that council for the purpose of providing continuity.

3. Women's Missionary Societies

The Women's Missionary Society (W.D.) appoints two representatives, and the Woman's Missionary Society (E.D.) appoints one representative to the Board of Congregational Life. In addition, the Executive Secretary of the W.M.S. (W.D.) or her alternate is invited to sit and correspond at the Board and Executive meetings.

The Secretary for Children's Work and the Secretary for Adult Work of the W.M.S. (W.D.) are regarded as associated staff persons and are invited to sit and correspond at meetings of the Board.

The Educational Resource Persons employed by the W.M.S. (W.D.) are considered part of the Board of Congregational Life staff team, and may be invited to attend the Annual meeting of the Board.

4. Board of World Mission

The Board of World Mission names one representative to the Board of Congregational Life. The General Secretary of the Board of World Mission, or his alternate, is invited to sit and correspond at meetings of the Board and its Executive.

The Secretary for Mission Education is invited to sit and correspond at meetings of the Board.

5. Joint Task Forces

a) The Board of World Mission and the Women's Missionary Societies share with the Board of Congregational Life in the Joint Task Force on Mission Education Services, to study and recommend ways of providing continuing missionary education services to congregations.

b) The Board of World Mission, the Women's Missionary Society (W.D.) and the Woman's Missionary Society (E.D.) share with the Board of Congregational Life in the Joint Task Force on Field Services, to study the development and co-ordination of field services within the Presbyterian Church in Canada, and to report and bring recommendations to each of the above-named agencies.

D. Staffing

The staff of the Board of Congregational Life functions as a team in accordance with the Board's policy. All share responsibility for the total staff function, but individual areas of major responsibility will vary according to skills and needs. All staff are involved in both administrative and field assignments, and act as channels of communication, relating particularly to Presbytery and Synod Congregational Life Committees (or equivalent). All field service is rendered in the context of total congregational planning. Each staff member gives support to committees and/or the task forces as required.

1. The General Secretary

a) The General Secretary acts as the executive secretary of the Board of Congregational Life, appointed by the General Assembly but accountable to the Board.

b) The General Secretary is responsible for the implementation of Board policy. This includes general administration, and co-ordination of Board Committees and Task Forces. He is responsible for the functioning of the associate and support staff and works in co-operation with B.W.M. and W.M.S. in relation to associated and field staff.

He prepares and administers the budget. He represents the Board of Congregational Life as determined from time to time. He has special oversight of the flow of communication with the courts and congregations.

c) Following each annual meeting of the Board, a flow-chart is to be developed showing objectives of work and date of meetings for all parts of the Board structure.

2. The Associate Secretaries

a) Associate Secretaries function in relation to their Job Understandings which are approved by the Board and reviewed annually.

b) The Associate Staff members are accountable to the General Secretary and through him to the Board.

c) As a staff team, the General Secretary and Associate Secretaries will be responsible for administering and servicing the various aspects of the Board's work, and for carrying the services of the Board of Congregational Life to Synods, Presbyteries and Congregations.

d) Stated meetings of the staff team are to be held once a month for the exchange of information and the co-ordinating of plans. The General Secretary is responsible for calling, chairing, and organizing the meetings.

e) The Associate Staff members sit as non-voting members on the Board and its Executive.

3. Support Staff

The office personnel are called Support Staff as an indication of the important part they play in the effectiveness of the whole team operation. They meet from time to time with the General Secretary and occasionally with the whole staff, to discuss ways of sharing the work load and of making the best use of personal aptitudes.

The Administrative Assistant is responsible for co-ordinating the stenographic and clerical service required to support the B.C.L. staff, as well as being responsible for other administrative tasks as requested by the General Secretary.

E. Guidelines for all Committee Chairmen

1. It is the responsibility of all Chairmen to call and chair the meetings in consultation with the staff resource person assigned, to arrange for the notice to be sent, and the agenda drawn up.
2. The Chairman is accountable for the performance of his/her committee and for seeing that it is faithful to its mandate.
3. It is the responsibility of the chairmen to collaborate with the appropriate staff persons, concerning various phases of their committee's work, and to keep as well informed as possible.
4. All members of the board and particularly those who are committee chairmen should use every opportunity to interpret to the church the work for which they are responsible. The chairman of the Board has a particular public relations responsibility.

RECOMMENDATION 8.

THAT the above statement of the functions, structures and policies of the Board of Congregational Life be received as the framework within which the Board operates.

IV. DELIVERY OF SERVICES

During 1974 and 1975 consultations were held with representatives of all the Presbyteries to determine the needs of Presbyteries and congregations and the kinds of assistance which would help them to strengthen and support congregational life. At the end of 1975 a questionnaire was circulated to all Presbyteries, and to all congregations where staff assistance had been provided during the year to learn from them how helpful, or otherwise, the assistance provided by the Board had been.

The responses received have been very positive and have expressed appreciation for the field services provided by the Board. It is believed that the present arrangement for the delivery of services is satisfactory and is working well. The Educational Resource Persons employed by the W.M.S. (W.D.) work closely with the Board of Congregational Life as area staff and are willing to use their educational skills in all areas of congregational life.

In order to improve communication and co-operation with the church, great care is being taken to work through the courts.

- It is regarded as a priority on staff time that they work with the Synod and Presbytery Committees of Congregational Life, or their equivalent.
- With the consent and co-operation of the Synod/Presbytery Committees, assistance is provided for the design and/or carrying out of workshops on planning for congregational life and mission.
- A national conference of Synod and Presbytery Conveners is proposed, to be held once every two or three years.

V. RE: COMMITTEE ON THE CHURCH IN THE WORLD

The Board has given much consideration to this matter and a supplementary report will be presented to the General Assembly.

VI. STUDIES AND STATEMENTS ON ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL ISSUES

NEW AND CONTINUING STUDIES

The Board has instructed its Advisory Committee on Economic and Social Issues to study the following issues during 1976:

- The attitude of Canadians toward their own economic wealth;
- Euthanasia;
- Civil Marriage;
- The effect of mass media advertising on the life patterns of Canadians.

The Committee also comments on the working papers published by the Law Reform Commission of Canada, keeps a watch on development in the field of Corrections, and is involved with other Canadian non-governmental organizations represented at the Habitat Conference and Forum at Vancouver.

IMMIGRATION

There are indications that before the end of 1976 a draft Bill for a new Immigration Act will come to the committee stage in Parliament. The Joint Parliamentary Committee on Immigration Policy issued its report in the fall of 1975, following the public forums which were held across Canada and the receiving of briefs submitted in discussion and comment on the issues. It is reported that there will be no White Paper on Immigration, although the Minister of Manpower and Immigration hopes to present a formal policy statement on national population goals "to Parliament during the debate on the new Immigration Bill", and the statement will be "offered to the Provinces for their comments and contributions". Regarding Canadian immigration policy, the view is generally accepted that Canada's population and immigration policy for the future should be part of planning by the Government, with maximum citizen participation, for a new economic and social order for Canada and for the world beyond our borders.

The Board will endeavour to keep the Church informed of developments in this area, and the subject will come in for consideration in the Adult Mission Study materials for 1976-77 on "Canadian Concerns, Christian Response".

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

The Board noted that the 93rd General Assembly had passed a resolution favouring the abolition of capital punishment. In response to the Board's study paper on the subject, five Presbyteries favoured abolition, one was undecided and one reported that it had studied the subject but took no position. Two Sessions favoured abolition and one was undecided.

The Board then went on record supporting the abolition of capital punishment and resolved to inform all members of the House of Commons of this decision and of the mind of the 93rd Assembly.

MARRIAGE CEREMONY GUIDELINES

The Board of Evangelism and Social Action made an initial report to the General Assembly in 1973 (A&P, pages 268-270) in answer to an Overture from the Presbytery of West Toronto (see A&P 1972, page 464) asking the Church to give a positional statement of the meaning of Christian marriage service and to suggest guidelines to bring about a more consistent practice throughout the Church.

Four study papers on Marriage Guidelines were forwarded to the courts, and to the ministers of the Church for guidance to ministers in the conduct of weddings. In the replies from the courts and churches, a request was made for more definite guidelines (A&P 1975, page 343) on the subject of marriage, divorce and remarriage. There was some consensus that the guidelines should be established by the Presbyteries, not General Assembly. Therefore, we offer in this report the ingredients from which the Presbyteries may develop in their own guidelines. In addition we present recommendations which relate to other aspects of this topic.

Suggested Ingredients for Marriage Ceremony Guidelines

1. When a couple requests a minister of the Presbyterian Church in Canada to participate in the marriage ceremony with a clergyman of the Roman Catholic Church (or any other Church) in an inter-faith marriage, the decision to participate should be left to the conscience of the minister concerned.
2. Where it is known that a minister of the Christian Church – not necessarily Presbyterian, but of any Christian faith – has declined to perform a marriage for any reason, then the second minister consulted should consider the desirability of conferring with the first minister to determine if there is a valid reason why the ceremony should not be performed.
3. Sessions should be encouraged to assist and consult with the minister, when advisable and desired, on action to be taken in dealing with problem cases, i.e. those persons coming to require the services of the Church, and the blessing of Christian marriage, who may have no relationship to the Church, or where an ethical situation may exist which could cause embarrassment, either to the congregation or the minister concerned.
4. Congregations themselves should set up pre-marital counselling courses for couples, especially younger persons who seek marriage within the Church.
5. Session should share responsibility with the minister in deciding who should, or should not, use the facilities of the Church for the marriage ceremony.
6. Ministers and congregations should be encouraged to take preventive steps against the breakdown of marriages by sponsoring and supporting programs of education on the rights, privileges, and responsibilities of marriage.
7. Ministers are encouraged to co-operate in, and take part with, courses on pre-marital counselling, instituted by ministerial associations or councils of churches.
8. Names and addresses of newly married persons who move to another community should be forwarded to the minister residing nearest to the persons concerned.
9. Careful discussions on the sanctity of marriage should be held with those persons, formerly married, and now legally divorced, who come to the Church and to the Christian minister seeking guidance and direction.

ATTENTION is drawn to several additional guidelines embodied in recommendation (b) of the Acts and Proceedings 1973, page 281.

RECOMMENDATION 9.

THAT the Suggested Ingredients for Marriage Ceremony Guidelines be commended to the Presbyteries.

RECOMMENDATION 10.

THAT Presbyteries be encouraged to provide for their members seminars or discussions on marriage for persons who are not church members or adherents; Christian family life; family planning; remarriage of divorced persons; the use of the banns; Canadian divorce law.

RECOMMENDATION 11.

THAT the colleges of our church be encouraged to offer courses and continuing education programs in the theology of marriage and divorce, pre-marital and marriage counselling.

ABORTION: THE LIFE AND HEALTH OF THE MOTHER AS THE CRITERION

"(1) Everyone who, with intent to procure the miscarriage of a female person – is guilty of an indictable offence –;

(2) Every female person who, being pregnant, with intent to procure her own miscarriage, uses any means – is guilty of an indictable offence – ;

Subsections (1) and (2) do not apply – if, before the use of those means, the therapeutic abortion committee – stated that in its opinion the continuation of the pregnancy of such female person would or would be likely to endanger her life or health – " (THE CRIMINAL CODE OF CANADA, SECTION 327)

In the present state of gynecology and obstetrics the danger of a woman's death through complications arising from pregnancy is rare indeed, nor are there many occasions when it is indicated that the continuation of pregnancy might result in the mother's permanent physical impairment. Neverthless many abortions occur – abortions authorized by legally constituted therapeutic abortion committees.

The issue is in what is meant by "life" and "health". In this debate the question is whether "life" ought to mean more than simply being alive, with consideration being given to the threat of an unwanted pregnancy to a woman's total life; in relation to her family, her work or her environment. On this side of the argument it is pointed out that there are circumstances that may not be "life-threatening" but can be "life-devastating".

In the same way "health" may be seen to include questions of social or economic well-being. Further, the question is whether the health of the foetus ought not to be taken into consideration. If it is indicated that there is a 50% chance that a child will be born deformed, deficient or with a lethal disease, what then? Or if there is the likelihood of being neglected, abandoned or deprived, should this not be taken into account?

Far from being academic questions, these factors are at work in the emotion-charged struggle of any woman who considers having an abortion. It is a struggle to decide what is right, what is best, and whether the right and the best are in conflict. The questions of rights involves the question of quality of life. An unwanted pregnancy may be seen as a threat to a woman's right to a certain quality of life that she possesses or is attempting to acquire. If a foetus seems to be unhealthy, has it not a right to be healthily born or not to be born at all?

The 93rd General Assembly (1967) stated, in a resolution reaffirmed in 1972 by the 98th General Assembly, that "an abortion involves a decision fraught with serious moral and spiritual implications". Among these implications must be affirmed the fundamental right to live. This principle must be seen to obtain also for the unborn. There is no point in time when it can be asserted that the foetus does not qualify as human life. It is unseen, unconscious, dependent and perhaps unwanted, but these are not ground for its termination.

In view of this fundamental right it is proper to conclude that the interpretations of "life" and "health" must be strict. In the case of the word "life" it ought to have the plain meaning of life as distinct from death, and that danger to life means the danger that the person might die. The claim of danger to "health" is more complex in fact there is no way to produce a catalogue of "disease states" or conditions that constitute medical indications for abortion. The law provides that therapeutic abortion committees should make the decision in a given case and that these committees be accountable to the Minister of Health of the Province. It is proper that they decide and that they be accountable.

RECOMMENDATION 12.

THAT the statement "Abortion: The Life and Health of the Mother as the Criterion" be referred to Presbyteries and Congregations for study and comment back to the Board of Congregational Life before January 31, 1977.

OVERTURE #11 (A&P 1975, page 432)

Presbytery of Temiskaming – "to take steps to re-examine the church's position on the subject of abortion placing emphasis on the fact of life before birth."

RECOMMENDATION 13.

THAT the Overture #11 be granted in terms of recommendation #12 and the statement "Abortion: The Life and Health of the Mother as the Criterion".

OVERTURE #16 – PRESBYTERY OF CALGARY-MACLEOD (A&P 1975, page 435)

"The Presbyterian Church in Canada insist that the Canadian Medical Association set up a commission to make a study as to why so many 'legal' abortions are being performed in Canada today and to see if there are any abuses occurring under the present abortion legislation"; "study how the life of the unborn human being can be legally protected"; "insist that the Government of Canada substitute the present definition of health as applied to abortion to 'the health of the mother being seriously impaired or damaged'; the socio-economic facts should be completely removed as a reason for abortion."

RECOMMENDATION 14.

THAT Overture #16 be granted in the following terms:

a) the study mentioned in section 1 of the prayer of the Overture would seem to be covered in the terms of reference of a Federal Committee to study the Abortion Law in Canada which was set up by an Order in Council in the fall of 1975;

b) the life of the unborn already has rights in law, and the protection of these rights is the responsibility of therapeutic abortion committees which are accountable to provincial ministers of health;

c) Recommendation #12 and the statement "Abortion: The Life and Health of the Mother as the Criterion" be regarded as our interim reply.

"The Presbyterian Church in Canada urge the Government of Canada to make a study of the possibility of increasing our small population by encouraging married couples to either have more children or to offer foster homes to children who would have been legally aborted, and by offering fairly substantial help to these families, which would be cheaper than continuing the present costly abortion program."

RECOMMENDATION 15.

THAT the Overture #15 be NOT granted because:

a) we do not favour encouraging large increases in family size because Canada's growth rate is better dealt with in terms of a sound population and immigration policy;

b) the task of encouraging families to adopt children or provide foster homes is the responsibility of the churches and social agencies, not the Government of Canada.

ADVERTISING OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES IN CANADA

In response to the opinion survey on advertising of alcoholic beverages conducted by the Board of Congregational Life, replies have been received from church sessions and ministers of congregations, and from individual members. In almost every case it is recommended that advertising of alcoholic beverages be prohibited in the media, especially on T.V.

The response of young people to what they read and see is recognized. The age group of seventeen to nineteen, who in the government's opinion can legally drink, are especially susceptible to the idea that drinking is a part of the good life, and that the brewing industry is to be commended for its magnanimous support of sports, safe-driving and other good things. In actuality, there is little doubt that the actual objective of the industry is to sell its products.

In response to the comments of congregations and individual members, the following action has been taken by the Board:

1. Commendation from the Board of Congregational Life to the Honourable Marc Lalonde for his efforts to deplore and control false and misleading advertising of alcoholic beverages by the brewing industry in Canada;
2. A meeting with the Honourable Marc Lalonde by representatives of the Board of Congregational Life to convey to him the opinions expressed by congregations and presbyteries of the Presbyterian Church in Canada regarding the advertising of alcoholic beverages in the national media; and
3. Commendation of the Premiers of Saskatchewan, New Brunswick and Manitoba for their action in banning the advertising of alcoholic beverages.

PHYSICAL FITNESS

In connection with the report of the Board of Congregational Life, Acts and Proceedings of the 100th General Assembly, 1974, page 77, a motion and amendment, relating to programs of physical fitness and having reference to the LeDain Commission Report on the Non-Medical Use of Drugs, was referred back to the Board of Congregational Life for report.

With reference to these matters the Board of Congregational Life now presents the following:

RECOMMENDATION 16.

THAT the General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada express its satisfaction in the current popular upsurge of interest in healthful recreation, participation sports and programs of physical fitness.

RECOMMENDATION 17.

THAT the General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada encourage governments at every level to promote and facilitate the development of recreational sports and physical fitness, and that congregations be urged to utilize their facilities to promote and support the Government's efforts in these areas.

OVERTURE #22 – PRESBYTERY OF ALGOMA AND NORTH BAY (A&P 1975, page 438)

The Presbytery of Algoma and North Bay urged the establishment of a world food bank as a means of solving the world food problem in underprivileged nations. A paper on "Agricultural Aid for Developing Countries and the Role of the Church" goes beyond the suggestion of a world food bank, as it is only one of several approaches. No single approach will solve the hunger problem and reasonable success can only be hoped for by a variety of approaches.

RECOMMENDATION 18.

THAT the Overture be NOT granted because the establishment of a World Food Bank by itself is too narrow a concept, and that the Paper, "Agricultural Aid for Developing Countries and the Role of the Church", be commended to Presbyteries and Congregations.

LOTTERIES

Several provincial governments have recently enacted legislation to permit the wider use of lotteries including those sponsored by government itself. The chief reasons for this development are that there is wide public acceptance of lotteries, it is desirable that they come under regulation and control, and that they provide revenue for worthwhile programs.

The churches have traditionally opposed lotteries, usually lumping them in with gambling in all its forms, and this was the case in the Statement on Gambling of the 80th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada (1954).

Distinctions should be made, however. There are forms of gambling in which players are pitted against each other and each sets out to beggar his neighbour, to enrich himself at someone else's expense. There are gamblers who become addicted and become involved in various types of gambling on a continuous basis. The money and time they expend may become damaging to themselves and their family; their entire personalities may fall victim to the constant quest for large winnings. There are forms of gambling that become coercive, in which people are made to think that unless they invest in the office pool they will be ostracised; and some kinds of gambling have fallen under the control of organized crime.

Regulated lotteries do not have most of these characteristics. The buyer of a lottery ticket is not as obviously setting out to enrich himself at someone else's expense; at least the people who contribute to his winnings are spread around through the population. A lottery is less likely to take on the obsessive qualities of people who gamble day in out, since a lottery draw comes up less frequently (in the case of the Ontario-sponsored lottery, it is every two weeks). So this activity is less likely to evoke the old song, "Don't play bingo tonight, Mother". There is also less likelihood of lotteries taking on a coercive character. Customers may not feel under pressure to buy a ticket, although improper advertising could give the impression of glamour, that ticket-buying is the thing to do or that winning is a sure thing. At the moment, the Ontario Lottery Commission has sought to keep its advertising and promotion free from this kind of misrepresentation. Finally, regulated lotteries would probably have sufficient safeguards against manipulation or criminal infiltration and they might even attract money that might otherwise be invested in illegal gambling activities.

Even with careful regulations and administration, there are several reasons why the church's traditional opposition to lotteries should stand.

1. Governments which derive part of their revenue from lotteries thereby evade a responsibility, a responsibility shared by the people they govern, to budget for their proposed expenditures in a proper manner. Instead of telling the public that a worthwhile program will cost so many dollars with the cost of it to be shared by equitable taxation, the government decides that these will be supported at the whim of people who buy lottery tickets.
2. The proportion of the revenue that actually goes to the desired program is not very high. In January 1976 the Ontario Lottery Corporation calculated that Wintario revenue was allocated as follows:

   Prizes – 38%
   Sales Commissions – an average of 12½%
   Administration – 7½%
   The net profit – approximately 42%
   This was the amount turned over to a consolidated revenue fund for distribution in the form of grants to sports, recreation and cultural organizations in the Province of Ontario.
3. It is an uncertain method of raising revenue. If the novelty wore off, or if a more attractive lottery came along, (recent sales of Irish Sweepstake tickets have declined in Canada because of the Olympic or provincial lotteries) revenues would decline. At that point, administration costs could rise as the sponsor spends more money on advertising and promotion.
4. An undesirable message is conveyed to its people by a government that sponsors or condones lotteries on a wide scale. The message is: that the Government has decided that investing in lotteries is all right.

   It is often argued today that law must be responsive to the desires of the public. In this case, if the public wants lotteries, lotteries they must have. Another and more dangerous attitude is that if something bad is going on and is out of control it should be legislated in order to bring it under control. The Bible regarded the law as the expression of God's will for His people (Matthew 5: 17-20; 22: 34-40). The nation as well as the individual stood under the obligation to obey God's law and the nation was implicated in the sins of its people (Deuteronomy 8: 17-20; Proverbs 14: 34). Government therefore has the responsibility to legislate in such a way as to give positive direction to its people. An editorial in the "Christian Century" of December 11, 1974 said, "Governments are commissioned to enhance the public well-being, not to exploit its weaknesses". Speaking at the 5th U.N. Conference on Crime in September 1975, Mr. Bill McGrath, Director of the Canadian Corrections Association, said, "If my reading of public sentiment is accurate, many people are coming to recognize that only a firm moral code can provide stability for society and a sense of security for the individual. . .We must develop a firm philosophical foundation from which to operate and it must be based on moral conviction".

5. The use of lotteries may have an unfortunate effect upon the people participating. This may be so in spite of recent surveys indicating that provincial lotteries are not necessarily a tax on the poor since purchasers of tickets come from all economic levels, and in spite of other surveys indicating a casual approach which most people bring to their involvement in lotteries. The potential danger lies in the illusory aspect of lotteries:
   a) For some people at least there is the illusion of fantasy: they say in effect, "What I couldn't do with all that money!"
   b) There is the desperation of some participants who say in effect, "I just have to win in order to keep my head above water!"
   c) There is the illusion of "giving to a good cause" But it is not giving in any Biblical sense of that term. There is still in it the aspect of getting something for nothing. King David once had this opportunity presented to him. He could have accepted the gift of an altar in order to make sacrifice. The offer was made by a grateful man. But David said, "No, I will buy it from you; I will not offer to the Lord my God offerings that have cost me nothing."
   d) Lotteries provide an illusion that would distract us from the view that our needs are provided by God's providence and the works of our hands.

RECOMMENDATION 19.

THAT the statement on Lotteries be commended to the Presbyteries and Congregations for study and action.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. K. DENTON TAYLOR,
Chairman

W. L. YOUNG,
Secretary

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MINISTRY

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The first "operational" year (1975) of the Board of Ministry was highlighted by consultations with half the presbyteries, the production of a blueprint for guidance and counselling of candidates for the ministry, the appointment of Miss Margaret Henderson, B.A., at mid-year as Administrative Assistant, and a consultation on the training of professional church workers with representatives of the three colleges and others.

The first half of 1976 has been marked by career development workshops in Vancouver, Toronto, and Montreal; by a decision of the Institutional Chaplaincies Committee to become a committee of the Board of Ministry; by a consultation with the Board of Education as instructed by last year's General Assembly; by the production of Guidelines for Filling Pulpit Vacancies; and by major attention to recruitment needs in the face of a high rate of retirements from the active ministry.

Margaret Henderson's first task upon taking up her duties last July was to put the Continuing Education Support Program on an operational basis by updating the information on courses, by publicising the scheduled events and available support, by making Continuing Education Cassettes available to professional church workers, by administering the NDF Support for Continuing Education, and by representing our Church at various ecumenical and international continuing education meetings.

In addition, Miss Henderson provides upon request a recruitment service and preliminary screening of clerical staff for 50 Wynford Drive; has assumed staff responsibility for the Personnel Committee of the Board, and for the Task Force on the Order of Deaconesses; and has made it possible for the Board to develop the various programs it has been called upon to provide.

Her services are much appreciated by the Board of Ministry and by the many church workers who have received assistance from her.

It is expected that consultations with at least ten more presbyteries will be held in the balance of 1976. Last year's consultations proved most valuable, and much of the policy and practice of the Board of Ministry has been directly influenced by the suggestions of presbyteries.

The presbyteries have also had a large share in shaping the proposal entitled, Guidance and Supportive Counselling of Candidates for the Ministry of Word and Sacrament, which forms part of this report.

Consultation with Representatives of the Board of Education on the Reception of Ministers from Other Churches. [A. & P. 1975, p. 59]

The consultation requested by the 1975 General Assembly was held in conjunction with the Board of Ministry's annual meeting, March 25, 1976.

The Board of Education examines the academic and professional credentials of ministers from other denominations applying for admission to this Church, but has often been expected to consider other factors by presbyteries that have not exercised their responsibility to carefully examine such applicants. The guidance conference proposal, if adopted by the Church, will be useful in assessing the non-academic factors for the assistance of presbyteries in their work of examining applicants.

The consultation considered the matter of setting a standard examination for such applicants, but at this time did not recommend such a course. However, presbyteries may obtain recommendations of suitable examinations and reading lists for such applicants from the Board of Education.

Vancouver School of Theology

The Vancouver School of Theology was the subject of various resolutions by the synod and presbyteries of British Columbia which were forwarded to the Board of Ministry for consideration. The Board passed a motion stating that, "since the Vancouver School of Theology is now in process of being accredited by the Association of Theological Schools, the Board of Ministry call this to the attention of the Board of Education so that its graduates may be received into the ministry of our Church on the same basis as the graduates of other accredited institutions".

The Board also appointed a committee to consider, in consultation with the Synod of British Columbia, the implications and possible forms of participation in the Vancouver School of Theology.

The Joint Committee on the Financial Support for Church Ministries

The constitution of the Board calls for a meeting of this committee to be called annually by the Personnel Committee. [A. & P. 1973, p. 452, 4.(v)]. In view of the fact that the Administrative Council had this matter actively under advisement, with recommendations to the General Assembly, no meeting was held in 1975. The Board has requested the Personnel Committee to call such a meeting this year.

Guidelines for Filling Pulpit Vacancies

The 1974 General Assembly instructed the Board of Ministry and the Board of Congregational Life to develop such guidelines. A joint committee under the chairmanship of the Rev. Irwin McElwain, has produced a worthy document. The Board of Ministry intends to distribute it to interim moderators and presbytery clerks requesting comments and suggestions for a future edition.

A Proposal for the Guidance and Supportive Counselling of Candidates for the Ministry of Word and Sacrament

I. Preamble

The 1973 General Assembly instructed the Board of Ministry, "to bring to the next Assembly a blueprint for a continuing program of screening and supportive counselling of candidates for ministry, for the guidance of presbyteries and colleges". [A. & P. 1973, p. 334]

The Board of Ministry sees this task as a first step in the Church's supportive role to all its professional workers. In addition to this initial "supportive counselling" must be a similar service to those ministers and others who are settled in their work but who desire counsel from outside the local situation, as well as to those not so settled and who are questioning their ministry.

The object of the plan being put forward is not to be all-wise and all-seeing into the future. It will not look for full maturity in candidates, nor will it seek to ferret out weaknesses.

Basically, its goal will be to assess potential, encourage the development of ministerial candidates, and give assistance and support to those who are entering upon the high calling of the holy ministry.

II. Preparation of Candidates for Presbytery Certification

Section 202 of the Book of Forms enjoins sessions and presbyteries to recruit suitable candidates for the ministry, and to exercise a kind and faithful supervision over them.

The next section, 203, deals with examination of candidates before certification to a college senate.

The following plan is intended to come between the precare outlined in section 202 and the certification of section 203. It is not intended to replace the "kind and faithful supervision" by sessions and presbyteries, nor the examination of candidates by presbyteries, but to provide an assessment to presbyteries before certification takes place. It will provide a procedure to assist presbyteries in fulfilling their responsibilities towards all who present themselves as per section 203, Book of Forms.

(a) Preliminary Certification

It is proposed that during the precare counselling the presbytery will give the candidate preliminary certification to one of the colleges. The candidate would then become eligible for assistance from that college.

(b) Full Certification

When a candidate is ready for full certification as a candidate for the ministry of Word and Sacrament the presbytery will give the candidate an application form to attend a guidance conference. Candidates will ordinarily attend a guidance conference before entering theological college.

When the name of the director of the conference is known, the presbytery will provide the director with initial impressions of the candidate and any comments there may be about the stage of development of the candidate, or about what the presbytery might be looking for from the conference in this particular instance.

If the presbytery agrees, the candidate may apply for full certification without preliminary certification.

When the candidate is ready to do so he or she will send the application to the Board of Ministry, which in turn will plan to include the candidate in a guidance conference.

III. The Guidance Conference

The role of the Board of Ministry staff will not include being part of the staff of guidance conferences, but will be limited to organizing the conferences.

It is proposed that a series of guidance conferences be held with at least six candidates at each, together with three counsellors of whom one shall serve as director, and with an additional observer-in-training when possible. At least two of the three counsellors shall be ordained ministers, at least one of these being a parish minister. The third counsellor shall be a person qualified or experienced in interviewing and/or personality assessment. As far as possible, counsellors should be obtained from the synod or region in which the conference is held.

Where twelve or more candidates attend a conference, the director shall be in addition to the three counsellors, and shall be an ordained minister.

A task force set up by the Board of Ministry will select the counsellors and director in consultation with the colleges and the presbyteries concerned. Choice of counsellors and directors will be from among active and experienced church members, known for their mature faith and judgment, and possessing a biblical understanding of ministry.

The guidance conference will normally last up to two days, followed by a one-day meeting of the counsellors and director comparing and reviewing the various assessments and other data, and preparing a report on each applicant.

The application form will include such biographical information as is helpful; as well as references, one of which will be the candidate's own minister. Written tests may be required following the conference, in doubtful cases, for confirmation or otherwise of the findings of the conference.

(a) The Conference Programme

The programme will consist of two parts which will alternate throughout the guidance conference. One part will consist of group activities; the other will consist of private interviews.

(i) The group activities will begin with a general get-acquainted-discussion group following the welcome and remarks of the director, and dinner as a group.

Six candidates will form a "committee" which will be given six controversial subjects to discuss. Each candidate will have one opportunity to act as chairman and five as a committee member. Each participant will be observed and rated by all three counsellors for each of the six meetings of the "committee".

(ii) The private interviews will begin for each individual with an interview of an hour or more with one of the counsellors. Later, another interview of similar length will be held with the other two counsellors together. The interviews themselves are intended to be non-judgmental and supportive in nature, encouraging the candidate to express himself or herself in giving reasons for seeking to enter the ministry and in describing his or her spiritual pilgrimage to the present time.

Up to this point the counsellors have not compared notes. They will, however, speak with the director about each candidate. The director will complete the private interviews by meeting with each candidate, having in mind the areas to explore as suggested by the other counsellors' comments.

(b) The Criteria of Assessment

Criteria of assessment in the group activities, and in the private interviews, will be first and foremost, evidence of faith in and commitment to Jesus Christ; and some sense of call to enter His ministry. Then some evidence of gifts for the ministry (although these may still be embryonic) will be looked for. The potential of the candidate will be assessed in such areas as: relating to others with respect and caring, gifts of expression or ability to communicate; a reasonably stable personality; a sense of humour; and in general the gifts of mind and heart required in the ministry. The potential of the person as a whole will be assessed. Individuals might be rated, for purposes of conferring among the counsellors only, on a scale such as:

(1) unsuitable; (2) somewhat deficient; (3) satisfactory; (4) very satisfactory; (5) outstanding potential.

Precisely how this will be done must of course be left to the counsellors who have been chosen for their wisdom and experience.

The most exacting part of the program will be after the candidates have returned home and the counsellors confer at length and review all the data. The final reports will be written at this time.

The chapter on examining candidates for ordination to the ministry in the Form of Presbyterial Church Government is apropos here:

> "That the party examined be dealt withal in a brotherly way, with mildness of spirit, and with special respect to the gravity, modesty, and quality of every one".

This spirit and goal is what is hoped for in the guidance conference.

IV. The Report

First a recommendation will be sent to the presbytery for or against full certification. In the latter case there will be a further suggestion as to whether the candidate should re-apply another year to another guidance conference with different counsellors. In the former case the presbytery will proceed to make its own assessment of the candidate.

The report on each individual arising from the guidance conference will contain observations designed to assist the colleges and presbyteries in their oversight of the candidates. The report will be released by the Board of Ministry only as follows:

First, to the candidate, who may challenge any aspect of it, or if not wishing to proceed with certification, withdraw it from any further circulation. Otherwise the candidate will sign one copy to be shown by the Board of Ministry, and only upon request, to the convener of the appropriate committee of the candidate's home presbytery; to a follow-up counsellor; to the principal of the college to which the candidate is certified.

The report will be clearly marked, "Do Not Copy", and will be returned to the candidate's file in the Board of Ministry's personnel records. In accordance with existing practice, the report will be returned to the individual at any time upon request.

Opportunities should be provided by the examining presbytery for the financé(cée) or spouse of the candidate to be included in the presbytery interview(s) prior to full certification. Such inclusion might be helpful if the presbytery requires further information or perspective.

Should the recommendation of the conference be contrary to the opinion of the presbytery, it will then serve as a cautionary note. The presbytery may wish to confer with the director of the conference verbally to make sure that the presbytery is not overlooking an important area of concern before making its decision.

V. Follow-up Counselling

Following the guidance conference, a counsellor will be assigned by the director to each candidate in consultation with that candidate.

The follow-up counselling will be a most important part of the guidance process regardless of whether the conference recommends that the presbytery give full certification to the candidate or otherwise. In the former case it will provide supportive counselling during a period of development, and formation of an understanding of the ministry. In the latter case, the counsellor can help the candidate in his decision whether to re-apply at a future date, or to seek another area of service, or to appeal to the home presbytery to certify him in spite of the recommendation. The candidate's spouse should be included in this follow-up counselling.

The candidate could be certified by his or her home presbytery, attend college in another presbytery, and have a summer appointment in yet another presbytery. Some continuity would be desirable in the counsellor chosen. While preference would be given to the home presbytery, the counsellor could be from any of these presbyteries, or from among the counsellors of the conference. It might be the candidate's own minister if that were feasible. The counsellor shall, however, report each year to the home presbytery before the annual renewal of the certification. The employing presbytery also shall send a short report of the candidate's work within its bounds to the home presbytery and recommend re-certification or otherwise.

Some member(s) of the home presbytery should keep in touch with the candidate by mail if geographical separation prevents the candidate from visiting the presbytery.

Renewal of certification will not require attendance at a further guidance conference, except at the request of the presbytery.

The name of the follow-up counsellor shall be given to the principal of the college concerned.

VI. In the event that this proposal is adopted by the Church after a trial period:

(1) Presbyteries or the Board of Education could require attendance at a guidance conference of any ordained minister seeking admission to the ministry of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, but all such from other than Presbyterian or Reformed Churches would be required to attend a guidance conference.

(2) Graduates from colleges or seminaries other than those of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, and students in such institutions, not certified to one of our colleges, would be required to attend guidance conferences from which recommendations would be sent to the presbyteries before such candidates could be taken on trials for licence.

(3) Certification and annual re-certification would become the prerogative and responsibility of the candidate's home presbytery.

(4) The Clerks of Assembly would be asked to advise the Church on any changes which this proposal would require in the Book of Forms.

(5) The Board of Ministry would then prepare a plan for the guidance and supportive counselling of candidates for the diaconate for presentation to a future General Assembly.

VII. Background Considerations

The Board of Ministry and its task force studied available literature on the subject, and especially the programs of the Church of Scotland, and of the Center for Professional Development in Ministry in Lancaster, Pa. The latter is directed by the Rev. Thomas E. Brown, a minister of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., who provides a candidate-evaluation program for several denominations. The former is directed by Dr. Murdo Ewen MacDonald, professor of practical theology in Trinity College, Glasgow.

These two gentlemen presented their programs at a meeting of the task force with representatives of presbyteries, colleges, and other General Assembly Boards. (A tape of these presentations is available for study upon request to the Board of Ministry Office.)

The blueprint outlined above is similar in form to the Scottish Selection School, with content from the Lancaster program. The whole, however, is adapted to the Canadian Presbyterian situation, and as such has significant distinctions from both the programs studied.

It seemed to the task force that the Church of Scotland program emphasizes the protection of the Church, or the "assessment" aspect of the task, although not exclusively so; whereas the Lancaster program emphasizes the protection of the candidate, or the "supportive counselling" aspect of the task. It is to be hoped that these two are not in conflict, and that what is good for the candidate will be good for the Church, and vice versa.

The selection process requires that candidates for the ministry be assessed for their suitability. Let it be said at the outset that the object is not to stereotype the ministry or to bar, for example, eccentrics from the ministry. God forbid! Rather it is to avoid the all-too-common occurrence of candidates approaching completion of theological college and finding at that late stage that they are unemployable, that the Church finds them unsuited to the ministry. This is not fair to the candidates. Here the "supportive counselling" aspect of the task, had it been used at an early stage, would have served the interests of the candidate and of the Church.

The presbyteries' difficulty seems to be that of turning down a local candidate. In some instances it is left to the college or perhaps the Board of World Mission to discover if he or she is a suitable candidate. But the presbytery has the responsibility in this matter. The purpose here is to provide the presbytery with an objective recommendation by a group of counsellors, before making its decision.

The candidates' difficulty on the other hand is frequently reported to be the lack of pastoral support during and following the discovery of and response to his call. Many of us can remember that our only contacts with the presbytery were when we were to be judged: first for certification as candidates, then usually a few years later for licensing and again for ordination. During and in between these events there is need for a continuing pastoral care of the candidates. Where this is lacking, one of the results may be a lack of pastoral concern on the part of the candidate during his or her ministerial career.

While few would dispute the Church's responsibility for a caring ministry towards those called to serve professionally within her ranks, some would question the Church's right to assess a candidate's suitability. Is this not an intrusion into an area that concerns only the individual and God?

Dr. M. MacDonald in his address referred to above, paraphrased Gregory the Great somewhat as follows on the subject of the call. There are a number of levels of the call. First is the secret call from God to the individual which no one can dispute. Secondly, there is the providential call, in which the circumstances of providence, e.g., family situation, or matters of health or the like, give the green light or otherwise to the call to the ministry. Thirdly, there is the vocational call. A particular vocation requires certain prerequisites, including academic and other criteria which may be evaluated. And this is related to the fourth level – the ecclesiastical call. The Church has always reserved the right to examine the gifts which must accompany and authenticate the call. The Church is interested in the secret call but does not judge it. It is in the other levels of the call that the Church evaluates the suitability of the candidate. The presbytery actually makes the assessment decisions through certification. The foregoing is a plan for providing presbyteries with an independent assessment.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That in consultation with the colleges, the Board of Ministry initiate guidance conferences for candidates for the ministry of Word and Sacrament and report to the 1977 and 1978 General Assemblies after evaluation of the project by the Board in consultation with the colleges and presbyteries concerned, as well as with the counsellors and candidates.
2. That presbyteries be enjoined to forward to the Board of Ministry the names and addresses of all candidates for the ministry within their care, and that for the purposes of the initial conferences, a selection from among these will be made in consultation with the presbyteries and colleges concerned.
3. That the above report on the consultation with the Board of Education be the answer to the request of the 101st General Assembly.
4. That the General Assembly concur in the action of the Institutional Chaplaincies Committee in requesting that it become a committee of the Board of Ministry.
5. That the Board of Ministry constitution be amended to include in its membership, two representatives to be named annually by the Institutional Chaplaincies Committee, observing the normal three-year and six-year rules.
6. That the Board of Ministry be responsible to the General Assembly for the revision of the regulations governing the NDF Support for Continuing Education.

THE REPORT OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH BUILDING CORPORATION

The Presbyterian Church Building Corporation continues to serve the Church wherever it is requested to help congregations in financing church buildings or in making improvements to their present buildings.

There are thirty-five congregations paying off debentures on their behalf at rates of interest from 6% to 7¾%. In this period of high interest rates the directors of the Corporation are grateful that the debenture issues have proven so valuable over the years.

The Corporation is now able to guarantee bank loans to congregations, and are at present, granting an interest free loan to the congregations whose loans are guaranteed on the basis of 2% if the bank interest rate exceeds 8% per annum. There are ten bank loans guaranteed at present and a number of congregations are taking advantage of the interest assistance loans.

A few congregations have found difficulty in meeting their debenture payments during the year, while some have reduced their arrears. In each case of default the Corporation consults with the Presbytery and when requested, with the congregation which is in default. When it is necessary, the Corporation advances the money and thus preserves the credit of the Church, the Congregation and the Corporation.

The Corporation records its thanks to the congregations for their efforts to meet their obligations and also to those Presbyteries who have come to the aid of congregations experiencing difficulty.

Nine congregations are in arrears to a total amount of $73,872.11. This is a net reduction of $22,039.50 for the year. The Corporation records its gratitude to those congregations who paid off their arrears or reduced them during the year.

Statement of Mortgages and Bank Loans

	Original Loans	Balance at Dec. 31, 1975
Mortgage Principal (debentures)	$3,384,500	$1,255,902
Guaranteed Bank Loans	1,693,467	413,804
Interest Assistance Loans	—	4,560
	$5,077,967	$1,674,266

The Directors of the Corporation have given careful consideration to the needs of the Church and to areas in which the Corporation might extend its service. It is their intention to make available to congregations, as the need arises, the names of church-interested experts throughout our Church in Canada, who would be competent to advise congregations in matters of law, finance and building etc. The Directors are also concerned about the need for accommodation for senior citizens who need some special care and will continue to study this need.

The Directors of the Corporation, aware of the report of the Committee on Housing for Retired Ministers of the Administrative Council, discussed at some length the implications of that Committee's recommendations, and agreed, that if the General Assembly in its wisdom requested the Building Corporation to undertake responsibility in the field of assisting ministers with problems of housing accommodation at the time of retirement, they would be willing to do so.

NOMINATION OF DIRECTORS

The by-laws of the Corporation provide that "Directors shall be elected annually by the General Assembly from nominees of the Directors." We, therefore, submit the following recommendations:

1. That Mr. R. H. Carley, Q.C., Mr. A. L. Caldwell, Q.C., the Hon. M. B. Dymond, M.D., and Mr. J. D. Finney be re-elected directors of the Corporation for the next four years.

2. That Dr. J. D. Mundie, Ph.D., be elected a director of the Corporation for the next three years.
3. That Mr. D. A. Carman be elected a director of the Corporation for the next four years.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ANNUAL REPORT THE COMMITTEE ON CHURCH ARCHITECTURE

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The function of the Committee on Church Architecture is to advise Presbyteries and congregations regarding the suitability of plans and cost estimates for proposed church buildings. The Committee met several times last year to consider and comment on plans for proposed buildings throughout the country. The submission of preliminary sketch plans, as requested in 'Guidelines for Planning A Church', has enabled the Committee to comment at the critical early stages of the planning process.

The Committee is concerned that any congregation contemplating a building project; be it new building, addition, alteration, or redevelopment project should be most careful to do the preliminary thinking about the concept of what kind of building is most suitable for present and future needs of the congregation and the community in which it is situated. There appears to be a growing trend for congregations to consider developing worship facilities in conjunction with other functions; i.e. day care; social service agencies; senior citizens housing; other congregations; commercial uses; etc. This mixture can be beneficial to both congregation and community, but it can also impose functional and financial responsibilities on the congregation. The Committee is taking steps to be of service to Presbyteries and congregations in this area, and requests early consultation.

The Committee wishes to remind congregations that as the cost of building continues to escalate, continuous maintenance against deterioration, and adequate insurance valuation against disaster such as fire, is the only way to exercise responsible stewardship over the physical facilities in our care.

The Committee held a one day meeting in April to tour some new church buildings and discuss policy and operation for next year. The Committee proposes two regular meetings, in October and March. An executive has been appointed to consider submissions made at other times of the year.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That the General Assembly request Presbyteries to exercise close oversight of congregations which contemplate building expenditures, with a view to establishing adequate procedures leading toward the planning processes (both architectural and financial).
2. That Presbyteries be requested again to bring to the attention of congregations the need for adequate insurance and preventative maintenance.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON INTER-CHURCH RELATIONS

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Inter-Church Relations Committee held three meetings during the year. We beg to report the following:

DELEGATES TO GENERAL ASSEMBLIES

The Committee agreed to adopt the policy of inviting to our Assemblies a representative of the Canadian Bible Society, the Canadian Council of Churches, the local ministerial, and the Mayor, or his/her designate. These persons would be invited to attend the Monday night banquet, and invited to speak to the plenary session following. In addition representatives would be invited from the following Churches through their General Secretaries: The United Church, the Anglican Church, the Baptist Convention, the Roman Catholic Church, the Lutheran Church and the Christian Reformed Church. These representatives would be invited to the banquet and introduced at the plenary session. In addition a rotating system would be set up so that a representative from the Church of Scotland, the North American Area Alliance of Reformed Churches, and one from other Churches such as The Presbyterian Church in Ireland, the United Reformed Church of England, the Presbyterian Church in Australia, etc., would be invited on a rotating system so that one of the three groups would be represented once in three years on the average. Notwithstanding the forgoing the Clerks of Assembly are authorized to make other arrangements as the situation may indicate.

RELATIONSHIP WITH THE CANADIAN COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

The 101st General Assembly passed the following resolution:

"That the Committee on Inter-Church Relations be requested to make a study, involving representatives of other Boards and Committees of Assembly, as to the viability of the Canadian Council of Churches, or whether The Presbyterian Church in Canada ought to seek a more effective ecumenical organization; consulting also with other member denominations in the Council regarding their willingness to support the Council financially and morally. In the event that there is no evident support for the Council, the Committee shall recommend an alternate style of Council or Agency for inter-church co-operation and witness."

The Inter-Church Relations Committee considered the resolution, and the matter was discussed at a meeting of the Program Co-Ordinating Committee. The situation with the Council changed drastically shortly after the Assembly met, when Dr. Honey resigned as General Secretary of the Council. Dr. MacDonald attended a meeting in September of the General Secretaries of the Churches related to the Council and the future of the Council was fully explored. The Presbyterians in attendance at the meeting of the General Board of the Council at Chateauguay, October 14-16, 1975 met in caucus and formulated the following statement which was presented to the General Board, and recorded as follows:

"We would recommend that the General Board affirm that the Canadian Council of Churches should continue on its present basis, purpose and functions and that an executive staff of four be appointed.

"We believe a strong Council is essential –

a) to manifest our living unity in Christ;
b) to be a voice of Christian witness to the nation;
c) to carry forward consultations with the Roman Catholic Church towards the formation of a Canadian Christian Council;
d) to maintain the solid work being done by the present Commissions;
e) to provide a body through which other creative expressions of Christian life can be sponsored and co-related."

The General Board of the Canadian Council of Churches agreed that the Council should continue much as it has in recent years, and seek a replacement for Dr. Honey.

In the course of our research of this matter we were reminded that General Assemblies in the past have on more than one occasion affirmed the position of our Church as committed to the ecumenicity of the Christian Churches. The Inter-Church Relations Committee submits the following recommendations:

RECOMMENDATION 1.

That we accept the action of the General Board of the Canadian Council of Churches as a sufficient indication of the viability of the Council, and the intention of the member Churches to support it.

RECOMMENDATION 2.

That the Presbyterian Church in Canada seek to meet its full assessment to the support of the Council (assessed on the basis of the membership numbers of the constituent Churches) as soon as possible, with increases above our present giving of not less than 20% in each of the years 1976 and 1977.

CONVERSATIONS WITH THE UNITED CHURCH OF CANADA

Dr. Joseph MacLelland, Chairman of our delegation to hold conversations with delegates of the United Church, reports as follows:

1) The Special Committee to meet with representatives of the General Council of The United Church of Canada was appointed by authority of the 1975 General Assembly through your Committee, as follows: Wilfred Butcher, Donald Corbett, Allan Farris, Heather Johnston, William Klempa, Donald MacDonald, Lorne MacKay, Joseph McLelland, George Malcolm, DeCourcy Rayner, Stanford Reid.

2) Three meetings were scheduled: November 28-29, February 13-14 and April 23-24. The first two developed agenda en route, including preliminary statements from committee members as to their understanding of the relationship between our two churches, and reports on the variety of ways in which cooperation is carried on at present.

3) Certain areas of agreement were reached:

(a) the need to accept the fact that the effects of the 1925 Church Union Movement continue to condition the self-identity of both churches; and the fact that these events no longer determine our relationship to one another, nor can they be permitted to dictate our present attitudes.

(b) the need to consider the implications of our present degree of co-operation, and to publicize the positive things we do together – e.g. home mission areas (sharing of buildings, programs, clergy, extension work), common policy in chaplaincy work, "zone francophone" in Montreal.

(c) the need to discuss with frankness and in depth our theological likenesses and differences – e.g. what Presbyterians mean by a "confessing" church, and what the United Church understands as its relationship to its "roots"; and whether our common membership in the WARC implies that we are in fact "one divided denomination" rather than two separate churches.

FIFTH ASSEMBLY OF THE WORLD COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

Mrs. Heather Johnston, Chairman of the Committee, and along with Reverend Dr. Donald Smith, our representative to the above Assembly in Nairobi, Kenya, November 23- December 10th, 1975 presents the following report:

This Assembly was the "most representative gathering of Christians in history," with 780 delegates from over 90 countries. The 286 member churches represented more than 500 million people.

Plenary sessions were marked by such outstanding addresses as: "Who is This Jesus Christ Who Frees and Unites", by Dr. Robert McAfee Brown, a Presbyterian from the United States – "From Shackles of Domination And Oppression", by Prime Minister Michael Manley of Jamaica – "Creation, Technology and Human Survival", by Professor Charles Birch, a biologist from Sydney, Australia – "Visible Unity As Conciliar Fellowship", by John Deschner, a U.S. theologian – "Visible Unity" by Bishop M. Arias from Bolivia and Dr. John Stott of Britain – "Women In A Changing World", by Dr. Una Kroll, noted British Physician together with women from the Western and Third world countries.

Nine large blocks of time were devoted to the study of six aspects of the Assembly theme "Jesus Christ Frees and Unites" in the sections

1. Confessing Christ Today
2. What Unity Requires
3. Seeking Community – The Common Search of People of Various Faiths, Cultures, and Ideologies.
4. Education for Liberation and Community
5. Structures of Injustice and Struggles for Liberation
6. Human Development – The Ambiguities of Power, Technology and Quality of Life.

The informal small Bible study groups provided the context for in-depth sharing and interaction with delegates from varied backgrounds, races and traditions. Many statements were issued, many documents produced under great limitations of time. It is important to realize that "what Nairobi means" will be determined by the use made of these documents and statements in the churches. Delegates' reports and some papers are available through the office of the Clerks of the Assembly.

The future ecumenical direction will be determined to a great degree by the responsible commitment of its member churches. The suggestion was made that the minimum contribution to the General Budget of the World Council of Churches be the annual salary of a minister (minimum $7,200 for us). We would urge for a significant increase in our Church's contribution in 1976.

During the closing days of the Assembly, Dr. Philipp Potter, General Secretary of the WCC, provided an image of that Assembly. "The Uppsala Assembly ended on a note of Exodus, liberated to move in some new direction. The mood of Nairobi in '75 is a logical consequence to that earlier Exodus motif. We are now living through the time of the WILDERNESS, the pilgrim people on the march, a people who have not yet arrived at a destination." This image puts us precisely where we are meant to be – God's pilgrim people open to the leading of His Spirit.

NORTH AMERICAN AREA, WORLD ALLIANCE OF REFORMED CHURCHES

The 1976 meeting of the North American Area Council of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches will be held on September 1-3 at Princeton Theological Seminary. Although the Area Council has not met since January, 1975, there have been two meetings of the Administrative Committee. Our Church's representatives on the Administrative Committee are Dr. Donald C. MacDonald and Dr. William Klempa, Recording Secretary.

A visitation to the Caribbean Area on behalf of the Area Council by Dr. William P. Thompson, President of the World Alliance and the Reverend Professor David W. Hay, Moderator of the 101st General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada was arranged for the week of February 8, 1976. Meetings were held with representatives of Reformed and Congregational Churches in Jamaica, Trinidad and Guyana. Professor Hay gave three lectures at the United Theological College in Kingston, Jamaica. One of the results of the visitation was a decision by representatives of the Guyana Presbyterian Church, the Presbytery of Guyana and the Guyana Congregational Union to resume conversations on the establishment of a united Church in Guyana.

The North American Area Council is engaged in conversation with the Roman Catholic Church in the U.S.A., and with the Orthodox and Lutheran Churches. There is a strong possibility of resuming Lutheran-Reformed Conversations in Canada.

A Centennial Consultation will be held in St. Andrew's, Scotland in August, 1977 marking the 100th Anniversary of the founding of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches. The theme of the Consultation will be "The Glory of God and the Future of Man." Several papers on this theme have already been prepared by the Theological Committee including papers by Dr. Arthur C. Cochrane, formerly of Pittsburgh Theological Seminary and Dr. Robert Bater of Queen's University, Kingston.

The Administrative Committee at its two meetings has given much thought to the future of the Alliance. It is the consensus that the first priority of the Alliance is a theological one. The Alliance has a critically important function to perform in making the Christian faith intelligible and in instructing our people in the Reformed tradition. The Alliance can also be an effective body for the coordination of theological study among its member communions.

A history of the Alliance has been written by the former General Secretary, Dr. Marcel Pradervand entitled A CENTURY OF SERVICE. The Alliance has also published Dr. Robert W. Henderson's survey on the eldership called, A Profile of the Eldership: 1974.

The Administrative Committee has appealed to member communions to increase their financial support of the Area Council in the amount of one-quarter cent per communicant member. A small committee with Dr. Arthur R. McKay (convener), Dr. William Klempa and Dr. Douglas Oldenburg has been set up to meet and to study the possibility of raising additional funds for the Area Council and also to consider the matter of reducing the membership of the Council in some way that would produce a saving without affecting adversely the present function and usefulness of the Area Council.

The Area Council meeting in September, 1976 will focus on the theme, "The Glory of God and the Future of Man."

Respectfully submitted

William Klempa,
Convener.

CONVERSATIONS WITH THE COUNCIL OF THE CHRISTIAN REFORMED CHURCHES IN CANADA

Three meetings have been held with representatives of the Christian Reformed Churches in Canada since the last General Assembly. The three topics that were discussed at these meetings were: The Nature and Extent of Biblical Authority, The Charismatic Movement and Neo-Pentecostalism and the Worship of the Church. There has been a fruitful exchange of information and views and there is the desire that these conversations be continued.

Our Church has been represented by Dr. L. H. Fowler, the Reverend J. C. Cooper and Dr. William Klempa. Dr. Fowler resigned last June. Last fall the delegation was strengthened by the addition of the following persons: The Reverend Professor David W. Hay, Moderator of the 101st General Assembly, the Rev. G. Rienks, the Reverend David J. C. Cooper and Mr. James Codling.

At the last meeting held on January 29, 1976 the two delegations adopted the following proposals:

1. To exchange invitations requesting representation at the respective meetings of the General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada and the Council of the Christian Reformed Churches in Canada.
2. That future contact be in the form of faithful exchange of all official documents of The Presbyterian Church in Canada, the Christian Reformed Church of North America and the Council of the Christian Reformed Churches in Canada.
3. That both church bodies encourage local churches and pastors to nurture contacts with their neighbouring counterparts wherever there is sufficient affinity in confession and practice.

In addition the Inter-Church Relations Committee of the Council of the Christian Reformed Churches in Canada promised to disseminate summaries of relevant studies and decisions of The Presbyterian Church in Canada within the Christian Reformed constituency.

Respectfully submitted,

William Klempa,
Acting Convener.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EWART COLLEGE

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

SECTION I: CONCERNS OF THE COLLEGE

In keeping with the practice of past years, the Board of Ewart College wishes to draw the attention of the Commissioners to General Assembly, and the Church as a whole, to certain concerns of the Board which it has had under consideration.

A: Faculty Changes:

1: The 101st General Assembly accepted the resignation of Miss Ada Adams from the Faculty of Ewart College, effective June 30th, 1976. Miss Adams has served in the joint capacity of Dean of Residence and Professor of Christian Education, and Director of Field Education, and has completed 15 years on the Staff of the College. This particular period of service has climaxed a lifetime of distinguished service to the Church and commitment to Jesus Christ. Miss Adams served in Formosa from 1927 to 1941. From 1941 to 1943 she served as Children's Work Secretary of the W.M.S. From 1943 to 1944 she was Director of Christian Education in St. Andrew's, Fort William and the following year served with the Children's Aid Society. From 1945-1950, Miss Adams was Children's Work Secretary of the Maritime Religious Education Council and for the following five year period served on the Staff of the Ontario Council of Christian Education. From 1955 to 1961, she returned to the W.M.S. as Children's Work Secretary, then joining the Faculty of Ewart College in 1961. Her service spans a period of 49 years in various Presbyterian and Ecumenical Christian Education roles. The Board wishes to record its deep appreciation of the valuable service to this College in particular, which has been given so unstintingly and efficiently by Miss Adams. Her concerns and talents will continue to serve the Church both through her own efforts and through the vehicle of the capable and committed graduates who have benefited from her instruction and guidance.

2: The 101st General Assembly authorized the appointment of a successor to Miss Adams and also of an Associate Professor of Religious Studies and Director of Continuing Education. The Executive of the Board circularized the Church relative to these two appointments and established a Search Committee to seek out and interview candidates. The Committee corresponded with those nominated by Presbyteries except in those instances where it was known that academic qualifications and/or practical experience were not suitable. After much deliberation, we are happy to be able to recommend the appointment of Miss Ina Adamson, B.Sc. (H.Ec.), B.Ed., graduate of Ewart College, as Dean of Residence and Director of Field Education. The Board will present a supplementary report to the 102nd General Assembly re the nomination for an Associate Professor of Religious Studies and Director of Continuing Education, following completion of its Search Committee's work.

B: Parity of Salaries

1: The Ewart College Board would draw the attention of the 102nd General Assembly to the following facts relative to the parity of faculty salaries for Professors of our three Church Colleges:

1. Ewart College Faculty classification adopted by General Assembly (A. & P. 1971, pp. 404 and 43) with financial implications to be studied by the Administrative Council.
2. The financial implications were ordered implemented by General Assembly (A. & P. 1972, pp. 327 and 43). Only the first stage of this process was implemented.
3. By 1973, the Committee on Educational Needs took these matters under advisement and thus the implementation of this policy was not proceeded with.
4. The Committee on Educational Needs, in its final report to the Administrative Council in April, 1975, reported on the subject of Salaries of Professors. In that matter, the Committee reported that, "The Committee is of the opinion the same scale should prevail for the faculty of the three Church Colleges".

Therefore, the Board of Ewart College urges the General Assembly to bring professorial salaries at Ewart College up to par with those paid to Professors in Knox College and Presbyterian College as soon as possible. The Academic standing of the Ewart Faculty is comparable to that of the Faculties of our other Colleges, and we fail to see any logical reason for different salary standards.

2: Prior to the 101st General Assembly, Faculty members at Ewart College received the sum of $1,040.00, an amount equal to that received by the Faculty of Knox College and Presbyterian College relative to Tax Equalization payments in relation to housing. The Administrative Council recommended to the 101st General Assembly that this Equalization should be increased to $1,600.00. In the process of events, principally in regard to the confusion caused relative to the efforts to arrive at a concensus between the concerns of Knox College and the Administrative Council, an omnibus recommendation was substituted on the floor of Assembly which dealt with salaries and other allowances for Knox and Presbyterian College Faculties and Board Executive personnel. In this motion, Ewart College Faculty and the Dean of St. Andrew's Hall received a 15% salary increase, without any allowances being mentioned. The Executive of the Ewart Board believes that the Faculty of the College ought to receive a Tax Equalization equal to that of the Professors at the other Colleges, as in the past and as originally recommended by the Administrative Council. However, the Council has interpreted the action of the 101st General Assembly otherwise, and has granted a Tax Allowance to Ewart Faculty lower than the Council originally recommended, in the amount of $1,340.00. We believe this to be unjust, an unfortunate oversight in the structuring of the omnibus motion, and will recommend that the Tax allowance once more be equalized.

C: Resource Fund

A Ewart College Resource Fund was established by the 100th General Assembly for the purpose of "strengthening and expanding the work of the College". Unlike Knox College and Presbyterian College, Ewart College has operated over the years without the aid and assistance of Endowment Funds. The Resource Fund, which will be more fluid than a tightly locked Endowment, will help to redress this imbalance in the financial support of the College. The Executive of the Board named a Resource Fund Committee to publicize the Fund, and the Board accepted its recommendations regarding the establishment of a Special Names Committee. Special brochures have been prepared and circulated. At the time of the preparation of this report, and with a minimum of previous publicity, the Ewart College Resource Fund now stands at $5,300.00. Support of this Fund by interested and concerned parties will greatly assist the work of the College.

D: A Bright Future

Continuing interest in the undergraduate and graduate programmes of the College are evidenced by the fact that by mid-March, 1976, applications for 10 students were being processed for the first year class to begin in September, 1976. In addition, several other applicants were being corresponded with and a number of these may also enter the first year class in the Fall. A few of these are from prospective students in Nigeria. We have also been able to expand our Professional Institutes from one to two this year and at about half the projected costing.

We look forward to a strengthening of this much needed continuing education programme. We also plan to begin a much expanded lay training programme to aid local teachers and leaders at the congregational level through an expanded evening usage of the College facilities.

With increasing numbers of congregations discovering the value of the service offered by our graduates, we envisage a bright and broadening future for Ewart College as it continues to challenge the Church to the great opportunities ahead of it.

SECTION II: THE ACADEMIC PROGRAMME

1. Academic session 1975-76

During the 1975-76 academic session sixteen students were enrolled in fulltime study programmes. Thirteen of these students were undertaking the Degree-diploma programme, working towards a Bachelor of Arts degree in the University of Toronto and concurrently towards the Christian Education diploma of Ewart; three students were undertaking the diploma programme.

The faculty, consisting of Doctor Margaret Webster, Principal; Professor Ada Adams, Dean; and the Reverend Irene Dickson, Professor of Biblical Studies, was assisted by the following sessional lecturers who offered the courses indicated:

Mrs. Carol Kessler, B.F.A.	Director of Ewart College Choir
Rev. W. J. Klempa, M.A., B.D., Ph.D.	Bible and Ethics
Rev. A. G. MacDougall, M.A., S.T.M., Ph.D.	The Church in Mission
Miss Hortense Wasteneys, D.S.W.	Introduction to Social Work; Counselling

The Board acknowledges its indebtedness to the persons (chiefly ministers and deaconesses) who have supervised the practical work of all students during the regular academic year and of second and third year students doing their six-week internship periods.

The Board of the College has also expressed its appreciation to Mr. Henry Rosevear, F.C.C.O., F.T.C.L., who retired at the conclusion of the 1974-75 academic session after twenty-two years of service as Director of the Ewart choir.

2. Continuing and Lay Education

(a) June 1975. A combined continuing and lay education programme, sponsored ecumenically, was offered at the College in June 1975. Leadership was given by Dr. John Westerhoff on the theme "An Alternative Future for Religious Education". Nineteen of the 101 participants were Presbyterian. Following this institute an informal Christian Education Study Week was held with 12 participants.

(b) February 1976. In February 1976 a continuing education programme on the theme "Congregations can Nurture Faith" was held. Leadership was given by Dr. C. Ellis Nelson, President of the Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary; Dr. J. D. Smart and Dr. W. J. Klempa. Twenty persons (chiefly ministers) participated. This experimental programme was subsidized by a grant from the National Development Fund. The Board reports that this was an extremely successful event. Gratitude for N.D.F. assistance is expressed. It is the hope of the Board that the College will be able to offer annually a similar programme early in the calendar year.

(c) June 1976. In June 1976 a combined continuing and lay education programme will be held from June 11-16. The theme will be "Developing the Congregation's Educational Ministry" and the leaders will be Dr. Sara Little and Mrs. Elizabeth Ramsey, both from the Presbyterian School of Christian Education in Richmond, Virginia.

3. Graduation

The graduation service for the year 1975-76 will be held at Ewart College on May 18, 1976. Dr. Ruth Alison will speak.

The following report provides information about the 1975 graduation which was held at the College on May 15, 1975 with the Reverend Dr. Finlay G. Stewart as speaker.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Management of Ewart College, The Presbyterian Church in Canada

We have examined the balance sheet of Ewart College, The Presbyterian Church in Canada as at December 31, 1975 and the statements of revenue and expenditure, deficit, scholarship and bursary funds, fund for special purposes, reserve for contingencies and Webster Memorial fund for the year then ended. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the College as at December 31, 1975 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting policies described in note 1 to the financial statements applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

EWART COLLEGE

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN CANADA

NOTE TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1975

1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the College.

(a) Investments and investment income

The Consolidated Investment portfolio, in which Ewart College has an interest, is held by the Trustee Board of The Presbyterian Church in Canada and is adjusted to market value each year. Any increase or decrease in market value is allocated to the capital portion of the various scholarship and bursary funds. With the exception of recording consolidated investments at market value, these financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted for non-profit organizations. Other investments are recorded at cost.

Income from investments is recorded on an accrual basis.

Realized gains or losses from investment transactions are recorded on the transaction date.

(b) Fixed assets

Fixed assets are capitalized in the Books of The Presbyterian Church in Canada and are not included in these accounts.

(c) Funds

The fund balances are segregated in relation to restrictions placed upon their use by the donor.

The College Board determines the usage of any bequest received for which no specific use is stated by the donor.

THE COMMITTEE ON HISTORY

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

One hundred years of history rather dramatically unfolded across Canada during 1975 as Presbyterians participated in centennial celebrations. Interest, enthusiasm and a greater understanding of our heritage and faith were evoked, resulting in new forms of mission, enriched worship and even increased budget support. Dominion-wide television programmes on both CBC and CTV networks, centennial choirs, youth and twinning projects, hymn-writing, banner displays and festivals, June Congress and Kirkfest, with General Assembly celebrations in Montreal and Quebec City, together with regional and local programmes, were held under the theme, "Remembrance, Renewal and Response." In co-operation with the United Church of Canada, tourist guides were produced, outlining our joint Presbyterian heritage in bricks and stone, as well as successfully proposing that the federal government issue a postage stamp honouring the Rev. Dr. John Cook, Moderator of the 1st General Assembly.

This committee records the distribution of such volumes as "Enduring Witness" by John Moir, "No Slippery Undertaking" by John Johnston, "The Covenant in Canada" by T. Melville Bailey, and "Called to Witness" edited by W. Stanford Reid, each contributing to an understanding of the history of our denomination. Regional and local histories were produced in abundance, with copies deposited in the archives. The committee arranged for the publication of "Presbyterian Communion Tokens", and the McKay-Brown collection is now mounted and available for display throughout the church, upon application to the convener. Centennial statistics include the figures of 1000 centennial signs erected from coast-to-coast, 1,500 embossed honour scrolls awarded to church leaders, 50,000 lapel pins worn by young and old, with 56,000 communion tokens used in sacramental celebrations.

Presbyterian History

One issue of this periodical was distributed to all ministers during 1975, with two more planned for the following year. Volume Two of Called to Witness is in the hands of the publishers. Appreciation is expressed to the editor of The Presbyterian Record for his presentation of a continuous historical perspective through this magazine, with special reference to the 100th Anniversary issue.

History Prize

The committee awarded the 1975 prize for excellence in writing a congregational history to West Adelaide Presbyterian Church, Presbytery of Sarnia, with a prize also awarded to T. M. Bailey in recognition of his contribution to the church through the publication of a pictorial history. Submissions for these annual prizes should be forwarded to Professor A. L. Farris, c/o Archives, 59 St. George St., Toronto.

Microfilms

The possibility of government grants for the acquisition, preparation and microfilming of our historical materials is being examined. Under consideration are such documents as those of the St. Gabriel Street and St. Joseph Street, Montreal, or St. Andrew's Quebec City, which are of national importance. Through Hugh MacMillan of the Ontario Archives, excellent relationships have been established with our provincial counterparts, with Presbyterian archives currently being enriched by microfilms of the records of such churchmen as Dr. W. Cochrane and Dr. John Jennings. When materials are received for microfilming, archival policy requires that the sender be informed of the cost of such microfilming and is asked to contribute as fully as possible to the expense.

Archives

Tribute is paid to our new archivist, Professor John S. Moir, Ph.D., D.D., and to his dedicated team of voluntary and part-time staff who have already brought improvements to our facility. Appreciation is expressed to Presbytery and Synod conveners who have given leadership in their respective areas. Recognition is given to the Rev. W. M. Moncrieff for arranging the orderly transfer of documents from Montreal to the national archives, to the Rev. T. M. Bailey for cataloguing materials at St. Andrew's Church, Quebec City, and to the Rev. F. H. Rennie for his leadership in Eastern Ontario.

A working paper has been prepared by the archivist outlining the purpose and function of our national depository. Dr. Moir has met with the Clerk of Assembly and the Committee of Secretaries at 50 Wynford Drive regarding the transferal of materials to the archives with the Rev. Geof Johnston completing the documentation and shelving of fifty boxes of material received from the Board of World Mission.

A large volume of records continues to be received in the archives which, added to the backlog of material already awaiting processing and a rapidly increasing demand for services, has placed the archives organization and personnel under severe strains. Enquiries by correspondence have continued to arrive in appreciable numbers, but the major growth in service demands has been caused by a sharp increase in telephone enquiries and by an unprecedented number of researchers wishing to make use of our archival resources. Because the Archives has been operating to date with part-time staff, it has been necessary to restrict access to the archives, to the regret of this committee and the inconvenience of many.

The most urgent needs of the archives are threefold: the employment of a full-time Assistant, acquisition of much-needed equipment to keep pace with the rapid expansion of the archives, and the renovation of space made available through the kindness of Knox College for records reception, holding and preparation area. It has given your committee great satisfaction to learn of the many occasions when our facilities have been of service to the Church and to individuals, and it is our belief that this very success which has created these personnel and financial needs in the archives proves the wisdom of this Assembly three years ago in founding and supporting this most useful institution for preserving and making available our Church's records and heritage.

The Canadian Society of Presbyterian History

The inauguration of this society took place at Knox College, Toronto, in September, 1975, with attendance drawn from Windsor to Halifax. Copies of the research papers delivered at meetings of the society are provided, gratis, to all members of the new organization. The Presbyterian College, Montreal has invited the Society to meet in Montreal, June 12th, 1976.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That Church Courts be encouraged to appoint persons as official historians or conveners of committees on History to make regular presentations and to submit annual reports to the Committee on History of the General Assembly.
2. In order to facilitate the publication of volume two of Called to Witness, every congregation be urged to purchase at least one additional copy of volume one in this biographical series.
3. That a full-time staff person be appointed as soon as is financially possible to provide oversight and assistance in developing the national archival programme of The Presbyterian Church in Canada.

JOHN A. JOHNSTON,
Convener.

T. MEL. BAILLIE,
Secretary.

THE COMMITTEE ON CHURCH DOCTRINE

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Committee on Church Doctrine respectfully submits the following report of its work.

I. MINISTRY IN THE CHURCH

Term Appointments

Term appointments of national executive staff have been under discussion in relation to the Gospel Call in consequence of Recommendation 16 of Organization and Planning (Acts and Proceedings, 1973, pp. 458ff.). The Committee believes that the problem would be solved by a revised conception of induction.

Our historic position that induction into a charge is ad vitam aut culpam dates from a time when ministers were less mobile. In view of our changed customs it seems advisable to review the ad vitam (for life) qualification. In the opinion of the Committee, induction should be an open-ended procedure which comes to a conclusion when the usefulness of a ministry ends or when a person is called to another work. From a theological point of view, while ordination is for life, there is no reason why induction should be. Discernment of the time for termination should be by personal evaluation by the minister and periodic, objective review by the presbytery. A further advantage of a such changed understanding of induction would solve a present problem regarding assistant ministers. Our present law, re-affirmed by a Declaratory Act at our last Assembly (Acts and Proceedings, 1975, p. 380) insists that all ministerial appointments be made only by presbytery through the procedure of call and induction, which rules out term appointment of assistants. If induction ceases to be for life, the way is open for term-appointment of assistant ministers.

The Committee recommends that Presbyteries, Colleges, the Administrative Council, Assembly Boards and Committees and Kirk Sessions study the statement just made and report on the following questions to the Secretary of the Committee:

Should all calls to ministers and professors contain provision for periodic review, e.g. every five years? May calls to associate or assistant ministers be for a limited term? Are national executive staff and college principals in a category in which term appointments should be standard procedure? Should appointments within this category normally not be for more than ten years and subject to review after five years?

See Recommendation 1.

II. THE WORK OF THE HOLY SPIRIT

The Committee on Church Doctrine was instructed by the ninety-seventh General Assembly "to make a study of the work of the Holy Spirit with special reference to Glossolalia and other charismatic gifts as they may be related to the doctrines of The Presbyterian Church in Canada. . ."

A sub-committee was formed for this purpose. Its first Convener was Dr. Douglas G. M. Herron. The Church Doctrine Committee submitted reports on the subject in 1972, 1973, and 1975. Several study papers were also made available to the Church.

A Special Committee to Study the Charismatic Movement was appointed by the ninety-ninth General Assembly. It submitted an interim statement in 1974, and its final report in 1975. Further consideration of its interim statement and final report was then referred to the Committee on Church Doctrine. Its Convener, Dr. Max Putnam, and one member, Rev. Robt. Spencer, were added to the sub-committee on the work of the Holy Spirit and authorized to participate in the discussion of this topic in the full Committee.

The sub-committee which prepared the present report consists of: Rev. Hans W. Zegerius, Convener; Professor David W. Hay, Professor James Farris, Dr. Hugh F. Davidson, Rev. Garth Wilson, Dr. William Klempa, Rev. Virgil Gingrich (consultant), and Rev. Murray Barron.

We are especially indebted to the co-operation of the Rev. V. Gingrich, a former Professor at the Pentecostal Theological College in Peterborough, Ontario, and at present minister in London, Ontario. His counsel and participation in our studies have been most helpful and are greatly appreciated.

The several reports named above were commended to the Church for study and reply to the Church Doctrine Committee. Submissions were received from seventeen Presbyteries, two Kirk Sessions, and four individuals. Among the latter was a submission from Dr. J. Rodman Williams, a minister of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., who is a leader in the Neo-Pentecostal movement. He responded to our treatment of his book The Era of the Spirit in a gracious way, taking issue with some of our views and interpretations of his writings and generally re-affirming his position.

The following Presbyteries offered comments: Assiniboia, Brockville, Cape Breton, Edmonton, Glengarry, Kingston, Lindsay – Peterborough, London, Miramichi, Niagara, N. Saskatchewan, Paris, Peace River, Pictou, St. John, Superior, and Westminster.

The responses of the Presbyteries ranged from the advice to encourage Neo-Pentecostals to organize themselves for the sake of structured dialogue to pointed criticism of Neo-Pentecostalism. One Presbytery wished that we provide arguments for our rejection of a view long held in the Reformed tradition, viz. that extraordinary gifts of the Spirit have ceased. As we have found no Scriptural support for that view, we consider that the burden of proof lies on the other side. Other Presbyteries would favour longer, extensive studies. The Committee respectfully suggests that it will be possible and, indeed, necessary for ministers, members, and the Courts of the Church to study further in this field, aided by submissions made by this Committee through the years. The expressed desire that the Church speak with pastoral concern, and that the need for renewal within our own Church be kept in view, finds expression in this report. In general, the replies from Presbyteries reflect agreement and appreciation in regard to this Committee's report to the 101st General Assembly.

The Committee on Church Doctrine now respectfully submits its last report in fulfillment of the task entrusted to it by the ninety-seventh General Assembly. We neither ask that the General Assembly affirm a position binding upon the whole Church, nor that it leave the issues raised by Neo-Pentecostalism without answer from Scripture or the Reformed tradition. We are asking for general approval of the report and for commendation of its use by the Church. We believe that we ought not to go further, either by final endorsement or general rejection of Neo-Pentecostalism, because too many aspects of it are still in flux, and too many different factors are likely to enter into each local situation. By its approval, the General Assembly will offer "counsel" to the Church which ought not to be rejected lightly or in haste. Its very nature of being "counsel", on the other hand, will indicate that it ought only to be followed with careful consideration of each local situation. Thus, there will remain freedom in the Church to act within or outside its scope and no one needs to feel unnecessarily bound.

We are aware that we are speaking to a situation in which many are inclined to express themselves guardedly, while others regard it as fraught with dangers. Your Committee has endeavoured to speak to the Church from both the Scriptures and the Confessional Standards, with confidence that the Church will bring to our statements its utmost goodwill and kindest consideration. As we venture to appraise the movement we have been dealing with, we reiterate what has been said in the first paragraph under the heading, "The pertinent teaching of the Westminster Confession" of the report of 1975 (A. & P. p. 394). We also urge the Church not to read a pejorative meaning into the first sentence of our 1975 "Critique of the neo-Pentecostal understanding", because, in speaking of the "apparently genuine nature of the neo-Pentecostal experience", we attach to the word "apparently" the meaning of "evidently". We further plead that, in the quotations from the Catechism, particularly in regard to the expression "Improving our Baptism" (p. 395), it be noted that we did remark that "the language of our standards is of another era," which should indicate that not too much significance should be attached to the phrase "Improving" in its present meaning, which we quoted in last year's report.

It should also be noted that, throughout our studies of the work of the Holy Spirit and of the Charismatic Movement we have had to exercise restraint as to the depth and extensiveness of our statements, for the range of questions surrounding these subjects is nearly unlimited. We have been dealing with church history, the development of doctrine, Scripture interpretation, the being of God, the nature of His self-revelation, the unity of the Church, the Kingdom of God, the weaknesses of our denomination and its strengths, the value of experience, and ways to gauge it, forms of worship, the role of emotions in the life of faith, the Reformed tradition, and so forth. We humbly acknowledge that, of necessity, we have not been able to do justice to certain aspects of the subjects under discussion. We urge the Church to continue to search the Scriptures with us, and to be open to God's continued guidance. For we do not assume that we have answered all questions, or that such answers as we have produced are always the best possible ones. Therefore, appraising first of all our own work, we confess our insufficiency for the demanding task the Church entrusted to us, and we crave the loving consideration of all.

It will be understood that the counsel contained in this report is not merely the outcome of the study-section preceding it. Rather, it is the result of years of study and dialogue, in prayerful dependence on the Holy Spirit's leading, by men and women dedicated to the good of the whole Church. Our humble expectation is that the General Assembly may deem this report worthy of its approval.

(i) EMERGENCE AND SPREAD OF NEO-PENTECOSTALISM

A brief review of the rise of denominational Pentecostalism will provide the necessary background for the emergence of Neo-Pentecostalism.

A. PENTECOSTALISM

In the theology of John Wesley a doctrine of complete sanctification of the believer is developed to the point where a person achieves "Christian perfection". Although Wesley carefully qualified his teaching and taught a gradual growing in grace and in the knowledge and love of the Lord, he held that the Spirit's work of sanctification may be completed during the earthly life of the Christian.

Reformed theology does not permit this conclusion, but maintains that in this life the Christian will always to some degree remain a sinner; that his justification is complete in Christ, and that his sanctification is final and total only after death.

It will be understood that the doctrine of "entire sanctification" may open the door to a view of a work of the Holy Spirit beyond and distinct from conversion and redemption.

In the 19th century the emphasis on sanctification moved into the background in the Wesleyan churches. In the United States a movement arose to restore this emphasis, the so-called Holiness Movement. It quickly gained strength. Around the turn of the century, a considerable number of new denominations arose, committed to the principle of Christian holiness. Among them a doctrine took shape of a second and distinct activity of the Holy Spirit, after and apart from conversion. Studies in the New Testament regarding the gift of the Holy Spirit resulted in a renewed interest in "tongues".

The result was a division in the Holiness Movement and the emergence of a group of congregations which began to concentrate on a desire for a special endowment with the Holy Spirit, a new Spirit-baptism, with accompanying special spiritual gifts, particularly the gift of tongue-speaking.

In 1896 in Tennessee and in 1901 in Kansas, isolated instances of speaking in tongues occurred. But the real onset of the Pentecostal movement may be traced to the Azusa Mission in Los Angeles in 1906, where under the minister W. J. Seymour a congregation of black Christians spent days in prayer and praise, shouting and speaking in tongues, while many other signs occurred also. From there, Pentecostalism spread quickly and is now established throughout the world. Its adherents number about ten million in a number of denominations. In the U.S. there are 800,000 members in fourteen all-black denominations, while several white Pentecostal denominations count their numbers in the hundreds of thousands.

B. NEO-PENTECOSTALISM

The Charismatic Movement is a movement largely within the established historic churches, Roman Catholic, Protestant, and – since 1971 – Greek Orthodox. We shall for practical purposes distinguish between Catholic Pentecostalism and Neo-Pentecostalism, the latter indicating the movement within the Protestant churches.

Catholic Pentecostalism became a force in the Church of Rome when a number of students and faculty of Duquesne University in Pittsburgh claimed in 1966 that they had received the "baptism in the Holy Spirit". A similar event occurred in the University of Notre Dame in South Bend, Indiana, where in 1967 the first Catholic Charismatic Renewal Conference was held. It has been repeated annually. In the first four years the movement in the Roman Catholic Church gained an estimated 50,000 followers in the U.S. and Canada. The fourth conference had 1,270 participants (1970). In 1972, there were 10,000, in 1973, 20,000. These figures indicate the phenomenal growth of the movement within that church, where it has found the support of a number of high-ranking members of the hierarchy.

Previously, in the late fifties, reports of Protestant ministers receiving the "baptism of the Holy Spirit" began to circulate, specifically of two Presbyterians, James H. Brown in Pennsylvania, and Paul Morris, and the Reformed Harald Bredesen, the latter two of New York state.

The year 1960 may mark the beginning of Neo-Pentecostalism's sweeping the churches. In that year the rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Van Nuys, California, Fr. Dennis Bennett, told his congregation of his own "charismatic experience". Although he resigned his pastorate shortly afterwards, Neo-Pentecostalism had by then a foothold in his congregation.

In the decade of the sixties the movement was highly active in all major churches. Cells of Neo-Pentecostal fellowship sprang up in Lutheran, Anglican, Presbyterian, and Reformed Churches. Several leading churchmen and churchwomen expressed their sympathy for the movement, or became actively involved in it. The Lutheran Arnold Bittlinger, director of the Ecumenical Academy in West Germany, is an active member of a charismatic community. The head of a Lutheran sisterhood in Germany, M. Basilea Schlink, became a respected leader in Neo-Pentecostalism. Dr. John A. Mackay, former president of Princeton and of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches, has called Neo-Pentecostalism "profoundly significant, the most dynamic and creative happening in the world of religion" (The Lutheran Quarterly, Vol. 17, Nov. 1965, "Speaking in Tongues"). Dr. Marcel Pradervand, a former Secretary of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches, has also expressed his sympathy for the movement.

Great personal influence in the spread of Neo-Pentecostalism has to be ascribed to David du Plessis, a South-African Pentecostal leader, who has widely travelled and lectured to spread Pentecostal understanding. He has been involved in the work of the World Council of Churches and lectured at the Yale Divinity School, Colgate-Rochester Divinity School, Union Seminary (New York), Princeton Theological Seminary, and the Ecumenical Institute in Chateau de Bossey, Switzerland.

Another important factor in the spread of Neo-Pentecostalism has been the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship International. It numbers some 100,000 members all over the world. It was founded in 1953 to spread the Pentecostal message and most often uses "prayer breakfasts" as its method. Its magazine "Voice" has played a significant part in the spread of Neo-Pentecostalism.

Although it is clear that denominational Pentecostalism has had much influence in the rise of Neo-Pentecostalism, there is no strong tie between the two, and significant differences exist. For these we refer to section (iii) of this report.

Many conferences of Neo-Pentecostals have been held in the past decade, attendance at times reaching tens of thousands. In 1974, forty-five hundred gathered in Jerusalem for the first World Conference on the Holy Spirit. World Conferences continue to be held annually.

C. STUDIES AND REPORTS OF SISTER CHURCHES

Sister churches in the Reformed tradition have made thorough studies of Neo-Pentecostalism, indicating the importance they generally attach to the movement. In almost every case the studies sound a positive note, revealing concern that the Church be not divided by the issues raised by Neo-Pentecostals, and that they remain within the fellowship and teaching of the Church, where they may also find correction if necessary. Although the positive attitudes of our sister-churches are always carefully qualified, the emphasis is generally on continued unity in the faith of Christ, and on an admonition that both Neo-Pentecostals and those not involved in the movement accept the direction of Holy Scripture.

For illustration of their general approval, we quote some of the reports. It is to be noted that these reports are being further developed in the churches, with the exception of the report of the Christian Reformed Church, which was adopted by the Synod of 1973.

From the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, Special Committee on the Work of the Holy Spirit (1970):

> "We believe that those who are newly endowed with gifts and perceptions of the Spirit have an enthusiasm and joy to give and we also believe that those who rejoice in our tradition of having all things done in 'decency and order' have a sobering depth to give. We therefore plead for a mutuality of respect and affection" (p. 22).

From the Presbyterian Church in the United States, Permanent Theological Committee (1971):

> "It is clear that there is Biblical and Reformed witness concerning baptism of the Holy Spirit and special endowments of the Holy Spirit in the believing community. . . .But where there is divisiveness, judgment (expressed or implied) on the lives of others, an attitude of pride or boasting, etc. the Spirit of God is not at work. However, where such an experience gives evidence of an empowering and renewing work of Christ in the life of the individual and the church, it may be acknowledged with gratitude" (p. 15).

From the Christian Reformed Church, Neo-Pentecostalism Committee (1973):

> "We call on the church to recognize the freedom of the Spirit to bestow his gifts according to his will, and that the Scriptures do not restrict the charismata spoken of by the apostolic witness to the apostolic age. Let the church be open to an acknowledgement of the full spectrum of the gifts of the Spirit.
> We urge the churches (congregations) to fully accept in love and patience those of their members who claim a 'second experience' of the Spirit subsequent to conversion and different from the more ordinary growth in grace. . . We urge all pastors, elders and deacons to deal lovingly, patiently and wisely with those members of the churches . . ." (Acts of Synod, 1973, p. 481)

From the Church of Scotland, The Panel on Doctrine (1974):

> "There is a legitimate place for neo-Pentecostals in the Church of Scotland, as long as they exercise their gifts for the benefit and spiritual enrichment of the whole Church" (p. 17).

From the Presbyterian Church in America, Pastoral Letter by the Second General Assembly, 1974:

> "No spiritual gift is to be despised, nor is it to be misused to bring glory to any other than to Christ. Specific spiritual gifts noted in Scripture are found in the following passages: Romans 12: 3-8; I Corinthians 12: 8-10; I Corinthians 12: 28; Ephesians 4: 11-16" (p. 3).

(ii) CHARACTERISTICS OF NEO-PENTECOSTALISM

The movement commonly called "the Charismatic Movement" (in this report referred to as Neo-Pentecostalism) is considered by those who belong to it as a work of the Holy Spirit by which God is preparing and equipping His people for spiritual service in the world today and for the return of Christ in glory. Neo-Pentecostalism is not a denomination. Its adherents regard it as a spiritual renewal taking place around the world in numerous fellowship-groups within the established churches. In many cases these fellowship-groups cross denominational lines and bring together Christians of different background. Because of these differences and the variety of church affiliations within the movement, it is difficult to set forth their common characteristics and beliefs. There is no unified system of Neo-Pentecostal doctrine. Nevertheless, from the abundant literature now available some general features and beliefs are evident. Some of these are:

1. A strong interest is shown in the person and work of the Holy Spirit, together with praise and adoration of Jesus Christ as Lord.
2. The "baptism in (or 'of' or 'with') the Holy Spirit" with attendant manifestations is seen as the privilege of all believers, and as a decisive event whereby the Holy Spirit takes possession of them, transforms their lives, empowers them for service, and imparts to them gifts of the Spirit, such as speaking in tongues. They expect the Holy Spirit to make His presence evident in physical as well as emotional and intellectual activities.
3. Special gifts of the Spirit, such as prophecy, healings, miracles, tongues, and interpretations, are expected to manifest His presence among God's people.
4. Neo-Pentecostals testify to a joyful assurance of personal salvation through a personal encounter with the living Christ. By contrast they state that previously He often seemed to be hidden from them behind the creeds, liturgies, and formal atmosphere in their churches.
5. They believe they experience a vital and dynamic sense of the reality of God breaking in on believers with fresh meaning and power, together with a view of the Bible as a testimony of God's enduring and, therefore, contemporary activity; specifically, a deepened sense of the Lord's presence at Holy Communion.
6. They place a strong emphasis on prayer and praise, both individual and collective. Many for whom prayer was formerly little more than a ritual, now find it a joyful activity which often continues for several hours.
7. They share a deep concern for the ministry of the Church as the Body of Christ; firstly as ministry within the body of believers, marked by a new capacity for love and a desire for Christian fellowship; and secondly as ministry of the Church in the world, with an increased freedom to express the faith and to share it with others.
8. A strong emphasis is made on God's order in Christian marriage and the family, and generally on authority and obedience.
9. A renewed interest in the future is noticeable, particularly as regards the final resurrection, the return of Christ in glory, and the coming of the Kingdom of God.
10. They enjoy a sense of spiritual unity that transcends denominational dividing lines.

(iii) DIFFERENCES BETWEEN NEO-PENTECOSTALS AND DENOMINATIONAL PENTECOSTALISM

Neo-Pentecostalism within the traditional churches is not to be identified with denominational Pentecostalism.

Denominational Pentecostals believe that what distinguishes them from other evangelicals is their emphasis on the work and ministry of the Holy Spirit, and especially the claim that believers are to be baptized in the Holy Spirit in the same way as in their view the disciples were at the first Pentecost. They hold, however, that before this can happen certain definite conditions are to be met such as faith, regeneration, obedience, prayer, and total yieldedness to Christ. They further consider that it is not sufficient to claim that one has been baptized in the Holy Spirit; there must be an external, visible, and audible criterion – "speaking with tongues". This (though not the only or even most important evidence) is to them the external and unshakable evidence that the spirit of man has become dominated by the Spirit of God. The Holy Spirit, thus given and received, makes the believer eligible for the reception of further gifts of the Spirit (1 Cor. 12 and 14).

Although there is a great measure of agreement upon the basic concepts of the Spirit's activity in the Church and in the individual believer, there are also some important differences between denominational Pentecostals and Neo-Pentecostals. The major ones would be the following:

A. Denominational Pentecostals have formed their own distinctive denominations, whereas Neo-Pentecostals have chosen to remain within, and to promote change from within, the "established" churches.

B. The experience "subsequent to conversion" adhered to so tenaciously by denominational Pentecostalism is questioned by some Neo-Pentecostals who feel not bound to this theology. There is an attempt by many Neo-Pentecostals to interpret their experience in the light of the traditional teaching of their respective churches. Consequently, many recognize that commitment to Christ and the reception of the Holy Spirit are correlative, so that the believer is baptized in the Holy Spirit when he receives Christ. They then hold that the Holy Spirit will reveal His several gifts successively in the believer's life.

C. Denominational Pentecostals insist that speaking in tongues is the initial, physical evidence of the gift of the Holy Spirit. Among them, no believer has the right to claim the experience of "baptism in the Holy Spirit" until he has spoken in tongues. Many Neo-Pentecostals, however, do not regard speaking in tongues as positive proof of the fullness of the Spirit. They would tend to look upon any one of the Spirit's gifts as such evidence. They also recognize the possibility that speaking in tongues may in some cases be attributed to influences other than the Holy Spirit. In this view, speaking in tongues should be tested in Christian love by interpretation or by discernment of spirits.

D. Denominational Pentecostalism teaches that the primary effect of the "baptism in the Holy Spirit" is to give the believer power to witness, according to Acts 1:8. Some Neo-Pentecostals would, however, question this stress on power. While recognizing that denominational Pentecostals have a genuine spiritual experience which gives them a new sense of spiritual power, Neo-Pentecostals may explain this as a "release" of what they already possessed through a personal relation with Jesus Christ, rather than as a "second blessing." Neo-Pentecostals emphasize that manifestations of the Spirit have therapeutic value in that they lead to an integration of the personality. They often display a new sense of inner harmony and freedom, and a deep sense of peace and joy, as well as a new power for witness and service.

E. Denominational Pentecostals and Neo-Pentecostals hold similar views regarding the spiritual gifts themselves. But among some Neo-Pentecostals there seems to be a stronger emphasis on the extraordinary gifts, and a distinction between the ordinary and the extraordinary ones, which leaves the impression that gifts are more valuable according as they are more spectacular. Although this is true also of some denominational Pentecostals, many Pentecostal congregations have come to realize that a group of worshiping people can be truly inspired by the Holy Spirit without experiencing any spectacular manifestations.

F. A further difference concerns the gift of prophecy, which may be directed to the internal edification of the Church or outward toward the world. Denominational Pentecostalism, due to its background in the Holiness Movement, tends to see prophecy in an inward-looking way. Many Neo-Pentecostals, especially those in the Reformed tradition, see prophecy as outward-looking. They are concerned with bringing back the voice of the biblical prophet whose ministry is directed toward the world where God is at work in the lives of men and women.

(iv) GLOSSOLALIA

(A) Extra-biblical Related Phenomena

From a purely descriptive viewpoint, more than one feature of Christian religious experience has its counterpart in other religions, e.g., prayer, sacrificial rites, sacred song. We are not lacking evidence that the same applies to the overt features of spiritual gifts emphasized by Pentecostals in particular, glossolalia and prophetic utterance.

In the light of this comment, and in view of the cultural milieu and linguistic usage of the New Testament records, it becomes especially significant to note traces of these phenomena in the Greek culture of the time. In fact, the prophetic tradition in Greece had a long history associated with the name of Delphi. Even before the era of the Olympian gods the site was recognized as a place for the dispensing of oracular wisdom. At a later time, the cult of Dionysius became established there and persisted down to the Christian era. Euripedes witnessed to its cultic manifestations of ecstasy, possession, and prediction. Plato, too, offered a description of various forms of prophecy and, in a general comment in the Timaeus, observed, "It is not for him who has become mad and still is in the state to judge his own visions and utterances. . . Whence has arisen the custom of setting up interpreters as judges of inspired prophecy" (B. Jowett, The Dialogues of Plato, Oxford 1875, 72B).

In addition to this notable report, there is much evidence in the mystery religions of the Hellenistic era to indicate that ecstatic behaviour and speech were common features of the cultural heritage familiar to the first Christians.

In addition to the evidence from ancient literary documents, we are now becoming aware, through modern comparative cultural studies, of the frequent occurrence of glossolalic and prophetic expression in world cultures. The phenomenon appears to be especially marked among the native peoples of the Pacific coast of North America and in many areas of Africa, where charismatic or shamanistic forms of religious leadership prevail. The variety of religious, and even non-religious, manifestations of speech automatisms is sufficiently widespread to have provided a basis for numerous scholarly scientific studies (e.g., that of the anthropologists, Felicitas D. Goodman, Speaking in Tongues: a Cross-cultural Study of Glossolalia, U. of Chicago Press, 1972).

These studies suggest that the occurrence of glossolalia, in itself, should not be ascribed only and always to the work of the Holy Spirit. The context and framework within which it occurs, and its content and effect on the glossolalist and his hearers, are of prime importance in judging whether it is in a given case an authentic gift of the Spirit.

(B) Manifestations in the post-apostolic and medieval Church.

Until Origen, it was generally assumed in the Church that all of the charisms or gifts of the Spirit noted in the New Testament, especially in the Pauline tradition, would continue to be exercised. In the Didache it is indicated that many of the laity shared with the elders and bishops in employing prophetic gifts, and those so favoured were actually known as "prophets".

Most notably, prophetic gifts flourished in the schismatic Montanist movement of the second century. In 156 A.D. its founder Montanus, supported by the prophetesses Prisca and Maximilla, initiated an enthusiastic cult which claimed to have a fuller revelation of the Spirit than the Church had hitherto received. They proclaimed the beginning of the age of the Paraclete, and the imminence of the return of Christ to a new Jerusalem, located in the region of Phrygia. The historian Eusebius reported that Montanus was wont to "become beside himself, and being suddenly in a sort of frenzy and ecstasy, he raved and began to babble and utter strange things, prophesying in a manner contrary to the custom of the Church handed down by tradition from the beginning" (Eusebius, Pamphili, Ecclesiastical History, London 1870, p. 284).

Although Montanism eventually gained the formidable theological support of Tertullian, the movement was opposed and finally extinguished by the major Christian tradition. The claim to a continuing revelatory development was not to be countenanced at a time when the scriptural canon and ecclesial authority were not yet firmly fixed. By the middle of the third century the oracular charismata had largely faded from the life of the Church. Iraeneus and Origen explicitly identified these features as belonging to the beginnings of the Christian mission and in their time as limited to the very few. Augustine was to attest the virtual disappearance of such signs.

The Middle Ages were marked by an ecclesiastical discipline unfavourable to the emergence of enthusiastic religion. Even mystical streams of piety were well controlled within the dogmatic and hierarchical structures of the Church. Neo-pentecostals, however, have drawn new attention to such groups as the Cathari, or Albigenses as they were known in France, to illustrate the persistent outcropping of certain "pentecostal" elements. This rigorously ascetic movement of "the purified" attained a high point of development in the 15th century. In contrast with modern Pentecostals, they were heretical in their dualistic view of the flesh as the source of evil and in setting aside the sacraments of water baptism and the eucharist. Their distinctive tenet was to centre salvation around a "spirit baptism" effected by the laying on of hands. Upon confession of sins and resting of hope on the Holy Spirit, candidates were promised freedom from all sin. Those who were thus made perfect were expected to engage in the office of preaching or prophesying.

It will be helpful for all who consider Neo-Pentecostalism to remember that similar movements have from time to time emerged in the Church and that sometimes they left the path of Apostolic teaching altogether.

(v) PENTECOST, THE TRINITY AND RELEVANT SCRIPTURAL TEACHINGS

We have endeavoured to keep the teaching of Holy Scripture continuously at the centre of our studies. In addition to previous findings and for their clarification, we offer the following.

Several passages in Scripture, besides the description of Pentecost in Acts 2, touch the heart of the doctrine of the Spirit.

There is, in the first place, an important Old Testament background to the narrative. Pentecost constitutes a counterpart to the tragic division of the human family set forth in the story of the Tower of Babel. As a manifestation of the risen and ascended Lord and of His presence and power in his disciples, Pentecost is a mighty reversal of the divisions of race, culture, language, and religion that have torn mankind apart. The broken family is re-united in Christ as the crowds hear His disciples telling the mighty works of God in their own tongues (2:11). Further, a legend had developed among the Jews that the Law of the Old Covenant had been given on Mount Sinai in seventy languages, as a sign of its embracing all seventy nations of the earth. Now in the New Covenant the universal scope of the divine redemption is displayed. As a once-for-all event, Pentecost marks the emergence of the Church Universal, the One New Man in Christ (cf. Ephes. 1: 22f; 2: 14f; 4: 13, 16).

Peter himself takes up at Pentecost the theme of fulfilment. Quoting the prophecy of Joel (2:28-32), he announces that these are "the last days" because they are the fulfilment of this and all prophecy; and as it was the work of the Spirit to cause men to become prophets, to dream and to see visions, so prophecy has now reached its climax in the preaching of the Gospel which he, Peter, is for the first time announcing in its fullness (John 14:12). As St. John also says, the Spirit could now come in His fullness because Jesus had been glorified, and the Spirit could now fully testify to Him through the Apostles (7:39).

Pentecost was also the fulfilment of the testimony of John the Baptist that the Son of God would baptize with the Holy Spirit (Matt. 3:11; Mark 1:8; Luke 3:16; John 1:33). There are no antecedents in the Old Testament for John's expression "to baptize with the Holy Spirit," although there is an association between the Spirit (dove) and water (Gen. 1:2; 8:10f.; Isa. 44:3. Cp. Mark 1:10; 1 Cor. 10:1ff; 1 Pet. 3:20f.). The wording of John's testimony may imply that his own act of baptizing with water led him to a metaphoric use of the word "to baptize" in connection with the outpouring of the Holy Spirit by Jesus (Acts 2:33). Nevertheless it is clear that the Apostles did not give John's words a merely metaphorical meaning, for when the people asked Peter what they were to do he answered, "Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins; and you shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit" (Acts 2:38). About three thousand persons were immediately baptized into the fellowship of the Spirit. As we noted in our 1975 report, in Christian initiation in New Testament times water-baptism and the Spirit were so closely associated that if either was lacking the deficiency was at once supplied (Acts 8:15-17; 10:44-48).

In further connection with John the Baptist, we note that his prophetic ministry culminated in the Baptism of Jesus (Matt. 3:16f.; Mark 1:10f.; Luke 3:21f.; John 1:31-33; 3:5). The pattern of reception of the Holy Spirit was set for all Christians when He who had the Spirit "above measure" (John 3:34) was anointed with the Spirit at His baptism. Thereby he turned John's baptism into Spirit-baptism in His Person (cp. Rom. 6:4f.). No interpretation of Pentecost is allowable that attempts to discover a Spirit-baptism that is dissociated from water-baptism in the name of Jesus. Pentecost was, then, the fulfilment of our Lord's own words that His disciples would be baptized with the Holy Spirit (Acts 1:5; 11:16). The parallel between the words of John and the words of Jesus shows that Jesus confirmed John's witness and made it His own in Christian baptism.

But Jesus went far beyond the teaching of John. He had taught his disciples not only of the power but of the presence of the triune God which would be manifest in and with the indwelling of the Holy Spirit. "The Spirit of truth. . . dwells with you, and will be in you. I will not leave you desolate; I will come to you. . .If a man loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him" (John 14: 17-23). The Holy Spirit is never "alone". He does not descend from heaven in solitary Godhead. His coming leads us to Jesus Christ, establishes us in Him, and unites us with Him in the love that unites the Holy Trinity in One. Jesus said, "He will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you the things that are to come. He will glorify me, for he will take what is mine and declare it to you. All that the Father has is mine. . ." (John 16:13-15). The great gift of Pentecost is not the Holy Spirit in single and separate self-giving; He is the gift of the Father and the Son, who give themselves in giving the Spirit. For the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, in acting toward creation, are always inseparable. Thus, the coming of the Spirit at Pentecost manifests the presence and power of the risen and ascended Lord, to the glory of God the Father. For this reason, the Pentecost-event provided a pattern by which the Apostles judged the reception of people other than the Jews into the Body of Christ (Acts 10:47; 11:17-18; 11:7-9).

It is significant that at the beginning of Pentecost, all the disciples were filled with the Holy Spirit and spoke with other tongues. The immediate result is that the Gospel is preached "with great power" (4:33), and is attested by healing miracles (Acts 3:1-10; 5:12-16) through the Apostles, and Stephen (Acts 6:8). Luke did not record whether speaking in tongues and healing miracles occurred on a massive scale among the first three thousand disciples (Acts 2:41), who soon numbered five thousand (Acts 4:4). It is clear, however, that there was evidence that the Holy Spirit had been given to all (Acts 5:32; see also the Apostles' reaction to the absence of such evidence in Acts 8:14-16 and 19:1-7). Most notable is the constantly occurring emphasis on "telling the mighty works of God" (Acts 2:11), speaking "the work of God with boldness" (Acts 4:31), "preaching the word" by all (Acts 8:4). Whatever was the precise nature of the "other tongues" at Pentecost, the proclamation of the Gospel which they served at the outset continued.

The precise nature of the "tongues" at Pentecost is not known; the question whether they constituted a miracle of speech, of hearing, or of both, cannot be answered. We may be certain, however, that later occurrences were different in that the "tongues" of which Paul writes in I Corinthians were ecstatic speech in the sense that they were not intelligible to the hearers without interpretation. How we should understand the occurrence of tongues in Acts 10 and 19, therefore, is uncertain. It is evident from the narratives, that tongues-speaking was neither specifically expected nor demanded by the Apostles. It happened and, thereby, it attested to the genuineness of the Spirit's presence. Its occurrence is so rare in the biblical records, however, that it would seem an unwarranted assumption to claim that it belongs to a universal pattern of the Christian individual's experience. It can certainly not on that basis be regarded as an indispensable factor without which the faith of the Christian would be incomplete.

As we turn from the Lucan record to Paul's writings, we observe that Paul has given the Holy Spirit a prominent place in his teaching. There is no evidence that Paul teaches an ascent from life in Christ to life in the Spirit. On the contrary, Paul holds Christ and the Spirit together by many close parallels. For instance, the believer is "in Christ" (II Cor. 5:2) and "in the Spirit" (Rom. 8:9); Christ is "in him" (Gal. 2:20; Col. 1:27) and the Spirit is "in him" (Rom. 8:9; I Cor. 3:16; 6:19); in fact, Romans 8 is brimming with indications of the inseparability of the presence with us and in us of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit (see vs. 9-11: "you are in the Spirit. . .the Spirit of God dwells in you. . .you have the Spirit of Christ. . .Christ is in you. . .the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you. . .". Cf. John 14:16-18; 23). Hence, Paul can speak of Jesus as "a life-giving spirit" (I Cor. 15:45). At the same time, Paul maintains the distinction of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit in Romans 8 (see vs. 26-27; 33b-34; cf. Gal. 4:4 and 6).

Paul was profoundly conscious of the Spirit as a real presence of power both in his preaching and in the signs and wonders which accompanied his ministry (I Cor. 2:4; I Thess. 1:5; cf. Acts 19:11-12). At the same time he acknowledged the work of the Spirit in those who come to believe in Christ. "Born according to the Spirit" (Gal. 4:29), the Christian is saved "by the washing of regeneration and renewal in the Holy Spirit" (Tit. 3:5), "through sanctification by the Spirit" (II Thess. 2:13), and confesses Christ "by the Holy Spirit" (I Cor. 12:3). Henceforth, his very "body is a temple of the Holy Spirit" (I Cor. 6:19). He is called to "walk by the Spirit" (Gal. 5:25) and to yield the "fruit of the Spirit" (Gal. 5:22-23). With all Christians, he is joined as a member to the one Body of Christ. "For by one Spirit we were all baptized into one body" (I Cor. 12:13).

This is the Body of Christ, the Church, with which Paul deals specifically in I Corinthians 12, 13, and 14. He stresses three aspects: its unity, the diversity among its members, and the task of edification of the whole Church (unity : 12:12; diversity: 12:4 and 11; edification: 12:7; 14: 12). Not only does the Spirit give His gifts "to each one individually as he wills" (12:11), but He also endows the Church with gifted officers (12:28). The avowed aim of the gifts of the Spirit in all their variety is to benefit and upbuild the Church that it may grow "into a holy temple in the Lord" (Eph. 2:21). Being individually endowed with gifts by the Spirit of God, all believers are to understand that they are to seek to build up the Body of Christ in its glorious unity, upbuilding itself in love. (I Cor. 13; Eph. 4:16).

Spiritual gifts are to be desired (14:1), especially the "higher" gifts (12:31); not, however, for purposes other than in order "to excel in building up the church" (14:12). It follows that, when this purpose is frustrated, the use of a specific gift is itself to be subjected to the "more excellent way" of love (12:31). The problems that seem to have surrounded especially the exercise of the gift of tongues in Corinth, and that accompany its occurrence today, may have led Paul to single out this gift as one which he himself would rather not use "in church" (14:19), and which he sees, on the other hand, as beneficial in the Christian's private life (14:4-5; 18). By this gift, the Christian addresses himself to God (14:2) in prayer, song, and thanksgiving (14:15-16). Only when it is accompanied by interpretation, is it to be exercised in the hearing of others (14:27-28). Finally, Paul recognizes that, in spite of his expressed desire that all might speak in tongues (14:5), not all Christians do (12:29: "Do all speak with tongues?").

Into the midst of his discussion of the problems surrounding the gifts of the Spirit Paul has set his great Ode of Love, for at the heart of these problems lies the problem of Christian love. At the same time, this love is the answer and solution. For love is the fruit of the Spirit (Gal. 5:22).

In summation of the findings of this Section, we conclude that Pentecost has much more to say than that the Holy Spirit was given to the Church. It announces (a) that instead of a simple restoration of the kingdom to Israel (Acts 1:6), the Son now embodies the promised Kingdom in His own Person by His Session to the right hand of God the Father Almighty (2:36); (b) that the Holy Spirit has made the power of this universal Kingdom, which is the power of the whole Trinity, available to all men; (c) that the Apostles have been inspired and authorized to preach the Kingdom to all nations; (d) that the Church Universal, of which they are the foundation in Christ, has now been inaugurated as the re-united family of mankind, blessed with a diversity of shared gifts; and (e) that entrance into the new community is by Spirit-water baptism in the name of Jesus to the glory of the Father.

(vi) THE REFORMED TRADITION AND PENTECOSTALISM

The attitudes of Luther and Calvin toward the "enthusiasts" and "spiritualists" of their day were the initial forces shaping the outlook that Presbyterians are prone to take towards Neo-Pentecostalism. While their attitudes were subsequently somewhat modified in the Reformed tradition under the impact of an emphasis on the experience of the gift of the Holy Spirit, the antipathy toward "enthusiasm" (ecstasy) itself remained. Seventeenth century Puritans and Jonathan Edwards register strong criticism of "enthusiasm". The latter, who cannot be called an arid theologian, viewed "enthusiasm" as "the bastard child of authentic religion which diabolically poses as the real thing until it has slain revivalist forces" (Religious Affections, p. 287).

The Reformation was a battle on two fronts. The more familiar one was the contest with Rome. The other front, not so well known nowadays, was composed of the "enthusiasts" and the "spiritualists", whom we have come to associate with the Anabaptist wing of the Reformation, sometimes inaccurately, because Anabaptists cannot generally be classed as such. "Enthusiasts" claimed that their human spirits were caught up into ecstatic degrees of union with the Divine Spirit. Their stance was "supra-supernaturalism", in which the grace of the Spirit was held not only to elevate human nature, but also to enable a person to transcend creaturely limitations. To extreme representatives of this standpoint the Reformers said, "Scripture only : no private revelations" (cf. W.C.F., I:6). The only way to save the Reformation from spiritual anarchy and to insist upon the necessity of the visible Church, its institutions, ministry, and authority, was to emphasize that the Spirit brings revelation by the Word written and preached, and sealed by the Sacraments. In addition the Reformers insisted over against the "enthusiasts" that authentic spirituality embraces the mind and heart. Said Calvin, "The chief effect of the Spirit is twofold, corresponding to the two chief parts of which faith consists. It enlightens the intellect and also confirms the thinking. . . The commencement of faith is knowledge; its completion is a firm and steady conviction" (The Epistles of Paul the Apostle to the Galatians, Ephesians, Philippians and Colossians, p. 131). He frequently speaks of "feeling", perhaps the most subjective aspect of experience, expressing a concern which anticipates that of Neo-Pentecostalism:

> ". . .practical knowledge is doubtless more certain and firmer than any idle speculation. There, indeed, does the pious mind perceive the very presence of God, and almost touches him, when it feels itself quickened, illumined, preserved, justified and sanctified" (Institutes, I:13:13. Cf. I:13:14; I:3:26; I:5:9; and III:14:19).

In keeping with his concern for the ministry, the Church, and the intellectual dimension of faith, though mindful of the involvement of the heart, Calvin maintained as the prominent category in his thinking the twinning of Word and Spirit. He wrote,

> "(For) the Lord has so knit together the certainty of his word and his Spirit, that our minds are truly imbued with reverence for the word when the Spirit shining upon it enables us there to behold the face of God: and, on the other hand, we embrace the Spirit with no danger of delusion when we recognize him in his image, that is, in his word.
> Thus, indeed, it is. God did not produce his word before men for the sake of sudden display, intending to abolish it the moment the Spirit should arrive: but he employed the same Spirit, by whose agency he had administered the word, to complete his word by the efficacious confirmation of the word. . .How is this answered by those swelling enthusiasts (verb. sap.), in whose idea the only true illumination consists in laying aside, and bidding adieu to the Word of God, while, with no less confidence than folly, they fasten upon any dreaming notion which may casually have sprung up in their minds?" (Institutes, 1:9:3, Beveridge. Cf. W.C.F., I:10).

We should add Calvin's principle, as he begins discussion of the Third Article of the Creed, that the Spirit's role is to testify to Christ, which he sharpens by speaking of Christ as the principal agent:

> "The whole comes to this, that the Holy Spirit is the bond by which Christ effectually binds us to himself" (Op. cit. 3:1:1).

It ought to be recognized that the Reformed tradition did not take the doctrine of the Spirit lightly. Calvin, Bucer, Martyr, and the Puritans give much attention to the doctrine and the experience of the Spirit, as any consideration of their writings will testify. The Westminster Confession is sometimes criticized for the absence of a chapter on the Spirit, but its frequent references to the work of the Spirit indicate awareness of His manifold activity. Indeed, within Puritanism there is a strong concern for "outpourings" of the Spirit, and a stress on operations of the Spirit subsequent to faith and regeneration. Seventeenth century Puritanism underlined aspects of the Spirit's work that are frequently considered to be the discovery of modern Pentecostalism: "prayer in the Spirit", the "further work" of the Spirit, and the "outpouring of the Spirit". In fact, with an emphasis equal to that of Pentecostalism, the Puritans stressed "prayer for the Spirit" and the "experience of the Spirit".

On occasion, Calvin also employs terms which might today carry a "Pentecostal" flavour. His comments on John 7:38 are significant:

> "(Christ) says that he possesses a rich abundance with which he will fully satisfy us. . .The meaning is that the Holy Spirit is like a living and ever-flowing fountain in believers. . .and this warns us how small is the capacity of our faith, since the graces of the Spirit come to us by drops, which would flow like rivers if we gave due place to Christ" (The Gospel according to John 1-10, p. 198).

Similar commentary can be found in Puritans such as John Owen and Thomas Goodwin, who went to great lengths to focus on the Spirit. Owen wrote three lengthy volumes on the doctrine of the Spirit.

Presbyterians ought never to be apologetic in the face of Pentecostal statements that "Christianity has never dealt adequately with the doctrine of the Spirit." If not altogether satisfactory in its exposition of the doctrine, Reformed tradition has given it a well-rounded emphasis. We concur with John Hesselink:

> "The Reformed tradition – at least certain strains of it – has placed great emphasis on the person and work of the Spirit. Not only that; I am convinced that in Reformed theology there is a greater appreciation, deeper understanding, and more comprehensive and balanced presentation of the full-orbed power and work of the Holy Spirit than in any other tradition, including the Pentecostal tradition!" ("The Charismatic Movement and the Reformed Tradition", Reformed Review, 28 (Spring, 1975), 147-157).

Two features of the Reformed doctrine of the Spirit are particularly important and ought to be brought to bear on any discussion of the person and work of the Holy Spirit. Firstly, the Reformed tradition rightly underlines the sovereign freedom of the Spirit, "who apportions to each one individually as he wills" (I Cor. 12:11). The Spirit is not subject to manipulation. A "legalism of the Spirit", which stipulates a pattern for His manifestation, is foreign to a biblical understanding of the work of the Spirit. Emphasis on the freedom of the Spirit is a healthy corrective of using techniques to gain the Spirit.

Secondly, Calvin lays stress on the cosmic dimension of the Spirit's work in a way seldom found in studies of the Holy Spirit. It is always necessary to emphasize that the Holy Spirit is at work in creation as well as in redemption, in order to counteract views which would confine the work of the Spirit to the heart of the individual.

On the other hand, we must question some results of the Reformation. (a) Accompanying the Reformers' welcome emphasis upon personal faith-union with Christ, the category of address by the Word led at times, especially among their followers, to an overly intellectual understanding of the biblical testimony. Even as regards the Sacraments Calvin can speak of doctrina as the heart of the matter. Perhaps this strand in our tradition tends to make us look somewhat coolly on the more emotional phenomena of Neo-Pentecostalism. (b) Calvin went beyond St. Paul's repudiation of Corinthian disorderliness to the extent of silencing the congregation altogether, except for the singing of psalms. He did well to exclude impromptu prayer, but not well in the unprecedented exclusion of corporate prayer. We must face the challenge that Neo-Pentecostalism brings in giving vent to a felt need for active participation and self-yielding in worship. (c) As far as healing and glossolalia are concerned, we dare not maintain that miracles are confined to special periods of revelation in the past (although we should frown on the religious exploitation of sufferers by mass-healers), and since glossolalia cannot essentially be defined as speaking in foreign languages, it must be regarded as at times a legitimate mode of inarticulate self-expression.

One further point of great importance must be made. The "enthusiasts" who plagued the Reformers cannot be identified with Neo-Pentecostals, and we may not simply apply to the latter the complaints of the Reformers against the former. For Neo-Pentecostals make no claim to "private revelations" that are superior to or even independent of Holy Scripture. They are very Protestant in the store that they set by the Scriptural touchstone. We must be on our guard against carrying over to them strictures from the past that do not apply.

As Presbyterians we should in the right way deliberately change our theological presuppositions and inherited attitudes in order to be hospitable and give guidance to Neo-Pentecostal manifestations in our midst – all the more so in view of the need to maintain the major emphasis of Reformed doctrine and practice upon the historical redemption wrought by God through Israel and in Christ, mediated to us only in the holy, catholic, and visible Church. To be "in Christ", "in the Spirit", and "in the Body" are in the New Testament all equivalent phrases because they are all modalities of being "in God". In the proclamation of the Word as well as in private, personal faith the emphasis must remain upon God's mighty acts, centred and culminating in Jesus Christ. It is these – not our "experiences", ecstatic, mild, or otherwise – which empower the Church to worship and serve Him in the world.

(vii) APPRAISAL

Much of what we might say in appraisal of Neo-Pentecostalism is contained implicitly in the body of the report, and more explicitly in the counseling section. We specifically note the following points:

(a) Neo-Pentecostalism, despite its imperfections, is an evidence that God is at work in His Church.

(b) Neo-Pentecostalism is not in itself a threat to the life of the Church unless and until it is used as a pretext for division or a weapon to gain power.

(c) Neo-Pentecostalism, apart from the enrichment an individual Christian may derive from it, is not in itself a blessing to the whole Church, unless and until it serves to strengthen the bond of Christian love within the Church and to unify its witness to the world.

(d) Neo-Pentecostalism will not bear the fruit of the Spirit within the Church, unless or until the Church gives the movement time to do so, dealing with it in loving patience and leading all members in growth, in grace and in the knowledge of the Lord.

(e) Neo-Pentecostalism stands in need of continuing theological self-examination. It is the calling of the whole Church to provide ways and means to this end.

(viii) WHAT OF THE FUTURE?

Neo-Pentecostalism represents a particular emphasis within the Christian faith, in a particular era. Like other movements, it will rise and decline. Where it would create dissension and bitterness, they will in time be overcome, and the Church will remain. But when it bears the fruit of the Spirit, it will exert a lasting influence for good, and its fruit will in time be part of God's harvest.

As the movement spreads, it is bound to come to what might be called a "saturation point". As a movement mainly within established churches, it will one day inevitably have won to its ranks all that can be won in that framework. By that time, its leaders will have sought to consolidate Neo-Pentecostal fellowships. The significant Roman Catholic section will doubtless be closely linked with its Church. We doubt whether outside the Roman Catholic Church the movement will escape the temptation of forming some denominational units. There may be, in some areas (for instance in South America), a measure of merger with Pentecostal denominations. In our own country we expect that Neo-Pentecostal fellowship groups will continue for some time, probably into the next generation.

If our Church were to deny a place within its fellowship to Neo-Pentecostals, we would be in danger of lacking in openness to the influence and work of God's Spirit.

If our Church accords acceptance to its Neo-Pentecostal members, but remains aloof from their expression of spiritual life and experience, it will suffer from a decrease in their loyalty and their growing estrangement, while their positive contribution to the life of the Church will be lost.

If they are met with acceptance and knowledgeable concern, the Church's life will benefit from their contribution, from their desire to witness, and from their wish to give expression to Christian love in personal ways. There will be an open door for the Church's teaching in their life and thinking. As in the fulfillment of this task many other members will also share in the instruction and guidance so provided, the whole Church will benefit, under the blessing of God.

(ix) COUNSEL TO THE CHURCH REGARDING NEO-PENTECOSTALISM

A. The Holy Spirit and Jesus Christ.

Some Neo-Pentecostal teaching is in danger of losing sight of the all-sufficiency of Jesus Christ. This happens when Christians are called upon to move into a life-in-the-Spirit as compared to a life that is "merely redeemed"; to proceed from having received Christ as Saviour and Lord to a higher dimension of communion with God; to advance to a "second blessing", a further dramatic act of God by the so-called "baptism in the Spirit".

The Scriptures maintain the all-sufficiency of Jesus Christ (Col. 1: 19; 1 Cor. 1: 30; Rom. 8: 32). Jesus stressed His unity with the Father (John 10: 30; 14: 23) as well as with the Holy Spirit (John 14: 16-18; 26; 15: 26; 16: 7; 13-15). Therefore, the Bible does not hesitate to speak of the Spirit of Jesus (Christ) or of the Son (Acts 16: 7; Rom. 8: 9; Gal. 4: 6; Phil. 1: 19; I Peter 1: 11).

We are therefore to be most careful not to drive a wedge between Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit by a faulty understanding of the work of the Holy Spirit. A "baptism in the Spirit" which would move us, beyond that which Christ means for us and does within us, to an imagined "higher" level of communion with God, is not taught in Holy Scripture. Such an interpretation of Jesus' word, "you shall be baptized with the Holy Spirit" (Acts 1: 5), ought to be rejected because, when we move beyond Christ, we shall lose Him altogether. Our redemption and sanctification, as well as the baptism with and the gifts of the Holy Spirit are always the gracious work of the Father, in Jesus Christ the Son, through the Holy Spirit. God is One and, therefore, all His works unfold in inherent unity.

B. The Holy Spirit and the Word of God

Peter wrote that the "Spirit of Christ" spoke in both the Old and New Covenant (I Pet. 1: 10-12). Paul said that the Holy Spirit revealed the Gospel to apostles and prophets (Eph. 3: 5). The apostolic injunction in I John 4: 6 is to be taken seriously: "Whoever knows God listens to us (the Apostles), and he who is not of God does not listen to us. By this we know the spirit of truth and the spirit of error." When in our time, far removed from the apostolic era, we are called to "test the spirits to see whether they are of God" (I John 4: 1), we are to be careful to hold together the Word of God with the speaking of the Holy Spirit. The Word of God was given through the Holy Spirit, and the Spirit applies His own Word.

C. Special Revelations and Guidance.

Our understanding of Holy Scripture depends on "the inward work of the Holy Spirit, bearing witness by and with the Word in our hearts" (Westminster Confession 1: 5). This is true not only for the individual Christian, but also for the whole Church. The insight and wisdom which the Church, under the guidance of the Holy Spirit, has gathered through the ages is one of the enduring gifts of the Holy Spirit. Therefore, it ought to be taken to heart. The Bible will only yield its treasures to us when we discipline ourselves to listen to it within the fellowship of the Church, honouring the doctrines in which the Church has gathered together the great themes of Scripture, and gladly subjecting new insights and experiences to scrutiny in their light. The Holy Spirit may give us guidance in unexpected and unusual ways. But that guidance can never be in conflict with the Scriptures in which He speaks to the whole Church.

We ought, therefore, to guard against any use of the Bible which would become individualistic and arbitrary. Thereby we would be cut off from the truth which the Holy Spirit mediates to us through the Church. Such use of the Bible would render the history of Christ's Church meaningless and isolate the individual Christian from the Church as a whole. So he would break faith with God's people, and with Holy Scripture itself.

Therefore, only in the context of what Scripture has to say to all believers can we hear what it has to say to an individual and how that applies to his peculiar circumstances. No one can appropriate a passage of Scripture for himself alone, disregarding its message for all other believers and the whole Church.

D. The Sovereignty of the Holy Spirit.

In John 3: 8 Jesus stresses the sovereignty of the Holy Spirit. Paul states that gifts, service, working – in their variety – are "inspired by one and the same Spirit, who apportions to each one individually as he wills" (I Cor. 12: 11). In many ways the Bible teaches that the Holy Spirit works in the sovereign freedom of God. There can, therefore, be no judging or measuring of each other in matters of spiritual gifts. If He is sovereign, He is free to bestow gifts and talents to each one as He sees fit. The Holy Spirit also remains sovereign when He chooses to link the bestowal of His gifts with baptism into Christ and with the unity of the whole Church. The sovereign work of the Holy Spirit should not only be found in what is extraordinary, nor only in that which takes place outside a well-ordered church life. It is found also, and more regularly, within that order which is His own creation. No gift can, therefore, be singled out as a touchstone of the Spirit-filled life. Neither ought some gifts to be sought because of their unusual or spectacular nature.

No one's faith, however inconspicuous his particular gifts may seem, ought to be regarded as insufficient or incomplete without the addition of other, more ostentatious ones. The gifts of God's grace (charismata) range much more widely than the brief summaries of the Apostle Paul in Romans 12, I Corinthians 12, and Ephesians 4, might seem to indicate. It is much too narrow a view, to confine the gifts of the Holy Spirit to such as, in a certain period of time, are dramatically evident. The life of faith itself, with all its functions, is "charismatic". For this reason, all believers must accept each other as gifted by the sovereign Spirit of God, each in his or her own way. Let us, then, keep before us the Word of God in Phil. 2: 3: "In humility count others better than yourselves."

Furthermore, not only individual Christians are endowed with gifts of the Holy Spirit. The Church, corporately, is given a structure, a ministry, an order, a life and function which in their cohesion are the gift of Christ by the Spirit. For instance, Ephesians 4 names apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors, and teachers. Their office and function are gifts of the Spirit to the whole Body of Christ. These are corporate gifts, given to the Church for proclamation, guidance, and correction. Thus the treasures of personal gifts of the Spirit are embedded in the life of the whole Body of Christ in order that each member may function in unity with all others and to the benefit of all.

So understood, the Church itself, with its doctrine, its proclamation, its worship and sacraments, fellowship and prayer-life, and its social concern, is a great gift of God created and given at Pentecost (Acts 2, 44-47).

E. The Gifts and the Fruit of the Spirit.

The gifts of the Holy Spirit are never an end in themselves. The test of the indwelling of the Spirit does not lie in the evidence of special gifts, but in the fruit of the Spirit: love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control (Gal. 5: 22-23). Preceding this paragraph, the Apostle solemnly warns Christians against "works of the flesh", such as enmity, strife, jealousy, anger, selfishness, dissension, and party spirit. The same letter of Paul asks the searching question, "Having begun with the Spirit, are you now ending with the flesh?" (Gal. 3: 3) This is an indication that every blessing can be corrupted by selfishness and dissension. It is clear that this danger does not result from the gifts of the Spirit, but from human misunderstanding and misuse. Therefore, it accompanies such gifts in every human setting. Let us, then, be reminded that the Lord Jesus Christ is seeking the fruit of the Spirit in the whole Church, no one excepted. In this fruit of the Spirit lies the test of the genuineness of the gifts of the Spirit, and of our belonging to Christ – of which, ultimately, only God is the Judge.

F. Christocentricity of Gifts and Fruit of the Spirit.

In times of vast and dynamic changes throughout the world, we must be prepared for different attitudes and changing emphases. That which is unusual in our experience or even foreign to our Reformed tradition ought not to be rejected merely for those reasons. As mankind is facing many new and dramatic facts and experiences, the Church ought to expect God to be at work also in new and dramatic ways. A hasty repression of that which is not usually part of the life of our Church militates against the love, patience, and gentleness which the Lord seeks as the fruit of the Spirit in His Church. To "test the spirits to see whether they are of God" (I John 4: 1) demands a patient listening to each other, seeking to accept rather than to reject each other. Where the work of the Holy Spirit is at issue, the basic question is that of its Christ-centredness. Jesus said of the Holy Spirit, "He will glorify me, for he will take what is mine and declare it to you" (John 16: 14). The claim of experiences different from the more ordinary growth in grace, on this basis, ought to find loving and patient acceptance within the Church. We must give thanks for every work of the Holy Spirit that leads to a fuller manifestation of the fruit by which Jesus Christ is glorified.

G. Eschatology.

The hope of the coming of Christ is an integral part of the Gospel. It is the hope of the entire Church. Until that time, the Church's members are called to erect the signs of the coming Kingdom by their life and witness in this world. The proclamation of the Gospel ought to take place in word and deed, in winning people to faith in Him, and in sharing in their suffering and struggles for peace and health, for freedom and justice. But "the sufferings of this present time are not worth comparing with the glory that is to be revealed to us" (Rom. 8:18). "In this hope we were saved" (vs. 24).

Neo-Pentecostals are spurring the Church to a renewed emphasis on this hope. However, contemporary teaching and writing are not always in keeping with the scope, the intent, and the goal presented in Scripture. It will be necessary and helpful for all who have found a new interest in this aspect of the gospel to study the material which is available in the Acts and Proceedings of the years 1955-1962. Like all matters of faith, this hope also is centred in Christ. We must avoid alarmist and sensational tendencies. We are not to look for catastrophes. We cannot indulge in futuristic horror-tales. We are to look for Jesus Christ alone. Let us so teach and be taught, according to Scripture, which states that we have "turned to God from idols, to serve a living and true God, and to wait for his Son from heaven" (I Thess. 1: 9-10).

H. Neo-Pentecostal Fellowship Groups.

In regard to all the gifts of the Spirit the Apostle Paul wrote: "Strive to excel in building up the church" (I Cor. 14: 12), and, "Let all things be done for edification" (I Cor. 14: 26). Therefore, those who have in recent years received particular gifts of the Holy Spirit ought not merely to seek the fellowship of people similarly gifted. They should ask themselves:

How will this gift serve to edify those who are not so gifted?

How will it serve to build up the Church?

So we are to follow the Scriptural injunction, "Let each of you not only look to his own interests, but also to the interests of others" (Phil. 2: 4).

Neo-Pentecostals should be especially mindful not to become confined among themselves, cut off from the teaching of the Church, and isolated from the loving service of building up the Church. By the very fact of their being gifted by the Holy Spirit they are called to continue in the Church's teaching and to strive to build up the Church. Participation in Neo-Pentecostal fellowship should have as its counterpart a growing love for the Church and a deeper involvement in its life and witness.

It follows that Neo-Pentecostal fellowship groups ought not to become either a Church-within-the-Church or a Church-away-from-the-Church. Not only would such an approach be clearly divisive; it would also tend to cut off their participants from the ongoing work of God's saving, healing, and renewing grace in the history of His Church – not to mention the implied judgment upon fellow-Christians which belongs only to God Himself.

I. Our openness to God's answers.

There is evidence of the need throughout the Church to renew, especially through teaching and pastoral ministry, an awareness of and a desire for the gifts of the Holy Spirit, in accordance with the Scriptures – without undue emphasis on such gifts as excite the emotions or incline to the spectacular, yet without rejecting them merely on such grounds alone. For Asaph sings, "Thou art the God who workest wonders, who hast manifested thy might among the peoples" (Ps. 77: 14).

There is in our time an evident need for the whole range of the gifts of the Spirit, "for the equipment of the saints, for the work of ministry, for the building up of the body of Christ, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to mature manhood, to the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ; so that we may no longer be children, tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine. . ." (Eph. 4: 12-14).

Let us, therefore, recognize the sovereign freedom of the Holy Spirit to bestow His gifts according to His will, without unwarranted restriction of some to apostolic times alone.

It is the calling of the whole Church, and of every one of its members, to live in the closest fellowship with the Lord Jesus Christ; not to quench (I Thess. 5: 19) or grieve (Eph. 4: 30) the Holy Spirit, but to "be filled with the Spirit" (Eph. 5: 18) and to live (Rom. 8: 13), walk (Gal. 5: 25), and be led (Rom. 8: 14; Gal. 5: 18) by the Spirit. The whole Church should be engaged in searching the Scriptures together regarding the work of the Holy Spirit in our salvation. In so doing, we ought not only to listen to the Bible but also to each other, because the history of the Church shows that God works out in the life of His children the purposes and promises of Scripture. Our experiences, therefore, do not only pose questions. They may also provide answers. Yet it is vital that we remain aware that it is Scripture which determines our understanding of experience; our experience does not determine our understanding of Scripture.

K. Pastoral Relations.

Disciplinary measures should not be taken against those who participate in the charismatic movement but follow no divisive course, lest the divisiveness be on the part of the disciplinary office of the Church itself.

Charismatic experiences are so highly subjective and personal, that neither a blanket rejection nor a blanket endorsement on the part of the Church is possible. Rather, we are to deal with each other patiently and wisely, so that the relation of those who lay claim to such experiences with others may continue to be governed by love.

Continued and consistent teaching of Scriptural doctrine and practice will maintain the unity of the Spirit in the Church. At the same time, we are always to be prepared to "hear what the Spirit says to the churches" (Rev. 2: 7, 11, 17, 29; 3: 6, 13, 22). None of us is immune from becoming disobedient to Holy Scripture and the leading of the Holy Spirit.

Officebearers, especially ministers, who share experiences such as are manifest in the charismatic movement, ought to be accepted in the fulfillment of their office, when they continue a Christ-centred ministry, without divisiveness, and endeavour to yield the fruit of the Spirit in their life and work.

On the other hand, when ministers and elders cannot in good conscience accord a degree of acceptance to Neo-Pentecostal activities in their congregation, they are yet to be respected in their guidance of the Church as Christ's servants, while they in turn are called to patient and loving concern toward members participating in the charismatic movement. All of us stand under the apostolic admonition, "Let each of you look not only to his own interests, but also to the interests of others" (Phil. 2: 4).

"Congregations would do well not to underestimate the desire some members have for spiritual renewal. Bible study and prayer groups have for a long time been part of congregational life and can be effective means of applying spiritual truth more personally through discussion and mutual sharing. The 'house church' offers another setting for the recovery of Christian fellowship. . . Acts of worship incorporating new insights and permitting greater participation by the people can also be the means for celebrating the Gospel with increased joy and vitality" (from our Supplementary Report to the 98th General Assembly, A. & P., p. 624). Thus, ways and means for renewal of the Church have been explored and used for a long time in our Church. All who strive to this end are entrusted to the oversight and guidance of the Church's officebearers, whose work can only be fruitful when it is based on an attitude of mutual acceptance rather than rejection. It should be remembered that renewal may be found in new and unaccustomed ways, although liturgical variety and living fellowship in a congregation are also sources of Christian fellowship in the Holy Spirit.

It may, therefore, be desirable and helpful in situations where it would seem to fill an apparent need, that ministers and kirk sessions consider making provision for fellowship gatherings of Neo-Pentecostals, under their supervision. Members sharing in such fellowship would thereby be strengthened in their loyalty to the Church. They would be encouraged to continue in its teaching and community. They would be assured that the Church recognizes the rightful place of all Christ-centred spiritual life and of the exercise of the gifts of the Holy Spirit documented in Scripture within the life of the Body of Christ.

Such gatherings must under no circumstances be considered a substitute for the regular use of the means of grace in public worship.

L. The unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

We urge the Church, officebearers, courts, and members to safeguard the "unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace", (Eph. 4: 3), recognizing that, "just as the body is one, and has many members, and all the members of the body, though many, are one body, so it is with Christ. For by one Spirit we were all baptized into one body. . . Now there are varieties of gifts, but the same Spirit, and there are varieties of service, but the same Lord; and there are varieties of working, but it is the same God who inspires them all in every one" (I Cor. 12).

III. THE COVENANT OF GRACE

(i) FULL COMMUNION AND "LEGAL" PRIVILEGES

In order that believing children might more readily be encouraged to participate in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, the Committee proposed a revision of Section 140 of the Book of Forms designed to separate full communion from "legal" responsibilities and privileges. Twelve presbyteries have given us the aid of their observations.

Two presbyteries supported the proposal, and the rest were unfavourable. The notion of early communion was generally favoured but the division of privileges was not. The objection was well stated by the Presbytery of Peace River: ". . .legal majority has not a total relation to maturity. . . Since it is maturity in the faith which matters in the concerns of the Church we favour leaving the discernment of such maturity to the elders. We also recognize that the 'age of discretion' and the age of spiritual maturity must bear some relation to one another."

While noting much support for reception into full communion of children capable of sufficient discernment, we request permission to withdraw our Recommendation 8(a) of last year (Acts and Proceedings, p. 401).

See Recommendation 3.

(ii) OVERTURE 27, 1974, OF THE PRESBYTERY OF CALGARY-MACLEOD

The Overture is on pp. 443f. of Acts and Proceedings of that year. It regards the 1957 statement on the definition of "Believing Parent", which was adopted in that year on recommendation of the then Committee on Articles of Faith, as too narrow, and seeks a freer administration of baptism to infants. The 101st General Assembly referred the matter back for further study.

We adhere to our previous recommendation that the statement of 1957 be upheld. In the first place, the statement appears to have been misunderstood. For, under the proper conditions, it does not forbid baptism of the children of non-communicants, provided that at least one parent is a baptized person in regular attendance at worship. This provision is meant to cover the case of staunch church-goers, found in the Maritimes and the Highlands of Scotland, who never feel "good enough" to come into full communion. Of course they are mistaken at this point, but since their children are assured of Christian nurture within the Church baptism ought to be administered. The 1957 statement is therefore right in forbidding baptism to the children of parents who "wilfully and carelessly disregard the divine ordinances, especially the Lord's Supper." The attitude of the former persons is not wilful or careless, but conscientious. But those who are wilful or careless and do not fulfill their baptismal engagement create a barrier against the baptism of their children. It is not the Church that does so. The Committee has learned that there are to be found among our worshippers persons belonging to some other denomination who do not desire to transfer their membership to our Church but desire baptism for their children at the hands of our minister concerned. We believe that in this ecumenical age the children of such parents should be baptized without their necessarily producing a certificate of transference.

We call attention to the fact that the stand taken in 1957 is affirmed in other statements: 1958, pp. 250f.; 1960, p. 284; 1961, p. 283. We regard it as vital to the integrity of the Church that ministers and sessions exercise a faithful discipline in this matter.

See Recommendation 4.

IV. THE USE OF ALCOHOL

In response to the instruction of the 100th General Assembly that the Committee on Church Doctrine review the pamphlet, "The Church and Alcohol", the Committee is of the opinion that the principles laid down in the statement have a continuing validity and should be re-affirmed. In brief, the three basic scriptural truths around which the statement is built are:

Liberty: the Christian is free to receive alcoholic beverages as a good gift of God to be used temperately and with thanksgiving.

Licence: the Christian is not free to be immoderate or drunken in the use of alcoholic beverages.

Love: the Christian must recognize that he is required to love himself and his neighbour as himself and therefore his freedom to use alcohol is restricted by the necessity of exercising responsibility to enhance as much as possible his own life and that of his neighbour.

We call attention to comments that this Committee has already made on the subject of "Drugs and Theology" (Acts and Proceedings, 1971, pp. 278-281). That report stressed the point that alcohol is the most abused drug in North American society, a conclusion concurred in by the LeDain Commission, the United States Commission on Marijuana and Drug Abuse, and also the Canadian Medical Association.

Obviously, "the Church cannot be passive when men and women are brought through drinking to ruin and tragedy or when alcohol indulgence on the part of a few affects the well-being of many. The consequences of drinking, both in personal life and in social relations, are often such that the Church is bound to be concerned" (Alcohol and People, The Board of Christian Education, The Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.).

We recommend that the principles of "The Church and Alcohol" be re-affirmed, and that the Board of Congregational Life be asked to prepare further suitable material.

See Recommendation 5.

V. STATEMENT OF FAITH

The joint Inter-Church Relations and Church Doctrine Committee on a contemporary statement of faith has met several times during the past year. It has studied the form and content of several contemporary statements of faith produced recently by sister communions including the new A Declaration of Faith by the Presbyterian Church in the United States. The latter's use of the narrative form, its doctrinal comprehensiveness and its simplicity of language and style have appealed greatly to the members of our joint committee. It will serve as a model for our work on a new statement of faith for The Presbyterian Church in Canada.

After considerable discussion and thought our committee has chosen the theme of Good News. In an age in which we are constantly exposed to so much bad news the Christian Church must declare the Good News it has received and which it believes. The Christian Gospel is Good News. It is: (i) Good News About God, (ii) Good News About the World, (iii) Good News About Mankind. (iv) Good News About God's People: the Church, and (v) Good News About the Future. Under these five sub-headings we propose to set forth in a clear and intelligible way what we believe and must confess to our world today.

It is our aim to complete the first draft of this brief statement of faith before the end of 1976 and to send it to presbyteries for study and report.

See Recommendation 6.

VI. THE MEANING OF DEPOSITION

A year ago our Committee recommended "(a) That Assembly accept the declaratory statement of the Committee upon the Meaning of Deposition (cf. A. & P., 1975, pp. 386-387); (b) That Assembly instruct the Principal Clerk to re-phrase Book of Forms, Section 251, to cover the case of a minister seeking release from discharge of his ordination vows." By action of the 101st General Assembly this statement on Deposition was referred to Presbyteries for study and comment by February 29, 1976.

Fifteen presbyteries replied. Of these the following eleven Presbyteries were in favour of the statement: Halifax and Lunenburg, Pictou, Miramichi, Ottawa, Brampton, Bruce-Maitland, Paris, Superior, Northern Saskatchewan, Peace River and Westminster. Two Presbyteries were in disagreement with the statement: Kingston and London. The Presbytery of Vancouver Island felt that deposition means deposition only from The Presbyterian Church in Canada rather than from the Church Catholic. Brockville Presbytery, while not in disagreement with the statement would change the statement in paragraph 4 (p. 386) which reads, "Such is the gravity of deposition that it declares a man to be no minister of Christ" to "Such is the gravity of deposition that it declares a person to be no minister of the Church."

Our Committee would reaffirm its position that when a court deposes a minister from office, "the act is meaningless if it is not the act of the Church Catholic deposing him or her from the ministry of the Church Catholic." We would contend, moreover, that the different branches of Christ's Church should respect one another's discipline for the sake of the welfare of the whole Church.

The Presbytery of Bruce-Maitland pointed out that the expression "dismissory letter" suggests the meaning of "having been dismissed, fired, ejected, whereas the dismissory letter may simply mean that the minister has asked to be relieved of his ministry in The Presbyterian Church in Canada." They suggested that another term, "demission" be used. Our Committee deems this to be a very helpful suggestion.

See Recommendation 7.

VII. THE SIZE OF THE COMMITTEE

The Committee finds itself much hampered by the recent reduction in its size, for it has to divide its work among a number of sub-committees. Moreover, there are a number of ministers in the church whose graduate qualifications in theology should be enlisted for the enrichment of the Church's theological work. We desire steps to be taken to enlarge the Committee by one member in each year.

See Recommendation 8.

RECOMMENDATION 1.

That the statement and questions in the body of the Report about term ministries be sent down for study by Presbyteries, Colleges, the Administrative Council, Assembly Boards and Committees and Kirk Sessions, and that they be asked to reply to the Secretary of the Committee on Church Doctrine by January 31st, 1977.

RECOMMENDATION 2.

(a) That the General Assembly give its general approval to the report on the work of the Holy Spirit and commend its use to the Church.

(b) That the Committee on Church Doctrine be authorized to prepare a booklet containing comprehensive material and counsel regarding Neo-Pentecostalism and suitable for study by the whole membership of the Church.

RECOMMENDATION 3.

That Recommendation 8(a) of 1975 (Acts and Proceedings, p. 401) regarding a proposed change in Section 140 of the Book of Forms be withdrawn.

RECOMMENDATION 4.

That the General Assembly re-affirm the 1957 statement defining "Believing Parent" and that this re-affirmation be the answer to Overture 27, 1974 of the Presbytery of Calgary-Macleod.

RECOMMENDATION 5.

(a) That the principles in the pamphlet, "The Church and Alcohol", be re-affirmed; and

(b) That the Assembly request the Board of Congregational Life to provide a variety of educational and challenging materials to help the Church to face more realistically and deal more adequately and creatively with the problems associated with the use of alcohol; and, further, that the Board make use of the research and communication skills of the Addiction Research Foundation in the preparation of its materials.

RECOMMENDATION 6.

That the Joint Committee on a Statement of Faith be authorized to send a draft statement to Presbyteries for study as soon as it is ready.

RECOMMENDATION 7.

(a) That Assembly accept the declaratory statement of the Committee upon the Meaning of Deposition (A. & P., 1975, pp. 386-387);

(b) That for those seeking release from ordination vows the name "dismissory letter" be changed to "letter of demission from office", and that the clerks supply for the appendices a suitable form of such a letter;

(c) That as regards ministers transferring to the ministry of a church with which we do not at present have mutual eligibility of ministry the term to be used be "letter of standing", and that the present letter in the appendices be so named.

RECOMMENDATION 8.

That the Assembly take the appropriate steps to enlarge the size of the Committee on Church Doctrine by one member in each of the years.

DAVID W. HAY,
Chairman.

R. A. SINCLAIR
Secretary.

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE TO ADVISE WITH THE MODERATOR

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Reverend D. W. Hay, D.D., recently retired Professor of Systematic Theology, Knox College, was elected Moderator of the 101st General Assembly meeting in the First Presbyterian Church, Montreal.

Dr. Hay has visited many areas of our Church in Canada. He has been able to fulfill almost every request made of him by congregations, Presbyteries and Synods. During the month of February he visited the Caribbean and for a week represented the North American Area Alliance of Reformed Churches and visited Churches in that area.

In the early part of May the Moderator, on the invitation of Rabbi Plaut, and without expense to our Church, visited the Holy Land in company with leaders of other Churches. In May he made the customary visit to the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland.

The ballots for the election of a Moderator of the 102nd General Assembly were counted on April 9th and recommendation 1 below indicates the result of that tally.

RECOMMENDATION 1.

That the Reverend A. Lorne MacKay, B.A., B.D., D.D., of Central Church, Hamilton, Ontario be officially nominated as Moderator of the 102nd General Assembly.

RECOMMENDATION 2.

That the thanks of the Assembly be tendered to the Courts of the Church, the congregations, and the many persons who showed kindness to the Moderator as he visited throughout the Church.

RECOMMENDATION 3.

That the thanks of the Assembly be tendered to the Media for their willingness to make their facilities available to Dr. Hay.

J. K. LATTIMORE,
Chairman,

DONALD C. MacDONALD,
Secretary.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON INSTITUTIONAL CHAPLAINCIES

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

This committee has as its task, to be in touch with, and be concerned for, those who serve in the ministry of the Church through chaplaincy in correctional, educational and health institutions. Through this committee, persons are approved as serving in chaplaincy roles under section 176-1-(g) of the Book of Forms, so their names may be placed on constituent rolls of presbyteries.

The following ministers are serving in a full-time capacity as chaplains:

Education: The Rev. Ian Glass, Charlottetown
The Rev. Walter Tait, Calgary
The Rev. George Tattrie, Ottawa

Corrections: The Rev. James Files, Brantford
The Rev. Arnold Bethune, Milton
The Rev. Ross Manthorpe, Coquitlam

Health: The Rev. Brown Milne, Calgary

Other men and women serve in similar institutions as visitors or on a part-time basis.

Members of the committee are actively representing the Church and serving ably on the Ontario Provincial Inter-Faith Committee on Chaplaincy, (The Rev. J. C. Cooper); and on the Canadian Penitentiary Inter-Faith Committee, (The Rev. Goodwill MacDougall). The Rev. Robert Armstrong has represented the Church on the Canadian Council of Churches Accreditation Committee for Chaplains.

Ministers and congregations have been, and more are requested to be, active in supporting chaplaincy. More chaplains are needed. Ministers and church members can help in the rehabilitation of inmates and patients. Ministers can send names of students to a local minister or to the Chaplain's Office in any large university. Ministers could visit chaplains in nearby institutions and give encouragement, support and the offer of the resources within their congregations. Chaplains could be invited to churches and groups to interpret their work.

The committee has discussed its place in the re-structuring of the Boards of the Church. It has agreed to recommend that it become a part of the Board of Ministry.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That Presbytery Clerks keep the committee informed of new appointments or other changes for chaplains, full or part-time, within their bounds.
2. That ministers be urged to send the names of students at universities from their congregations, to "The Chaplain's Office" at the university.
3. That this committee be a committee of the Board of Ministry, with two members of the committee on the Board, and to report to the General Assembly through the Board.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

B. A. NEVIN,
Chairman.

J. C. COOPER,
Secretary.

Special Committee Appointed By Assembly Per Rec. #2 p.443

THE COMMITTEE ON THE CHURCH IN THE WORLD

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The terms of reference of this Special Committee are set forth in the Acts and Proceedings 1975, page 443. The design for a proposed "Committee on the Church in the World" is found in Acts and Proceedings 1974, page 423 and in recommendation 13 page 424.

The Special Committee met twice and considered the replies to recommendation 13 that had been received. There were replies from three Synods (one favouring the design, one opposed and one offering an alternative) and ten Presbyteries (four favouring the design in principle, six opposed it. However, most of these see the importance of finding effective ways to do the work prescribed for the proposed committee.) Replies were also received from the five Assembly Boards and Committees most directly affected by the proposal.

A study of the replies revealed that:

1. There was reluctance to set up a new structure with attendant bureaucracy and staff;
2. There was concern about the name of the proposed committee and the feeling that some different name should be chosen.
3. There was recognition that church-society relationships are important and there is not much opposition to the idea that our Church should continue to be active in this area at the national level.

The Special Committee is of the opinion that certain interim steps can be taken that will make it possible to gather representatives of the Boards and Committees around church-society issues but that it would be premature to proceed with the design as a whole of the Organization and Planning Committee. We believe that the interim steps will, over a two year period, show us whether the design should be implemented in full, or modified or rejected. Our recommendations, if adopted, will set the stage for these interim steps.

In discussion of the present situation, the Committee learned that one executive staff member of the Board of Congregational Life spends about 60% of his time in the work of economic and social issues. One staff member of the Board of World Mission spends 10% of time working for the Committee on International Affairs, while another spends a similar amount of time for the Committee on Inter-Church Aid, Refugee and World Service.

RECOMMENDATION 1.

THAT the Advisory Committee on Studies and Statements on Economic and Social Issues of the Board of Congregational Life become a Committee on Economic and Social Issues of the General Assembly, effective September 1, 1976.

a) THAT six of its members be named by the Board of Congregational Life;

b) THAT the General Assembly name its Convener and four additional members;

c) THAT there be one representative from the Board of World Mission and one representative each from the Committees on Church Doctrine, Inter-Church Aid and International Affairs;

d) THAT it report to General Assembly in 1977 and 1978;

e) THAT it have a budget for expenses in connection with meetings and postage.

RECOMMENDATION 2.

THAT a Special Consultative Committee be named by General Assembly to:

a) provide a forum for the discussion of mutual concerns in church-society relationships between the Board of Congregational Life, the Board of World Mission, the Committee on Economic and Social Issues, Church Doctrine, International Affairs and InterChurch Aid;

b) THAT its personnel be: a Convener and two members named by General Assembly, plus one representative from each of the Boards and Committees named in 2a);

c) THAT the Committee meet once in 1976, twice in 1977 and once prior to General Assembly in 1978;

d) THAT it have a budget for expenses in connection with meetings and postage;

e) THAT it submit a progress report to General Assembly in 1977;

f) THAT it report to General Assembly in 1978 relative to future relationships between the Boards and Committees named in 2 a) in the area of church and society, and in particular to recommend whether the proposed design (Acts and Proceedings 1974, page 423) should be implemented in full, or modified, or rejected.

RECOMMENDATION 3.

THAT in order to provide funds for seed-money or special projects which may emerge, the Special Consultative Committee may make application to Inter-Church Aid and/or the Special Projects Fund of the Administrative Council.

RECOMMENDATION 4.

THAT the Board of Congregational Life continue to provide adequate staff for the Committee on Economic and Social Issues and the Board of World Mission continue to provide adequate staff for the Committees on InterChurch Aid and International Affairs.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN McBRIDE
Convener.

THE ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Administrative Council respectfully submits the following report to the 1976 General Assembly.

The financial record in 1975 was very gratifying. A deficit of $199,320 was foreseen but thanks to increased givings to the Budget and to restraints exercised by spending boards the deficit was overcome and a small surplus of $4,774 achieved. However, costs keep rising and more money will be needed to carry out the projects approved by General Assembly.

Encouraged by the increased givings in recent years the Administrative Council has endeavoured to facilitate the financial requirements of all spending boards even though by present estimates this will produce deficits of $170,378 in 1976 and $367,465 in 1977. With God's help we are confident that Presbyterians will respond to the challenge of providing adequate funds for the programs of our Church.

The Presbyterian Church in Canada accomplishes much good from givings of less than 30 cents weekly per communicant member, plus contributions from the Women's Missionary Society (W.D.), and the Woman's Missionary Society (E.D.) as well as current gifts and bequests, plus income from gifts and bequests of Presbyterian supporters of by-gone days. Think of how much could be accomplished if our average individual Budget givings rose to even 50 cents per week!

Because the cost of programs approved by General Assembly exceeds available resources your Administrative Council is continually facing the problem of priorities. Your Council is aware that the first call on our funds is to ensure reasonable financial security for the full time servants of our Church and their dependents, many of whom are already serving at a great personal sacrifice in standard of living. As to the many laudable plans and projects proposed for our Church your Administrative Council would welcome the observations of those close to the people served by our Church to ensure that available resources are apportioned in the most effective manner.

MATTERS REFERRED TO COUNCIL BY PREVIOUS ASSEMBLIES

OVERTURE #21, PRESBYTERY OF VANCOUVER ISLAND (1975 A&P PAGES 438 and 66) RE INSURANCE ON CHURCH PROPERTY.

The Administrative Council has been considering the possibility of securing better rates for insurance on church property. In addition to many private inquiries in recent years, there was the above overture which was referred to the Council.

The Council did not consider it had done enough study by the time of its April meeting, so the matter was referred to the Executive of the Council to consider if it can make a definitive report to the Assembly after consideration at the May meeting of the Executive. If study can be completed the results will be available to the Assembly in a supplementary report.

RECOMMENDATION 1.

That the above report be received as information.

OVERTURE #23, PRESBYTERY OF BRUCE-MAITLAND (1975 A&P Pages 439 and 66) re Heated Manses.

The Administrative Council reported to the 1973 General Assembly (1973 A&P, Page 422) on the matter of heated manses.

The Council reported in part – "The Council decided that the problems about heated manses, such as, the Church supporting congregations anent manses which are deficient in insulation, furnaces etc. did not merit our support of the plan. Also it is evident that implementing heated manses as part of stipend will not give any tax relief to ministers." For 1973 the Council opted for increasing the basic stipend rather than paying for heating of manses.

During the past year the Council re-activated its Committee on Heated Manses. The Committee consulted again with experts in the field and with oil companies. In the last five years the cost of oil in Toronto has risen from 21.9¢ per gallon to 41.4¢. Undoubtedly additional increases are due in the near future. There is a variation from $200.00 to $360.00 on heating a six room house in Canada, depending on where the house is situated.

In addition to the above mentioned problems in administering grants for heating manses, the regulations of the Prices and Wages Control Board would provide their own peculiar problems, if the prayer of the Overture is granted.

In another recommendation the Council is recommending a substantial increase in basic stipend beginning January 1st, 1977. If grants were made to heat manses, the increase proposed would have to be reduced unless we permitted the anticipated deficit to be increased to a more disturbing amount.

The Council considers it would be more advantageous to our ministers if steps were taken to assist congregations to improve their heating equipment and their insulation of manses. If possible the Executive of the Council will report on this in a supplementary report to the Assembly.

RECOMMENDATION 2.

That the prayer of Overture #23, 1975 the Presbytery of Bruce-Maitland, be answered in the terms of the above report, and the on-going action of the Council in this matter.

KNOX COLLEGE BUDGET, 1975 A&P Pg. 67.

The 1975 General Assembly referred the finalization of the Knox College Budget to the Administrative Council with power to issue.

The Council has increased the 1976 Budget, and there is a sum in the 1976 Budget to provide for the appointment of a Field Director. The Council therefore reports fulfilling the commission given to it by the 1975 General Assembly.

RECOMMENDATION 3.

That the above report be received as information.

AMALGAMATION OF CONGREGATIONS RECOMMENDATION 50, ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL 1973; RECOMMENDATIONS 18 and 19, ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL 1974; RECOMMENDATIONS 6 and 7, ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL 1975. (1975 A&P PAGES 407 and 67).

This subject was reported to the 1975 General Assembly (A&P 1975 – Page 407). It was referred back to the Council, with an amendment proposed by Dr. C. C. Cochrane (A&P 1975 – Pages 46 and 66-67), for further study, and giving the Council permission to send down information to the Presbyteries for study and report to the Council before March 31, 1976.

Before the 1973 General Assembly the Trustee Board brought to the attention of the Administrative Council the problem of congregations mostly in urban areas, whose membership has declined because of movements of population and other factors, and Presbytery deciding the congregation is no longer viable as a separate unit. On occasions Presbyteries have permitted such a congregation to amalgamate with another congregation which may be more or less viable itself. In such a case the result of this type of an amalgamation could produce a congregation with more assets than it needs for the number of members involved. The Council considered that sometimes it might be more advantageous to the Church as a whole if at least some of the capital were set aside for establishing a new congregation somewhere in the suburbs of the area involved.

The Assembly has shown reluctance to recommend a change in the regulation that would give more authority to the Council, or another body other than the Presbytery. With this attitude in mind the Administrative Council is now suggesting that perhaps some useful service has been done by the action taken so far, and the Administrative Council is not desirous of infringing on the rights of Presbyteries. However, the Council is not unmindful that sometimes members of Presbyteries can be placed in an embarrassing position in dealing with these matters because of personal involvments in the congregations concerned.

The Council sent down a proposal to Presbyteries for study and report.

Only eight presbyteries reported. Six were in favour with some minor changes to the guidelines. One was rather neutral, but suggested changes to the guidelines. One presbytery opposed the suggestions.

The Council took into consideration the suggestions made by the Presbyteries reporting and incorporated most of them into the following revised proposal.

The Council considers it might be of assistance when a proposal for amalgamation is made and recommends that the following proposal go down to Presbyteries under the Barrier Act:

Re Amalgamation of Congregations, that the following new section 200 (j) be sent to Presbyteries under the Barrier Act for insertion on page 50 of the Book of Forms in the sections referring to the duties and powers of Presbyteries in relation to congregations:

In the matter of amalgamation of congregations, as pertaining to the assets of the amalgamating congregations, reference shall be made with recommendation by oral submission or extract of minutes, or both, under authority of congregational meetings and Presbytery, to the Administrative Council or to its Executive Committee for study and report to the Presbytery concerned with suggestions after which the Presbytery shall consider the disposition of the project involved, making use of the Guidelines printed under Section 6 Appendix, part two, and shall then have power to issue.

Proposed Guidelines for insertion in Book of Forms, Section 6, Appendix Part 2, re Amalgamation of congregations.

GUIDELINES FOR USE OF PRESBYTERY RE DISPOSITION OF ASSETS OF AMALGAMATING CONGREGATIONS

a – Any debt that may exist on the property of the congregation that is amalgamating should be paid in full from the proceeds of the sale of the property if it is to be sold.

b – If the amalgamated congregation (that is both) has a debt, it should be paid off.

c – If the amalgamated congregation does not have a debt, 25% of the residue of the proceeds of the sale of the subject property be given to the amalgamated congregation to assist it to establish its program.

d – The Presbytery concerned should assist the amalgamated congregation in planning and promoting a thorough-going program suitable for the community.

e – 50% of the residue of the proceeds that accrue from the sale of the subject property be given to the Presbytery concerned to be used only to reduce on a prorata basis the debts of the congregations within the bounds of the Presbytery concerned, or to be used within the bounds of the Presbytery concerned for extension work of the Church.

f – 25% of the residue of the proceeds that accrue from the sale of the subject property be used to promote good Christian programs in communities outside the bounds of the Presbytery concerned or to assist in reducing a nagging debt of some struggling congregation anywhere in Canada.

RECOMMENDATION 4.

That the above revision of the Book of Forms go down to Presbyteries for approval under the Barrier Act, and the guidelines, for insertion as Section 6, Appendix Part 2, re Amalgamation of Congregations.

SALARY OF DEPUTY CLERKS 1975 A&P, PAGES 29 and 56.

The 1975 General Assembly authorized the Administrative Council to set the honorarium for the Deputy Clerks which that General Assembly had appointed. The Council has set the honorarium for each Deputy Clerk at one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) per year.

RECOMMENDATION 5.

That the above report be received as information.

2ND CENTURY ADVANCE FOR CHRIST CAMPAIGN 1975 A&P PAGES 408 and 47.

Plans to implement the 2nd Century Advance for Christ Campaign are progressing satisfactorily. All Presbyteries have been contacted for suggestions and sixteen had responded by April 6th. A National Committee is being appointed, and Mr. Frank Whilsmith has agreed to act as Chairman. The National Committee will report to General Assembly next year in the report of the Administrative Council.

RECOMMENDATION 6.

That the above report be received as information.

RECOMMENDATION #1, PENSION BOARD (1975 A&P PAGES 313 and 70).

The 1975 General Assembly approved an amendment to the new regulations governing the Retirement Fund for Church Employees providing "an increase of 25% in the benefits and a 25% increase in the contributions to the Fund, and to effect such change, paragraph 8(a) should read 4% instead of 3.2% and $500.00 instead of $400.00 and 9(a) should read 6% instead of 4.8% and $750.00 instead of $600.00 and 11(a) should read 2% instead of 1.6%", and this was referred to the Council to consider and issue.

The Administrative Council referred the referral to the Pension Board for advice. The Pension Board reported the increase could be implemented by increasing the contributions of both the Employee and the Employer, as set forth in the amendment.

The new plan will shortly be referred to the Actuary for a regular review and appraisal, and the Council considered it advisable to await this before changing the contributions and benefits of a plan so recently instituted. Inasmuch as the Council was given authority to issue on this matter, it now reports that no change has been made in the regulations regarding the contributions and benefits pending the review by the Actuary.

RECOMMENDATION 7.

That the above report be received as information.

RECOMMENDATION 2(c) CHURCH WORSHIP COMMITTEE, 1975 A&P PAGES 276 and 72.

The Church Worship Committee requested the 1975 General Assembly to authorize a budget for the Committee of $3,500.00 for 1976. This request was referred to the Administrative Council with power to issue.

The Council reports that it considered a request received at its November meeting of setting a budget at $1,500.00 to provide travel expenses of the Committee working on the revision of the Book of Common Order.

The Administrative Council agreed to add $500.00 to the 1976 Budget allocation of this Committee, and that there be a further review later in 1976 when the scope of the work involved is more clearly established.

RECOMMENDATION 8.

That the above report be received as information.

INCREASE IN BASIC STIPEND OF 3%, 1975 A&P PAGE 74.

The 1975 General Assembly approved increasing the basic stipend by 3% on July 1st, 1976, and referred the action to the Administrative Council with power to issue. After consulting with the Board of World Mission the Council agreed to implement the decision of the Assembly by increasing the basic stipend by $200.00 per year and the travel allowance by $100.00 per year, with proportionate increases to other workers, and Presbyteries were notified early in November of this action.

RECOMMENDATION 9.

That the implementation of the action agreed upon by the General Assembly be received as information.

OVERTURES #14, PRESBYTERY OF CALGARY-MACLEOD, 1975 A&P PAGES 433, 78 and 79; #18 PRESBYTERY OF EDMONTON, 1975, A&P PAGES 436, 78 and 79; #19, PRESBYTERY OF RED DEER, 1975 A&P, PAGES 436, 78 and 79.

A request for $60,000 by the Synod of Alberta to provide 40% of the cost of a conference centre in Alberta was considered in 1974 by the Administrative Council and refused. The Council had in mind that other Synods were planning to establish conference centres, and the National Development Funds were not considered adequate to meet similar requests to that made by the Synod of Alberta if other Synods requested the same.

The 101st General Assembly received the three Overtures listed above, all requesting the Assembly to make a grant of $60,000. The Assembly approved the requests, and referred the matter to the Administrative Council. The Council considered the matter at its November meeting and agreed to decline granting the prayer of the Overtures because it was considered there was not sufficient money available for the National Development Fund to make this grant, and make similar grants to other Synods planning for similar centers, such as Camp Douglas, B.C.; Gracefield, Quebec; Midland, Ontario; Glen Mhor, Ontario etc.

RECOMMENDATION 10

That the action of the Administrative Council re the above Overtures be approved.

OVERTURE #28, 1973 GENERAL ASSEMBLY, RE HOUSING FOR RETIRED MINISTERS, RECOMMENDATION #7, EVANGELISM AND SOCIAL ACTION RE SENIOR CITIZENS' HOUSING; OVERTURE #26, PRESBYTERY OF CALGARY-MACLEOD, (1974 A&P, PAGE 442) AND RECOMMENDATION 5, ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL, 1975 A&P PAGES 406 and 36.

The Administrative Council has given much consideration to this problem. During the past year considerable progress has been made, and the Council reports to General Assembly in the terms of the final report of its special committee on this subject.

"Your committee has given consideration to several possible programs, including that of C.M.H.C., that would help retired ministers secure housing at a reasonable cost. The committee is concerned with a desire for the welfare of our retired ministers and their wives that they may be able to locate in an area of their choosing and that the accommodation will be such that it will provide dignity and comfort for them.

The committee's survey indicates that approximately ten(10) ministers per year during the next ten years will retire who will require assistance with housing at the time of retirement.

It is the opinion of your committee that the responsibility of the Church in caring for the welfare of our retired ministers would be best served by requesting the Presbyterian Church Building Corporation to give its help and guidance to this task.

The committee also notes that there are substantial funds in Category "A" of the National Development Fund already allotted to the support of the ministry and suggests that assistance in providing accommodation for retired ministers is a desirable use for some of these funds.

The committee therefore recommends:

1. That the Presbyterian Church Building Corporation be requested and authorized to undertake the work of helping ministers plan for retirement and, when requested, help them secure housing accommodation.
2. That the sum of $100,000.00 be given to the Presbyterian Church Building Corporation from the National Development Fund to assist in securing housing for retired ministers, and that a further sum of $100,000.00 from that Fund be made available as required by the Corporation for the same purpose.
3. That the Presbyterian Church Building Corporation, as they may from time to time deem it appropriate, be authorized:
   a) To secure the necessary information on the financial needs of ministers, sixty years of age or over, who expect to require help with housing upon retirement.
   b) To secure information from Presbyteries regarding surplus manses within their bounds which might be used for retired ministers and to ascertain whether the congregations owning these manses would be interested in the services of a retired minister for pulpit supply.
   c) To make use of Federal and Provincial government programs to assist in aiding ministers secure housing on retirement.
   d) To investigate the possibilities of securing accommodation for retired ministers within Senior Citizen projects, operated within our church, such as Penmarvian, etc.
   e) To receive funds from congregations, church organizations, foundations, individuals and other sources, either by loans or by donations, to further the work of providing housing for retired ministers, but that no general appeal be made.
   f) To buy, lease or construct residential buildings for the purpose of providing housing for retired ministers.
   g) To lend money, guarantee loans or secure mortgages for the purpose of helping retired ministers secure housing accommodation.
4. That the Presbyterian Church Building Corporation report regularly to the Administrative Council regarding its work in helping to provide housing for retired ministers.
5. That the committee be discharged.

Respectfully submitted,
ROBERT G. MacMILLAN,
Convener.

The Council records its gratitude to Senator R. J. H. Stanbury, Q.C., for chairing the above special committee, and to Dr. R. G. MacMillan who succeeded him as Chairman during the past year. The Council believes an energetic committee has now carried this matter to a situation where it is hoped the Presbyterian Church Building Corporation will soon be providing help for many servants of the Church who have given so much over the years for so little remuneration that they were not able to provide security for their years of retirement.

RECOMMENDATION 11.

That approval be given to the plans outlined in the preceding report, and the Council work with the Presbyterian Church Building Corporation in implementing the plans.

MACLEAN ESTATE

The Sub-Committee of the Council on the Maclean Estate reports through the Council to the General Assembly as follows:

The year 1975 marked the first year of operation of Crieff Hills Community. In that time one house on the 250 acre property was renovated and equipped for overnight occupancy of up to eighteen persons. Plans were made to renovate two other buildings and build two more. We have developed a decentralized plan with separate areas for small group retreats, for larger conferences, for farming and a woodland for outdoor activities such as day camping. The Resident Director, Rev. Robert Spencer, began working part time from January 1 and full time from April 1.

The first week-end retreat was held on February 28 – March 2. In the ten months of operation, 23 week-end retreats were held, (10 youth and 13 adult groups); and two Work and Worship Week-ends. Three conferences were sponsored or operated by Crieff Hills Community. In outdoor activities there were 13 days of Day Camp, Two congregational Family camp week-ends, and a week of Family Camp. There were also six Congregational outings throughout the year. Three national Church Committees have met at Crieff Hills.

The local area has used the school house for various day or evening meetings.

The demand has increased greatly in 1976, and youth groups are choosing to sleep on the school house floor when all other facilities are booked up.

R. FORBES THOMSON,
Chairman.

ROBERT SPENCER,
Secretary.

RECOMMENDATION 12.

That the above report be received as information.

RECOMMENDATION #31, ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL 1975 A&P, PAGES 416, AND 68, ANENT STANDARDIZING CERTAIN PROCEDURES.

The 1975 General Assembly was requested to standardize the following procedures:

(a) Auditor's report to congregations shall include comprehensive lists of trust funds and investments of any nature as well as the debt position of the congregation.

(b) Annual Financial Reports of all congregations shall be submitted to Presbytery;

(c) Presbytery shall insure that statistical returns tally with congregational Annual Financial Reports with respect to total investments and total indebtedness.

The Assembly agreed to send the recommendation down to Presbyteries for study and report by January 31st, 1976. Thirteen Presbyteries reported on their study of these recommendations and twelve reported approval, and one disapproval.

On the bases of these returns, and because the Council considers the implementation of the recommendations would be helpful in enabling Presbyteries to have a better understanding of the financial situation of the congregations within their bounds, the following recommendation is presented:

RECOMMENDATION 13.

That Presbyteries implement the three procedures set out above, and the statistical return forms be amended to include requests for this information.

OTHER MATTERS

AUDITORS

RECOMMENDATION 14.

That the firm of Thorne, Riddell and Company, Chartered Accountants, be continued as Auditors of the Church accounts, and that the Administrative Council be authorized to set their fees.

EXECUTIVE PERSONNEL SALARIES

The Administrative Council has requested its Executive-Personnel Committee to review annually the salary scale of the executive staff and report with recommendation. The Committee made its study, considering such items as the increase in the cost of living; the increase of salaries within the Church; and the high cost of housing in the cities where most of the executive staff live. It considered the limitations placed by the Prices and Wages Control Board on salary increases.

The Council adopted the recommendation of its Executive – Personnel Committee and recommends as follows:

RECOMMENDATION 15.

That a 10% increase be granted to the Executive Staff of the Church, and to College Professors, with a corresponding increase in regard to rental allowances where applicable, and that this increase be effective January 1st, 1977.

GROUP INSURANCE

The Administrative Council is concerned that the Church's Group Insurance coverage keeps pace with the inflationary trends. In 1971 the basic amount of life insurance was increased from $15,000.00 to $20,000.00. In 1973 the disability coverage was increased from $150.00 per month to $300.00 per month.

The Province of Ontario has recently introduced Human Rights Legislation that prohibits the Employer decreasing insurance coverage on an Employee because of age. It is expected that other provinces will introduce similar legislation. Even if they do not it would not be practical to have a different type of coverage for ministers residing in Ontario from those in other provinces.

Because of this legislation, and because of the need to keep our insurance coverage in pace with inflation, we now propose the introduction of Group Insurance Plan VIII.

1. The disability benefits will remain the same.
2. Every minister who is now a member of Group Insurance Plans VI and VII, and every minister who hereafter joins the Ministers' Pension Plan, shall receive a life insurance coverage of $3,000.00 paid by the Church, which shall continue to age 70 years, when it decreases to $1,000.00 paid by the Church.
3. All ministers mentioned in Section 2 above who agree to purchase the amount of insurance listed in the schedule below according to their age, on payment of $96.00 per year ($8.00 per month) will receive from the Church an additional $4,000.00 continuing to age sixty-five years when it reduces to $3,000.00 and at 70 years is discontinued.
4. In addition to above an equal amount of accidental death and dismemberment insurance will be effective to age 70 years.

5. It will be necessary that 75% of members now enrolled on Plans VI and VII agree to transfer to Plan VIII before it can become effective.
6. That students in theology at our theological colleges be permitted in their first year to purchase $25,000.00 insurance to continue for their years at college on condition they can show medical insurability and at a premium of $50.00 per year.

The schedule of coverage according to age which ministers will be asked to pay for under Plan VIII will be as follows:

Under age 50 years	18,000
50 years	16,000
51 years	14,000
52 years	12,000
53 years	10,000
54 years	8,000
55 years	6,000
56 years	4,500
57 years	3,000
58 years	2,000
over 59 to 65 years	2,000
65 to 70 years	1,000
70 years and over	Nil.

RECOMMENDATION 16

That Group Insurance Plan VIII be implemented provided the required 75% acceptance is obtained.

PROVISION OF MORTGAGES FOR RESIDENTIAL HOUSING FOR EXECUTIVE PERSONNEL ON OUR NATIONAL STAFF AND COLLEGE PROFESSORS.

A Committee was appointed to look into this matter, and draw up provisional regulations for the operation of a Fund. The Committee reported to the Council as follows:

"The Executive Staff and College Professors residing in the Toronto area were circulated to seek information regarding their housing situation. Twenty (20) replies were received. These replies showed that there are three (3) main groups in regards to housing.

A. Those who purchased their homes when both prices and mortgage rates were much below current levels. This group has no housing problems, but would like to see a scheme for housing assistance organized.
B. Those who purchased homes four (4) or five (5) years ago. Prices were reasonable, but for them mortgage rates are re-negotiable after five (5) years and they will certainly be higher.
C. Those who have accepted appointments within the last year or two and those who will be appointed in the future. These people face high costs all around for house and mortgage costs. This group will also face re-negotiable mortgages.

Any assistance made available would be primarily for those in Category C. This would be a maximum of ten (10) people at the present time projecting for five (5) years to include retirements and new appointments, the figure could be maximum twenty (20).

In concrete terms the problem for those in Category C looks something like this:

Toronto Housing Costs

$60,000 - 80,000 for a three (3) bedroom house.

Supposing a house costing $65,000.00 (and this is being overly optimistic).

A mortgage of $35,000 and a second mortgage of $30,000 the costs would be something like this:

Montly payments on 1st mortgage $35,000 on a 25 year 11½%	$ 348.98
Montly payment on $30,000 on 5% loan (interest only)	125.00
Taxes	60.00
Heat and Light	40.00
Total Monthly Payment	$ 573.98

The N.H.A. suggests that the debt service ratio for housing be not more than 27%.

On an assistant secretary's salary this would be ..	$ 395.00
For a secretary, it would be	$ 405.00

From the above reality we need to face the fact that if the Church is to have people accept appointments on the basis of job suitability rather than financial solvency, then some assistance will need to be made available to new appointees to executive and college faculty positions.

Your committee recommends as follows:

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That The Presbyterian Church in Canada make available loans in the form of Second Mortgages of up to $30,000. to executive and professor appointees at an interest rate of 5% per annum.
2. That the interest rate of 5% p.a. be reviewed every three years.
3. That payments on principal of the Second Mortgage be deferred for five years at a time. Payments on the principal may be made 1st. of May and 1st. of October.
4. That payments on the interest of the Second Mortgage will be by payroll deduction.
5. That the applicant for a Second Mortgage must be able to provide 5% of the total cost of the house.
6. That one of the conditions of the granting of a Second Mortgage be that the applicant make a full disclosure of his/her financial status, and the conditions of the purchase of the house.
7. That the applicant pay all legal fees involved in the Second Mortgage.
8. That the applicant be a member of the Church Group Insurance Plan.
9. That the applicant not seek/be eligible for a Second Mortgage from other sources.
10. That a committee of a voting member of the Council who will be chairperson, the Comptroller, and the General Manager of the Presbyterian Building Corp. be the committee to consider applications for such Second Mortgages and present them to the Executive of the Council for approval.
11. That as far as possible the committee try to hold the debt ratio on the house to 30% of the applicant's salary.
12. That a sum of $200,000.00 be the initial fund to provide Second Mortgages for Executive and Professors, and that there be further infusions of funds within three years if necessary, and every five years thereafter.
13. That the Committee draw up Regulations and a Second Mortgage document to cover the above recommendations and that the Regulations and Second Mortgage document be presented to the Executive of the Council for approval.

Respectfully submitted,

FRED MILLER,
Chairman.

The Council considered the above report and approved the recommendations in principle. It was suggested that provision would need to be considered for the repayment of the mortgage if a person left the employment which qualified him/her to receive the same. It was agreed the committee proceed to draw up definite regulations, and that Council present the plan to General Assembly for approval.

RECOMMENDATION 17.

That approval be given the Administrative Council to provide low interest mortgages for executive personnel and college professors.

TERM APPOINTMENTS

The Executive-Personnel Committee of the Administrative Council was established by the 1974 General Assembly on recommendation of the Council. One of the functions of the committee is to "review regularly with each employing Board or Committee the staffing needs of that body in relation to over-staffing needs and available resources. The Committee would make a full report to the Council every three years".

In carrying out this task this committee has had to look at the matter of term appointments of staff. It discovered that Assembly has set term appointments for some executive staff varying from three to five year appointments. If the practice of asking the Assembly for permission to call for nominations for persons to be appointed by Assembly is continued, it would mean that a person appointed for a three year term would need to be evaluated after about a year and a half of service in order for the examining committee to make an adequate study and report to the proper body. It would also necessitate a person serving for a year after the Assembly agrees to call for nominations of a successor.

We submit the system has not worked. We believe the practice has certain flaws.

It is inefficient. Persons willing to commit themselves to undertake a specialized ministry as executive personnel acquire expertise through years of experience. To put a time limit on their service would seem to deprive the church unnecessarily of their experience and the investment which the church has in this "on the job" training.

The specific term appointment also creates uncertainty on the part of personnel. As with any ministry within the church, some certainty of tenure is important to a sense of well being and one's own career planning. The application of arbitrary terms of appointment may force personnel to follow other courses in order to find the job security necessary to long range career goals.

It is undoubtedly true that the motive behind the concept of term appointments has validity. Where a particular role may no longer be meaningful in the life of the Church, or where an appointment calls for gifts other than the appointee possesses, or where there is incompetence, there ought to be a mechanism for periodic review.

It is our contention that the practice of term appointments in itself does not meet the need of the situation. As mentioned, it has serious flaws. Rather than continue it we suggest that the Committee on Executive-Personnel, or such other committee as may be appointed for this specific task, should replace term appointments with an effective review five years after appointment to national staff. This review should be concerned with the continued validity of the function and quality of performance. The Committee should approach this task in a christian and pastoral manner. It would sometimes involve difficult decisions, but would be of far more use to the Church than maintaining the framework of term appointments without providing the personal mechanism for review.

It is understood that nothing in this report need preclude a short term appointment of a person to a short term task.

In view of the study and report of its Executive-Personnel Committee the Council recommends as follows:

RECOMMENDATION 18.

That the practice of term appointments of executive personnel be discontinued.

RECOMMENDATION 19.

That the Administrative Council, through its Committee on Executive-Personnel, review at least once every five years the function and performance of the executive personnel employed by the Presbyterian Church.

INCREASE IN MAXIMUM SALARY RE PENSION

The Pension Board recommended to the Administrative Council that the maximum salary for Pension rates be raised from $10,000.00 to $15,000.00 per year. The Council considered this referral, and in its study recognized that the basic stipend has increased by approximately $2,000.00. It also realizes that if the benefits under the new plan are to keep pace with inflation, increases must continually be made so long as inflation continues. The Council therefore agreed to implement the recommendation of the Pension Board to the extent of increasing the maximum allowed for salary to $12,000.00 per year, thereby increasing the maximum yearly payment to $480.00.

The Council further agreed that in future years when increases in basic stipend are considered there be a review of the maximum stipend level used to determine pension contributions and pension benefits.

RECOMMENDATION 20.

That the above report be received as information.

HOUSING ALLOWANCES FOR DEACONESSES

The Board of Ministry requested the Administrative Council to study the salary scale of deaconesses. After consideration the Council reports that inasmuch as Deaconesses receive no housing allowance, that the proportionate increase in their salary scale should be revised.

In 1975 General Assembly agreed that the deaconesses receive increases in salary to the amount of 90% of the increase granted ministers and superintendents. The Council now makes the following recommendation –

RECOMMENDATION 21.

That the rate of increase in salary of deaconesses be at 95% of the ministers' rate for the current year, with an additional 1% annually until 100% is reached.

NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT FUND

A final report has been received from the Collection Committee of the National Development Fund, and the Committee has been discharged. However, collections will continue to be received and used for projects designated by the Administrative Council.

The givings of each congregation since the start of this Fund are found in the statistical reports being published in this year's Acts and Proceedings. Also statements are printed in this book of distributions made from the Fund.

RECOMMENDATION 22.

That the above report be received as information.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

In accordance with modern business practices an audit committee has reviewed the financial accounts on behalf of the Council, and the Council has approved the Financial Statements for signature by the Chairman of the Council and the Treasurer of the Church.

These statements appear elsewhere in the Appendices of the Acts and Proceedings.

RECOMMENDATION 23.

That the statements on Financial Accounts be received as information.

AUDIT SUB-COMMITTEE

The appointment of an Audit Sub-Committee from within the Finance Committee to review with the Auditors and the Comptroller the Financial Statements and the accounting organization of the Church has proved to be most beneficial. Membership of this committee includes not only those who are expert in finance but also ministers and others who are concerned that the Church is shown to be efficient in the management of its finances and who are interested in the presentation of informative financial statements. The Council proposes the following recommendation:

RECOMMENDATION 24.

That Colleges and other organizations which present financial statements to the Church be encouraged to appoint an Audit Sub-Committee to review their financial statements and accounting organizations.

INCREASE IN BASIC STIPEND, AND TRAVEL

The Council is still persuaded that the top financial priority of our Church is to provide an adequate salary for those who serve. We are encouraged by the response that congregations are making to this challenge, and many have met the increases in stipend and travel without help from the general budget funds. The Council is persuaded that because of the increase in the cost of living since our last report to Assembly, and in keeping with the Federal Government's legislation re restraint of increases in wages, we support the recommendation in the report of the Board of World Mission re stipend and travel.

There are two items in the following increases which the Council would point out to the Assembly.

With regard to Deaconesses' Salary there is a difference in the following schedule from that in the report of the Board of World Mission. The Council previously in this report recommends a variance in the rate of proportionate increase for deaconesses from the rate adopted by the 1975 General Assembly. The amount of increase in deaconesses' salary will depend on the action Assembly takes on Recommendation #21.

The second item has to do with the increase to Superintendents of Missions. The 1975 General Assembly adopted 100% as the proportion of their increase, but the Board of World Mission recommends an increase of $1,000.00 for them in this year's increases. The Council concurs in the change recommended by the Board of World Mission.

RECOMMENDATION 25.

That the following salary and travel scale be adopted, effective January 1st, 1977.

Category	Proportional Increase	Amount of Increase	Stipend July 1/76	Actual Stipend Jan. 1/77
O.M. Basic Stipend	100%	$ 900	$ 7,400	$ 8,300
Superintendents of Missions	–	$1,000	10,300	11,300
Deaconesses	95%	$ 855	7,050	7,905
Catechists & Lay Missionaries	80%	$ 720	6,250	6,970
Women Missionaries	80%	$ 720	6,000	6,720
Lay Directors of Institutions	90%	$ 810	7,650	8,460
Married Students	70%	$ 630	5,025	5,655
Summer Students	–	$ 6 per week	$74 per week plus room & board	$80 per week plus room & board

An additional increase of $200. basic travel to O.M. and other full-time workers from $1000. to $1200. per annum, effective January 1st, 1977.

REPLACEMENT OF EXECUTIVE PERSONNEL

There have been two changes recommended in executive staff on which the Council needs to report to this Assembly. The Assembly has given to the Council the responsibility of reporting with its recommendations if a new executive position is to be created, or a replacement of personnel is contemplated in an office already established.

A. The Council has been informed through its Executive-Personnel Committee that the Senate of Presbyterian College intends to request the 1976 General Assembly for permission to circulate the Presbyteries for nominations for the appointment of a Principal of Presbyterian College following the retirement of the present Acting-Principal. After considering the need for this replacement the Council recommends as follows:

RECOMMENDATION 26.

That this Assembly concur in the desire of the Senate of Presbyterian College to appoint a Principal of the College at the time of the retirement of the present Acting-Principal and that up to a six month over-lapping in appointments be permitted to facilitate the change of personnel.

B. The Council has also been informed of the impending resignation of the Editor of The Presbyterian Record, and of the desire of the Record Committee to have permission to circulate the Presbyteries and request nominations for the appointment of a new Editor. The Council recommends as follows:

RECOMMENDATION 27.

That this Assembly concur in the desire of the Record Committee to appoint another Editor of the Presbyterian Record at the time of the retirement of the present Editor.

CHANGES IN REGULATIONS OF THE LENDING FUND

A. Loan Limits.

Because of the great increases in the cost of securing sites and constructing buildings the present maximum loan limit under the Lending Fund of $35,000.00 is considered to be too low. Therefore, the Council approves submitting the following recommendation of the Lending Fund Committee to General Assembly–

RECOMMENDATION 28.

That the present loan limit of $35,000.00 be increased to $50,000.00 for all loan applications received after the date of this approval by Assembly, and that the repayment schedule (A&P, 1974 Page 379) be amended on a proportionate basis.

B. Manses.

The Lending Fund Committee and the Administrative Council have both been made aware recently of more than one occasion where a congregation has sold its manse to its minister, or some other person, and when faced with a new settlement and the new incumbent minister desired a manse, the cost of securing a suitable house has proven to be very expensive, and often more than the congregation can afford. Therefore, the following recommendation is submitted –

RECOMMENDATION 29.

A. That congregations be urged to retain possession of manses and rent the same when not required by the incumbent minister.

B. That congregations which do not own a manse be encouraged to consider ways and means of housing their new minister should the incumbent minister leave.

C. That Presbyteries aid and advise congregations within their bounds to implement the spirit and substance of the above proposals.

COMMITTEE ON SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY IN INVESTMENT POLICY

The 1973 General Assembly directed the Administrative Council to establish a Committee on Social Responsibility in Investment Policy. This Committee has been meeting and reporting regularly to the Council. It has also been in consultation with similar committees in other denominations. Our Committee has requested a responsible Board, or Committee of our Church to produce more definite statements on such issues as Apartheid and Northern Development.

RECOMMENDATION 30.

That this Assembly direct a Board, or Committee, of our Church to produce a definite statement on the position of The Presbyterian Church in Canada on such issues as Apartheid and Northern Development.

CATEGORIES A & B IN NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT FUND

Early in the history of the National Development Fund it was agreed that the contributions be divided into two equal parts. One part was called Category A and was invested, the income to be added to the general income of the Church to assist in supporting the Church's Ministry, especially re increasing ministers' stipends. The other part was called Category B, and from this portion grants have been made to various projects in our Church since the Fund began. It was further agreed that this procedure be reviewed at the completion of the campaign.

The Council has already suggested to this Assembly a step in revision of Category A when it recommended up to $200,000.00 being provided to the Fund to provide housing for retired ministers. The Council at its April Meeting agreed to refer this revision to its Finance Committee to report to the May meeting of the Executive. If possible an additional recommendation will be presented to this Assembly in a supplementary report.

RECOMMENDATION 31.

That the above report be received as information.

OVERTURE #12, PRESBYTERY OF EDMONTON, RE FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY FOR ASSEMBLY PERSONNEL ON DEPUTATION

This Overture was received by the Council while the April meeting was in session. In its implications the prayer of the Overture will involve BWM, and the Committee to Advise with the Moderator, and possibly other Boards and Committees. The Council expects it will take a year to give proper study and report.

RECOMMENDATION 32.

That the Council study Overture #12 and report to the 103rd General Assembly.

CENTENNIAL BIRTHDAY FUND

The Centennial Birthday Gift for Budget Funds was established by the 100th General Assembly for the purpose of augmenting funds for on-going budget commitments, and if these commitments are over-subscribed other projects could be implemented. The Council has agreed to use the Centennial Birthday Fund as follows:

1. That the net proceeds of the Centennial Birthday Fund be made available to the Program Boards and the Colleges for the implementation of programs and projects which are awaiting funding and which, by their implementation, will not become an on-going charge on the General Assembly Budget.

2. That the allocation of the Fund be made by the Administrative Council, or its Executive, on recommendation of the Program Co-Ordinating Committee.
3. That any unallocated funds left at the end of 1976 be transferred to the Special Project Fund.

RECOMMENDATION 33.

That the General Assembly approve the plan outlined above for using the proceeds of the Centennial Birthday Fund.

CONTINUING EDUCATION GRANT FROM NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT FUND

The Board of Ministry requested the Administrative Council to concur in the recommendation of the Board of Ministry to the effect that the Board of Ministry be responsible to the General Assembly for the revision of the regulations of the National Development Fund Support for Continuing Education.

The Council agreed to concur.

RECOMMENDATION 34.

That the above report be received as information.

BUDGET FOR 1976 AND 1977

The revised budget for 1976 shows an estimated net deficit of $170,378. The Council accepted the suggestion of the Board of Congregational Life that the estimate of Income from Congregations be increased by $150,000 to $2,800,000. In arriving at the above deficit a deduction of $100,000 has been made to reflect the savings in Board of World Mission expenditure which may arise because of vacancies and delays in appointments in aid-receiving charges.

Because of the need to economize, there are no proposals for major changes in programmes. The proposed budget for 1977 shows a deficit of $367,465 – this presents a significant challenge to all congregations.

REPORT OF THE CLERKS OF ASSEMBLY RE OVERTURE #9, PRESBYTERY OF LANARK AND RENFREW, 1976, RE: LAY REPRESENTATION AT PRESBYTERY LEVEL FOR COMMUNITY CHURCHES.

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

This Overture, which requests provision to be made within the structure of the Church for lay representation from Community Churches to the higher courts of the Church, was received from the Presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew early in April, and referred to the Clerks of Assembly on April 9th. The Clerks have not had much time to consider the implications of the Overture.

Inasmuch as community churches are few and of recent origin, the problems raised have new implications which are likely to become a part of the structure of the Church of the future.

The Clerks recognize practical and doctrinal problems on which they would like to confer with the Committee on Church Doctrine, and the Presbytery overturing, as well as others who are involved in the situation set forth in the overture.

The Clerks of Assembly recommend that they be permitted to continue study of this Overture, in consultation with the Committee on Church Doctrine, and the Presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew, and report to the 103rd General Assembly.

DONALD C. MacDONALD, E. H. BEAN, D. LOWRY,
Clerks of Assembly.

THE PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE
REPORT OF THE SENATE 1975-1976

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Senate of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, respectfully submits our annual report of the Session 1975-76.

This has been a year of important progress in all the activities of the College, with enrolment at an all-time high of twenty-nine students, four of whom are in the Professional Year, and twenty-five in various studies in the Faculty of Religious Studies of McGill University. One of our students, Roderick A. Ferguson, B.F.A., was awarded the prize for highest standing in the graduating year of the B.Th. programme. We are encouraged in the work of the Professional Year by the appointment part-time of the Reverend Thomas Gemmell as Presbyterian Director of Professional Studies.

The Programme of Continuing Education for Ministers continues to attract an increasing number of Ministers from all parts of Canada. Many of these men express enthusiasm for the courses offered and for the experience of returning to academic studies.

The Annual Retreat for Students and Faculty was attended by thirty-three persons, with the Reverend Professor James D. Smart as the guest lecturer.

The L. W. Anderson Lectures were given this year by the Reverend Professor C. Ellis Nelson, President of Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary, on the theme "Christ and Conscience." These lectures have been given at Presbyterian College, Montreal, since nineteen forty-nine through the generosity of the late Mr. L. W. Anderson, a benefactor of the College across the years.

A course for Clerks of Presbyteries and Synods, designed by the General Assembly, was held in November and was well attended.

A special One Hundred and First General Assembly Centennial Celebration Convocation of Presbyterian College, Montreal, was held on June tenth, Nineteen seventy-five, in the Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul. Honorary Doctor of Divinity degrees were conferred upon the Reverend James Iley McCord, D.D., Th.D., LL.D., Litt.D., L.H.D., President, Princeton Theological Seminary, a past Chairman and Secretary of the North American Area of the World Alliance of Reformed and Presbyterian Churches and a member of the World Council of Churches; Professor John Sargent Moir, M.A., Ph.D., author of "Enduring Witness", the history of The Presbyterian Church in Canada; the Reverend E. Archibald Thomson, B.A., D.D., a Minister of the Church since 1917, Secretary of various Assembly Boards and a former Principal Clerk of the General Assembly; and Pastor Titus Path, Principal, the Presbyterian Bible College, Tangoa, New Hebrides, a representative of the fruits of the Church's mission overseas. Missionaries from the Atlantic Provinces were among the founding fathers of the New Hebridean Church and several became martyrs for the faith. Dr. McCord delivered the Convocation Address, "Theological Education in the Service of the Church."

At the One hundred and ninth Annual Convocation to be held on Monday, the tenth day of May, One thousand nine hundred and seventy-six, in the Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul, the degree of Doctor of Divinity, honoris causa, will be conferred on the Reverend Allison Osborne MacLean, Calvin Church, Halifax, Nova Scotia. The Reverend Arthur W. Currie, M.A., M.Th., D.D., of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Ottawa, will deliver the Convocation Address.

Following are the names and standing of the students enrolled in academic year 1975-76:

	D. Allan Young (Assembly)

The Reverend Dr. D. N. MacMillan continued as Acting Principal during the term, as well as giving instruction in the Faculty of Religious Studies of McGill University and teaching denominational studies within our College.

As in other years, we have received many expressions of interest in the work of the College in the form of bursaries, scholarships, prizes and donations for our general expenses. To these generous donors, and to all our friends who have encouraged and supported us, we would extend our gratitude.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That the Senate of the Presbyterian College be permitted to renew the appointment of the Reverend Dr. D. N. MacMillan as Acting Principal for a further year.
2. That the Senate of the Presbyterian College be permitted to circularize the Presbyteries asking for nominations for the Principalship of the College. (Nominations to be received not later than December 15, 1976.)
3. That the College be permitted to approach the National Development Fund for assistance in meeting the cost of our program of Continuing Education for Ministers.

JOHN A. SIMMS,
Chairman.

JOHN R. McCALLUM,
Hon. Secretary.

AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Management
The Presbyterian College, Montreal

We have examined the balance sheet of The Presbyterian College, Montreal, as at December 31, 1975 and the statement of income and expenditure for the year then ended. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the College as at December 31, 1975 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied, except as stated in note 1 to the financial statements, on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1975

1. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles appropriate for a non-profit organization.

The College makes no charge for depreciation on buildings and equipment in the determination of annual operating results on the grounds that fixed assets, when replaced, will be financed from public or private donations. In order to provide for systematic write off of fixed assets, the Board of Management has adopted the policy of recording depreciation on fixed assets by a direct charge against the Building and Maintenance Fund.

In 1975 the Board of Management changed its policy of recording revenue from investments from a cash basis to an accrual basis. As a retroactive adjustment has not been made, this change of policy has resulted in increased revenue of $19,691 for the year 1975. Revenue from investments is treated as income of the General Fund with the exception of the portion thereof deemed to be earned by the Endowments for Scholarships which are allocated directly to Scholarship Funds Held for Disbursement.

2. LAND

Land, which was acquired for nominal consideration as part of an exchange with McGill University, is shown at the value assigned by the Board of Management in 1961.

3. SCHOLARSHIP FUNDS FOR DISBURSEMENT

This fund represents accumulated income on Endowments for Scholarships and contributions received for scholarships, bursaries and prizes not specifically donated to the Endowment Fund, less applicable disbursements to date.

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1975

3. SCHOLARSHIP FUNDS FOR DISBURSEMENT (cont'd)
The continuity of Scholarship Funds for Disbursement is as follows:

Balance at beginning of year		$134,779
Contributions received	$ 7,288
Allocation of Investment Income (note 7)	27,548	34,836
		169,615
Allocation to General Fund re tuition (as authorized by Board of Management)		(22,750)
Scholarships, bursaries and prizes disbursed		(12,825)
Balance at end of year		$134,040

In 1974 the Board of Management adopted the policy of making annual allocations to the General Fund from Scholarship Funds Held for Disbursement. As indicated above, these funds arise from income earned in prior years on Endowments for Scholarships and contributions for scholarships. This allocation is treated as a revenue of the General Fund for reporting purposes.

4. ENDOWMENT FUND

This fund represents endowments received to date for professors' chairs, scholarships, library and miscellaneous purposes.

The continuity of Endowment Fund is as follows:

Balance at beginning of year and end of year	$746,191

The items comprising this fund at end of year are as follows:

Endowments for Professors' Chairs
Joseph Mackay chair	$ 33,930
Edward Mackay chair	33,930
John Redpath chair	27,143
Lord Strathcona chair	40,715

6. GENERAL FUND

The continuity of General Fund is as follows:

Balance at beginning of year		$ 78,781
Gain on sale of investments		780
Donations received		5,000
		84,561
Net expenditure per statements		19,210
Balance at end of year		$ 65,351

7. REVENUE FROM INVESTMENTS

Revenue from investments during the year is as follows:

Interest
Bonds	$49,334
Investment certificates	31,497
	80,831
Dividends	14,832	$ 95,663
Portion allocated to Scholarship Funds for Disbursement		(27,548)
Portion allocated to General Fund		$ 68,115

As discussed in note 1, revenue from investments includes additional revenue of $19,691 for 1975 which arises as a result of the change from a cash basis to an accrual basis of recording such revenue.

PRESBYTERIAN RESIDENCE
SASKATOON, SASKATCHEWAN

March 16, 1976.

To the Venerable, the 102nd General Assembly:

The Presbyterian Residence completes the year 1975 with all rooms filled and in some cases, because of high demand for rooms, we have reluctantly resorted in one instance, the placing of two men in a room.

We continue to be grateful to those who made renovations possible, with old building and with the small balance we are continuing the program. The new addition provides facilities that have made the Residence so popular, that a long waiting list is the order of the day. We would be delighted if more of our Presbyterian families in Sask. would take advantage of this facility of our church provided for young people.

The Summer Synod Youth Conference continues to use the Residence and the Ministers' Conference meets each spring. Other facilities are available from May to Sept. for other events of our church, since the number of students attending summer classes is small.

The generous help from many in the Synod insures the continuance of "Pres Res" on the Cres. down from the Bess", but the consistent and dedicative service of the treasurer, Peter Mackie deserves special mention.

Candidates for the Ministry should contact the Board of the Residence for bursary assistance.

R. A. DAVIDSON,
Chairman.

JACK WELLS
Secretary.

March 5, 1976.

AUDITORS' REPORT

We have examined the balance sheet of the Presbyterian Residence as at December 31, 1975, and the statements of revenue and expenses – Residence Operations and receipts and disbursements – Board and Trust Fund, for the year then ended. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we consider necessary in the circumstances.

Revenues which arise from donations by their nature are not susceptible to complete verification by audit procedures. Accordingly, our examination was confined to a comparison of recorded revenues against bank deposits.

With this exception, in our opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Residence as at December 31, 1975, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

No. 1–PRESBYTERY OF MIRAMICHI

Re: BOOK OF FORMS, SECTION 258(a) AND 258(b), MINISTERS AND MINISTERS ACTING AS ELDERS.
(Referred to Clerks of Assembly)

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

WHEREAS, according to the Book of Forms, Sections 258(a) and 258(b) ministers and ministers acting as elders in congregations can sit in Assembly only as commissioners from the Presbytery to which they belong;

WHEREAS, according to the Book of Forms, Sections 258(b) and 278(4), elders are not so restricted as in the case of the above, but may be appointed to sit in the General Assembly by any Presbytery of the Church; and

WHEREAS, this state of affairs discriminates against ministers and ministers acting as elders in that it denies to ministers acting as elders equal privilege with their fellow elders, and gives to elders a special privilege not granted to ministers; and

WHEREAS, in order to maintain consistency in the Book of Forms, if ministers and ministers acting as elders are so restricted, elders ought also to be restricted; and

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of Miramichi humbly overtures the Venerable, the General Assembly to take the steps necessary to the end that the Book of Forms Section 278(4) be amended to read: "A Presbytery may appoint as its commissioner to the General Assembly only an elder from that Presbytery, provided, always, that the person so appointed, is at the time an acting member of some Session." And to amend Section 258(b) to read: "A Presbytery may elect as an elder commissioner only an elder from that Presbytery, provided that he is bona fide an acting elder in some Kirk-Session."

OR THAT, the General Assembly do otherwise as in its wisdom it deems best.

AND THAT, the above overture be referred to the Clerks of Assembly.

Re: RIGHT TO CALL
(Referred to Board of World Mission)

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

WHEREAS, the present regulation restricts the "right to call" to congregations financially able to guarantee 100% of the basic stipend (e.g. $7,400 as of July 1, 1976), not including increments or other allowances (Acts and Proceedings 1975, p. 483, approved p. 65), and

WHEREAS, there are a number of congregations, both newly developing extension congregations in urban areas, and rural congregations of limited potential, which will have little possibility of extending a call under this regulation, and

WHEREAS, there are ministers who are serving most acceptably in such situations who are thus deprived of the opportunity to consider a call from the congregation in which they are serving, and the congregation is deprived of the opportunity to extend a call to the minister already serving them, and

WHEREAS, the extension of a call by a congregation and the acceptance of it by a minister already serving there under appointment may result in a longer ministry, and

WHEREAS, the necessary safeguards that the Board of World Mission rightly feels should apply to prevent the calling of an unsuitable minister to a charge where the deficit grants are providing a major portion of stipend and allowance, need not be applied where the incumbent is already serving to the satisfaction of the Presbytery and the Board of World Mission,

THEREFORE, we, the Presbytery of Assiniboia, humbly overture the Venerable the General Assembly to amend the regulation referred to (Acts and Proceedings 1975, p. 483, approved p. 65), by adding the following:

"The proviso in this regulation concerning guarantee of 100% of basic stipend, not including increments and other allowances, shall not apply if the call is extended by a congregation in which the minister has been serving satisfactorily under appointment as Ordained Missionary for at least eighteen months."

or to do otherwise as the General Assembly in its wisdom may deem best.

Re: CLERGYMEN AND INCOME TAX
(Referred to Board of Ministry)

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

WHEREAS, the Canadian clergyman, because of the nature of his profession, has a rather unique status as a taxpayer in relation to Revenue Canada Taxation; and

WHEREAS, the existing tax laws for clergy are not well known within the Church and are especially unfamiliar to new ministers of the church; and

WHEREAS, some clergy may presently be paying more than their fair taxes by failing, through ignorance of the relevant sections of the Income Tax Act, to make deductions and claim exemptions which they might otherwise rightfully claim; and

WHEREAS, present legitimate deductions and exemptions that now apply specifically for other professional groups might also in principle and practice rightfully apply to clergy; and

WHEREAS, no clergy guidebook for Canadian Income Tax Returns exists,

THEREFORE, it is humbly overtured by the Presbytery of Vancouver Island that the General Assembly take action to:

1) Appoint a qualified committee to study existing tax laws as they now apply and as they might rightfully apply to the Canadian clergyman,
2) That this said committee clarify in discussion with Revenue Canada Taxation officials the taxation laws as they relate to the Canadian clergyman,
3) That this said committee compile and authorize the publishing of 'A Guidebook for Clergy Income Tax' to assist clergy with their income tax returns,
4) That this booklet be made available at nominal cost to the ministers of the Presbyterian Church in Canada and other denominations on request,
5) That the said committee or its appointee, after publication of the booklet, keep the clergy of the Church informed of any changes in the Income Tax Act by reporting the changes to the following General Assembly;

or to do otherwise as the General Assembly in its wisdom may deem best.

Re: GUN CONTROL LEGISLATION
(Referred to Board of Congregational Life)

"To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

WHEREAS, violence and murder have increased alarmingly in Canada, and

WHEREAS, murder rate in North America, including Canada, is three to ten times higher than in Western Europe where all governments enforce strict gun control, and

WHEREAS, firearms are too readily available for purchase in Canada,

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of Westminster humbly overtures the 102nd General Assembly to urge the Government of Canada to take the necessary steps to establish gun control legislation to curtail the indiscriminate sale of firearms in our country, and to institute a policy for registration of all firearms in Canada, as well as a training program in the safe use of firearms for new registrants, or to do otherwise as the General Assembly in its wisdom may deem best."

Re: "CALL OF A CONGREGATION"
(Referred to Board of World Mission, Board of Ministry and Committee on Church Doctrine)

To the Venerable, The 102nd General Assembly:

WHEREAS, The Presbyterian Church in Canada believes that the "Call of a congregation" is the basis for ordination, and

WHEREAS, the appointment of graduating students and others as ordained missionaries is an aberration of the above belief, and

WHEREAS, the Church has instituted such an appointment system from time to time to fulfill certain necessary obligations and to assure that certain pastoral charges have ordained ministers, and

WHEREAS, any Board entrusted with the responsibility of appointing persons as ordained missionaries should try to approximate the Call system as closely as possible so that pastoral charges and ordained missionaries might feel there was such a mutual call, and

WHEREAS, it sometimes appears that ordained missionaries are appointed by those with little sensitivity to their known gifts, and little understanding of what it means to be an ordained minister of the Gospel in today's world, and

WHEREAS, some presbyteries who seek appointments are discriminated against because they contain student charges and thus needy charges do not receive ordained ministers, and

WHEREAS, some presbyteries receive appointments to pastoral charges each time a vacancy occurs, and

WHEREAS, there is a shortage of ordained ministers in our Church requiring wise deployment of available ministerial resources, and

WHEREAS, the Church, above all institutions, should treat her members and servants as persons and not as objects, as the Gospel is addressed to persons, while the Law sees only acts and regulations:

THEREFORE the Presbytery of Bruce-Maitland humbly overtures the Venerable The General Assembly to appoint a Committee with one representative from the Committee on Church Doctrine, one from the Board of Ministry, one from the Board of World Mission, one from each of the Theological Colleges, one student representative from each of Knox College and Presbyterian College, Montreal, and two others, to study and review the present practice of our Church, and to recommend necessary changes in order that our high doctrine of ordination not be further eroded and recruitment to the ordained ministry harmed;

or to do otherwise as the General Assembly, in its wisdom, may deem best.

Re: BOOK OF FORMS – RE MODERATOR
(Referred to Comm. on Church Doctrine)

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

WHEREAS, the Book of Forms states specifically that the Moderator in all our Church Courts is a Minister, and

WHEREAS, this statement effectively prevents a ruling elder from acting as Moderator in any court of our Church, and

WHEREAS, this statement plainly implies that a ruling elder, by reason of his calling and office, cannot be considered, and is not, competent to act as Moderator in any Court of our Church, and

WHEREAS, this discrimination does not possess scriptural warranty, and is not soundly based even from a secular point of view, and

WHEREAS, this discrimination deprives our church of the services as Moderator of many people fully competent to act as such, and

WHEREAS, this discrimination is a continual source of disharmony in our church, and is long overdue for removal,

THEREFORE, it is humbly overtured by the Presbytery of Vancouver Island that the General Assembly take action to remove this discrimination in so far as it affects the office of Moderator in Presbyteries, Synods, and General Assemblies of our Church, or to do otherwise for this purpose what in its wisdom it deems best.

Re: CAPITAL PUNISHMENT
(Referred to the Board of Congregational Life)

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Clerk read a letter from the Session of Knox Church, Milton and on motion of E. F. Dutcher/W. R. Geddes, it was agreed to receive and consider the matter. The letter noted the following resolutions of the Milton Session on February 25, 1976:

"That this Session wishes to go on record as being in favour of the death penalty for premeditated, planned murder and any murder committed during the commission of any office.

"That methods of execution other than hanging should be considered.

"That copies of the resolutions in regard to capital punishment be sent to Presbytery with the prayer that Presbytery overture the 102nd General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada to adopt this as the stand of our Church in this matter."

On motion of K. E. King/M. R. Gellatly, it was agreed that this resolution be transmitted simpliciter to the Clerks of Assembly with referral to the Board of Congregational Life requested.

Re: LAY REPRESENTATION AT PRESBYTERY LEVEL FOR COMMUNITY CHURCHES
(Referred to Clerks of Assembly)

To the Venerable, the 102nd General Assembly:

WHEREAS, there is within the bounds of the Presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew a Community Church at Deep River, Ontario, and,

WHEREAS, the Rev. L. E. Siverns, B.A. B.D. M.Th. is the Minister at the Community Church at Deep River, and,

WHEREAS, the Rev. L. E. Siverns is a minister of the Presbyterian Church in Canada and his name is on the Constitutent Roll of the Presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew, and,

WHEREAS, the membership of the Community Church at Deep River consists of men and women of the Presbyterian, Baptist and United Churches, and,

WHEREAS, there is no lay representation at the Presbytery level for the Presbyterians at Deep River, and,

WHEREAS, there seems to be an increasing number of Community Churches with Presbyterians participating in the life and work of these churches:

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew humbly overtures the venerable, the 102nd General Assembly to make provision within the structure of the Church for lay representation from Community Churches to the higher courts of the Church or do whatever in its wisdom it deems best.

Re: PROCEDURE FOR NOMINATING PERSONS TO FILL VACANT CHURCH COLLEGE FACULTY CHAIRS
(Referred to Board of Ministry)

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

WHEREAS, there is considerable dissatisfaction within our Church with the method of nominating persons to fill vacant College faculty chairs and

WHEREAS, the present method has evolved into a system which may be interpreted as being a self-perpetuating process and

WHEREAS, we believe that the whole of our church should have much more weight attached to nominations made through Presbyteries to fill such vacancies,

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of Kootenay humbly overtures the Venerable, the General Assembly that

A) A Committee of Assembly (not of the Senate of the particular College) be appointed to proceed in the matter of receiving nominations and examining the qualifications of persons nominated through appropriate channels for such Faculty vacancies with a view to placing in nomination before the General Assembly, one, or more, names for each such vacancy and

B) that such Committee of Assembly be responsible only to the immediate successor of the appointing assembly, or in accordance with the Committee's terms of reference, or both, and

C) though the academic credentials of candidates must be of high quality, they need not be the chief determinant in considering whether a candidate's name is placed before the Assembly by this Committee, and that due emphasis be laid on the candidate's ability to relate to students, as having the heart of a pastor (perhaps having recently been one), as having a commitment to the Scriptures as "the only infallible rule of faith and practice", as possessing no little ability to "rightly divide the word of truth", and having a keen desire to strengthen the ministry of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, and

D) that the composition of the Committee

a) be not limited to a geographical area of our Church for convenience or economic reasons

b) include one representative member of the Senate of the College which has the vacancy or vacancies under consideration and that

c) knowledgeable lay persons in the educational field as well as ministers of our Church be included, or to do otherwise for this object as the General Assembly deems fitting.

Re: FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY FOR ASSEMBLY PERSONNEL ON DEPUTATION
(Referred to the Board of World Mission and Administrative Council)

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

WHEREAS, for many years the 'tour of the Church' by the Moderator of the General Assembly, and the deputizing of Missionaries and other Church personnel has served to provide 'Communicators' between the Assembly and the courts and congregations of the Church, and

WHEREAS, these are Servants of the Church, carrying out the will and intent of the General Assembly, its Boards and Committees, and are generally effective in informing and encouraging the membership of the Church, and

WHEREAS, it is an unfortunate adjunct of such 'visits', that Presbyteries and congregations find it difficult, if not impossible, to secure a sharp, concise and unequivocal statement of financial obligations falling, or allegedly falling, to the 'host' Court or congregation, and

WHEREAS, there is not, to our knowledge, any approved definition of the responsibility of Synods, Presbyteries and congregations in providing financial support for such 'visits', or any recognition that the General Assembly assumes the expenses of these persons travelling to execute the will and appointment of the Assembly among the people of the Church, and

WHEREAS, this deficiency of information is the cause of some discontent, apprehension and reluctance on the part of some Courts and Congregations to invite the presence of these 'visitors', and also that it is regrettable to cast these visitors in the role of mendicants seeking financial support of their travel and mission, and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly finances itself and its functions through levies on the congregations of the Church (The General Assembly Budget), through which all contributing congregations support the Assembly in its plans and works, in a general and equal way, and

WHEREAS, the levying of additional charges on congregations for support of travel and other expenses of Appointees of the Assembly, is in effect a surcharge upon the congregations who have already contributed their fair share to the support of the Assembly through 'The Budget', thereby causing resentment within congregations and embarrassment to the visitors.

THEREFORE, with a view to seeking a resolution of a vexing situation, The Reverend the Presbytery of Edmonton respectfully overtures the Venerable the General Assembly to

1. Order and facilitate the enunciation of a comprehensive policy statement defining the role of the Assembly in the financing of such tours and deputations as may be authorized by the Assembly, its Boards and Committees, and
2. Rule that when such a policy statement is enunciated to the satisfaction of the Assembly, it be publicized, and made conveniently available to all Boards, Committees and persons affected, and to ALL Presbyteries and Synods of the Church.

Or that the General Assembly shall do otherwise to this end what to its wisdom may seem best.

No. 7–PRESBYTERY OF HALIFAX AND LUNENBURG

Re: THE RIGHT TO ISSUE A CALL

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

WHEREAS, the regulations pertaining to the right to issue a call were changed by the 1975 General Assembly (A&P 1975 BWM Rec. 20);

WHEREAS, the regulations adopted in 1969 were reasonable, equitable, and practical;

WHEREAS, the 1969 regulations sufficiently protects the interests of the Board of World Mission;

THEREFORE, we the Presbytery of Halifax and Lunenburg humbly overture the Venerable, The General Assembly to rescind the regulations adopted in 1975 (B.W.M. Rec. 20) and to reinstate the regulations of 1969 or that they do otherwise for this object what to their wisdom may seem best.

No. 11–PRESBYTERY OF EAST TORONTO

Re: PENSION PLAN REGULATIONS

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

WHEREAS, the greatly improved Pension Plan of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, introduced in January 1974, was based on a careful study of many plans including those of the business and commercial world;

WHEREAS, the General Assembly has adopted one feature of many plans, namely, the direct relationship of amount of Pension to amount of salary during certain years of pensionable service, a relationship based on the concept that salary reflects ability and contribution to a business;

WHEREAS, one difference between salary and stipend is that stipend does not necessarily reflect ability and contribution to the work of the Church, as witnessed to by the fact that the Board of World Mission has sometimes called persons to special work at a reduced stipend;

WHEREAS, the present plan calls for contributions from the General Assembly's Budget which are higher for those on higher stipends than for those on lower stipends; thus discriminating financially against the latter;

WHEREAS, ministers on higher stipends are more able to make additional financial arrangements for their retirement thus increasing the differentials in financial provisions for retirement;

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of East Toronto humbly overtures the Venerable the General Assembly to instruct the Pension Board to study the matter of revising the regulations of the Ministers' Pension Plan to the end that each Minister in the plan receive an equal pension for equal years of service rendered to the Church, while at the same time, the Ministers' personal contributions are the same percentage of pensionable stipend for all ministers, or that the General Assembly do otherwise in this matter as in its wisdom it deems best.

No. 13–PRESBYTERY OF WESTMINSTER

Re: STUDY OF THE RELATIONSHIP OF CHURCH AND STATE AS IT APPLIES TO MARRIAGE.

To the Venerable, the 102nd General Assembly:

"WHEREAS, in this increasingly secular society a growing number of those who come to the Church for marriage make no Christian commitment.
WHEREAS, due to the present practice, the minister is required to function as a servant of the State as well as a servant of God,
WHEREAS, there is no explicit biblical basis for ministers performing marriages, especially as servants of the State,
WHEREAS, it is exceedingly difficult to determine whether the people desire the blessing of God or simply wish a civil marriage in a church context.
WHEREAS, some feel that it would be desirable that all marriages be performed by the State with the Church asking God's blessing on the marriage when this is sought,
WHEREAS, the authorized Book of Common Order already makes provision for "Blessing of a Civil Marriage",
THEREFORE, the Presbytery of Westminster humbly overtures the 102nd General Assembly to initiate a study of the relationship of Church and State as it applies to marriage, or to do otherwise as the General Assembly in its wisdom may deem best."

REPORT OF THE SENATE OF KNOX COLLEGE

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Senate of Knox College begs to submit its 132nd Annual Report. During the 1975-1976 academic session 57 students were enrolled in the regular undergraduate department, 5 of whom were Assembly students with one of the latter on a half-time basis. In addition there were 3 occasional students making a total of 60 in the undergraduate department. In the post graduate department there were 21 enrolled for the Th.M. degree, 5 for the M.A. degree and 7 for the Th.D. making a total in this department of 33 students. A large proportion of the post graduate students study on a part-time basis, mainly because they are ministers in congregations or hold other positions in the Church. The total enrolment for both the undergraduate and graduate departments is 93.

The following sessional lecturers provided courses in their respective fields: Rev. H. F. Davidson, M.A., D.D. (Church Government); Rev. Helen Goggin, M.A., B.D. (Christian Education); Rev. James Jack, B.A. (New Testament Greek); Rev. J. Thomson, B.A., B.D., Th.M. (Liturgics); Mr. J. Derksen, M.Mus., A.R.T.C., and Miss L. Ouslis in Church Music.

The Reverend Robert Lennox, M.A., B.D., Ph.D. D.D. who has served seven years as the Old Testament professor is retiring at the end of August. Our deepest appreciation is extended to him for the splendid contribution which he has made to the life and work at Knox College as a teacher and scholar, based upon his exceptional education at McGill and Princeton and his long experience in administration as the principal of Presbyterian College, Montreal for 19 years. This contribution has been enriched by his churchmanship and his warm hearted friendliness.

In early February the MacDonald Memorial Lecture was delivered by the Rev. William J. Klempa, M.A., B.D., Ph.D., Minister of Rosedale Presbyterian Church, Toronto. The subject of his lecture was "The Camel's Hump: Reflections on the Relation of Theology and Preaching".

On February 25th the Rev. Iain G. Nicol, M.A., B.D., Ph.D., of the Faculty of Divinity, University of Glasgow, Scotland, was inducted into the Chair of Systematic Theology by the Presbytery of East Toronto.

The names of those enrolled in the First Year were: Miss N. Ball, B.A.; D. Beaton, B.A.; J. D. Blue, B.A.; J. M. Campbell (Assembly Student); Miss N. Cocks, B.A.; A. M. Deans, B.R.E. (Assembly Student, half time); Mrs. K. Fitzsimmons, B.H.Sc.; Mrs. N. Gorham, B.Sc.; R. J. Haven, B.A.; E. C. Hicks, B.A.; F. Howard-Smith, B.A.; Miss C. Johnson, B.Sc.; Miss G. Kelly, B.A.; Miss I. The names of those enrolled in the Second Year were: Miss J. Archer, B. Math.; W. Baswick, B.A.; G. W. Beals; J. Biggs, B.A.; R. Calder, B.A.; L. B. Carter, B.A.; N.B.H. Dean, B.Sc.; W. Elliott, B.A.; S. Fryfogel, B.A.; J. B. Kay (Assembly Student); D. C. Kettle, B.A.; Miss C. Lockerbie, B.A.; L. Lyle, B.A.; Miss E.M.I. MacLean, B.A.; D. Robinson, B.A.; A. G. Smith, B.A.; K. Stright, B.A.; Mrs. P. D. Strung, R.N.; D. Thompson, B.A.; R. J. Thibodeau, B.A.; B. Vancook, B.A.; Miss O. Wilson, O.A.C.A.

The names of those enrolled in the Third Year, and received the diploma, were J. Archibald, B.A.; Miss V. Bibawi, B.Th.; Miss K. Brownlee, B.A.; J. Codling, B.Ed.; G. A. Cooper, B.A.; R. Drennan, B.A.; S. Dunkin, B.Com.; R. Fee, B.A.; Miss D. Riseborough, B.A.; R. Sand, B.A.; R. Wallace, B.A. The following Assembly Students enrolled in the Third Year received the certificate: H. Appel, L. Szamoskozi.

The following are the names of occasional students who took only a few subjects: Rev. S.Y.S. Chen, W.A.M. Henderson, Mrs. K. Oakes, R.N.

Permission was granted to Rev. D. R. Foubister, Rev. R. D. Wilson, and Rev. W. D. Jarvis to exchange their B. D. degree for the M.Div. degree.

The Degree of Master of Divinity was conferred on the following: J. Archibald, B.A.; Miss K. Brownlee, B.A.; J. Codling, B.Ed.; G. A. Cooper, B.A.; R. Drennan, B.A. (Hon.); S. Dunkin, B.Com.; J. REPORT OF THE BOARD OF KNOX COLLEGE

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Board of Knox College begs to submit its 132nd Annual Report.

We would respectfully draw to the attention of the General Assembly and the Church at large that the College has an important and many-faceted role in the life of our Church. Particularly we should remember that the training and preparation of our ministers is of the greatest importance to our Church, so that the spiritual leadership which is expected, indeed demanded, by our congregations, may be maintained. Our membership and participation in the Toronto School of Theology has been of benefit and has afforded us additional resources, for which we are grateful.

The residence has been fully occupied during the academic year. We are fortunate in having in residence, in addition to theology and church students, an excellent cross section of young people preparing for varied careers in life other than theology, and this is advantageous in the personal relationships and understanding developed. The Board appreciates the very good rapport which exists with the students, residents, faculty and administration.

The Board commends the excellent work done by the Faculty under the leadership of the Principal, Dr. J. Stanley Glen. We deem it of extreme good fortune to have a faculty of quality and dedication. Professor David Hay retired from the faculty in 1975 having completed a distinguished career of 30 years of service to the College. A pleasurable circumstance occurred at the College when a reception was held in honour of Professor David Hay at which the College received a portrait of Professor Hay painted in oils by Alan Cunningham. The portrait will hang in an appropriate place in the College. The Board gratefully acknowledges the considerable efforts of the Knox College Alumni Association in raising the funds and in handling the details of the arrangements in connection with the portrait. The College expresses its pride and enjoys the reflected honour in Dr. David Hay having been chosen as The Moderator of The Presbyterian Church in Canada.

The 101st General Assembly approved the appointment of Dr. Iain Garden Nicol to the faculty of Knox College, and a service of induction was held at the College under the auspices of the Presbytery of East Toronto, after which a reception was held in the library to welcome Dr. Nicol and his family to the College.

The Caven Library of Knox College in its refurbished and reorganized state enjoys a high regard in academic circles and is much used. Further improvements are planned for the library, including the installation of sun-shielding material on the windows and possibly a climate control system for the protection and preservation of the books. We would draw attention to our rare book library which is operated in conjunction with the Church Archives in a special section in the basement of the College. Our rare book library is quite unique and valuable and we are justly proud of it.

The Board commends the work of the various officers and committees of the Board during the year. In particular we would draw attention to the work of the Joint Planning Committee of the Board and Senate. Although this committee has not yet fully completed its work, it has been diligent and dedicated and has produced excellent results thus far. Matters with which the committee has been concerned and upon which reports have been received include:

(1) The Duties and Functions of the Principal;

(2) The Duties and Functions of the Director of Field Education and Registrar;

(3) Term Appointments;

(4) Guidelines Governing Sabbatical Leaves;

(5) Presbytery Nominations to Chairs;

(6) The Form of Appointment of the Principal;

(7) Relations with Ewart College

During the past year the Senate and Board of Knox College, on the recommendation of its Joint Planning Committee, approached Ewart College with the suggestion of closer working relationships which would substantially increase the academic efficiency and enrich the programmes of both institutions.

Ewart College, while insisting on the unique character of its programme, has nevertheless expressed interest in co-operation in the areas of: (a) offering an M.R.E. or its equivalent; (b) continuing and lay education; and (c) special ministries. Knox College Senate and Board is willing to pursue discussion concerning the offering of the M.R.E. degree or its equivalent, but would like to explore further the nature and extent of co-operative relations between the two Colleges.

Dr. J. Stanley Glen is retiring from the office of Principal as of August 31, 1976. He has given distinguished and faithful service as Principal for 24 years, during which the duties and responsibilities have become increasingly arduous and onerous. The Board expresses its appreciation of Dr. Glen's service as Principal of Knox College, and acknowledges the deep debt of gratitude owed to him. A nomination for the office of Principal of Knox College will be placed before you for consideration. Dr. Glen will continue to occupy the Chair of New Testament until August 31, 1977.

Also Professor Robert Lennox retires from the Chair of Old Testament as of August 31, 1976. Dr. Lennox has given distinguished service on the faculty of Knox College for the past seven years, after having served for many years as Principal of Presbyterian College Montreal. The Board is grateful for the quality and lustre which Dr. Lennox brought to our faculty. A nomination for the Chair of Old Testament will be placed before you for consideration.

The Board has endeavoured to keep the expenses of the operation of the College as economical as possible commensurate with the provision of quality and service. However, in the year 1975 the College incurred a deficit of $28,238.00, and we see further financial difficulties in 1976. Of concern to the Board is the continually escalating costs of the residence, and as a means of meeting these costs we regret that it will be necessary to increase the rates for room and board. However, we will remain competitive with the charges of other residences on the university campus and continue to provide appropriate accommodation and service for what is charged. The greater demands upon the College in the service of the Church and the World Community will require that the Church give serious consideration to providing more financial assistance to enable the College to fulfill its role.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the procedures now followed in the appointment of a Professor to a Chair should govern the appointment of a Principal of Knox College. (See Acts and Proceedings 1947, p. 79, Section 17, para. 2)
2. That the office of Principal of Knox College be a five-year term appointment, subject to renewal for a five-year period and normally not beyond a total of ten years, with automatic retirement from the office of Principal upon attaining the age of sixty-five years. Renewal at the end of each five-year period is by decision of the Board and Senate of Knox College following an appropriate review on the basis of carefully formulated criteria, and such review shall take place at the end of the fourth year. New appointments to the office shall be by decision of the General Assembly, as is now the case.
3. The Professor Allan Leonard Farris, M.A., B.D., M.Th., D.D., be appointed to the office of Principal of Knox College as of September 1, 1976.
4. That Stanley David Walters, B.A., B.D., Th.M., Ph.D., be appointed to the Chair of Old Testament in Knox College with the rank of full professor.

The Board expresses its grateful appreciation to the donors of gifts received during 1975, to be used for scholarships and bursaries, a most important function. These donations are listed below under items (a), (b) and (c).

KNOX COLLEGE
FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1975
AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Management of Knox College

We have examined the balance sheet of Knox College as at December 31, 1975 and the statements of revenue and expenditure for the year then ended. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the College as at December 31, 1975 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted for non-profit organizations applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

KNOX COLLEGE
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1975

1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the College.

(a) Investments and investment income

Investments purchased by the College are valued at cost. Investments received by bequest are recorded on the basis of fair market value at the time of receipt.

Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis and dividends are recorded when received. Realized gains or losses from investment transactions are recorded on the transaction date.

(b) Fixed assets

The original land and buildings are recorded in the books of The Presbyterian Church in Canada and are not included in these accounts. Other assets purchased by the College are expensed in the year of acquisition.

(c) Funds

The fund balances are segregated in relation to restrictions placed upon their use by the donor. The College Board determines the usage of any bequests received for which no specific use is stated by the donor.

2. GENERAL FUND

The general fund represents endowments received for professors' chairs and receipts for other purposes.

The continuity of the general fund is as follows:

Supplementary Report to the report of The Women's Missionary Society, W.D. which appears on page 249 – 251 of the reports to the General Assembly

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

According to the Constitution of The Women's Missionary Society, W.D. changes in that Constitution have to be submitted to the General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada for approval.

Due to changes which have taken place over the past few years in the Boards of the Church, relationships of the Society to the Boards have changed as well as some of its responsibilities.

In order to adapt its Constitution and By-Laws to these changes, the Society has reviewed its Constitution and By-Laws – some revisions have been made and some sections reworded for clarification.

The attached Constitution as revised, after consultation with the Synodicals and approved by the 1976 Council Meeting of the Society is presented to the 102nd General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada for approval.

Respectfully submitted

Mrs. J. A. Newstead,
President.

THE REVISED CONSTITUTION OF The Women's Missionary Society, W.D. The Presbyterian Church in Canada as recommended by the 1976 Council Meeting, W.M.S. (W.D.)

NOTE: the words, phrases or sentences in brackets and underlined are those used in the previous Constitution)

CONSTITUTION

I. The Name: The name of the Society shall be the Women's Missionary Society, Western Division, of The Presbyterian Church in Canada.

II. Aim and Purpose: Its Aim and Purpose shall be to unite the women, youth, (girls), and children of the Church, in prayer, study and service for the advancement of the Kingdom of God at home and abroad.

III. Membership: The membership of the Society shall consist of Active Members, Associate Members, Junior Members, Life Members and Honorary Members.

IV. Organization

1. Within the Congregation: Any group of women, youth (girls) or children in sympathy with the Aim and Purpose of the Society may organize as: (a) An Adult Group (b) An Affiliated Teenage Youth Group (e.g. CGIT) (c) A Children's Group (e.g. COC, Explorers) ((a) Auxiliary (b) Affiliated Group (c) Associate Group (d) Children's Group)
2. Presbyterial: The Presbyterial shall consist of all Adult Groups, Affiliated Teenage Groups and Children's Groups (shall consist of all auxiliaries, affiliated groups, associate groups and children's groups) related to the Society within the bounds of the Presbyterial. Insofar as is possible the Presbyterial shall be co-extensive with the Presbytery.
3. Synodical: The Synodical shall consist of all Presbyterials within its bounds and insofar as is practicable shall be co-extensive with the Synod.
4. Council: (a) The Council shall be the legislative body of the Society. It shall consist of elected delegates from the Synodicals (allowing for Presbyterial representation), Council Executive elected members, Ex-officio and non-voting members.
(b) Council Executive: The Council Executive shall be the administrative body of the Society.
The Council Executive shall be composed of elected members, ex-officio and non-voting members.
(Note: Sections giving detailed description of membership of local groups, Council, Council Executive, have been transferred to By-Laws)

Note: As the Mission work in Canada and Overseas which was administered by the W.M.S. (WD) was transferred in 1972 to the Administration of the Board of World Mission the following paragraph which was in the former constitution is omitted:

(No work at home or abroad shall be initiated by the Council Executive without the consent of the Church Court having jurisdiction in the area concerned. In the case of overseas work the approval of a General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada must first be obtained.

5. Organization of Branches: No branch of the Society shall be organized without the consent of the Church Court of competent jurisdiction.
Note: a "Branch of the Society" is any group related to the Society – local group, Presbyterial, Synodical.
(the above is added for clarification).

V. Meetings:

1. Council: The Annual Meeting of the Society, to be known as The Council Meeting, shall be held once a year at such time and place as determined by the Council or by the Council Executive when authorized by the Council.
Pro re nata meetings shall be called by the President upon request of the Council Executive.
2. Council Executive: The Council Executive shall hold regularly stated meetings and special meetings as it deems necessary.
Pro re nata meetings of the Council Executive may be called by the President.

VI. Officers of the Society:

The Officers of the Society shall be: President, Vice Presidents, Secretary, Treasurer and such other officers as may be deemed necessary for the conduct of the Society's work. The officers of the Society shall be the officers of the Council Executive.

These and any members of Council Executive without port-folios shall be elected at the Annual Council Meeting.

There shall be two signing officers of the Society for official documents – which shall be any two of the following: the President, Treasurer, or Secretary. (The paragraph re signing officers was added.)

VII. Administration of Property:

All property, real and personal, acquired by purchase, devise, bequest, gift or otherwise shall be administered by the Council Executive, subject in the case of real property to the provisions of Section VIII and subject in the case of all devises and bequests to the direction of Council.

VIII. Board of Trustees:

Five Trustees shall be appointed (elected) by the Council, one of whom shall be from the Council Executive, and shall be the Chairman of the Board of Trustees. These shall hold for the Women's Missionary Society, Western Division, all the real property which it may acquire by purchase, devise or gift, such real property to be administered for the benefit of the Society ("of the Society" was added) and by the direction of the Council through its Council Executive.

The Council Executive shall have the power to revoke the appointment of any Trustee in the event of the removal by death, or by reason of illness, incapacity, or refusal to act; and to appoint a Trustee to act in the place of the one so removed, until an appointment is made at the next meeting of Council.

IX. Report to General Assembly:

The Council Executive shall report the work of the Society annually to a General Assembly.

X. By-Laws:

The Council shall have power to formulate and approve By-Laws to facilitate the business and conduct of the work of the Society respecting the local branches, Presbyterials, Synodicals, Council, and Council Executive.

These By-Laws shall be altered only after a two-thirds favourable vote of the members present and voting at a regularly constituted Council Meeting, notice in writing concerning amendments having been given to Council Executive and sent to Synodicals for their consideration and comment. (and published in the Society's magazine at least two months before the said meeting).

XI. Change of Constitution:

This Constitution may be altered only by the consent of a General Assembly of The Presbyterian Church in Canada. Recommendations concerning alterations in the Constitution shall be sent by registered mail from Council Executive to each Synodical at least sixty days before its Annual Meeting. Such recommendations may then be considered by a Council at its regularly constituted meeting and after a two-thirds favourable vote by the members present and voting, the Council Executive shall present them to the Clerks of the General Assembly for the consideration of that body. (and these shall be in their hands at least forty days before the meeting of a General Assembly).

BOARD OF EWART COLLEGE SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT

To The Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

The Board of Ewart College established a Search Committee to make recommendations relative to the nomination to General Assembly of a fourth faculty person, as authorized by the 101st General Assembly. Nominations were received from a number of Presbyteries of the Church. All of these nominations were given serious consideration, and a number of persons who indicated some interest and whose areas of study were appropriate to the position were interviewed. In addition, a number of prominent persons in the field of Christian Education, who are familiar with the work of Ewart College, were also asked to recommend possible candidates. Several such recommendations were received. The Search Committee after careful consideration agreed to nominate the Rev. Robert C. Mathewson, A.B., S.T.B., Th.M., of Philadelphia as Associate Professor of Religious Studies and Director of Continuing Education. A special meeting of the full Board was called to receive this nomination and also to meet and interview the nominee. As a result, the Board is unanimous in its decision to present to the 102nd General Assembly the name of Mr. Mathewson in nomination for this position.

Mr. Mathewson, who grew up in Buffalo, the son of Scottish immigrant parents, is an ordained minister of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. He will receive his Doctor of Philosophy degree from Princeton Theological Seminary in September in the field of History of Christianity and Christian Thought. Much of his study has been in the area of Church-State relations and the relation of religion and culture. He has taught for some years at Beaver College, Philadelphia, an institution which, in many respects, resembles Ewart College. He has also directed an inner-city ecumenical campus ministry in Philadelphia. Mr. Mathewson comes to us with the highest commendation of such well-known Church historians and Christian Education specialists as Dr. James Nichol, Dr. Lefferts Leotscher, and Dr. C. Campbell Wyckoff, as well as that of Rev. J. Ernest Somerville, the minister of the historic First Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, where he has given service.

The Board of Ewart College adds the following recommendation to its Report to the 102nd General Assembly:

5: That the Rev. Robert C. Mathewson, A.B., S.T.B., Th.M., be appointed Associate Professor of Religious Studies and Director of Continuing Education, effective August 1, 1976.

JAMES A. THOMSON
Chairman.

MARGARET WEBSTER
Principal.

SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL

To the Venerable The 102nd General Assembly:

The Adminstrative Council requests permission of General Assembly to make the following Supplementary Report.

CATEGORIES A & B IN THE NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT FUND.

In its main report to this Assembly the Administrative Council indicated it hoped to present an additional recommendation out of its May meeting with regard to a review of Categories A & B in the National Development Fund. At its May meeting the Council had a report from its Finance Committee that –

"It recognizes that this is a major decision involving not only the financial considerations, but a review of the needs of the ministry in its widest sense, including particularly concern for the situation of ministers who are reaching retirement age."

The Executive of the Council adopted the recommendation of the Finance Committee that a Special Committee of the Council be established to conduct an in-depth study of this situation, and that Secretaries of major Boards be invited to participate as members of this Committee. It is reported that this Committee has been named, and will shortly begin its study. In order that action may be taken when needed, the Council requests the Assembly to give them power to issue in this matter.

RECOMMENDATION 36.

That the Administrative Council be given power to issue in making revisions to the use of National Development Funds under Categories A & B.

OVERTURE #21, PRESBYTERY OF VANCOUVER ISLAND (1975 A&P PAGES 438 and 66) RE INSURANCE ON CHURCH PROPERTY.

Under Recommendation 1 the Council reported it hoped to have a definitive report on this matter for the General Assembly and it now makes that report. After carefully considering the Ecclesiastical Insurance Company as a Company that would be appropriate for our Churches to use in purchasing insurance on Church property, the Council reports it believes the Company should be approved for use by those Churches who desire to do so. It is noted that congregations may take out policies with this company through their local insurance agent. It is further noted for the information of congregations that many congregations are already using the facilities of this Company. Furthermore the Trustee Board of The Presbyterian Church in Canada is considering placing its policies with this Company, through our present agent.

RECOMMENDATION 37.

That the information above be provided to the congregations of our Church, and that this report be taken as an answer to Overture #21, Presbytery of Vancouver Island, 1975 General Assembly.

OVERTURE #23, PRESBYTERY OF BRUCE-MAITLAND (1975 A&P PAGES 439 and 66) Re Heated Manses.

Under Recommendation 2 of our main report under this subject it was indicated that the Council "considers it would be more advantageous to our Ministers if steps were taken to assist congregations to improve their heating equipment and the insulation of manses, and if possible the Executive of the Council report on this in a Supplementary Report to the Assembly". The Finance Committee of the Administrative Council met with representatives of the Board of World Mission, and the following procedures were approved.

1. That a program of renovation of manse heating and insulation be implemented.
2. That the Board of World Mission be encouraged to use the resources of the F. R. Barker Fund and the James Chisholm Fund to make loans for this work.
3. That the Board concentrate in the first instance on exceptional situations.
4. That loans be made on the basis of a five year repayment schedule. This period is chosen with the expectation that the savings that will arise from the renovation of the manse would provide most of the annual repayment instalments.
5. That for aid receiving congregations the loans be on an interest free basis.
6. That from marginal congregations the interest rate be set by the Board of World Mission.

RECOMMENDATION 38.
That the above procedure be approved.

SALARIES OF PROFESSORS AT EWART COLLEGE

The Executive of the Council at its May meeting noted that the Board of Ewart College is recommending to the Assembly that the salary of Professors at Ewart College be set at a par with salaries paid to the Faculty members at Knox College and Presbyterian College as funds become available as a priority item. The Executive of the Council has considered this matter during the year, and the Executive Personnel Committee of the Council has studied it and received a report from Ewart College on the matter. The Executive of the Administrative Council approved the report of the Executive-Personnel Committee that because Ewart College is concerned with under-graduate education and lay-training, whereas Knox and Presbyterian College provide training for the ministry at the post-graduate level, there is no compelling reason to adopt the principle of parity of wage scales for the three Colleges. The Executive of the Administrative Council therefore recommends–

RECOMMENDATION 39.
That Recommendation No. 4 in the Report of the Board of Ewart College be not adopted.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK WHILSMITH,
Chairman.

DONALD C. MacDONALD,
Secretary.

SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT OF THE BOARD OF WORLD MISSION THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN TAIWAN

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

OUR APPEAL
– Concerning the Bible, the Church and the Nation –

When the Presbyterian Church in Taiwan issued its "Statement on our National Fate" at the end of 1971 it attracted considerable attention and aroused a warm response both at home and overseas. The issuing of the "Statement on Our National Fate" was based on our church's faith in the Lordship of Jesus Christ over the world, and was concerned for human rights for all people in Taiwan, and indeed for the destiny of our nation. Although some, both within the church and outside it, misunderstood or opposed the Statement, our church, as its conscience dictates, has continued to stand by this firm expression of its faith. In the few years since then our church, in accordance with the principles and faith of the Statement, has repeatedly advocated that no external world power should interfere with our nation's destiny. Only our own people have the right to determine our own destiny. Our church has not moved from this original purpose, and firmly believes that only if all the rights which are guaranteed under the constitution are actually observed – which would mean a political reformation – can we have a really democratic government. Our church has not been negligent in its efforts to achieve this goal.

Conditions change very rapidly: our nation has become isolated in its relations with other countries, and we face an empending world economic crisis. In these circumstances the church must not carelessly take its ease and abandon the role of prophet. We know that if we only praise what is commendable, this is not an adequate expression of the church's responsibility to the nation and is no way to help the government overcome present difficulties. Only by speaking the truth in love can we show positive concern for our nation's future; only thus can we help in the developing of a democratic, just and honest government.

In view of the danger in which our country stands at this time, the church must take responsibility with regard to the nation's survival, and once again honestly express to the government our church's position on the national fate. We must, at the same time, appeal to the church itself to get rid of a psychology which is concerned only with the preservation of its own existence and a salvation that has to do only with the individual. In order to save the nation in this time of crisis we in the church must be really united so that we can fulfil our responsibility to promote justice, liberty and peace. Then the church may be worthy to be called a servant of Christ for these times.

Because of this we appeal to the government to view with concern several problems closely related to our national destiny, and we earnestly request the government to accept these proposals:

1. To preserve the freedom of religious faith which is guaranteed to the people in the constitution.
   The people in every nation in the free world enjoy full religious liberty. Thus every person should be able to enjoy the freedom to use his own language to worship God and to express his own religious faith. Most regrettably, Bibles published in some of the local languages by the Bible Society have been investigated and confiscated. When this happened it was a great shock to people both here and abroad. The authorities concerned regard the printing of the Bible in local language as a contravention of the policy to promote the use of the National language and this is their reason for suppressing it. However, one such decision can never contravene the basic spirit of the constitution. Now, although after several negotiations the old edition of the Bible in Roman characters has been returned, we are continuing to press this matter with the government in hope that, in order to preserve the constitutionally guaranteed freedom of faith, the new translation of the romanized Bible may also be returned; but most important of all we urge that the freedom to continue to publish and distribute the Bible in any language be guaranteed.

2. To help overcome our isolation in foreign relations.
   Since our government withdrew from the United Nations our nation's foreign relations have suddenly sunk into a state of isolation. Now the government is encouraging people at every level positively to develop foreign relations and to promote cultural and economic contacts. Therefore it ought not to prevent the church participating in the World Council of Churches and other church organizations of an international nature. Because some of the views held in such organizations may not be the same as those of our government we cannot abandon the opportunity of participating in these international church bodies.

3. To establish a relationship of mutual trust and confidence between the government and the church.
It cannot be denied that the church is a powerful force in helping to promote the nation's progress and security. Between government and church there must be an atmosphere of trust based on respect for each other.

We suggest that the government should establish a direct relationship with the church authorities, and that both sides share their views of the future of the nation and the reformation of society honestly together. This is the only way in which we can achieve this mutual trust and confidence.

4. To help toward the reconciliation and working together of all people living in Taiwan.
At this time and in this place we should not permit differences arising out of one's place of origin and whether one is a member of the Party or not to create unfortunate divisions which would ruin our living and working together.

Immediately before us is a very difficult situation, and it is only as we realize that we are all in the same boat that we can weather the crisis. In order to eliminate discrimination based on provincial origin or party membership we should not countenance any feeling that one person is superior to another. Everybody should enjoy the opportunities of equal privilege and responsibility. Basically, we are all brothers and sisters living together in Taiwan and we ought to treat each other in an attitude of understanding, help and acceptance.

5. To preserve human rights and the welfare of the people.
The economy of Taiwan has grown and developed very quickly, and it has, of course, brought with it an affluent society, but has also brought a loss of personal worth, moral decadence, rampant pollution, a wide gap between the rich and the poor, and the increasingly serious problem of public peace and order. The church, on the basis of its mission to protect human rights and preserve human dignity, appeals to the government to strengthen the development of society, to focus its attention on the problems of the atmosphere of corruption in society, of unequal distribution of wealth, of avarice, public peace and order and pollution, and to adopt effective measures to safeguard human rights and the welfare of the people.

In order that the church may take up its mission for today we also appeal to it to give attention to the problems that lie before us all, and we beseech the help of the Holy Spirit to lead us and to enable the church to give expression to its true role of prophet and priest.

1. To give honest expression of its concern for justice.
It is very easy for the church to seek to avoid giving offense and causing trouble, and so fail to be sensitive to the question of social justice. If the church is concerned only for its own interests and ignores its conscience it will become paralyzed. We must constantly be subjecting ourselves to re-examination by the standard of the spirit of Christ.

2. To promote unity within the church and to call the church to a better understanding of its own faith.
Recently a divisive spirit has been eroding the unity of the church and positive action needs to be taken to ensure observance of our regulations and to deal strictly with any behavior that threatens the order and unity of the church.

Because ministers and church members are confused and uncertain about their faith and the position of their church they have often been easily influenced and misled by other groups. It is right that we should cooperate with other denominations, but it is very important that we first understand our own doctrine and church order. There must be an attitude of mutual respect among the churches before any real cooperation can be achieved.

3. To strive for the independence of the church.
Although we have a history of over one hundred and ten years and local congregations have reached self-support, the General Assembly as a whole has to admit "We are still a receiving church". From now on we must put forth greater effort to become "a giving church". This is not in relation to finances only, but has to do even more with the whole missionary task of the church. We must move from a position of dependence on overseas mission boards to one of independence and mutuality in which we share together with the world church in the responsibility for mission. And on the basis of our own faith we must be prepared to proclaim God's justice and uphold freedom and peace in our own land.

4. To establish a close relationship with the church in the whole world.
A lack of confidence in the world-wide church has been a cause of division within our church, but in our confession of faith we profess to believe in the holy catholic church. The various churches throughout the world ought to respect other's opinions while accepting each other and working towards a greater unity.

– We appeal to our own church members to pay attention to and to try to put a stop to the kind of harmful activity that damages our relationship with the world church. We should seek to enter into an exchange of personnel and work with other branches of the world church so that we can understand and support each other better.

5. To be more concerned for social justice and world problems.
The church should become the servant of justice and truth; the aim of the church's existence is to communicate the message of God's love, and because of this the church must, in the spirit of real love, get involved in the actualities of modern society and through service seek to change the conditions of society.

The world today is full of the fear of injustice and war. Humanity's greatest suffering is the result of its own selfishness in the world. The world's problems of hunger, overpopulation and human rights still urgently call for concern and a solution. Our church here and the church in the whole world must stand together to extend a helping hand to each other, so that the love of God may truly be spread throughout the world.

The church cannot, here and now, keep silence, sitting by and watching the world sink into ruin; besides participating in the spreading of the gospel and leading men to repent and believe in the Lord, it must express concern for the whole nation, for society, and for the whole of mankind. Only in this way will it not fail to live up to the mission entrusted to it by God.

N. C. WANG,
Moderator,
22nd General Assembly

C. M. KAO,
General Secretary

"Our Appeal" was adopted unanimously by the Executive Committee of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Taiwan, meeting in Taichung on the 18th of November, 1975, as expressing the position of the Presbyterian Church in Taiwan. This English version was also approved to be sent to overseas churches for their information and to seek their prayerful support.

RE "APPEAL CONCERNING THE BIBLE CHURCH AND THE NATION" – PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN TAIWAN

RECOMMENDATION 14.

a) That the 102nd General Assembly record its support for the concern and faithfulness of the Presbyterian Church in Taiwan in making the "Appeal Concerning the Church, the People and the Nation".

We rejoice that this "Appeal" expresses a concern for all the people in Taiwan; encourages the government to provide for the freedom and openness necessary to build trust and confidence within Taiwan and with international organizations; and challenges the church to live up to its mission in all aspects of its responsibilities under God.

b) That the 102nd General Assembly convey this assurance of support to the Presbyterian Church in Taiwan.

c) That the 102nd General Assembly inform the Government of the Republic of China, by whatever diplomatic channels are possible, of this expression of support for the position taken by the Presbyterian Church in Taiwan.

RE OVERTURE #12, 1976, FROM THE PRESBYTERY OF EDMONTON, RE FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY FOR ASSEMBLY PERSONNEL ON DEPUTATION

RECOMMENDATION 15.

The Board of World Mission reports to the 102nd General Assembly as follows:

This Overture was received by the Board of World Mission. In its implications the prayer of the Overture will involve the Administrative Council and the Committee to Advise with the Moderator, and possibly other Boards and Committees. The Council expects it will take a year to give proper study with other Boards and Committees and report to the next General Assembly. The Board of World Mission agrees that it will take time to study and begs to leave to report jointly with the Administrative Council and other Boards.

RE OVERTURE #2, 1976 FROM THE PRESBYTERY OF ASSINIBOIA, RE: CALL OF A CONGREGATION AND OVERTURE #7, FROM THE PRESBYTERY OF HALIFAX AND LUNENBURG RE: THE RIGHT TO ISSUE A CALL

RECOMMENDATION 16.

The Board of World Mission would beg leave for time to study Overture #2, 1976 and Overture #7, 1976 and report to the next General Assembly.

RE TERM OF GENERAL SECRETARY, BOARD OF WORLD MISSION

RECOMMENDATION 17.

The matter of term appointments is under discussion by this General Assembly. The Administrative Council recommendation #18 calls for the practice of term appointments of executive personnel be discontinued and recommendation #1 of the Committee on Church Doctrine calls for a study of Term Appointments and reply by January 31st, 1977.

The Board of World Mission recommends that if the matter of Term Appointments is sent for study, the Term of the General Secretary Board of World Mission be extended for one year pending clarification.

MRS. W. E. McCUTCHEON,
Chairman

G.A. Malcolm,
General Secretary

SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT FROM THE BOARD OF CONGREGATIONAL LIFE

To the Venerable the 102nd General Assembly:

I. Re "A Committee on the Church in the World"

The Board of Congregational Life has given careful consideration to the matter of a "Committee on the Church in the World" as proposed by the former Committee on Organization and Planning (Acts and Proceedings 1974, pages 423-4). Briefly stated, the issues raised by Organization and Planning in its 1974 report were –

a) whether matters of study on economic and social issues rightfully belong with an agency for congregational life and whether such an agency, along with all the other concerns assigned to it, can deal adequately with these issues

b) the matter of the co-ordination of the study and research on economic and social issues with the work of other agencies which deal with social issues in various ways and at different levels – Inter-church Aid, International Affairs and the Committee on Church Doctrine.

It should be pointed out that, in the process of studying economic and social issues for the purpose of reporting to the General Assembly, the Board has sought to involve congregations and Presbyteries in the discussion. The comments from Presbyteries and congregations have formed an important part of the input to the Law Reform Commission of Canada, and congregations have participated significantly in the opinion survey on alcohol advertizing. Besides encouraging this kind of participation, the Board has a responsibility to assist congregations and Presbyteries in taking appropriate local action on matters of social concern. The shift from merely making statements to the Government to involving the Church in discussion and action is seen to be an important step.

Since January, 1974, when the Board of Congregational Life became responsible for programme, three annual meetings have been held, at which the matters of economic and social issues were dealt with in preparation for a report to the General Assembly. It is noteworthy that the Board has developed a process whereby these issues can be dealt with in the space of a Board meeting and dealt with in an adequate manner.

There is still a need for more co-ordination with other agencies. The Special Committee of the 101st General Assembly named to study the question of a "Committee on the Church in the World" has graciously provided the Board with a copy of its report to the Assembly. That Committee's recommendation #2 would seem to be an important step in bringing about the co-ordination which is being sought. With the concept of a forum of exchange the Board wishes to concur.

Recommendations 1 and 4, however, are not acceptable to the Board of Congregational Life. What is being proposed has serious implications for the work of the Board as it relates to congregations and their involvement in economic and social study and action. Consideration should be given to the following:–

1. The proposal would separate the study and research of economic and social issues from the church's programmes of evangelism. This represents a significant change of policy for The Presbyterian Church in Canada which may not find any general acceptance.
2. During the formative period of the Board of Congregational Life a major role has been that of the involvement of the church in study and action. This trend we believe can best be continued through the Board of Congregational Life.
3. The proposal of the Special Committee would mean that one of the Board's staff members would be asked to spend a large part of his time in an area of work in which the Board would no longer be directly involved. Furthermore, it would put that staff person in the unenviable position of having to "serve two masters". He would be accountable both to the Board of Congregational Life and to the Committee on Economic and Social Issues of the General Assembly.

   In order to involve the church in dealing with economic and social issues the services of a full-time staff person are required. If the Board were to lose some of the present staff support it might be necessary to seek permission to add another member to the staff team.
4. The proposal also suggests that six members of the new committee be named by the Board of Congregational Life, with others to be named by the General Assembly and the other agencies concerned. This would undoubtedly have a serious effect on the studies currently being undertaken by the Advisory Committee on Economic and Social Issues of the Board of Congregational Life. Some twelve or fourteen people with special gifts and experience are now deployed in sub-committees which are at work on a number of issues. There would be positive value in having this committee with its special skills and experience continue the work which it has begun.

For the above reasons the Board of Congregational Life begs to recommend as follows:–

RECOMMENDATION 20.

That the present Committee remain as part of the Board of Congregational Life, responsible for studies and statements on Economic and Social Issues and for the involvement of the church in study and action related to these issues.

RECOMMENDATION 21.

That the co-ordination of the work of the several agencies responsible for statements and programmes related to social action be achieved in terms of recommendation #2 of the Special Committee report.

II. Reply to Overture #4, Presbytery of Westminster
Re: Gun Control Legislation.

The Board reports that Bill C-83, an Act for the better protection of Canadian society against perpetrators of violent and other crime, has been given second reading in the House of Commons and referred to its Committee on Justice and Legal Affairs. The Bill calls for measures that seem to satisfy, for the most part, the recommendations in the prayer of the Overture. The exception to this is in the matter of the registration of firearms: the Bill provides instead for the licensing of owners. The explanation for this procedure is given as follows: "The registration of all guns in Canada appears neither feasible nor likely to be effective. Rather, the Government feels it important to ensure that those people who continue to possess or acquire firearms and ammunition are fit to do so. To that end, every person in possession of any firearm or ammunition, will require a license." ("The Highlights of the Peace and Secutiry Program.")

The Board is inclined to agree with the Government's view on this point and recommends as follows:–

RECOMMENDATION 22.

That the prayer of the Overture be granted in the following terms:
That the Minister of Justice be informed that this General Assembly is in favour of the proposed legislation within Bill C-83 which would curtail the indiscriminate sale of firearms and require the owners of firearms to be licensed; and that we encourage the Government to make it obligatory that new licencees be required to take training in the safe use of firearms.

III. Reply to Overture #8, Presbytery of Brampton re: Capital Punishment

The Overture from the Session of Knox Church, Milton, Ontario, was transferred simpliciter by the Presbytery of Brampton and was received after the report of the Board of Congregational Life to the Assembly had been completed.

The action of the Board on this question and the reasons, therefore, are reported on pages 341, 342 of the stitched minutes. The Board took the action reported instead of presenting a recommendation to the General Assembly because of the apparent likelihood that Bill C-84, an Act to amend the Criminal Code in relation to the punishment of murder, would come to a vote in the House of Commons prior to General Assembly.

RECOMMENDATION 23.

That the prayer of the Overture be not granted.

RECOMMENDATION 24.

THAT Presbyteries and Sessions give full support to the member of The National Committee of Presbyterian Men who has been assigned to work with their local Men's Work Committee in the promotion of the work of the church among men, assisting him by:–

a) The appointment and support of Presbytery Men's Work Representatives.
b) The appointment and support by Sessions of Congregational Contact Men.
c) Participating in events and projects that are planned by your Men's Work Committee.

Respectfully submitted,
W. L. YOUNG,
The Board of Congregational Life.

SYNOD OF QUEBEC AND EASTERN ONTARIO

REVEREND ROBERT W. ELLIS

The Reverend Robert W. Ellis, Th.D., retired minister, died on Saturday, April 10, 1976, in the Ottawa Civic Hospital.

Born in Belfast, Northern Ireland, in 1887, he came to Canada with his family and spent his younger life in the Montreal Area. He attended Robertson College, Edmonton, Alberta, and graduated from Knox College, Toronto, in 1929. He was ordained in Willis Church, Jarrett, Ontario in 1929. After further studies he received his Doctorate in Theology from Temple Bar University in Minneapolis, U.S.A. in 1943. He served the congregations of Jarrett and Essen, Burks Falls, Carluke and Binbrooke, Maxville, Manotick and Kars, and Westport, Ontario, prior to his retirement in 1961.

His many interests and hobbies included dowsing for wells, poster writing and collecting museum pieces, having, at one time, one of the largest private museums in Eastern Ontario. Many of the items from the museum were donated to Upper Canada Village, Westport and the Bytown museum.

The funeral service was from Knox Presbyterian Church, Manotick and was conducted by the very Reverend John Logan-Vencta assisted by Dr. Peter Wotherspoon. The minister of Knox Church, Manotick, the Rev. Robert D. Sandford delivered the address.

Dr. Ellis' wife, Gean, predeceased him in 1970. Surviving are one daughter (Eden), Mrs. J. C. Avery of Iroquois, two sons, Robert of Ottawa and Larry of Manotick.

REVEREND WILLIAM ERNEST KNOX

The death occurred in hospital in Ottawa on Saturday, August 16, 1975, of the Rev. William E. Knox, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Fort Coulonge, Quebec, and Bristol Memorial Church, Bristol, Quebec.

William Knox was born on December 10, 1906, in Belfast, Northern Ireland. At the age of sixteen he made his decision for Jesus Christ under the preaching of the late Wm. P. Nicholson, Evangelist. At nineteen he entered Emmanuel Bible Training College, Birkenhead, England, with a view to missionary work in South America. When this door of service closed, he became active in City Mission work in Belfast.

In 1948 he came to Canada under the General Board of Missions of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, and served as a Catechist at Kimberly, B.C. In 1950 he commenced studies at Queen's University, Kingston and Presbyterian College, Montreal, while serving as a student-minister at Moose Creek, Ontario. Following graduation he was ordained in 1955 in St. James Presbyterian Church, Sherbrooke, Guysborough Co., N.S. (a charge which included East River St. Mary's, Glenelg, Stillwater and Goldenville). In 1958 he accepted a Call to Westville, Pictou Co., N.S., where he also served the congregation of Gairloch, and was interim-moderator of other points. There followed seven years ministry in Paisley and Glammis, Bruce Co., Ontario, from 1964 to 1971, when he proceeded to the Fort Coulonge and Bristol Charge.

William Knox was proud to have a part in the ministry of the Presbyterian Church in Canada and to be a minister of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. He was friendly and outgoing, and will be remembered especially for his faithful visitation of the sick, the bereaved and the elderly.

He is survived by his wife, Annie Prentice Walker, to whom he was married in 1949 in Calgary, Alberta; also two daughters, Elizabeth Anne (Mrs. Ray Blanchard), Ottawa, and Janet, at the University of Toronto, and a son, John, at home, and by one grand child.

REVEREND JOHN ARCHIE MACMILLAN

The Rev. John A. MacMillan died at Strathroy, Ont., on January 23rd, 1976 at the age of 90. Mr. MacMillan was the oldest child of the late Hugh Roy MacMillan and Annie McIntosh, of Lochiel, Glengarry County. His great-grandfather, John Roy, had come to Glengarry before 1793 from Lochaber, Invernesshire, Scotland. On the maternal side, the McIntoshes, Grants and Sutherlands were all United Empire Loyalists from the Mohawk Valley.

Mr. MacMillan was predeceased by his wife, Dulcie Pearson, in 1965. She had been reared in Buckhorn, Ontario, her ancestors having come from Michigan about 1860.

Mr. MacMillan is survived by four sons, Hugh, Grant, Roy and John, a daughter, Marrianne, a brother, 18 grandchildren and one great grandson.

Until 1914, Mr. MacMillan helped operate the family farm. Having decided to enter the ministry he graduated from McGill University and took this theological training at Presbyterian College, in Chicago and Vancouver. His active ministry spanned fifty years. He served his first Mission fields in the Peace River district and at Leduc, Alta on horse back. At New Westminster, B.C. he worked as a prison chaplain.

After ordination his first charge was at Fitzroy Harbour, Ont. followed by Bristol, P.Q., Ottawa, Campbellford, Port Perry, Colborne, Foxboro, all in Ontario. After serving at Ormstown, P.Q., Cardinal, Lansdowne and Pittsburgh, Ontario, Mr. MacMillan retired in 1968. Until 1973 he lived at the family home in Lochiel and since then had resided at Komoka, Ont.

REVEREND WILLIAM McLEAN, D.D.

The Presbytery of Ottawa records with deep regret the passing of a good presbyter and a warm friend, the Rev. William Mclean, who died in hospital in Ottawa on October 17, 1975, in his 78th year.

Dr. McLean came from Aberdeen, Scotland in 1914 and enlisted in the Canadian Army in 1915. He served overseas, was wounded and attained the rank of Regimental Sergeant Major. After the war he studied at Toronto Bible College and graduated in 1925 to become Assistant Manager of the Montreal Sailors' Institute. He continued his studies at Presbyterian College and after graduation he served in Outremont Presbyterian Church until 1939, when he returned to the Sailors Institute as Chaplain-Manager, where he remained until 1964. During his time there he was awarded the M.B.E. and also received the degree of D.D. from Presbyterian College. He was always very active in the life and work of the whole church and served for many years as Clerk of the Synod of Quebec and Eastern Ontario.

In 1964 Dr. McLean retired from the Sailors' Institute and became the Minister in Kirkhill Church, Dalkeith, where he served for the next five years. Then he retired and settled in Ottawa where he served the Presbytery as part-time hospital visitor until shortly before his death. Dr. McLean won the respect and affection of all who knew him and he will be greatly missed, and hard to replace.

He is survived by his wife, the former Esther Jarvis, two daughters, Jean (Mrs. A. Oldfield), Ottawa, and Joyce (Mrs. D. Pociernicke), New York. A brother, the Rev. Alexander McLean, is now living in retirement in Thornhill, Ontario.

SYNOD OF TORONTO AND KINGSTON

REVEREND JAMES FLEMING

The Rev. James Fleming died after a lengthy illness on August 28, 1975 at the age of 88. Born in Scotland in 1886, he heard the Call of God to the ministry as a young man when the Canadian West was being opened up and settled. He responded to an appeal of the Board of Missions of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. It was the beginning of a long and faithful ministry. After graduating from Manitoba College in 1920 he served in Winnipeg and Austin, Manitoba and Watrons, Saskatchewan. From 1930 to 1938 he served at Knox Church in Waterloo, and after some time spent in his native Scotland he ministered at Chesley, Fort Erie, Wallaceburg, and Wallacetown and West Lorne. Mr. Fleming faithfully proclaimed the unsearchable riches of Jesus Christ, touching the hearts and lives of all with whom he came in contact, bringing comfort and strength and joy where it was needed. Serving his country in World War I, he did so in the area which brought help and comfort to the wounded, as a member of the Tenth Canadian Field Ambulance.

In his retirement he was a member of St. Andrew's Church, Kitchener, and often filled in as summer supply for vacationing ministers. It is reported that in his last illness he proved to be a source of strength to others who were ill in the room with him at the hospital.

Mr. Fleming is survived by his wife, Margaret Sager; one son, Bruce, of Waterloo, and a daughter, Erla (Mrs. Hugh Raymond) of Frederick, Md. The funeral service was held at St. Andrew's Church, Kitchener, conducted by members of the Presbytery of Waterloo-Wellington.

SYNOD OF HAMILTON AND LONDON

REVEREND DAVID J. DONAGHUE, B.A.

The Rev. David Donaghue passed away on Monday, November 3rd, 1975, at St. George's Nursing Home, 274 Bay Street South, Hamilton, Ontario, in his 88th year.

He was born in Montreal on August 27th, 1888; was educated there and graduated from McGill University. He taught school in western Canada. Under the influence of the late Principal W. W. Bryden, he entered Knox College in 1924 graduating with the diploma in theology in 1927. He served parishes in the west until 1940 when he left Gordon Church, New Westminster, B.C., to begin a sixteen-year pastorate at Ancaster and Alberton in Ontario. He retired in 1956 to live in Alberton. His wife, the former May Clift, predeceased him in August 1963. The last ten years of his life were spent in the Brow Infirmary, Chedoke Hospital and St. George's Nursing Home, all in Hamilton, Ontario.

The funeral was held on Thursday, November 6th at Robinson's Funeral Chapel, Ancaster, Ontario, with interment in St. Andrew's cemetery. The service was conducted by the Rev. B. A. Nevin of St. Andrew's and Alberton, assisted by the Rev. A. Lorne MacKay, D.D., of Central Church, Hamilton, who preached the sermon.

THE REVEREND SAMUEL KERR

Rev. Samuel Kerr, beloved and respected figure of Exeter for several years died suddenly at General Hospital Stratford, March 13, 1976, in his 77th year.

Mr. Kerr was minister of Caven and Cromarty Presbyterian Churches from 1955 to 1961. He retired here for a period of time in 1969. He was noted for his gentle and kindly character and for his love of nature.

While he was in Exeter he was instrumental in having the church completely renovated and it was he who designed the new chancel of the church.

When he left Exeter he served in the Embro-Harrington charge from 1961-1969. He had also been minister in Avonton-Motherwell, Brussels, and Glace Bay, N.S.

Born in 1899 in Ballydougan, Country Armough, in Northern Ireland, he was a graduate of McMaster University and Knox College.

The funeral was held in Knox Church Stratford and was conducted by D.W. Clark, moderator of the Presbytery of Stratford-Huron. Scripture was read by Rev. K. Innes of Brussels, and the address was given by Rev. Fred Neill, Knox Church.

Rev. Kerr was predeceased by his first wife Ethel Coleman. He married Lyall Erskine in 1971 who survives.

He was the father of Edwin, and Mrs. Paul (Grace) Wuthrich, both of Toronto, and Mrs. Gabe (Mary) Eros of R.R. 1, Norval. Ten grandchildren, one brother and five sisters also survive. A son, the Rev. Howard Kerr, predeceased him.

Interment will be in the Embro Cemetery at a later date.

Pall bearers were from the charges he had served in Ontario.

Geoffrey Chaucer drew a picture of a Parish Priest whose life Samuel Kerr exemplified.

There was a good man of the church, a poor parish Priest, but rich in holy thoughts and works. He was also a learned man, a cleric, who wished to preach Christ's Gospel truly and to teach his parishoners devoutly.

- - - -His parish was wide and the houses far apart, but he never failed, rain or shine, sick or well, to visit the farthest in his parish, be he rich or poor- - - -. To his congregation he gave his noble example; first he practised good deeds and afterward he preached them. He took this idea from the gospels and added it to another; if gold rust what should iron do? For if a priest whom we trust is not worthy, it is no wonder that an ignorant man sins.

REVEREND WILLIAM MACODRUM

Reverend William Boyd Macodrum, died at Geraldton Ontario on May 27th, 1976. Born at Marion Bridge, Cape Breton, on January 26th, 1898, he graduated from Dalhousie University and Presbyterian College.

Following ordination to the ministry of the Presbyterian Church, he served in the Ontario charges of Cobden, Mount Bridges, Forest and Geraldton. He was inducted to Geraldton in 1949, and served there until retirement in October 1972. In addition he assisted in the ministry in St. John's Community Church, Long Lac.

Mr. Macodrum was elected Moderator of the Synod of Manitoba and Northwestern Ontario in 1955. He was Moderator of the Presbytery of Superior on many occassions, and had been a commissioner to General Assembly on nine occasions. He also served on the Church Worship Committee of the Assembly. Active in Community Life, he was for many years on the Geraldton District Board of Education. He is survived by a son Neil of Geraldton, and a sister Miss Katherine Macodrum of Glace Bay, N.S. He was pre-deceased by a daughter, Mary and wife, Daisy. Burial was at Geraldton.

REVEREND KENNEDY HUNTER PALMER

The Rev. Kennedy Hunter Palmer died in Hamilton, Ontario on April 1, 1976, at the age of 94 years.

Mr. Palmer was born in Ireland. His father was a lay preacher and his eldest brother a Minister of the Irish Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Palmer came to Canada and studied Theology at the Presbyterian College, Montreal. He was ordained in 1912, and became the Minister of the Hawkesbury Congregation, then St. Paul's Church, Guelph.

During and after the first World War he served as private Secretary to Sir Samuel Hughes.

Returning to the active ministry, he served in New Westminster, Hamilton; St. Paul's, Port Hope; Palmerston and Avonton; and in St. Paul's, Prince Albert. He served as Clerk of Saugeen Presbytery and on boards-committees of General Assembly.

His wife, Margaret McElroy, died in 1953. He is survived by three daughters Evelyn (Mrs. W. H. Callingham), Lorna (Mrs. C. R. Jeffery), and Enid (Mrs. R. Malcolmson): and by one son, Rev. William K. Palmer of Ottawa.

His funeral was held on April 3, 1976, and was conducted by Rev. Dr. A. Lorne MacKay, with committal of his ashes in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Mr. Palmer was a worthy Minister of the Word and Sacraments, an excellent preacher, and a fine Christian gentleman. He leaves to his family and friends the splendid memory of a long and useful life.

SYNOD OF MANITOBA AND NORTH WESTERN ONTARIO

CATECHIST – THOMAS D. DODDS

After a lengthy illness the death of Thomas Dickson Dodds occurred in Souris Hospital on December 19, 1975, in his 78th year.

Mr. Dodds was born in Leith, Scotland, where he received part of his education at Leith Academy before coming to Canada. For many years he was connected with the grocery business as supervisor and salesman for various chain stores.

In 1947 he began his studies to be a Catechist in the Presbyterian Church in Canada, taking courses at Knox College, Toronto. Subsequent to his studies he served in five charges in Ontario, and as visiting chaplain for two years at Toronto General Hospital.

In 1965 Mr. & Mrs. Dodds came to serve in Hartney and Melita, where they remained until his retirement in 1969. Mr. Dodds served his country in both wars, and was a long standing member of the Masonic Lodge.

He is survived by his wife, Anne, and three daughters, Mrs. Donald Gunter (Heather) of Toronto, Mrs. Charles Mueche (Betty) of Dayton, Ohio, and Mrs. Donald Thomson (Elaine) of Waterdon, Ontario.; eight grand-children and three great grand-children.

SYNOD OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

REVEREND THOMAS H. McALLISTER

The Reverend Thomas H. McAllister passed away on the 21st December, 1975 in Jubilee Hospital, Victoria after a lengthy illness. He was in his 90th year. Born in Edinburgh he emigrated to Canada as a young man. He served in the first world war with the 29th Battalion – Tobin's Tigers. On his return to Canada, he began his studies for the ministry and graduated from Robertson College, Edmonton in 1922 and was ordained that same year.

He served under the Board of Missions in Prairie appointments and for a very short time after 1925 with the United Church. Returning to the Presbyterian Church, he was for a time minister in Prince Rupert. From there he went to Port Alberni and will be remembered there during the 'Hungry Thirty's' where he ministered to the needy and helped to build and consolidate the Presbyterian Church at a time when things were very difficult.

'Mac' came to Victoria in 1934 and for 25 years ministered in the Gorge district. The Gorge Church, now Trinity, was built during his ministry. He was Moderator of the B.C. Synod in 1942.

He had many interests outside the church and was a member of Scottish societies. He loved music and possessed a fine singing voice and was long associated with choral work. He was a staunch supporter of the Orange Order and was Past Grand Master – the Grand Lodge of B.C. and Deputy Grand Chaplain, the Grand Lodge of Canada.

During his retirement, he was diligent in his attendance and support of Trinity Church where his cheerful and friendly personality will be greatly missed.

He leaves one daughter, Mamie to whom our sympathy goes out. He was buried from Trinity, the church he helped to build and laid to rest to the sound of the Pipes he dearly loved. He being dead yet speaketh!

FOR THE BOOK OF FORMS

The Book of Forms, as issued by authority of the 95th General Assembly (1969), brought all previous revisions to and including 1969 up to date.

From year to year since 1969 other revisions have been found in this place in Acts and Proceedings.

Clip this page, trim, and place in your copy of the 1969 edition of the Book of Forms beside or over, the sections as indicated.

An omission of the words "or assistant ministers" occurred in the 1975 Acts and Proceedings, in this place, and the Section is reprinted in full following:–

Section 201. Add the following:

(a) Appointments of ministers to full-time service in congregations shall always be by call and induction, except in cases of stated supply, retired persons, and appointment by the Board of World Mission. Such persons may be ministers, associate ministers, or assistant ministers, but not assistants-to-ministers, (Declaratory Act, 1975).

(b) This subsection is correct as printed in this place, in 1975 Acts and Proceedings.

The following amendments were authorized by the 1976 General Assembly:

Replace Section 176 with the following:

176. The Presbytery consists of:

(1) Ordained ministers within the bounds;

(a) who are pastors, associate or assistant pastors, directors of Christian Education, or stated supply (whether in congregations or mission fields, full-time or part-time), chaplains to the armed forces when stationed within the bounds;

(b) who are appointed by the Board of World Mission to an overseas mission field and are within the bounds because of furlough or special assignment;

(c) who serve on our college faculties or are employed on the staff of the courts, boards, or committees of our Church;

(d) who make request and are serving in agencies not directly responsible to The Presbyterian Church in Canada as Bible Society Secretaries, teachers in Bible or Theological colleges, or University Departments of Religion; workers in inner-city, national, or overseas missions (the last when within the bounds);

(e) who are not included above, and who, at Presbytery's request and by authorization of the Assembly, have been placed upon the Roll. Such presbytery applications shall not be made for retired ministers except those who are rendering active service, non-theological teachers or professors, psychologists, social workers, or other ministers in secular employment;

(f) who are institutional chaplains in full-time employment as such, appointed for not less than one year with the approval of the responsible committee of the General Assembly. (Adopted under the Barrier Act, 1976).

The Declaratory Act (a footnote to Section 176 (1)(e) of the Book of Forms) as passed in 1972 is still applicable.

Section 235 – Add "Subject to the regulations concerning retirement" after "to all the rights and privileges thereto pertaining."

Section 245 – Change "from age or infirmity" to "under the regulations concerning retirement or infirmity" in first sentence. (Both revisions adopted under the Barrier Act, 1976, as outlined on Page 58, 1975 Acts and Proceedings).

(Copies of the Book of Common Order should be amended on Pages 360 and 370 in keeping with the above amendments.)

(As a result of the above changes, the following regulations re retirement, as approved by the 1975 General Assembly and recorded on Page 58 of the 1975 Acts and Proceedings are now effective for ministers inducted after the 1976 General Assembly:

1. That the compulsory retiring age of all ministers be seventy, effective as of January first following their full age of seventy years.

2. That where it is desired to continue the services in the present or another pastoral charge, the presbytery, under the authority of Section 213, Book of Forms, make arrangements mutually acceptable to the Presbytery concerned, after consultation with the pastoral charge and the minister.)
